THIRTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James I. Noonan of 27 Sheridan street, this town, received a pleasant surprise on Sunday evening when about 25 persons, including the children, and grandchildren, called at their home and presented them with many beautiful gifts. The occasion was their 30th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Noonan are life-long residents of Winchester, and enjoy a wide acquaintanceship. Mr. Noonan is employed by the Town of Winchester as utility man and is well known to almost every resident of Winchester. He was a former captain of the Winchester Fire Department, being a member of the department for over 15 years. He retired after a week-end illness and became connected with the town department as utility man.

Letters and telegrams congratulating the couple were received from all sections of the country. The event was a great surprise, as Mr. and Mrs. Noonan had planned to celebrate in a very quiet manner.

The couple had left early Sunday afternoon to visit their daughter's home in Medford, and upon their return they were astonished to find their own home gaily decorated with flowers of all description, potted plants, and streamers. Beautiful gifts were presented the couple and after recovering from surprise, they were escorted to the dining room where a bountiful repast was served.

Those present included their four daughters, Mrs. E. O'Sullivan, Marian and four sons, John H. Noonan, traffic officer of the Winchester Police Department, James E. Noonan, J. Edward Noonan and Norman Noonan, and two grandchildren, Eileen and Eugene O'Sullivan.

BOY BURNED IN GASOLINE WAGON

George Curtin, 13 years of age, of Malden, was quite badly burned on the right leg between the knee and ankle Tuesday afternoon when a fire occurred in the wagon used to fill the gasoline lights on the Parkway. According to the story of the driver, Fred Bartholme of Malden, as he was filling and lighting a lamp at the corner of Bacon street at Westchester, the boy tipped over a can of gasoline, which caught fire.

An alarm was rung from box 521 at 3:17 for the fire, but with hand chemicals the blaze was pretty well out when the department arrived. The horse, which figured prominently in the last fire this outfit experienced, was unharnessed and taken from the wagon uninjured.

The boy was taken to the police station and was treated by Dr. Brown, after which he was taken to his home. The lighting outfit is owned by E. Sheely of Malden.

CAPTURED HOUSE BREAKERS

Police Made Good Haul in Arresting Two Tuesday

The police made a good haul Tuesday afternoon when they captured two men identified as having broken into the residence of Mr. George W. Dearborn on Herick street. It is thought that the men may be identified with numerous other breaks here and elsewhere.

The burglars left Tuesday morning for Winchester for the day. During the early afternoon Miss Katherine A. Ward, a maid employed in the family of Mr. Nelson H. Seelye at Prospect street, saw someone in the Dearborn home. Having seen the family leave in the morning she thought the house empty, and told Mrs. Horn, who called up the house on the telephone. There was no answer.

Meanwhile Miss Ward went over to the house and rang the back door bell. She also received no response, when she went to the door and found the front of the house she found a man going down the walk and noticed that the front door was not wholly closed. She asked the man what he wanted and he did not answer her, but walked off rapidly down the street.

Miss Bessie Stokes, a maid in the home of Mr. Nelson H. Seelye at the corner of Main and Herick streets, noticed the man coming down the street, and saw him lean to a window standing on the corner, whereupon the two made off down Mystic avenue.

The horns meanwhile had telephoned the police. Sgt. Cassidy and officer Noonan were soon at the scene and immediately began a search, covering the avenue, the Parkway and all intersecting streets. They failed to find the men. The call put into the police station, however, only mentioned one man.

A little later, as Mr. Reuben R. Chase, manager of the Willard Battery station, was returning to town on the Church street, he encountered two men at the corner of Bacon street who indicated that they wanted a ride. He stopped and they asked him how often the cars ran. He had just passed a car, and told them they had just missed one, offering to take them to the centre and they accepted the ride.

When he returned to his office he met Sergeant Rogers, who wanted to know if he had seen the men. He told him to the scene in his car. There it was found that there were two men, and remembering the two he had seen at the centre, Mr. Chase took the Sergeant back. The electric was just starting, and Mr. Chase drove his car in front of it, and the men got on top of it. The Sergeant entered the car and took the men out and to the police station. The arrest created a great commotion.

It was found that the men, or man, had broken a small diamond light of glass by the front door, plying it out from the centre. Mr. Chase took the man in his hand in he had opened the door. The house had been partly ransacked. One closet had been cleared out and the other was being investigated when the interruption came. It is thought the man had only been in the house but a short time when he was discovered and frightened.

The men gave their names as Louis Letourneau, 27 years of age, and Mark George, 26 years of age, of South Boston. They were questioned, and efforts were made to identify them with other breaks about town. In the Woburn court Wednesday they were held until this morning in order that their fingerprints might be taken.

MANY BATHERS AT SANDY

The recent hot wave has demonstrated that Sandy Beach has lost little of its popularity of last year. Thousands of bathers from this and surrounding towns have visited the beach daily in an attempt to get relief from the scorching heat in the "parking waters" of Mystic Lake. The beach which was officially opened the 24th of June, has been greatly improved over last year. An addition to the girls' bath house has added much to its effectiveness, while a large bicycle rack now makes it unnecessary to leave bicycles lying around the beach as formerly. Several new benches are being greatly appreciated by those who like to sit and watch the bathers.

Lifeguard "Bill" Murray who made so many friends last year is again in charge of the beach. This year, owing to the increased attendance, he has been given an assistant, the beach being kept open continuously from 10 in the morning to 9 o'clock at night. Lifeguard Murray reports the water to be rather better than last year. He hopes to repeat his last year's successful water carnival later in the season with an even better program. "Bill" is nothing if not enthusiastic.

Considerable excitement was occasioned at "Sandy" last Friday afternoon when the report was circulated that a boy from Somerville who had left home Thursday, presumably for a swim in the lake, had not returned. Lifeguard Murray at once instituted a search of the waters and wooded land surrounding the beach, but no trace of the boy was discovered. The matter was reported to the police, and it is now thought that the lad did not adhere to his original idea of coming to the beach.

MEDFORD BOAT CLUB PROGRAM

The program for events at the Medford Boat Club over the 4th will be as follows:

On July 4, there is to be a race for sailing canoes in the morning starting at 10 o'clock. At 2 o'clock there is to be a race of the model yachts, and at 8 o'clock a dance will be held at the club house.

On July 5, the Eastern Division meet of the American Canoe Association is to be held. The regular program of races will begin at 2 o'clock. The war canoe race starts the list. The races will be continued until all are finished, after which supper will be served, followed by the usual "Camp Fire."

The canoe owned by Mr. Dana Freeman of Mystic Avenue, stolen from the river bank last week, was recovered by the Metropolitan Police. The canoe was appropriated by two of Charlestown school boys, who took it down the river. The craft was noticed by a Metropolitan officer, but before he was able to investigate its ownership, it disappeared. Later officer William McGhee saw the canoe and recognized it as Freeman's. He took the two boys into custody and Mr. Freeman was notified that his canoe was recovered. A paddle taken from the canoe of Mr. F. Percival Lewis was also recovered at the same time.

LOCATELLI'S BALL SQUARE THEATRE

Locatelli's Ball Square Theatre will present an especially attractive program during the week of the Elks national convention. Four unusually big productions with some of the best known stars of Broadway will make up the bills. For Monday and the first three days of the week the principal feature will be "Fair Week," with the retold Walter Hiers in the featured role. Really good comedy dramas are the hardest thing to find and that very fact makes "Fair Week" so thoroughly popular with everybody who has witnessed it. It is clean, fast and contains many hearty laughs. The companion picture will be the beautiful Shirley Mason in "The Love Letters." Miss Mason is the type of star who always pleases but in this remarkable photoplay she positively outdoes herself. A Clyde Cook Comedy and the latest news will complete the bill.

For the last half of the week the special feature will be "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," the stupendous Metro picture depicting the famous poem, "The Spell of the Yukon," by Robert W. Service. This most unusual and tragic picture will feature a cast of superlative qualities, with the principal roles assigned by Barbara La Marr, Percy Marmont and Lew Cody. The scenes are laid in the South Sea Islands, in New York and in the Yukon. It is a wonder of a picture and should not be missed by anyone. On the same bill will be Viola Dana in "Don't Doubt Your Husband." It is a pretty romance with an interesting moral that will entertain as well as instruct. An Our Gang comedy and the latest news reel will also be screened.

PROGRESS ON BAPTIST PARISH HOUSE

The Building Committee of the First Baptist Church has made a report of progress. They have visited several up-to-date parish houses; are about to engage the services of a prominent firm of architects and will be ready to show plans and contract early in the fall. A definite program for financing the construction of a parish house will then be presented. It will be necessary to raise at least $28,000, or about one-third of the cost before next April, so that the new building can be started early in the spring and be finished in time for the winter work of 1925-6.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Rev. Clifton H. Walcott of the First Baptist Church will be in town for the most of the summer. He and his family will spend the last of July and the first of August at Fairville, N. B. HOW RED CROSS WORKS

An Example of the Remarkable Efficiency of the American Organization

Ten dead, over 50 homeless and others in hospitals with serious injuries as a result of a terrific cloudburst in Carter County, Tenn., the night of June 13, for the third time in six weeks has called forth prompt emergency aid from the Southern Division of the Red Cross.

An appropriation was immediately made available from National Headquarters for relief work, while a local committee in the Southern Division made steps to raise an additional $5000 in the County for permanent rehabilitation.

Pending the arrival of Everett Dix, who was dispatched from Atlanta immediately following the disaster, Joseph C. Logan, Southern Division manager, wired Mrs. Lena Bosse, Miss director of Red Cross service at the National Sanatorium, Johnson City, to give all possible emergency assistance to the sufferers. Mrs. Bosse communicated with the Elizabethan Chapter which stated it was ready to give necessary assistance until Mr. Dix arrived, and that the situation was well in hand.

Red Cross Chosen
A supply of tents temporarily to house the homeless was sent by the Southern Division Monday.

By formal vote of a mass meeting of citizens, the American Red Cross was requested to take charge and administer the relief. Miss Mary Ratterman, of St. Louis, Mo., has been ordered to report immediately to assist Mr. Dix with the relief work.

Col. Klothe of the National Sanatorium at Johnson City, generously offered the Red Cross the use of the hospital to care for the injured if it proved necessary.

First reports of the cloudburst placed the death toll at 22 and the injured and homeless far above figures obtained through the preliminary survey made by the Red Cross worker Monday.

Two small mountain communities, Carden's Bluff and Hunter, near Elizabethton, were practically washed away by the overflowing of small streams. Survivors of the cloudburst state an almost solid wall of water 12 feet high swept through the towns carrying houses and trees before it. Six houses in addition to numerous farm buildings have already been reported completely destroyed. Crops in the affected district are a total loss, while farmers lost heavily in live stock and implements.

Boy Washed Away
Relief parties, attempting to reach the scene Monday, had to work their way through obstructed mountain paths for a distance of 30 miles. Railway connections were disrupted, and tracks and roadbeds washed completely away in some places.

One man was washed from his home for a distance of half a mile and deposited in another house. A moment later this house was washed away and he finally landed in the top of a large tree, where rescue parties found him.

The last six weeks have brought to the South the most destructive series of tornadoes, cyclones, and storms this section has experienced in many years. The Southern Division is now engaged in relief operations precipitated by two major disasters in addition to the cloudburst on June 13.

Twenty-two trained workers are administering a relief fund of approximately $80,000 in South Carolina, where a tornado on April 30 killed scores of people and left 30,000 others homeless. Another detail of workers are busy in Mississippi and Alabama where a tornado on May 27 swept over those states, wreaking terrible damage and killing over 30 people. (Red Cross Courier.)

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

NO CAR IS SAFE FROM COLLISION

COLLISIONS ARE STEADILY INCREASING. This is not difficult to understand when it is realized how many MILLIONS OF CARS have been added to the motor traffic of the country.

In addition to COLLISIONS CAUSED BY TRAFFIC CONGESTION, AND NARROW STREETS AND ROADS, there are those caused by the LOSS OF CONTROL, of the car, BREAKAGE OF STEERING GEAR, WHEEL, or other MECHANICAL PARTS; BRAKES NOT WORKING; SKIDDING, due to WET, OILY, OR ICEY SURFACES, or THE THROWING OF A TIRE OR RIM. There is also the serious hazard of UNPROTECTED RAILROAD CROSSINGS, as we are daily reminded by the newspapers.

Perhaps the most severe hazard is the "OTHER FELLOW"—the one that STEPS IN FRONT OF YOU, or SIDESWIPES you, or RUNS INTO THE REAR OF YOUR CAR. YOU CANNOT CONTROL SUCH ACTIONS OR CARELESS DRIVING.

COLLISIONS ARE NOT CONFINED TO CONTACT WITH OTHER AUTOMOBILES. They also occur in connection with trains, trolleys, trams, telegraph poles, trees, fences, houses, and other objects, resulting in the PARTIAL OR TOTAL LOSS OF A CAR.

Approved and labeled Front and Rear Bumpers frequently lessen the damage sustained and a reduction in the cost of Collision Insurance is made on cars so equipped.

OUR POLICY WILL REIMBURSE YOU FOR THE DAMAGE YOUR CAR SUSTAINS BY REASON OF BEING IN AN ACCIDENTAL COLLISION.

ELKS BASEBALL BANQUET

Winchester High School's crack baseball team, Mystic Valley League champions for 1923, was tendered a banquet last Saturday evening by the local lodge of Elks. The banquet which was held in Lyceum Hall was very well attended and in all in all one of the most successful affairs of its kind yet to be held in town.

The entire squad of players, with Manager Salyer and Assistant Manager Bridge together with Coach Roberts and Principal Wade Grind of the High School, were at the head table as were Robert F. Guild of the School Committee and Superintendent School J. J. Quinn.

From the time the banqueters sat down to the tables throughout the entire evening there was not a dull moment in the program. Once more the local Elks outdid themselves as hosts and judging from the manner in which their guests enjoyed themselves their efforts were thoroughly appreciated. And the boys were certainly deserving of a "hazie evening." Not only had the team brought credit to the school and town by winning the Mystic Valley League title, and for the second consecutive year, but they had done so in such a decisive manner as to leave no possible room for doubt. This year's nine did not lose a league game throughout the season. Other teams have won league championships in the past, but so far as we can recall none of them have ever succeeded in doing so without the loss of a game. So it was a great night all around; a splendid tribute to a fighting ball club, a team that made a record for other Winchester nines to shoot at through succeeding years.

The banquet was prepared and served by members of the Lyceum Club, the Elks' Auxiliary, under the direction of the President, Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Lechman, Chairmen of the entertainment committee. Other members of the Club who assisted in serving were Mrs. Scholl, Mrs. Gilman, Mrs. Gorman, Mrs. Haiswary, Mrs. Kountz, Mrs. May, Mrs. O'Neil, Mrs. Quinn, Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. Cleary, Mrs. Cullen, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Horn and Miss Catherine Morrison. The ladies came in for much praise for the splendid repast provided and for the daintiness in which it was served as well as for the decorations of cut flowers which they furnished and which added so much to the attractiveness of the hall and tables.

During the evening music was furnished by "Tommy" Fallon's orchestra and "Fred" Scholl put on a fine entertainment, the talent being loaned from one of the Boston Theaters.

At the close of the banquet Exalted Ruler George T. Davidson of the Winchester lodge who acted as Toastmaster spoke briefly and presented each member of the team with a suitably inscribed handsome pin seal, the gift of the Lodge. The members of the team to whom the billboards were presented were: Coach Captain Frank Melly, catcher; Francis Tansey, pitcher; James Fitzgerald, 1st base; John Flaherty, 2nd base; Clarence O'Donnell, 3rd base; John Dolan, short stop; Norman Harrold, left field; Thomas Dolan, center field; Floyd Robinson, right field; Russell Kendrick, pitcher and Harold Johnson, utility together with Coach Roberts and Managers Salyer and Bridge. In the absence of Captain Melly, Manager George Salyer responded for the team, thanking the Elks for the good time and assuring them of his team's appreciation of their generosity.

Toastmaster Davidson then called on Robert F. Guild who substituted for Chairman D. W. Comins of the School Committee. Mr. Davidson, the baseball team, and spoke briefly of the school authorities attempts to get more grammar school graduates to enter high school each year.

Coach Ernest Roberts added his bit of praise, modestly giving all the credit for the team's showing to the boys, adding that they were the first crowd of fellows he had ever coached.

Superintendent Quinn was given an enthusiastic reception when he arose to speak. He spoke briefly in praise of the Elks influence in the community, while James J. Fitzgerald gave a bit of witty talk praising the members of the ball team as credits to the school and town.

Mr. Wade Grind, the new principal of the high school spoke in favor of athletics in high schools as one of the best means of keeping the boys and girls interested in their school. He also favored the new order of things which is making the athletic coach a teacher in the school which reaches. At the close of his remarks he presented the members of the team with handsome shawl collared coat sweaters, the gift of the school.

The committee of Elks having the affair in charge consisted of G. T. Davidson, chairman and the following: Maurice Dinnin, J. J. Fitzgerald, N. M. Nichols and F. H. Scholl. Seated at the tables were the officers of the lodge, Exalted Ruler G. T. Davidson, P. E. R. John McNally, Maurice Dinnin, E. L. K.; F. H. Scholl, E. L. K.; G. H. Lechman, E. L. K.; M. J. Denny, Secretary; T. J. Fallon, treasurer and Parker Holbrook, De M. R. The following:

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Drunk Cars On Increase—Arrests This Year Set a New Record for Prohibition Era

Drunkness and crime are on the increase in Boston despite prohibition and the forces of law and order. This is shown by the police department in a statement issued recently.

The number of arrests for the first six months of the year were nearly 6000 more than those of the corresponding period in 1923. The exact figures are 41,307 as compared with 35,168.

Those who comfort themselves with a belief that drinking is a time of the past should find these figures interesting.

For the first six months of 1924 there were 19,475 persons arrested for drunkenness. This is considerably better than 109 a day.

The drunks in 1923 number but 18,434, showing a net gain of 1041 for 1924.

The number of arrests for drunkenness this year sets a new record since prohibition became law. The above statement made a few days ago in the Boston Herald naturally affords material for serious consideration and concern. The fact that crime and drunkenness are on the increase does not prove that partial prohibition has not been and is not beneficial. We say partial prohibition because Massachusetts has not as yet passed concurrent legislation forbidding the manufacture and transportation of alcoholic beverages which would bring her state law into harmony with the federal law and would give the 5000 local police officers full power to enforce the Constitution of the United States. If this were done even greater benefits would be the natural result. The following table makes a comparison between the four "wet" years, 1914-1917 inclusive and four "dry" years, 1920-1923 inclusive of Boston's arrests for drunkenness. These years have been chosen as typical and do not include the years 1918-19 since three quarters of a million of Massachusetts men were in the Army at that time.

Year	Arrests for Drunkenness
1914	25,241
1915	25,241
1916	25,241
1917	25,241
1920	12,909
1921	12,909
1922	12,909
1923	12,909
Average 4 wet years 1914-1917	25,241
Average 4 dry years 1920-1923	12,909
Decrease	49.27%

Although the present number of arrests does not set a new record since prohibition became law, the above figures do prove that a decrease of 49.27 per cent (November 30, 1923) is a great gain over pre-prohibition days. Present conditions may lower that percentage but it must be remembered that a natural increase in the population of Boston naturally brings some increase in the number of arrests for drunkenness.

Governor Cox said: "Massachusetts law officials are at a disadvantage in their attempt to enforce the prohibitory law. I believe that the true friends of strict enforcement must subordinate every other issue to a concerted and strong attempt to secure approval of that state enforcement law next November."

C. D. OF A. WHIST

The whist which was conducted on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. John T. Smith at her home on Main street was a pronounced success. Socially the party left nothing to be desired and from a financial standpoint, the party surpassed all expectations and added a substantial sum to the Court's charitable fund. The basket of fruit on chances was won by Mrs. Fred Noble. The fruit was donated by Mrs. Harry E. Brown. The following were awarded prizes for the 17 highest scores:

- Mrs. Elizabeth Powers
- Mrs. Joseph O'Connor
- Mrs. Margaret Foley
- Mrs. Fred Noble
- Mrs. Fred Finnegan
- Mrs. Joseph Cronin, Malden
- Mrs. Joseph Moffet
- Mrs. Mary Deane, Woburn
- Mrs. Margaret Healey, Woburn
- Mrs. Harry Brown
- Mrs. Nellie McLaughlin, Woburn
- Mrs. William E. McDonald, Jr.
- Mrs. William H. Vago
- Mrs. Michael Sullivan
- Mrs. Joseph O'Connor
- Mrs. Nemo O'Melia

For securing the greatest number of losses, Mrs. Edward McKenzie captured a large loaf of delicious home-made cake. Mrs. Smith proved a charming hostess. She was assisted by the punch and tea tables by Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. William H. Vago, G. R. Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. Frank Brennan.

The next whist in this afternoon series will be held on Tuesday afternoon, July 15, the place to be announced in next week's Star. All members who wish to enjoy a good afternoon game of whist with attractive prizes as the reward, will be very welcome at any of all these parties, the proceeds of which will be used in the charitable work of the Court.

The condolences of the Court have been extended to Court Isabella Woburn, which this week suffered the loss of Mrs. Margaret R. Cramer, a Past Grand Regent of our neighboring Court and for many years the efficient chairman of its charitable committee.

One of the many events to which the members are eagerly looking forward is the outing which is being planned in the near future, at which the cast of the recent minstrel show will be the guests of the Court. Grand Regent Alice E. Vago has appointed a committee to take charge of the outing and all that now remains is to settle on the very best place in which to hold it. All details of the affair will be announced in the near future. It is safe to predict, however, that a "royal good time" will be tendered these young ladies who deserve so much credit for the success of the recent minstrel show. G. R. Annie E. Vago, Past Grand Regent Alice L. Martin and a large delegation from the Court last night attended, which was conducted by Sister Katherine McHugh of the local Court at Catholic Center

Hall, Woburn, in aid of the Garden party of St. Charles' Church, Woburn.

A number of the members displayed a deep interest in the whist which one of our Sisters, Mrs. John Mawn, conducted on Monday evening in the Parochial School hall in aid of the fund for St. Mary's High School. There was a splendid attendance and a good sum realized. Many fine prizes were awarded these holding high scores.

An active committee is making plans for the grand outdoor festival which the Court will hold on the White street grounds on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, July 19. If the enthusiasm of the committee bears the fruit that it should, the party promises to be a great success. It was originally planned to have this party on the evening of July 3, but the committee in charge felt that more time was needed in order to perfect its plans. Remember the date—July 19.

The initiation of new members has been postponed until the first part of September because so many of the candidates will not be in town during the summer. However, the initiation is now so planned that all candidates will be furnished with robes before the annual banquet which comes in late September every year and is always a banner affair for all the members of the Court and their friends.

ELKS' PARADE PLANS

Winchester Lodge of Elks are making elaborate preparations for participation in the huge convention to be held in Boston the week of July 6. Especially does the Lodge expect to be well represented in the monster parade, one of the biggest features of the entire convention, which is to be held the afternoon of Thursday, July 10, at 3:30 o'clock and which is to be reviewed by Governor Cox and Mayor Curley. As the local Elks expect nearly their full membership to turn out for the parade it is not considered unlikely that one of the prizes which are to be awarded to the lodges having the greatest percentage of their membership in line will come to Winchester. The committee having the parade plans charge consist of James J. Fitzgerald, chairman, with Nathaniel M. Nichols and Arthur W. Day.

The committee has announced that all members of the local lodge who are to participate in the parade will assemble at Lyceum Hall at 12 o'clock, Thursday, July 10, to determine the formation in which the delegation is to march. Suitable transportation will be provided by the committee to take the members to Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, where the Winchester Lodge is to form, headed by the 101st Engineer's Band in the 2d or New England Division of the line of march.

All local Elks will wear dark trousers, belts and shoes, which will be light-colored shirts and straw hats. Across the white shirts will be worn a purple sash which will constitute the distinctive mark of the Winchester Elks. The parade will be held on the parade grounds at the corner of the city hall and the city hall. In addition to this each member will carry an umbrella having the Winchester Elks' emblem on it. It is planned to have the delegation march as to have "Winchester, Mass." spelled out through the center section of the line.

The parade which is to be one of the events of the summer season in Boston, takes in as it goes all the Lodges of Elks throughout the United States, will open Sunday evening, July 6 with Church services in Trinity Church, Capley Square. These services will be broadcast by the Special Stores Radio Studio, WNAU.

Monday calls for an exhibition of horsemanship, gliding, torpedo boats and sea planes in Boston Harbor, followed by a harbor trip for Grand Lodge members. In the evening will come the opening exercises in Mechanics Building followed by a reception to the Grand Exalted Ruler, concluding in a public Grand Ball.

The program for Tuesday calls for Patriotic Exercises on Boston Common at 12 noon, drill teams contest at Braves Field, and open air concert at the residence of Mr. Alfred H. Morton on Ridgely road. There was no damage.

Wednesday there will be a trip to Nantasket Beach by boat with boating, gliding, and a fireworks display at Paragon Park.

Thursday there are to be automobile trips to places of historic interest on tours along the North Shore from Revere Beach to Cape Ann, Gloucester.

Saturday the program will consist

Indians Had No Horses

The Indians had dogs but not horses before the white men came. The Indian dog was little different from the tame wolf from which it is supposed to have sprung. Eskimos were using dogs for transportation when first white men arrived. Though fossils of the fore-runner of the horse have been found in America, it is now generally believed that these animals became extinct many thousands of years ago and that all horses used by the Indians were descendants of Spanish horses. Cortez brought horses to Mexico and De Soto is known to have abandoned a large number of horses near the Texas border.

AN ADVENTURE ON THE PLAINS

Second Prize for Eighth Grade in Public School Prize Story Contest by Charles Bryan

The pitiless sun beat down upon the wagon train which was slowly winding like a great serpent, across the plains. This train, among many others, had started for California after the discovery of gold in 1849. Food was scarce and the emigrants had not been able to shoot any game for some time. The gray headed captain of the train was wondering how to procure some food when a young runner rode up.

"I think I saw some buffalo over there," he said, pointing across the prairie. "See all I risk and see if I can shoot one or two."

"You'd better not, Buck," replied the captain. "This is the most dangerous part of the country. You would probably be killed by Indians."

But Buck begged and argued so long that at last the old man said he could go, adding a warning to be careful as no one could be spared to go look for him if he did not come back.

Buck rode off. Sure enough, there were the buffalo. He dismounted and, leaving his horse to graze, crawled cautiously through the long grass towards the buffalo. At last he got within range. He took careful aim and was about to fire when something heavy landed on him. It was a man—a red man!

Buck fought furiously but two or three other Indians joined in the fray and he was soon overpowered. He was bound and tied on a pony. Then he was taken back to the village. He was placed in a teepee which had nothing but a small fire in it. The flap was not laced shut but a guard was stationed outside to see that Buck could not escape. Towards night Buck could tell by the noise that something important was going on.

He rolled to the side of the teepee and looked out through a tiny crack between the bottom of the teepee and the ground.

The Indians were having a council. Buck knew enough of the Indian language to be able to tell that they were discussing how to massacre the wagon train next day. He listened until the council was over. By that time he knew their plans. One thought took possession of him. He must escape and warn the wagon train.

He waited a little while and then rolled to the fire. There he managed to burn a gap in the rawhide which tied his arms, although he burned himself severely and suffered a great deal of pain in doing so. After that it was an easy matter to untie the rest of his bonds.

At last he was free! He began to think how to set the guard. He had thought the tent perfectly empty but now he saw an old tent peg over in one corner. He got it and then tiptoed noiselessly to the flap. His guard was sitting outside. Buck slowly shoved his head into the flap and then the Indian over the head with his tent peg. The peg broke but the man dropped without a sound. Buck took a dog's paw and began to bark. Immediately a dozen others took up the chorus. There was no time for concealment now.

Buck ran for the horses. He caught one and galloped off. Not far behind he could hear the pursuing Indians. He heard them stamping off to his left. He started to turn back, slipping through the shadows. He had nearly gotten out of the village when a dog saw him and began to bark. Immediately a dozen others took up the chorus. There was no time for concealment now.

ENJOY THE COMFORTS AND CONVENIENCES OF COOKING, LIGHTING AND HEATING WITH GAS, WHEREVER YOU LIVE

One of the greatest conveniences of city life is the gas supply for cooking and heating. It is the one great advantage of the city over the country home.

What a Gas Supply Means to a Home City gas has eliminated the coal range with its dust and ashes and the labor of carrying coal. It provides instantly the full heat of a hot flame, which is as quickly turned off. It has made a supply of hot water quickly available in any quantity desired. It has made kitchens cool in summer time.

All these advantages, and more, Fuelite brings to the country home, wherever it may be located. If there is a chimney in your home you'll appreciate these advantages, even more. No longer will it be a choice between breakfast or rain.

Fuelite is not a manufactured product. It is purified natural gas, condensed into a liquid, placed in steel containers and delivered for use in standard gas burning appliances.

The high heating value of Fuelite—5000 to 2500 heat units (B. T. U.) per cubic foot makes it ideal for domestic use. (City gas contains only about 520 B. T. U. per cubic foot.) Fuelite is not poisonous like city gas, as it contains no deadly carbon monoxide. It will not asphyxiate. Laboratory tests have shown the explosive range of Fuelite to be less than 4 per cent. The explosive range of city gas for instance is 13 per cent and that of acetylene is 78 per cent. It is absolutely safe in every way.

It can be installed in Any Home Fuelite is easily and economically installed in any home. The apparatus needed is very simple and is placed in a cabinet which is weather-proof, and attached against the house at the back. As Fuelite does not freeze, the piping need not be laid below the frost line. This means less labor of installation and no damage or disfigurement to property.

No Freight to Pay—No Cylinders to Handle When Fuelite is installed in your home you also receive Fuelite Service—and receive it without extra cost. This means monthly inspection by our service men.

There is no freight to pay on renewable cylinders. No cylinders to handle. No deposits on cylinders are required and no charges for service.

Nothing to Do But Turn on the Gas The service man makes regular visits to your home, makes all renewals and connects or disconnects cylinders. The consumer need not bother with any details.

In the use of Fuelite the housewife simply turns on the gas at the stove or water heater and lights it. Does Not Soot Burners, etc. Unlike most other gases, Fuelite does not carbonize on the burner, lighting mantle or cooking utensil. For the same reason it does not give off little particles of soot that blacken walls, ceilings and furnishings of a room.

The cost of Fuelite is low and within the means of everyone. A Blessing to Homes Using Oil For those who have been struggling with coal, wood or oil stoves and oil lamps, Fuelite will prove a revelation and a blessing.

Very Low in Cost Complete Fuelite outfits, including equipment, piping, an up-to-date gas stove and two cylinders of Fuelite, installed and connected ready for use. Supply Guarantee

The supply of Fuelite is unlimited. It has been estimated by the Government experts that over 600,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas have been taken from the wells of this country in one year.

Fuelite Brings to You Convenience—just turn on the gas and light it. Absolute Safety—no danger of explosion, asphyxiation, or poisoning. Economy—of time, labor and materials—no coal, wood, or ashes to carry—no waste—all fuel is consumed—best heat at low cost. Cleanliness—no sooting of burners, mantles, utensils or walls; no ashes or dust.

The "Duplex" feature insures an uninterrupted supply as one cylinder is in reserve at all times. There is a Fuelite user near you. Scores of homes in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Rhode Island and other states will testify to the efficiency of Fuelite for domestic use.

No complicated devices are needed with Fuelite. There is nothing to get out of order. Outfits installed many years ago are still in perfect order. Fuelite insures full satisfaction. Its merit has been proven and its advantages are at your command.

All desired information and terms will be promptly supplied by the company or the distributor. Fuelite is Purified Natural Gas. It is not an experiment, for the same natural gas as used in many of the largest cities of the country is purified, and liquefied, for convenience and economy in transportation.

Fuelite solves the problem of a gas supply for communities where there is no manufactured gas. Look for this Fuelite registered trade mark on each cylinder. It is your guarantee of fuel economy, convenience, comfort and satisfaction in heating, cooking and lighting.

Fuelite is sold only through authorized distributors and in connection with Fuelite service. Fuelite is clean, safe, efficient, non-poisonous, economical.

Sixty-two dollars will install a complete outfit, stove and water heater ready for use in your home. Balance in small monthly payments. The local distributor is Harriet C. Davis, 560 Main Street, tel. Winchester 0279-W.

BATH HOUSES IN WINCHESTER?

The Metropolitan District Commission has advised the Board of Selectmen that under Chapter 25 of the Resolves of 1924, the commission is directed to investigate and report as to the feasibility, desirability, and probable cost of constructing, operating, and maintaining public bath houses on reservations or parkways under its control which border on rivers or ponds.

As Winchester is one of the towns that come under the Metropolitan Parks district a questionnaire was enclosed which the Selectmen were asked to fill out that the commission might be fully informed along all lines before taking any action as instructed under Chapter 25.

Feeling that the matter was one coming directly under the head of the Park Department, the Board of Selectmen have turned the letter and questionnaire over to its members for consideration. Meanwhile at Winchester will hope that adequate bathing facilities for the town will soon become a reality.

LIFE SAVING INSTRUCTION AT SANDY BEACH THIS WEEK

It has been reported that the classes held this week daily at 4 p. m. at Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake have been well attended by bathers anxious to obtain the expert instruction offered by the life saving corps of the American Red Cross Society. How to rescue a drowning person and resuscitate him when on shore is knowledge that every one who is around water to any extent at all should have, and the Red Cross has been stressing this branch of its instruction for the past few years, each season with increasing emphasis. This week's classes close Saturday afternoon, July 19.

ELKS' KIDDIES DAY WEDNESDAY

The annual "Kiddies Day," given by Winchester children by Winchester Lodge of Elks will take place this year on Wednesday next, July 23, at Lynn Beach. The party will leave Manchester Field, at last year, at 8:30 a. m., returning to town in time for supper.

The Elks again make request for the use of automobiles for the transportation of the children. All residents having cars which they are willing to donate are requested to notify Mr. Nathaniel M. Nichols, chairman of the transportation, tel. 1542-W.

The party last year was one of the most successful affairs for the children of Winchester ever held, and this year's outing promises to be even more popular.

ITALIAN CELEBRATION AUG. 15

The annual celebration of the Feast of the Assumption by the Italian residents of Winchester will take place as usual this year on Friday, Aug. 15. The program of former years, with a parade and band concert during the day, and fireworks and music in the evening, will be followed.

The committee this year is headed by Mr. James Barbaro, and includes Messrs. Pietro Scascia, Giuseppe Mistretta, Vincenzo Gigliotti, and Giuseppe Rania. The committee has organized, and announces that it will "produce some real fireworks this year."

The police have issued their annual warning to all owners of licenseless dogs.

C. J. RAMSDELL HELPS UNITARIANS

Unitarian Association to Use Apple-dore Hotel

With the announcement at Star Island, N. H., last week of the purchase by the Unitarian Summer meetings Association of Apple-dore Island hotel reservation, the final chapter in the stirring and romantic secular history of the Isle of Shoals was brought to a pious close. By the same token, Unitarianism triumphantly turns over a page in its record of progress in these island outposts of liberal religion.

Interwoven among the technical threads of this property transfer there runs the almost tragic romance of the rise and fall of two generations of native island stock. Then upon the scene enters a city youth who by assiduous application, adult achievement, and later financial success, rises from the humble position of night watchman of the Apple-dore Hotel to its ultimate ownership and who now, in gratitude for his worldly comforts, sacrifices his holding to the Unitarian Fellowship.

That generous philanthropist is Mr. C. J. Ramsdell, vice-president of the Boston firm of Batchelder and Snyder, who makes his home in this town at 3 Lakeview road.

Hearing that the Unitarian Summer meetings Association contemplated an extension of their work on the Isle of Shoals, Mr. Ramsdell notified the organization that, since he understood the association was in need of additional space for their plans of expansion, he would be glad to transfer to it the Apple-dore Hotel site at a figure ridiculously small.

Needless to say Mr. Ramsdell's offer was gladly accepted, and the Unitarian organization, now in control of the site, plans extensive building projects to accommodate the enormous growth of the Shoals' religious activities. When these are completed the islands will form the center of a religious institution unequaled by anything of its kind in the world.

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNALS BROKEN

Since the installation of the three new traffic signals, they have been broken so many times that the Selectmen and Town Engineer Hinds are at work arranging for the installation of new bases of a more permanent and solid construction. At the corner of Beacon and Church street the base of the signal was broken the day it was set in the street, before the top rod and light had been installed. Last week a lady drove her car into the completed signal and smashed it. At the corner of Highland avenue and Mt. Vernon street last week, someone struck the glass globe and putting the light out of commission.

It is the intention now to put in a base which will withstand the impact of any auto which may be driven into it.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY MEMBER OF PRIZE WINNING BAND

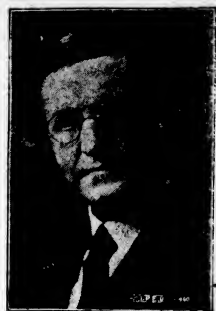

At the band competition held last week in connection with the Elks' convention in Boston the contest was won by the band that accompanied the delegation from Detroit, Mich. The prize was $500. Among the members of the band was Paul I. Dotson, son of Superintendent Dotson of the Winchester Water Department. Mr. Dotson, who formerly made his home here, will be remembered as one of the trombone section of the crack Woburn brass band of other years. Among those who were out to greet him during his stay with the Elks in the Hub was T. M. Merriman of the Woburn Machine Company, under whom he played while a member of the Woburn outfit.

CAR STRUCK ICE WAGON

Early Tuesday morning a Chevrolet touring car and an ice-wagon were in collision on Main street at the corner of Lake street.

The automobile was coming from the direction of Woburn and was owned and operated by William Hunsley of that city. The wagon, which was one of those owned by the Horn Pond Ice Company, was driven by Angus McDonald. No one was injured and there was no damage.

Miss Eleanor Hill of Hillsdale avenue is studying at the graduate school of Boston University this summer. Miss Hill who has been a teaching fellow in English at the School of Practical Arts, a department of the same university, will receive her Master's degree in the fall.

GUY E. HEALEY

Guy E. Healey of 21 Grove street, Medford, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Representative in Congress to succeed Hon. F. W. Dallinger from the Eighth District.

Mr. Healey is a graduate of Bates College, 1909, Boston University Law School, 1906, and Harvard Special Courses. He was admitted to the bar in 1905 and has offices at 601-3 Barristers Hall, Boston.

He was City Solicitor of the City of Medford for a period of over two years.

In addition to the active practice of his profession Mr. Healey has specialized in educational matters. For four years he held the position of High School Principal and during his law course and directly afterward was instructor in the Boston Evening High School for seven years. For six years he served as a member of the Somerville School Committee the last two as its chairman.

Mr. Healey was born in 1875 in Vienna, Me., but the history of his family is intimately connected with that of the district which he seeks to represent. His ancestors from Wales having settled in what is now Cambridge in 1639, the 12th reg. of the 4th Mass. children both attending the Medford public schools.

INJURED IN ELECTRIC CAR SMASH

Mrs. Laura A. Benson of Highland avenue, who, it was stated last week, was overcome by the heat during the Elks parade last Thursday, was injured in an electric car accident and was not a victim of heat prostration. Mrs. Benson was a passenger on a "snake" car which was in a rear-end collision in the subway at Adams square. The collision occurred on a sharp curve near the approach of the subway station when a North Station car crashed into the rear of a slow-moving Lechmere square car.

Several passengers were knocked from their seats, Mrs. Benson being thrown into the vestibule. Three persons were injured and taken to the Relief Hospital and traffic was tied up for some time.

Mrs. Benson suffered injuries to her knee and arm, besides receiving a severe shaking up. After treatment at the hospital she was brought to her home. She is the wife of Mr. Enoch Benson and resides at 359 Highland avenue.

SELECTMEN TRIED OUT BUSES

Last Monday evening our Board of Selectmen were treated to some first hand information on the riding qualities of the buses which the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company plans to run on their proposed bus line through the town. One of the three big buses, each capable of carrying 22 people, called for the board and took the members for an extensive and somewhat novel spin throughout the district. Unfortunately Selectman Charles Main was out of town and thus unable to avail himself of the opportunity offered.

It is planned to run the bus line from Arlington Center to Woburn via Cambridge street, and the company does not intend to make stops in Winchester. The Selectmen's decision on granting permission for the buses to operate on the town highways involved is pending. It is reported that there is some opposition to the project in Arlington.

MR. PATRICK TERRY

Mr. Patrick Terry passed away Wednesday after a short illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. H. Hinton, 17 Chestnut street. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning with solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Mary's Church. Interment will be at Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

BAD SMASH ON CHURCH STREET

What might easily have been one of the worst automobile accidents the town has seen in years occurred shortly before 7 o'clock last Tuesday evening near the Episcopal Church at the junction of Church and Willow streets, when a Buick broomham owned by Edward Edwards of 49 Vinland avenue, Somerville, and operated by his son Edward, rammed the rear end of a Franklin sedan, owned and operated by Edward M. Heustis of 116 Park avenue, Arlington, resulting in painful injuries to three occupants of the sedan as well as badly damaging the car.

The crash occurred as the Franklin was driving along Church street toward Cambridge street, and was occasioned by the Buick, which was coming out of Willow street, striking the rear right wheel of the other car, causing it to overturn and to spin its passengers under the broken body.

The police were notified, and Chief W. R. McIntosh with Sgt. Rogers and officers W. Cassidy, Reagan and Kelley rushed to the scene with the police ambulance. Chief McIntosh also sent in a call for assistance to the Fire Department which was answered by Capt. Flaherty and members Chase, Nowell and Boyle in the wire, or emergency wagon of the department.

Working quickly the police and firemen extricated the injured occupants of the sedan and rushed them to the Winchester Hospital where they were treated for their injuries. At the hospital it was found that Mrs. Alma Heustis of 116 Park avenue, Arlington, was suffering from lacerations of the scalp and right elbow, with a fractured rib and possible fracture of the right shoulder. Mrs. Nellie Simonds of 38 Robinson street, Somerville, with her daughter Alice was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Heustis, was found to have been badly lacerated about the arms and shoulders and to have suffered contusions of the left arm. Miss Simonds sustained a fractured left clavicle, had both knees lacerated and her left ear cut. Mr. Heustis was apparently unhurt.

The occupants of the Buick were not hurt beyond a shaking up, and the car, outside of a somewhat damaged mudguard, seemed little the worse for the accident. Besides young Edwards, a 16-year-old boy, operating the car on the license of his mother, Mrs. Bernice L. Edwards of 49 Vinland avenue, Somerville, the broomham contained Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Mary Davis of 36 Allendale street, Medford. The Franklin sedan was badly wrecked as a result of the crash, having its top battered up, its windows and wind shield shattered, and its running gear generally demolished. Police and firemen were amazed that such an accident could have occurred without any one being fatally injured, members of both departments describing the wreck as one of the worst appearing they had ever witnessed.

HIGH SCHOOL TO OPEN AT 8:30 A. M.

To the Editor of the Star: In last week's issue of the "Star" there was an unfortunate error in the article appearing under school announcements, in that the vote relative to the hours of High School beginning next fall stated school would open at 8 a. m. The vote was 8:30 a. m. This was, of course, a typographical error.

Because of the fact that several people have already telephoned quite disturbed that school should open so early I suggest that you call attention to the error in a prominent space in next week's issue and state that school will open at 8:30 a. m. and not 8 a. m.

Yours very truly,

Danforth W. Comins

HIGH LIGHTS ON SATURDAY'S BALL GAME

The crowd was small, but as Josh Whitcomb says, "A good time was had by all."

Falk, who played short stop for the leathernecks is a brother of Falk playing with the Chicago White Sox. Three double plays in one game is good baseball in any league, and that is what the Legion boys did last Saturday.

McManus' one handed catch that he turned into a double play more than offset his misce.

Schuch played the best nursing two swollen fingers secured in the Arlington game on the morning of the Fourth.

Mathews caught a good game, although he did not shine with the stick. He's a handy man to have around any ball team.

Mark Kelly threw to the batters during batting practice, and only his agility in getting out of the way saved his head from coming when Shea drove one of his offerings right back at him.

The Chelsea Millstreams had two scouts at the game to look Nelson over. Nothing doing. Nelson is going to stay here.

George has announced that the Boston Tigers are going to play here Saturday, and a good game is looked for. This colored team is one of the best attractions around Boston, and their antics on the bases and on the coaching lines are not in the least of the attraction. This is the surprise George spoke of last week, and it certainly should call out not only all of the local fans, but a good crowd from nearby towns.

ELKS OUTING AUG. 6TH

Plans are now practically completed for the outing of Winchester Elks and their ladies at Wardhurst on Wednesday August 6. Arrangement has been made for an excellent dinner and athletic sports including novelty races, dancing and a general good time.

It is planned to gather for this affair the largest attendance of Elks and their ladies ever grouped for a mixed affair. Tickets for the outing are now ready. The autos will leave Lyceum Building at 9:30 a. m.

THE WAY SALEM HANDLES RIVER POLLUTION

The following clipped from a Boston newspaper appears to offer conclusive proof that there are places where the pollution of community river water seems likely to result in quick and drastic action. We wonder how they are going to prove the water is polluted!

Salem, July 15—This city's North River is smelling to high heaven again, and as a result Mayor Bates has ordered John J. McGrath to put his inspectors to work in ascertaining the reason for the river being in such a foul state.

There is a strong likelihood, it is claimed, that tanneries are dumping refuse into the river again, and the Mayor is determined to have the practice stopped. If the parties who are polluting the stream can be found they will be prosecuted, says Mayor Bates.

VISITING NURSE AND HOSPITAL NOTES

Two more nurses, Miss Hebard and Miss Cowley left the Hospital July 8 to go on their vacations. Mrs. Sarah and Miss MacDonald are back at work after a two weeks' rest.

Two electric fans have been installed in the Visiting Nurse Room at the Health Center over Randall's store. They have been greatly needed to keep the room comfortable for the doctor, nurses, and babies at the Baby Clinic which is held every Tuesday from 2 to 4. At present Dr. Simon is the consulting physician and last week there was an attendance of 22 babies with their mothers.

When Mrs. Gormley was in Detroit at the convention of Public Health Organizations she met Miss McArdle who was our first Winchester Visiting nurse. Miss McArdle is now County Supervisor of Nurses in South Dakota.

M. C. W. G.

The members of the Charitable Committee of Winchester Branch, Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild, will hold a meeting next Monday evening, July 21 at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Sarah Barrett, 19 Stevens street. It is expected a large number of members, as well as the committee will be present as plans are to be made to conduct a series of whist parties and socials to enable the Charitable Committee to assist the various charities in which the Guild is interested. After the meeting a social hour will follow, with cards and music.

The chairman of the sick committee, Mrs. Callahan, reports that the condition of Sister Annie Murphy who has been very ill, is somewhat improved.

MISS McCALL TO MARRY NEW YORK MAN

Engagement to H. J. G. Rudolf announced at Lancaster, N. H.

Mrs. Samuel W. McCall now at her summer home at Lancaster, N. H., has announced the engagement of her daughter Katherine, to Henry J. G. Rudolf.

Miss McCall, the second daughter of the late Gov. Samuel W. McCall was educated in Europe and at Mrs. Somers' school in Washington, where she lived much of her life. The other members of the family are Miss Ruth McCall, Mrs. Alfred Chappell (Margaret McCall) of New London, Sumner T. McCall, Harvard, 1903, of Evanston, Ill., and Hal McCall, Harvard 1909, now of Redmond, Ore.

Mr. Rudolf is the son of Mrs. James Rudolf of Canada. He was in service in the world war as a scout pilot with the royal flying corps. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is now living in New York where he is a member of the St. Anthony Club.

His sisters are Mrs. Augustus Soule (Marjorie Rudolf) of Brookline and Miss Alicia Rudolf. The wedding will be a quiet one and will take place late in August, after which Mr. Rudolf and his bride will make their home in New York.

Last Sunday's severe rain storm is thought to have caused a Buick coupe owned and operated by William F. Bamberg of Malden to skid and overturn on the South Border road near the Winchester line at about 5:45 in the afternoon. The accident occurred on the hill this side of the Whitmore Brook road. No one was injured, and the car, though somewhat damaged, was able to proceed under its own power.

A rooster hasn't got a lot Of intellect to show, But none the less most roosters have Enough good sense to crow.

The mule, the most despised of beasts, Has a persistent way Of letting folks know he's around By his insistent bray.

The busy little bees they buzz, Bulls bellow and cows moo, The watchdogs bark, the ganders quack, And doves and pigeons coo.

The peacock spreads his tail and squawks, Pigs squeal and robins sing, And even serpents know enough To hiss before they sting.

But man, the greatest masterpiece That nature could devise, Will often stop and hesitate Before he'll advertise.

A street is being built from Wickford road to Canal street and a new road being laid out from the end of Wickford road to the Horn Pond road in connection with the development of the tract of land at the north end of the town by a local builder. A bridge of concrete and wood is being erected across Horn Pond brook by Mr. Ralph Sylvester to carry the Canal street extension across the brook.

LOCATELLI'S BALL SQUARE THEATRE

Surprisingly fine pictures are billed for Locatelli's Ball Square Theatre for the coming week. Two big programs have been arranged, one for each half of the week. Beginning with Monday the screenings will show a picturization of the famous stage play of David Belasco, entitled "Daddies." This great picture will feature Mae Marsh and Harry Myers. It has a great heart interest story, connectedly told and thoroughly well photographed. The companion picture will be "Riders Up," with an all star cast. It is a story of the race track and its hero in a race track tout. The picture was filmed at Tia Juana. Real races and many real track and stable attaches being shown as atmosphere. The race tout's experience is the basis of the story and he is pictured as the majority of them really are; hardworking, honest, according to their code and ever ready to do a good turn to the brother who is down on his luck. The last half of the week will present two popular stars in excellent pictures. The first will be Dorothy Dalton in "The Moral Sinners." It is a love-melodrama of a Parisian girl who tried to be a crook but found that she couldn't. It offers Miss Dalton in the type of role the public loves to see her in—the alluring, daring queen of the Apaches. Stirring action and gripping heart-appeal have been neatly blended into an elaborate production. The second feature will present the ever popular Tom Mix in "Ladies to Board." This fine film is a typical Mix photoplay, full of daring action, and such heart-suspense. It's story is interesting and contains an unusual number of humorous situations. A later comedy and a news pictorial will be shown at each performance.

FORMER WINCHESTER RESIDENT HURT AT NAHANT

A former Winchester man, John Caniffe, and his wife, Mrs. Flora Caniffe, figured in the fatal auto accident at Nahant Sunday when one man was killed and seven other persons injured. Mrs. Caniffe was taken to the Lynn Hospital suffering from bad cuts and bruises and her husband was likewise badly cut and bruised.

The Caniffes were driving in a sedan bound from Nahant to Lynn. It was just after the deluge of rain, when the oil-soaked road was extremely slippery. Mr. Caniffe saw a touring car driven by Charles Houston of Lynn coming towards him at a rapid rate and skidding from side to side. Mr. Caniffe drove his car onto the grass of the bridge path, but despite this the touring car crashed into his machine, both being wrecked. Mr. Caniffe had in his machine his wife and sister, Miss Isabelle Campbell of Wakefield. All three were badly injured.

Houston, who was badly hurt, receiving injuries to his ribs and a possible fracture of the skull, was arrested for misappropriation of an automobile, operating while under the influence of liquor, drunkenness and manslaughter. Edward F. Palkey of Dorchester, who was with him, was the man killed.

Mr. Caniffe resided in Winchester for many years. He married a Wakefield girl and now makes his home in Lynn.

The many friends of Mrs. James P. Donachey, wife of Patrolman Donachey of the local Police Department, were glad to learn this week of her return to her home after three weeks in the Winchester Hospital following a critical serious operation.

NO CAR IS SAFE FROM COLLISION

COLLISIONS ARE STEADILY INCREASING. This is not difficult to understand when it is realized how many MILLIONS OF CARS have been added to the other road traffic of the country. In addition to COLLISIONS CAUSED BY TRAFFIC CONGESTION, AND NARROW STREETS AND ROADS, there are those caused by the LOSS OF CONTROL OF THE CAR, BREAKAGE OF STEERING GEAR, WHEELS, OR OTHER MECHANICAL PARTS, BRAKES NOT WORKING, SKIDING, due to WET, OILY, OR ICE SURFACES, OR THE THROWING OF A TIRE, OR RIM. There is also the serious hazard of UNPROTECTED RAILROAD CROSSINGS. There are daily reminders by the newspapers. Perhaps the most severe hazard is the "OTHER FELLOW"—the one that STOPS SHORT in front of you, or SIDE-SWIPS you, or RINS INTO THE REAR OF YOUR CAR. YOU CANNOT CONTROL SUCH ACTIONS OR CARELESS DRIVING. COLLISIONS ARE NOT CONFINED TO CONTACT WITH OTHER AUTOMOBILES. They also occur in connection with trucks, trolleys, trains, telegraph poles, trees, fences, houses, and other objects, resulting in the PARTIAL OR TOTAL LOSS OF A CAR. Approved and labeled Front and Rear Bumpers frequently lessen the damage sustained and a reduction in the cost of Collision Insurance is made on cars so equipped. OUR POLICY WILL REIMBURSE YOU FOR THE DAMAGE YOUR CAR SUSTAINS BY REASON OF BEING IN AN ACCIDENTAL COLLISION.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

We welcome the opportunity to show our customers the most modern and best value at way of using gas service. One great advantage of gas over all other kinds of fuel is that it gives heat the instant you want it, where it is wanted and only as long as it is wanted.

But it is very easy to waste it even though you may use the best appliances on the market. And gas is the most economical always results in high bills and these in turn cause dissatisfied customers.

Let us show you how to avoid wasteful practice—how to get out of gas service all the economy there is in it. And remember that, with a efficiency and economy go together. If you have one you have the other.

LEGION TRIMS MARINES

Before the smallest crowd of the season to date, the Legion beat the Marines 6 to 4. The Marine team was considerably stronger than similar teams from the Navy Yard which have appeared here in former years.

The Marines scored two runs in the first inning after two men were out. McManus started the ball rolling by letting a ground ball go through him. The next two men up got hits. McNulty ended the inning by striking out. Winchester came back in their half. Shon reached first by being hit and Lane bringing him in with a clean two base hit to left center.

The Legion boys played a snappy game, turning in three double plays with men on base each time.

BASEBALL

On Saturday afternoon, July 19, the Legion team will have for their opponents the Boston Tigers, composed of colored players and considered to be one of the fastest aggregations in Greater Boston.

The Tigers have an imposing list of victories to their credit this season and the Legion boys will have to step fast if they are to win the game.

It was with considerable effort that the Tigers were obtained for Saturday as they are in great demand. Being such an attraction they ask and obtain a substantial sum in the way of a guarantee and the cost to the Legion for this game will be considerably in excess of that for other Saturday games. Notwithstanding this fact the price of admission will remain as heretofore, but it is hoped that the townspeople will turn out in large numbers, everyone contributing and therefore enable us to clear expenses.

The game will start at 3:30 sharp, so come early and get a seat.

Church Designs Studied

Modern religious architecture and economic conditions are bringing about a demand for a change in church conditions, and as a result several of the leading deaconesses have named a special committee to study designs best suited for small or medium sized congregations. The object is to find the economic value, if possible, in a more liberalized church architecture.

WHERE AMERICAN FLIERS LEAVE JAPAN

When America's Round-the-World aviators leave Japan they will fly away from Nagasaki, the city where Christian missionaries first landed in Nippon nearly three centuries ago, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

The arrival of the missionaries followed close upon the accidental discovery of Japan by Portuguese sailors who drifted too far eastward and landed on a small island south of Kyushu, which is the southernmost of the five central islands of the Japanese group.

These events later made Nagasaki, Kyushu city which the aviators are using as a supply base, the only communication port with the outside world during the centuries that Japan proscribed her hermitage. When all other nationalities were rigidly excluded from Nagasaki the Dutch were allowed to remain, though they were under strict surveillance.

Coaling With a Human Chain

Today Nagasaki is the San Francisco of the oriental Pacific. Its dock yard is the oldest in Japan, historically, and the most modern in its equipment. Along a waterfront of a mile and a half ships come and go, electrically driven cranes busily load and unload, only the coaling reminds one he is in a land of cheap labor and no labor unions. Above the clatter of machinery, the puffing of the engines, and the shrieks of whistles, sound the shrill cries of men and women who pass baskets along an endless human chain from barge to steamer.

The visitor is surprised to see women at manual labor, and shocked when he copies some with children strapped to their backs.

One American writes, the sight reminded me of the passage in the Aeneid where the poet speaks of the ants as tiny toilers of giant industry, and describes them carrying crumbs in their mouths to the common storehouse in a seemingly never-ending line.

Nagasaki rises upon terrace after terrace to the point beauty of the mountains on which it is built. Her residential sections partake of the eternal calm and poise of the older Orient.

A City of Specialty Shops
Since the Orient is famed for its bazaars—and there are some extensive ones in Nagasaki—our flying visitors may be surprised to find as they stroll through her streets specialty shops which out-specialize those of Fifth Avenue. There are confectionery establishments, featuring sponge cake, fruit stores where loquats and oranges only are sold, umbrella shops, washing powder dealers and a fish store wholly given over to dried fish roe.

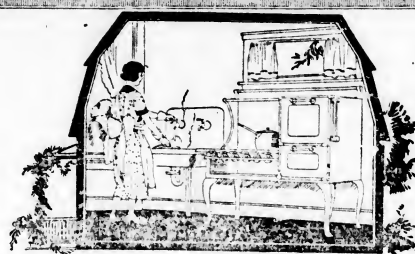

Another surprise awaits them, if they attend a Nagasaki theatre. The orchestra seats are missing; the main floor is taken up with the sunken boxes which make it look like a cross-section of a honeycomb. But cutting through these boxes and running the entire length of the theatre is a stage extension, which, architecturally, is precisely like the runway affected by Broadway revus productions.

In Suway, Koen Park, famous for its camphor trees and pines, and its New Year Day Cherry Trees, named for the time of their blooming, is a statue of General Grant, in memory of his visit there in 1879. Another statue memorializes Dr. Siebold, an Australian who, only about 30 years earlier, brought to Japan the first inkling of Western medical science. The city's best monument to him, however, is the extensive hospital he founded, which now has 48 buildings.

Amid steam hammers, boiler yards, shipbuilding and heavy hauling Nagasaki preserves her quaint festivals. Curiously, the out-standing celebration, just concluded, is an aerial event—a kite-flying fête. Every spring the people make use of their own folk, through the parks and streets and outlying hillsides, each grasping a kite string. These strings are coated with ground glass or emery powder and the object is to cut your neighbor's kite string by rubbing your cord against his.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

All honor to the men who do not fear obstacles, but push them aside and press on.
We need not expect much from men who, when defeated give way to despair, to wild impulse and revenge.
There are times in most every man's life when his existence seems meaningless, forget the past, look to the future and mould the present, the rest will be easy.
I know a man who lives rather a simple life, yet is always happy and expresses himself often by thanking the Lord that there are many things in the world which he does not need.

Autosts have often wondered at the bulky and unsightly traffic signals which are found about the country, but the experience of Winchester in placing on its streets a neat and attractive signal which does not fill the roadway, gives quick and ample proof that these signals should be of a solid and unbreakable construction. Our three signals have suffered weekly during the short time they have been in use. Apparently the only way to keep a signal in its position and in use is to make it so solid that any auto which hits it will be smashed before it gives way.

There is one thing which the Metropolitan District Commission should stop, and that is the crowding of the Parkway from Mystic Lake south with boys and girls on foot, pushing autos for rides. They walk in the middle of the roadway, run directly in front of approaching cars, and do not hesitate to freely express their opinion if a driver strikes one of these men or boys, he would be arrested and sued for damages although in nine out of ten instances he would be absolutely blameless. Apparently no effort is made to check this dangerous and very annoying practice, auto drivers being left to dodge and stop, and listen to vile language if they do not care to fill their car with half-dressed youths and wet bathing suits.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The second of the afternoon series of whist was held at the home of Mrs. Nora O'Melia, Loring avenue, on Tuesday afternoon. The party was a most successful one, the large attendance testifying to the success of this series, which is being conducted in aid of the Court's charitable fund.
Mrs. O'Melia proved a delightful hostess and was assisted in serving refreshments by Grand Regent Annie E. Vayo and Mrs. Elizabeth Shea. The Misses Marguerite McCarron, Mary Vayo and Esther O'Melia, three of the Junior C. D. of A's, presided most graciously at the punch tables. The beautiful picture on chances was drawn by little Francis O'Brien and awarded to Mr. Mark Kelley of Arthur street. The following were prize winners for the highest scores: Mrs. Margaret Foley, Canal street, baking dish; Mrs. John Murray, boiled dinner; Mrs. Mary Kerrigan, 10 lbs. of sugar; Mrs. Margaret Foley, main street, luncheon set; Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, 2 lbs. of coffee; Mrs. Boylen, Wolburn, cake; Mrs. Turpin, East Boston, bath towels; Mrs. John Connors, Wolburn, flowers; Mrs. Sara Sullivan, aprons; Mrs. Bert Bond, apron; Mrs. John Smith, lb. of tea; Mrs. Margaret Donavan, fancy cakes; Mrs. William Hargrove, 2 quarts of blue berries; Mrs. John Mawn, cut glass dish; Mrs. Hodge, bon-bon cake; Mrs. Katherine Smith, basket of vegetables. The consolation prize, a quart of blueberries was awarded to Miss Alice O'Donnell.
At last night's meeting of the Court plans were completed for the outing which the Court is conducting with the cast of the recent Minster show as its guests.

Past Grand Regent Ann C. Pol and with Mr. Polard and the family, will spend the remainder of the summer at their Point of Pines cottage.
Sister Mabel W. Kelley, one of the Court's most popular members, is at Bethel, Me., for a few weeks, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Herman Robinson.
Sister Katherine Kean, the Court's Treasurer, with Mr. Kean, is enjoying this week a trip to St. Anne de Beaupre.
Grand Regent Annie E. Vayo, assisted by a most interested committee will conduct a twilight whist on the grounds of her home on Arthur street on Friday evening of next week, the proceeds to be devoted to the work of the charitable committee. It is already anticipated that this will be the most successful whist conducted in town for some time and many have already promised some very good prizes. If the evening is stormy the whist will be conducted on the next pleasant evening, Sunday of course, excepted. Don't forget the date of this out-door twilight whist—Friday, July 25. All who enjoy an evening of good play are cordially invited to attend this party and help along a good cause and perhaps secure a gold prize.
Sister Minnie Noonan, with her family, is located for the rest of the summer at their summer home at Hull.

ON STATE PATROL AT CAPE

Exercising the Stutz on Monday by driving to the Cape for a swim in the beautiful water at Centerville, the Editor was held up in Hyannis by a snappy State patrol officer in the person of John P. Dempsey, a Winchester boy, now in drug duty between Middleboro and Provincetown. The pleasure at the encounter was mutual especially so in the knowledge, not shared by a curious throng of summer people, that there was no summons or fine at the end of it.
Officer Dempsey has been in the service of the State for about a year now. He was suggested here for the position of motor cycle officer, but declined to take the job preferring his work for the State. He has a long route to cover, but expects to work within a few days between Middleboro and Boston. He makes an efficient and snappy officer, and one whom Winchester people will be glad to encounter—within the rules of the road.

Horse Latitude

Horse latitude is the name given to the belt of calms in the North Atlantic ocean between the region of westerly winds of the higher latitudes and the region of the trade winds of the torrid zone. Authorities differ in regard to the origin of the name, some claiming that it was derived from the fact that vessels within a cargo of horses were often so delayed on account of the calm that they perished from

FIRE ON THE PARKWAY

In the midst of yesterday's thunder storm at 2 p. m. the fire department responded to an alarm from Box 531 for a fire at the residence of Mr. Frank W. Dunbar, 14 Mystic Valley Parkway.

The first intimation which the family had of any trouble came when they heard a sound of breaking glass on the third floor of the house which was quickly followed by the smell of smoke.

Investigation found a mirror on the dresser in the maid's room to have been cracked and a fire started in the partition of the house over one of the dormer windows.

The department arrived in time to check the blaze with hand chemicals and it was not thought that the property damage would prove heavy.

NEW RAILROAD LEADS INTO MONKEY-LAND

A remote but exceptionally important bit of railroad building is the proposed extension of the Kenya Colony line into Uganda which will link Mombasa with the Nile, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Pushing the line 75 miles beyond its present terminus at Turbo will open to coastal travelers one of the most diverse regions of the world, from a geographic and scenic standpoint. The existing railroad gives ample promise of what lies beyond. When he entered Africa for his famous lion-hunt the late Theodore Roosevelt rode over this stretch on a locomotive cow-catcher and when he gave his first lecture before the National Geographic Society after his return he said, "I really doubt if there is a railroad trip in the world as well worth taking as that up to the little British East African capital of Nairobi."

Two Natural Wonders

From the terminus of the contemplated extension, at Jinja, the passenger some day will emerge to view two of the world's notable natural features—Victoria Nyanza, to the south, and in the northern background the giant Mount Elgon, with its crater ten miles across and its jagged rim rising to 14,000 feet.

Jinja is located on the marvelously beautiful gulf through which the waters pour from the mighty lake over Ripon Falls and enter upon the cascaded and swirling course of the Victoria Nile.

These are only two of Uganda's physical aspects which range from snow-capped mountains, some veiled in heavy mists, to arid areas where rain has not fallen for periods of two years.

In the Rift Valley is a curious people who are guiltless of clothes but extremely painstaking of their hair. It is most unwomanly for a Suk woman to have any hair on her head. The son of a father's death his hair is divided among his sons. Each son weaves his into a sort of receptacle in which he places his snuff box, ornaments and other valuable trinkets.

Remnants of Stone Age

Sir Harry Johnston tells of another tribe, the Andorobo, who wander among dense forests and game-haunted wilderness. He says "These Andorobo reproduce in a most striking manner the life which we may suppose to have been led by our far-away ancestors in the earliest Stone Ages. They lead, in fact, very much the life that the most primitive types of man led in Great Britain and France in the far-earliest days of big animals, possibly before the coming of the glacial periods.

They live entirely by the chase, often consuming the flesh of birds and beasts uncooked. Though they commit considerable deviations among the game of the province, they are a picturesque feature when encountered."

Joseph Thomson, founder of British East Africa which now is Kenya, is famous for never having fired at a native. He first penetrated Masailand where the reality approaches Kipling's fantastic lines:

"This is the sorrowful story,
Told when the twilight falls,
And the monkeys walk together,
Holding each others tails."
Sir Harry Johnston's Masai-land picture follows:

A Fairy-Land Area

Their towns are surrounded by belts of tall trees, mainly acacias, some of which may be considerably over a 100 feet in height, with green boughs and trunks and ever-present flaky films of pinnated foliage. In the rainy time of the year these trees are loaded with tiny golden bells of flowers, like tassels of floss silk, which exhale a most delicious perfume of honey. In the plains between the villages Greys zebra and a few oryx antelopes scamper about, while golden and black jackals hunt for small prey in broad daylight, with a constant whining.

two days, a longer trip than from New York to Kansas City.

Population distribution bears upon the recommendation of the Alaska citizens of the first judicial district. The whole territory has now a population of 60,000, half of which are natives. Lower Alaska claims 17,000 of this total, but it has 12,000 whites to 5000 natives. Juneau in lower Alaska is the present capital of the territory and the residence of the Governor.

The conception that Alaska is a country of mountains is as erroneous as the conception that it is as cold as Greenland. At Juneau the temperature seldom goes below zero and this modulated climate is found in practically all southern Alaska, swept by warm winds from the Pacific ocean which bring heavy precipitation to this coast.

Heat Prostrations in Alaska
At Fairbanks, which is the same latitude as Ireland, three men were prostrated by the heat last summer. Fairbanks is the center of a great section which would surprise the individual who expected only mountains in Alaska. Away from the south coast, the country back of the barrier of mountain ranges stretches broadly as a great inland plateau rolling gently north to the reaches of the Bering sea. Tanana and Fairbanks are centers of a growing agricultural region which is having considerable success in producing quick-growing crops. The big inland plain is inhabited chiefly by huge herds of reindeer guarded by native owners.

Most of the minerals for which Alaska is noted—gold, silver, and copper—are found in both upper and lower Alaska. The Juneau district produces three times as much gold as the rest of Alaska and it has some of the great copper mines of the country. A further contrast between the two sections is found in shipping statistics; while 1518 ships cleared at the fishing port of Ketchikan, only 399 clearings were reported for all other Alaskan ports in 1922.

Lower Alaska has been the objective of most of the tourists who visit the American "Switzerland." The magnificent scenery of the inland passage focused much interest but with the completion of the great Tanana River bridge on the Seward-Fairbanks railroad this past year, many visitors are pushing on across the Gulf of Alaska to see the beauties and wonders of the interior as did the late President Harding and his party.

"Wool" From Dogs

"Wool" obtained from Samoyed dogs is believed to have commercial possibilities. During the war in Europe it was woven into cloth, from which garments were made.

The police were notified Tuesday night that there had been an automobile accident on Cambridge street near the Country Club. Upon investigation it was found that two Ford's, a truck and a touring car, had been in a rear end collision. It was evidently a case of "fall in the family" as there was no damage, and no one was reported injured.

Superintendent "Alex" MacDonald of the Park Department started on his two weeks' vacation last Monday. Mr. MacDonald deserves great credit for the result of his spring's work, comment about the town being to the effect that the gardens and grounds around the center have seldom appeared to better advantage.

A faulty electric light fixture in the residence of Mr. Earl Goldsmith at 18 Symmes road was responsible for a burglar scare over the week-end. The severe storm of Sunday afternoon broke a tree limb off on Wilson street, carrying down a telephone wire with it.

Three well-known Winchester young men, Messrs. Chris. Powers, James McFeely and Erskine Kelley are being felicitated upon a momentous week-end spent at Provincetown. The trio left town last Saturday evening for the tip of the cape having engaged a cottage to shelter them until the following Monday. Arriving at Provincetown they were unable to locate either their cottage, or any other accommodations. Following a beach shortly after 3 a. m. where a heavy fog rolling in off the water busy evening they retired on the added much to the enjoyment of their out-of-door nap. Promptly at 6 the week-enders decided to call it a night, and returned to town where they scattered for some much needed rest. Mr. Powers reports that the back to nature movement can be overdone.

Motorists driving through town seem to be experiencing difficulty in getting by the traffic haven at the corner of Church and Bacon streets. Last Friday it was run down for the second time in a month. The accident occurred when a large Auburn touring car owned and operated by Hazel Vert of New York city crashed into the beacon with sufficient force to knock both it and the base completely off the roadway. It was said that Mrs. Vert had to swerve quickly to avoid hitting a car that came out of Fletcher street and was unable to clear the beacon.

BATHING PARTY INTERRUPTED

Officer O'Connell of the local Police displayed a surprising lack of appreciation for the aesthetic last Monday, and at the same time a party of motorists, said to have been not in the entire possession of their several faculties, discovered that they were away out of order when they attempted to stage a bathing party in the more or less "au naturel" in the rear of the residence of Mr. Stephen S. Langley on Cambridge street at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It all happened like this:

As officer O'Connell was going along Cambridge street he noticed an automobile apparently deserted in the drive at the rear of the Langley place. Investigation disclosed nobody in or near the machine, but sounds emanating from a grove of trees just ahead seemed to indicate that the owners were near at hand and engaged in high revelry of some sort. Officer O'Connell decided to proceed with the investigation.

When he arrived where he could see what was going on behind the trees he was at first in doubt as to whether he had stumbled upon movie actors on location for a nature serial or a troupe of classic dancers expressing their idea of a good time upon the shores of the lake. Two men and a woman were disporting themselves in the grove and were evidently ready or very nearly so, to enter the water. As stated above, their covering was not such as to comply with the dictates of good form in the matter of bathing dress, and officer O'Connell remonstrated with the party who were most surprised at the interruption.

In vain their pleaded that the torrid weather had caused them to seek relief in the sparkling waters of Mystic, and that everything was all right. The policeman was not convinced, and the bathers were escorted to the Winchester Police Station where they were booked on a drunkenness charge.

At the station one of the men gave his name as Herman Pearson or Arlington. The other members of the party were his wife, Emma, and Ivor Iverson of Lexington.

In the district court Tuesday morning it was decided that the Winchester Police had not been over zealous in frowning upon the would-be aquatic carnival, and imposed fines of $10 each on the defendants, who doubtless will go elsewhere when they next experience the desire to swim and to get right back to nature in doing so.

MOTORISTS ARRESTED ON GROVE STREET

Sunday morning at 6:30 the local Police received a call from West Medford asking them to be on the watch for a party of alleged drunken motorists who were on their way to Winchester.

Officers Hogan and O'Connell were sent out from the station in answer to the call and came upon the machine in question on Grove street near the Medford line. Its occupants were three men, two said to come from Medford, the other from Somerville, and a woman claiming to reside in Boston. All were arrested and booked at the Police Station for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

In the Woburn court Monday morning one of the men and the woman were discharged after paying a $10 fine for drunkenness, but the other two members of the party, beside a similar $10 fine, were held in $1000 bonds for the Grand Jury on a statutory charge.

GEORGE W. FOSDICK

Mr. George W. Fosdick, whose funeral was held Saturday at the First Baptist Church, Arlington, where of late years he had made his home, was at one time a resident of this town. His home was at the corner of Blackhorse terrace and Main street. He built and occupied the house now the home of Dr. A. L. Brown, on the site of the historic Blackhorse Tavern, the headquarters of General Washington during the Concord-Lexington fight. Mr. Fosdick and his family attended the Baptist Church and were much interested in music. He died at the Melrose Sanitarium and had been ill a year. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Wendell E. Richardson of Arlington and Mrs. Luther S. Ayer of Plainfield, N. J. His wife, who was Sarah E. Clough of Manchester, N. H., died in 1920.

DANCE TONIGHT

There will be a regular Friday night hop at the Winchester Boat Club this evening.

MACHINE SMASHED NEAR COUNTRY CLUB

Shortly before 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon Sergeant Rogers and officer Noonan of the Winchester Police arrested Cornelius Harrington of Dorchester, said to be a member of the Boston Fire Department, after he had run his Ford sedan into a wall on Arlington road near the Winchester Country Club.

According to witnesses of the accident Harrington was driving along Cambridge street toward town, and was traveling at a speed estimated to have been between 40 and 50 miles an hour, when he turned into Arlington road and swerved into the wall. The car was badly damaged, losing two wheels, but the driver escaped unhurt.

At the local Police Station Harrington was looked on the charge of operating a car while under the influence of liquor. At the District Court Monday morning his case was continued until next Tuesday.

Mr. F. C. Locke was notified last week that his pharmacy "on the Aberjona" had been awarded the second prize for June in the drugist division of the great national baby contest sponsored by the Nestle Food Company of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murphy with their daughter Mary of Yale street, sailed last Sunday from Boston for a trip to Europe. Mr. Murphy has planned his itinerary so as to be able to visit his mother in Ireland before returning to this country.

CHILD STRUCK SUNDAY

Last Sunday noon 11-year-old Annie Pollicio, daughter of Tony Pollicio of 832 Main street, was struck by a Ford sedan owned by Patrick E. Kelley of Woburn and operated by Harold E. Kelley of 32 Main street, that city.

The accident occurred on Washington street opposite St. Mary's Church, and was witnessed by a big crowd, many of whom had just come from services in the church and were on their way home.

Kelley was driving along Washington street toward town, and according to witnesses of the accident was not going at an excessive speed, when the Pollicio girl attempted to cross the street and jumped directly in front of his machine.

The child was not badly injured, but was shaken up and suffered several cuts and bruises. She was attended by Doctor Richard W. Sheehy, and then taken to her home in Kelley's car.

STRUCK ON PARKWAY

Shortly before 6 o'clock last Monday afternoon Mr. Noel B. Nutt of 62 Bacon street was struck and knocked down on the Mystic Valley Parkway near Wedgemere Station by a Chevrolet touring car owned and operated by Frank Battullo of 7 R street, Woburn.

Mr. Nutt, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick, was crossing the parkway from the station when he was struck by the machine which was traveling south and according to reports, was not going at a high rate of speed. He was hit by the left front mud guard, and sustained cuts and bruises about the head and arms. Following the accident Mr. Nutt was removed to his home and treated by Doctor Maynard who found that, aside from a severe shaking up, his injuries were not serious.

With Battullo in the car were his wife, Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. John Russo of 11 First street, Woburn. Battullo's license to operate a car had just been received the day of the accident, though he had previously held one which he had allowed to expire.

TOMORROW'S BASEBALL

Tomorrow, Saturday, the Winchester Legion ball team will play the strong Newton Legion team on Manchester Field at 3:30. The visiting team has a reputation for putting up a strong game and has made many wins thus far this season.

WOBURN TANNERY WILL BE CLOSED

Answer of One Company to Health Board Action

The Murray Leather Company will close its Salem street tannery, in Woburn, affecting from 30 to 50 men, as its answer to the city Board of Health's action in declaring the Murray shop and two other tanneries, the John J. Riley Company and the Crescent Leather Company, nuisances. The Board of Health ordered an abatement of the nuisance within 30 days.

James S. Murray of the Murray Company declared that without sewer connections the tannery cannot be operated without creating an odor. The Murray work will be done at another tannery of the company at Campbell street, Woburn, where there has been no objection to the odor.

Mr. Murray asserted that the Health Board's action has produced a serious situation, affecting the industrial life of the city vitally. "The leather manufacturers have done everything in their power to control the odors," Mr. Murray said, "but it is a hopeless task without sewer connections. We urged the construction of a sewer through the Aberjona Valley, but it was defeated in the Senate, and the city does not stand ready to build a sewer, so we have no other method that I know of to correct any unpleasant conditions that might now exist."

"Odors to which the residents object exist only during a few months of the year. It cannot be avoided. The sludge and liquids must be dumped into open pits in the yards of the tanneries, where the solids settle and the liquid seeps into the ground. If there was a sewer in that vicinity the liquids would go directly into the sewer and the solids could be easily and quickly disposed of."

"Fortunately for us we have another tannery on Campbell street, where we can continue our manufacture, but the men employed at Salem street will be out of their jobs. If we are obliged to curtail our tanning the effect will be further felt in our japanning shops, where patent leather is made. Woburn is the greatest patent leather city in the world and I believe that the city officials and others should move slowly before they injure the city's biggest industry."

"Just what the Riley Company and the Crescent Company will do I cannot say, but if the board persists in its action there can only be one thing, the closing of the tanneries."

The Board of Health has not said what will be done at the expiration of the 30-day period. The tanners say that they will not fight the Health Board's edict.

TRADERS' DAY, AUG. 6

At a meeting of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night it was decided to hold the annual Traders' Day in this town on Wednesday, Aug. 6.

WINCHESTER MAN ASSISTED IN STEAMSHIP WRECK

Among the passengers on the ss. Boston, which figured in the excitement of the week through being rammed in Long Island Sound by the ss. Swift Arrow on Monday night, was Mr. Nathan Thummin and daughter, Miss Nathalie Thummin of Sheffield road. Mr. Thummin is in the habit of making a weekly business trip to New York on the boats, and this week was accompanied by his daughter.

He tells an interesting account of the affair, denying that there was any more excitement other than what might accompany the regular tending of the passengers. At the time of the crash he was in the smoking room of the steamship and his daughter had retired. He went at once to her, had her put on her bath robe, shoes and heavy coat, after which he put on her life preserver and accompanied her to the deck.

When the first life boat was lowered, he was asked to assist, and did so. This boat carried all women, including Miss Thummin. He was then called on by the Captain to jump into the second boat, being lowered on the opposite side of the ship, and as the sea-sock was tight and assist the women in getting into it. Mr. Thummin reports that the chief thrill of the experience was a jump of about 10 feet down to this boat.

Forty-one persons were carried in this boat, there being three men, including one of the ship's officers and Mr. Thummin. The rest of the passengers were women and children. These three men rowed the boat to the ss. Swift Arrow, which had rammed the Boston and which was found to be seaworthy. It required considerable effort to get the boat over to the rescuing steamer.

Arriving at the Swift Arrow, Mr. Thummin was able to assist in landing the women in his boat, and later was stationed at the rail to take the passengers who climbed up the greasy rope ladder from the other boats. He was later among those who embarked on the ss. Plymouth for Newport. Mr. Thummin's boat was the first to reach the Swift Arrow, the boat containing his daughter coming in later, when they were united. He reports that the experience was most exciting, and highly compliments the officers and crew of the Boston upon their cool handling of the situation.

EDWIN C. HARRINGTON

Mr. Edwin Utup Harrington of 5 Warren street died suddenly on Tuesday evening at his home of heart trouble. He was stricken at the dinner table with a fainting spell and went to the porch and sat in the hammock, where he died.

Mr. Harrington was a native of Salem. He was 59 years of age and had made his home here for a number of years. His parents were George and Eugenia (Sondray) Harrington. He leaves a wife, one daughter, and a sister. He was a tobacco sales agent with offices on State street, Boston, and was widely known in the tobacco trade.

The funeral services are to be held at the Church of the Epiphany this Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and are to be conducted by the Rev. John W. Suter, pastor emeritus of the Church, assisted by Rev. Allan Evans, Jr., rector of the church.

WINCHESTER RESIDENTS IN STEAMER CRASH

Several residents of this town were reported as passengers on the Eastern Steamship Company's new steamer or Boston when she was rammed by the heavily laden oil tanker Swift Arrow on Monday night. The names of the passengers are as follows: Walter Doten, "Nan" Goddard, "Bill" Callahan, Maurice Dinneen and Merrymann Price.

The dinner bell found the gang ravenous, but the commissary was organized to handle any emergency, and everyone was sumptuously provided for. This all important detail was in charge of the ladies of the Emblem Club, and well indeed did they handle their assignment. The committee of ladies was in charge of Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Lochman and (Continued on page 4)

KIDDIE DAY HUGE SUCCESS

Elks Hosts To Nearly 100 At Nahant

Nearly 400 children wrote their O. K. all over the second annual Kiddies' Day of the Winchester Lodge of Elks which was held last Wednesday at little Nahant.

A wonderful time. Perhaps these were not the exact words used by the youthful merry-makers in describing their day at the beach; perhaps some of them were too happy and full of good things to express their feelings coherently, but ask any kid that went. We believe "wonderful" won't exaggerate his answer a bit. And the grown ups in the party; the Elks and their lady auxiliaries of the Emblem Club, they too were enthusiastic, and thoroughly enjoying themselves in aiding and abetting in every way possible the good time of their young guests.

As early as 7:30 in the morning the kiddies began to assemble at Manchester Field, and long before 9, the hour set for starting, it was easy to see that standing room only was going to be the order of the day. By the time the private cars and the four big buses of the M. and B. Railway which were scheduled to carry the party to the beach put in an appearance the kiddies were "rarin' to go," and it was decided that more transportation would have to be provided. It was forthcoming at once. W. H. "Bill" McMullin donated one of Kolley and Hawes big trucks and worked like a trojan in arranging it to carry passengers. George Lynch also furnished a truck, but still there were children for whom there was no room. Another call was broadcast, bringing one of Erskine's huge moving trucks onto the scene with George Nowell at the wheel, and all the passengers who could produce tags were safely tucked away.

And just a word in passing about the children who could not be included. The Elks' committee tried to see that so far as possible those youngsters to whom the trip would mean the most should be taken, and arrangements were made to take care of those who had tags, from start to finish. Many were taken; how had no tags, but to have taken promiscuously a crowd of kids for whom no provision had or could be made would have been manifestly unfair, alike to the children and to the committee. Suffice it to say that no kid was more disappointed at being left behind than the Elks were at being obliged to leave him.

The following were on hand with their cars and aided in getting the party to the beach:

Napoleon Goddard William P. Callahan
Walter Doten Nathaniel M. Nichols
George Leary Fred H. Scholl
J. Albert Horn Harry Stevens
John McNally William Steale
James Powers William Cleary
George T. Davidson Mrs. E. E. Naumburg
George Lochman

On the roll of honor for transportation were Mrs. Naumburg who for the second year drove her car to the beach, and Harry Stevens who came all the way from Quincy to do his bit.

Arriving at little Nahant, headquarters were established in the big pavilion at the end of the beach and the first call was given for bathing which was easily the main item of the morning's exercise. Under the able supervision of Harry Doten who won his service stripes last year for similar duty, the bathing suits were distributed, donned, and it was hurrah boys for the water. It was a perfect beach day, and even the cold waters which one finds at Lynn did not keep the bathers from hugely enjoying their frolic in the surf. "Lifeguards" were on the job during this part of the program and no casualties were reported when the recall was sounded for dinner. The "guards" were as follows: Walter Doten, "Nan" Goddard, "Bill" Callahan, Maurice Dinneen and Merrymann Price.

The dinner bell found the gang ravenous, but the commissary was organized to handle any emergency, and everyone was sumptuously provided for. This all important detail was in charge of the ladies of the Emblem Club, and well indeed did they handle their assignment. The committee of ladies was in charge of Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Lochman and (Continued on page 4)

NORTH END IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION NOTES

Dedication of the Noonan School

A real feeling of satisfaction is being expressed by those residents of the North End section of the town whose streets have been recently opened up by the Arlington Gas Company. All appreciate that getting the gas this year is due to the Association's Committee on the Extension of gas mains, of which Mr. James J. Fitzgerald is the hard-working chairman.

Then, too, those whose duties take them up and down Swanton street many times a week are already looking forward to the fine shade which will be provided when that nice, straight line of sturdy looking trees begin to mature. We realize that when Tree Warden Symmes assured us at one of our meetings last winter that he would be interested in seeing to it that certain of our sunny streets would be the recipients of young trees this spring, he meant business. He is the kind of public servant that we are grateful for, one who absorbs a suggestion and acts upon it.

The topic of main interest among the members of the Association just at present is the dedication of the new William J. Noonan School which, if present plans materialize, will take place on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 6, two days before the opening of school.

On Thursday evening of last week a conference was held in regard to the dedication, the following being present: Mr. Ralph Hale and Mrs. Maurice Thompson of the School Building Committee, Mr. Robert Stone and Mr. William Barber of the School Committee and Mr. John F. Cassidy and Mrs. William E. McDonald of the North End Improvement Association.

The program for the dedication is in charge of the original committee of 12 appointed by the North End Improvement Association of which Mr. John F. O'Brien is chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald, secretary, and Mr. Peter Coss, treasurer.

The present plans call for a military dedication as the war hero in honor of whom the school is to be named was killed while serving with the U. S. Marine Corps. General Clarence Edwards, State Commander of the American Legion has been invited to make the principal address of the afternoon and Miss Mabel M. Cote and Mr. William I. Cote, both of whom attended the old Rumford School, will be the singers of the occasion. A group of school children will render "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." An invitation has been extended to the Rev. Fr. Nathaniel J. Merritt to deliver the opening prayer and the Rev. Allan Evans, who saw service during the war as a Chaplain, has been invited to be one of the guests.

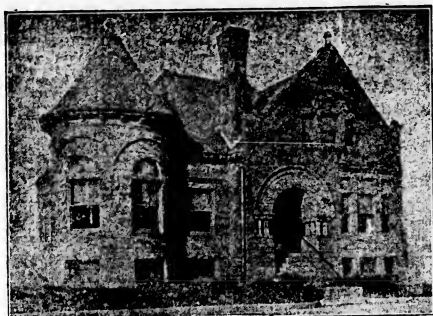

The full details of the military part of the exercises will be published in subsequent issues of the Star. Up-to-date, invitations have been given to the local post, American Legion, to the local camp, Sons of Veterans and to the local survivors of the G. A. R., also to the various military outfits in our neighborhood of Woburn.

Mr. Raymond F. Fenton, President of the North End Improvement Association will be temporary chairman of the exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Davy of Everett Avenue have returned from Whitefield, N. H., where they were registered at the Mountain View House.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

And They Call It a "Remedy"

"Do it the British Columbia way and there will be no law violation," say a certain group of opponents of prohibition. In other words repeal or modify the present prohibition law and adopt one like unto that in operation in British Columbia—government control of all liquors. Proponents of this plan claim that not only would it insure observance of the law and discontinuance of bootlegging, but it would bring into the treasury of the government huge revenues, and thus reduce taxes.

Would that it were possible to organize an excursion to British Columbia to enlighten all honest believers in this method of dealing with the liquor traffic. Even a superficial investigation of conditions in that province would kill the British Columbia argument "deader than a door nail." But since such an excursion may not be practicable, the next best thing to do is to get all those who are under the delusion that government control is the ideal system, to see the result of the method through the eyes of A. B. McDonald, who fresh from a comprehensive inspection of results, tells of his investigation, in an article in the June "Ladies Home Journal." Some of his findings are as follows:

The government of British Columbia does not control the liquor traffic; the liquor traffic controls the government and defies it. The government is simply the saloon-keeper, the bartender and collector in the liquor business, distillers and liquor dealers; and the bulk of the profits goes to them.

Bootlegging has not stopped. The government itself, through its newspapers, admits that it sells only 50 per cent of the booze consumed. The other 50 per cent is sold by the same old bootleggers who sell it under prohibition. "The Vancouver World," one of the government's papers, declares: "British Columbia is the bootleggers' paradise."

The government control method was supposed to greatly lessen drinking and drunkenness, but as a matter of fact the liquor stores have increased from 74 the first year to 69 last year, and the liquor sales in them have increased from $9,000,000 to $12,500,000. The explanation is that as the government is in the business for profit, it pushes the sale in every community, even where it is not wanted. The newspapers carry display ads of whiskey and beer. In the words of the chief of police of the city of Vancouver, "The government has set out upon a policy of alcoholizing our people for profit; a policy of saturation rather than control."

As to decreasing drunkenness, Mr. McDonald says: "On one Saturday night in the bootlegging clubs and joints of Vancouver I saw more men drunk than I had seen in the United States in the four years since national prohibition began, and I was in fewer than 20 of the 255 bootlegging dives of that city."

Romance Courts History

Among some historians is the belief that the Croatian Indians of North Carolina are in effect the descendants of Sir Walter Raleigh and that among the survivors of the old tribe are some who are the descendants of Virginia Dare, the first white child born on American soil of English parents. The lost colony of Roanoke was one of Raleigh's unsuccessful attempts to establish a colony.

Windstorm Insurance

It is not only the storms reported from the West and South in the newspapers which make Windstorm Insurance worth while throughout the country, including these sections where the typical tornado is almost unknown, heavy windstorms occur from time to time which cause large property damages and money losses. Scarcely any class of property is exempt. Dwellings, churches, schools, stores, factories, mills, farm property, all appear from time to time in the reports of wreckage in varying degrees of damage, involving roofs, chimneys, porches and other property representing substantial amounts in the cost of repairs.

If you carry Fire Insurance on your own property for the protection of a mortgage as well as yourself you doubtless take comfort in the thought that in the event of either severe damage or destruction by fire the mortgagee will probably tell you to go ahead and rebuild with the insurance money. The cost at which you can enjoy the same protection against loss by windstorm or tornado makes this form of indemnity an inexpensive investment in peace of mind.

TIGERS CLAW WAY TO VICTORY

Winchester Post 57 was defeated by the Boston Tigers on Manchester Field last Saturday in a game that tickled the cockles of every fan's heart.

It was a slugging match from beginning to end with the Tigers getting 15 hits and Winchester getting 14 including 3 home runs and two-base and three-base hits galore.

The Tigers got 2 runs in the first inning on an error by Donnellan, who let the ball pop out of his hands.

Winchester came back in the third inning and as a result of heavy artillery, scored four runs, adding two more in the fourth and one in the fifth.

In the fifth, with two men on, Henry, right fielder of the Tigers, hit a pinch hit into the brook for a home run, scoring two men ahead of him. In the sixth inning, the fireworks began.

The Tigers hit the ball to all corners of the field and Donnellan and Tansey were run ragged. At one time Mgr. George LeDuc was tempted to send out a handful of dimes so the boys could pay their fare back after chasing the ball.

McCarthy went in to pitch for the Legion in the seventh and held the Tigers for the rest of the game. In the eighth, McCarthy made a great bid to win his own game, hitting the ball on a mean drive to center with all the ear-marks of a two-base hit, but Martin, Tiger center fielder, raced over toward right and made a shoestring catch.

In the ninth, with two men on, Donnellan leaned on the ball for what looked like a sure home run, but Sampson, left fielder for the Tigers, leaped over the brook and caught the ball bare-handed. The fans wanted officer Donaghey to arrest Sampson for highway robbery, but it was too long a walk to left field to get him.

All in all it was a well-played game, full of thrills, and the interest displayed by the fans was evident by the fact that nobody left the field until Schaarf, battling for Hatch, made the last man out in the ninth.

Sidelights of the Game

It was a dark day for Winchester, even though the sun was shining.

Lane and Donnellan got three hits out of five times up, while Jim Prior had a field day batting for 1000, getting a double and two singles out of three times up.

Maybe those Tigers couldn't hit that ball.

Wright, the umpire, was in hot water continuously, several of his decisions not meeting with the popular approval of the Tigers.

Doc Connors, was pinch hitter and score keeper in place of George LeDuc, J., who took a day off.

Tansey came through with a sweet catch in right field that cut off two runs.

McCarthy certainly looked good the three innings he worked. We ought to see more of this boy.

Gillis, who played third for Winchester, is owned by Cleveland, having played with them up to two years ago when he was taken sick. He goes back to Cleveland next spring.

Newton Legion, one of the strongest semi-pro teams around Boston, plays at Manchester Field next Saturday. Everybody up for the game.

Quite a commotion was caused just before the game when Mr. Mullen, who weighs a scant 220, tried to sit down in a cramped built for a man weighing about 100. It can't be done!

SAINT MARY'S WIN OPENER

The newly organized Saint Mary's baseball team took out on the right foot when they took the Arlington Juniors into camp at Arlington last Friday night, winning 7 to 5 in a well-played game.

Saint Mary's is out for a successful season and should do well in their class. The team presents a snappy appearance on the field in white uniforms trimmed with red, and with red and white stockings. It has been several years since Saint Mary's has been represented by a ball club, but in the days of George Foley, "Charlie" Flaherty, and Harry Donovan, all the Catholic young people were in the field with a team that used to clean up with great regularity.

The present team is lining up with Donlan and Murphy as a battery and an infield composed of Quigley at first, O'Connor at second, Halwartz at third, and J. Dolan, the high school short fielder at short. In the outfield is "Tom" Dolan, another high school star, in center, with Chamberlain in left and Dooley in right.

The boys were disappointed last Tuesday night when a team from Somerville failed to put in an appearance at Manchester Field as scheduled. It is reported that St. Mary's will play a return game with the Arlington Juniors at Manchester Field tonight.

TWO BREAKS REPORTED

Since last Saturday two breaks have been reported by the Police. The first was discovered Monday evening when Mr. Clinton A. Swift notified the station that upon arriving home from a four-day trip he found a door of his house open. Mr. Swift was at first inclined to think lightly of the affair, but the police investigation disclosed that a front window had been forced, and the house more or less ransacked though little of value was reported as missing. Two small banks were found smashed and rifled of their contents, and a bond box containing a collection of old coins had been forced open by the marauders, but so far as could be ascertained none of the coins were missing. In commenting on the break the Police characterized the job of forcing the window as one of the cleanest they had ever seen.

The second break occurred some time during Tuesday at the residence of Mr. Claude N. Crafts, 21 Sheffield West. In this instance the thieves were evidently after money for although the house showed evidence of having been thoroughly searched, nothing was reported missing.

If Gas Service Took a Vacation

THESE DAYS everybody's thinking about vacations—planning to get away somewhere for a rest and a change.

Suppose that Gas Service, too, just decided to take a vacation. Suppose it took even one day's holiday.

You'd get up in the morning and find no hot water for bathing or shaving. You'd eat a cold breakfast without your customary crisp hot toast and cheering cup of coffee. If you went on downtown to breakfast, you'd find conditions the same in restaurants.

And this would be but the beginning of annoyances. All through the day you'd be inconvenienced and delayed at every turn. Factories would close and hundreds of men lose the days work because no gas was available for process of manufacture.

But... Gas Service never does take a vacation. It's on the job twelve months a year. It's just as plentiful and available on the hottest day in summer as on the coldest day in winter.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

The blessings of life cannot be thought, they belong only to those whose life is such as to retain them.

To borrow trouble is to contract a debt that any man is better off without.

The man who stores up his strength and quietly abides his time for new efforts is the chap who makes progress.

Time is short, mystery in any field of activity is a long process.
Do not waste your moments.

If your troubles are not borrowed they are not likely to be many or great.

Mr. Nathaniel M. Nichols has filed an application with the Selectmen for the appointment to the office of Town
Treasurer. The present Treasurer,
Mr. George H. Eustis, is understood to desire to terminate his office by August first, when he expects to go on a western trip.

There is some talk about town regarding the advisability of consolidating the offices of Collector and Treasurer of the Town. An actual consolidation cannot be effected without a vote of the Town, although it is possible for the Selectmen to make appointment to each office of the same man. No expression has been made by the Town as a whole regarding the consolidation of these offices, although it is understood that State officials generally frown upon the scheme, claiming that it is difficult for one man holding both positions to keep his cash and books wholly separated. From such expression of opinion given when the idea was broached some years ago, the general sentiment may be declared as opposed to the consolidation in the Town at large.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY BURNED BY LIVE WIRE

Edward Leahy, former well-known Winchester boy, now residing at 62
Harrison avenue, Woburn, had a narrow escape from death last Monday while working on one of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company's poles in Reading. Mr. Leahy was at work repairing a telephone connection when his hand came in contact with a live wire, causing 3200 volts to pass through his body. His life-belt prevented him from falling, and the cry he uttered upon coming in contact with the electric current attracted the attention of fellow workers on the ground.

Mr. Otto L. Brown, foreman of the group, immediately mounted the pole, and climbed to the cross-arm above
the unconscious man. Pushing Leahy away from the live wire he attached a cable to his belt and lowered him to the ground where he was rushed to the Winchester Hospital.

On first examination it was feared that Mr. Leahy had been very seriously injured. He suffered severe burns especially on his right hand which may make the amputation of his right thumb and index finger necessary. As the Star went to press he was reported at the Winchester Hospital as being about in a wheel chair and resting comfortably.

Telephone officials have expressed surprise that Mr. Leahy was able to withstand a current of 3200 volts without fatal results.

LOCAL BOYS TO ORGANIZE TEAM

It is reported that Winchester is to have another baseball team in the field shortly composed entirely of local boys. It is planned to play two games a week, one evening at home, and the other out o town. The backbone of the team will be members of this year's championship High School nine and will include Taney, Fitzgerald, O'Donnell, Tom Dolan, Robinson and others. It is also expected that Glen Kendrick, "Muggins" Taney, and possibly Mark Kelley will play with the team.

If the present plans materialize
the town will be represented by an all Winchester nine that should give a fine account of itself, and at the same time make it possible for the local players to keep in touch with the game. By playing their games at night the new team will not in any way conflict with the Legion Club which will continue to hold forth Saturday afternoons.

KIDNAP DAY HUGE SUCCESS

included the following members:

Mrs. Scholl Mrs. Callahan
Mrs. James Bora Mrs. Price
Mrs. O'Neill Mrs. C. Morrison
Mrs. Chazy

After the dinner-man had ceased to demand attention the sports of the afternoon got under way. The boys of the party were eager to challenge the Elks to a ball game, but were prevailed upon to let the men off and go to it among themselves under the direction of genial George LoDuc.
While the older folks were enjoying the ball game which was won by the typists over the Millpeds, the younger kiddies repaired to the shore, and under the eyes of the ladies, busied themselves with their new pails and shovels which had been provided by the lodge members at the start of the trip. Nothing went wrong, everyone was happy, and all were sufficiently tired out to call it a day at 4.30 in the afternoon when the happy, log-weary crowd piled into their vehicles and started for home, where they arrived without mishap shortly before six.

And now just a special word of praise for Nate Nichols, chairman of the Elks committee, to whom more than to anyone else goes the credit for the splendid success which this year's Kiddies' Day turned out to be.
He was everywhere, he saw to everything and everybody and he was a tired man when the last child was gotten safely home and his day's work was ended. And the same might be said of Harry Dotten, of Fred Scholl and other members of the committee which included Exalted Ruler George Davidson, Maurice Dinneen, George Lochman, John McNally, George Lynch and L. A. Flanders. These members of the Winchester Lodge deserve plenty of praise for putting over one of the most worth-while events of the year and putting it over right.
Why, a professional from Thompson's Spa couldn't have poured lemonade any better than George Davidson, we're sure of that.

And were the kiddies tickled with the outing and are they strong for the Elks? We overheard the following conversation between two youthful excursionists which would seem to imply that yes is the answer in both instances. One little shaver, as he was leaving for home, tightly clutching his precious pail and shovel, asked his companion, "Which'd you'd rather be or be an Elks," and the answer was, "Gee, I'm gonna be an Elks, they're regular guys."

MISS JESSIE ALLIS MARSH

Miss Jessie Allis Marsh passed away at her home 62 Church street, Saturday, July 19 at 1:30 p. m. after having been in ill health for over two years. She was born in Jamaica Plain, in 1855 and was the daughter of the late Sylvester and Cornelia Hoyt Marsh. She has been a resident of Winchester for over 35 years. She leaves behind her a large circle of friends whose lives have been richly blessed by the strength and beauty of her character and influence.

She is survived by two sisters,
Mrs. Carl R. Lindstrom of Southboro, and Mrs. F. Patterson Smith of Winchester.

An Appreciation

To her many friends, the passing of Jessie Allis Marsh seems the triumphant entry into a larger, fuller life than is possible to us here in our hourne of time and place. Something of the keen, eager vitality of this spirit that has gone away, drives home to us certainty that there is no death, but only a continuous and glorious life.

Long ago the Great Teacher said,
"I have come that ye might have life,
and that ye might have it more abundantly"; and that is the feeling Miss Marsh gave to her friends that she was living the abundant life. No physical weakness could quench or weaken that vital spark that reached out to every interest of every friend, and imparted some of its eagerness and some of its fineness to the lives of those friends. It is through such spirits as hers, that life is made more abundant for all.

The following poem found among her papers tells us something of the "golden joy" she had in living.

THE DEBT

Because the years are few, I must be glad;
Because the silence is so near, I sing;
T'were ill to quit an inn where I have had Such homelike fare, nor pay my reckoning.
I would not, from some dreamy journey
Of Sirius or Vega, bend my gaze
On a remembered sparkle and regret
That from its twinkling I want my ways
T'p through the starry colonnades, nor loud
Vivats in any Paradise more blue
Than those that blossomed on my own waste ground,
Nor vesper sweeter than the robins knew.

Though Earth be but an outpost of delight,
Heaven's aid fostered by friends here,
Only a Shakespeare may her gifts requite,
Only a happy Elysium may his debt.
Yet I, to whom even as to these are given Caesarian foam, unblended battles,
The moon's pearl chariot through the massed clouds driven,
And the divinity of loving eyes—
Would make my peace none with mine hostess Earth,
Give and take pardon for all brief annoy,
And bow her, for lengthen my lodging's worth,
Proud that I am, a coin of golden joy.

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

At the meeting of the Emblem Club in Lyceum Hall last Friday night, plans for the Elks Carnival to be held the last week in September, were under discussion. As outlined by Exalted Ruler G. T. Davidson of Winchester Lodge of Elks the affair is to last three days and the cooperation of the ladies is of vast importance.

President Allie E. Davidson appointed the entire membership to serve on the general committee under the chairmanship of Vice-President, Anna W. Lochman. The tables, each with its quota of assistants are as follows: grab table in charge of Mrs.
Varion H. Gilman and Mrs. Annie E.
Vayo; food table, Mrs. Mary F. Larway and Mrs. Zella A. Kempton; apron table, Mrs. Harriet C. Cleary

table, Mrs. Emily A. Scholl and Mrs.
Isabel Queenin; grocery table, Mrs.
Rita C. Callahan and Mrs. Mabel

Cullen and Mrs. Clara Morrison.

An executive committee made up of the heads of the different tables, will have as directors and advisers the President and Vice-President of the Club, Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Loch-man. Mrs. Frances Sullivan will serve as general secretary. Arrangements are being made for frequent meetings.

As the proceeds will go towards the Elks' Building Fund, every effort will be made to interest all if the ladies of Elddon, whether Emblem Club members or not, and all offers of assistance will be most acceptable. Application blanks will be ready at the next meeting for those who wish to join the Club and help make the affair a huge success.

Plans for joining in the Elks' outing at Wardhurst, August 6, are in the hands of a very efficient committee, who, while not saying much,
are probably scheming surprises for all.
It is rumored that a "Fat Ladies' of the day. Autos conveying the party are scheduled to leave the center at 9:30 a. m.

"Bottle Books"

About a century ago "bottle books"
were made in the south of France.
They were used to carry liquid refreshments and were popular with judges, lawyers and the learned folk generally. The legal profession was given to carrying its authorities back and forth under the arm. Hence these bottle books, which were made of lustrous, decorated dark blue falenoe, were in appearance not unlike toilet leather. The contents were wholly liquid or partly literary, with a liquid compartment. When the owner felt the need of a nip he opened his little book.—Detroit News.

SUMMER COLORS NOW BEING WORN—BY THE OCEANS

The much-travelled Atlantic is putting on its usual color show for the summer tourist. It is exhibiting a decided preference for blue, with soft, foamy white ruffles. Sometimes it is wearing sage green, deep indigo, or royal purple.

Globe trotters will find the Mediterranean and the Caribbean tricked out in sapphire blue, the Red Sea in varying shades of henna, the Yellow Sea in beige and tan, the shallows of the Gulf of Mexico in a soft turquoise, and the Antarctic in olive green, according to a bulletin issued from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Modistes of the Waters

In order to put on such a pleasing display of shade and hue, the seas have summoned to their aid many and varied hosts, notable among which are warmth and cold, sunlight and shadow, sand, silt, and possible volcanic dust, salt, lime, and various and sundry kinds of diatoms and algae.

Absolutely pure water is a clear blue color because the blue rays of sunlight are not absorbed by the water as the red rays are. Thus the open ocean seems intensely blue. Distilled water has a greenish cast due to the impurities which still remain after distillation. This makes it clear why the shallow water in bays and estuaries is green or yellowish green.

One explanation of the olive green of the ocean in the vicinity of the South Pole is that it contains enormous quantities of diatoms in suspension.

When a Grey Gown Is Worn

Sometimes the ocean wears a grey gown, but that usually happens when the clouds shut out the sunlight and

HER SCHOOL DESIRE

Second Prize for Grade 7 in Public School Prize Story Contest
By HERSHIE WARREN

The Madison School basketball team was working hard for the school leaven cup.

They were to play the last game Friday of the following week, and were trying hard to win a victory with Miss Lee's School.

Muriel Harding, a fair haired girl with a sweet disposition, who was the captain, was asking harder and with more spirit than ever before.

Every afternoon there appeared to watch practice a small, dark girl who would to earn her board in one of the smaller houses off the campus.

She often longed as she sat watching them, to be one of them, one of those sweet, merry-hearted girls who did not have to work to earn her own board.

One night just before getting into bed, as Lillian was looking out into the moonlight at the tall stately buildings which were so dear to her, there came a light knock at the door. Rising, she answered to the knock, and was much astounded to find herself face to face with the owner, old lady, of whom she had pictured as Dresden China, whose basket she had carried the day before.

"My dear," the old lady said, "I have come tonight to see you and tell you something."

"You must know immediately that I am the head of the grand old school, and my dear daughter, whom I loved so much did so very much."

"I have heard so much about your unselfish deeds that I would not if you would be willing to come to Madison Gables and act as my daughter."

"Oh, Madam Horton," gasped Lillian, and bursting into tears, dropped her head into the loving lady's lap.

"I've lived so much to have a friend I could call mother. I've wanted so much to be one of them, one of the crowd."

"Dear Mrs. Horton, you can never imagine how grateful I am."

It was half past one before Lillian's door closed, half past two before the early hour on the pillow was fast asleep, and half past eight before she awoke next morning.

The eventful day of the basketball game came, and the grandstand was full of anxious spectators.

In the gym, Muriel was directing her girls.

"Remember girls, team work. Put your mind on one thing, victory, and do not take it off."

As the whistle blew every eye was on the ball, the game had started!

Up in the grandstand two heads were bent together, a light and a dark. Why, yes, of course Madam Horton's and Lillian Simpkins's.

At the end of the first half the score was 13 to 4 in Lee's favor. But the Madison team was still striving hard with victory pointed large on their faces.

"Then a cry and Madam Horton behold Lillian standing up with white face and clenched hands."

"To think that miserable little center could have done such a thing as to trip Muriel, surely!"

Madam Horton's face was lit up with pride as she saw the loyalty for Muriel in Lillian's heart.

The coach was roving. "Take that Lee center out of the game. She tripped Lillian and that is the cause of all this misbehavior."

Muriel's last words as she was going off the field were, "Go ahead and win girls!"

Madam Horton stepped gracefully down and spoke to the coach.

She asked, "Please will you try Lillian Simpkins for center?"

Everyone stared and gasped in astonishment for no one had guessed that she could play basketball.

Running into the gym, she said, "Grip, I will try to make Muriel's place in your hearts. I am sure I will be successful, but I will try."

"Remember, let me run the game." As the whistle was about to blow and the score had reached 20 to 15, in Lee's favor, Lillian caught the ball and from a far-away toss, it strove home into the basket.

With a loud shout, Lillian was lifted up upon the shoulders of two girls.

She had won the day. Oh, how glad she felt in her heart. She was one of them.

THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

Choosing a president, the next event on United States' political calendar, brings into the limelight the history of the electoral college, a practice of the medieval Holy Roman Empire and Maryland's contribution to the Constitution.

Red wine, roast pork, chicken, pigeon, goose, rabbit, cakes and sweetmeats were part of the business of the electoral college in its earliest days. German youth, says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society from its headquarters at Washington, D. C., Nothing as prosaic as a curtained closet would do for a Rhinish craftsman engaged in choosing an executive. The electoral college first appears growing out of well-dined sessions of medieval Rotary clubs in such trade centers as Cologne, and Mainz along the Rhine.

Dinner Time Was Polling Time

The appearance of organized towns in Central Europe following the heaving influence of the Crusades, set the stage for a battle. That new figure, the merchant, began to refuse obedience to the extravagant, fighting principles. With the aid of medieval unions or guilds, the merchants won freedom for their towns. To select the town administrators peaceably guilds and merchants sent electors to an election dinner party. Under the benign influence of much spiced food officers were elected and announced to the waiting populace. Election day was a holiday within the town.

Out of the town Rotary club elections grew the Imperial Electoral College which presided at the head of the Holy Roman Empire. At Mainz, and later at Frankfurt, the bishops of Cologne and Mainz and a few nobles of larger German states met after the death of an emperor to elect his successor. Maryland's electoral college and the present American electoral college are direct descendants of this Holy Roman Empire institution.

Now Electors Never Meet

The electoral college for which millions of citizens will vote in November, will never meet. In each of the 48 States certain little groups will gather and mail an envelope to Washington. The contents of this envelope will be counted by two tellers of the House of Representatives and read by the President of the Senate and the members of the electoral college will have been graduated until another four years.

Difficulties of American parties in selecting candidates for presidential elections fade against difficulties in the electoral college of cardinals at Rome. Unholy delays led early to the present custom of forced seclusion during the voting for a Pope. The cardinals' income was cut off during the conclave, they were allowed one servant apiece, and they lived a common life without separate cells. Their food was passed through a guarded window. It consisted of only one dish after the first three days and bread and water the fifth. When these measures brought no result in 1268, the roof of the episcopal palace was taken off, and the cardinals seemed to have camped under the sky for nearly three years before they chose a pontiff.

A $100,000,000 Convention Hall

France has a $100,000,000 convention hall for its electoral college. This auditorium, which cost the Regn of Terror, was surprised in the midst of its regular seven years sleep recently, when the august senators and the spirited deputies tramped out 12 miles from Paris to elect M. Doumergue president of France.

Versailles, whose mirrors have reflected world moving events from the machinations of Madame de Maintenon to the signing of the World War treaty in 1918, is less often recognized as the official capital of France.

Elections in Palace and Clubs

Although the Senate and Chamber of Deputies of France convene in Paris now, they must meet jointly at Versailles to elect a president. This officer ordinarily lives for seven years in the Palais de l'Elisee and performs duties similar to those of the British King; he speaks at patriotic gatherings, unveils monuments and calls in new premiers to replace defeated executives. Millerand, under pressure of the French legislature resigned before his term ended. That is why the $100,000,000 home of Louis XIV, a colossal monument to monarchy, is elected, awakes out of its seven year sleep to find a heavy guard thrown about its marble court while French legislators rolled up to the south wing in automobiles.

Cologne's early Rathaus where burghers dined and voted, finds a counterpart today in some of London's famous political clubs. Many English premiers are elected in the Carlton Club and similar institutions on Pall Mall under the shadow of Buckingham palace and a few blocks from the Parliament buildings. Selection by the King is merely an approval of a decision by leaders made in a leading conservative, or liberal, or labor club.

PACHUCA: WHERE A MULETEER DUG HIS WAY TO NOBILITY

Pachuca capital of the State of Hidalgo, Mexico, captured by Mexican revolutionists, is one of the world's greatest and most famous mining centers, according to a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

One of Pachuca's silver mines, the Real del Monte, contained the counterpart of Nevada's famous Comstock Lode, says the bulletin which as everyone knows is the accepted synonym for mining riches; and the wealth of romance and adventure that has sprung from it has rivaled the metallic treasure. An inconspicuous muleteer became the owner of the mine in 1739 when its value was unknown. His pick opened up a bonanza vein such as seldom has been uncovered. Soon he was a multimillionaire in a day when even millionaires were rare. He presented several fully equipped war ships to the King of Spain and for his happy thought was made a count—Conde de Santa Maria de Regla. This Mexican Count of Monte Cristo spent his millions with a lavish hand and his memory is cherished in Mexican traditions.

Wealth Drowned By Underground River

The famous mine came to a tragic end soon after the Count's rise to fortune, by the bursting into it of a subterranean river. Its drowned riches remained untouched until near the middle of the nineteenth century when efforts to reopen it by British engineers led to frenzied speculation and a crash among London investors rivaling those of the Mississippi Bubble. Local Pachuqueros bought up the bankrupt company and promptly found a second bonanza vein even richer than the first. Silver valued at more than 80 million pesos has been taken from the second vein.

Pachuca's mining fame does not rest alone on the Real del Monte Mine. The town lies in a big gulch with hills rising on three sides. The slopes of these hills are honeycombed with hundreds and hundreds of mine tunnels. Outside of each is a characteristic terrace of gray stone talings. In the town are reduction works, assay offices and the other inevitable accomplishments of mining in every part of the world. Most of the 40,000 inhabitants of Pachuca are connected in one way or another with the dominant industry and the place has the appearance of a mining camp which in truth it has been since the first shaft was sunk in 1534.

In the hills near Pachuca is an exposure of great six-sided basaltic columns which has been termed the Giants Causeway of America. Mexico City lies less than 75 miles to the south of Pachuca.

Strong Bank-Note Paper

The secret of making the linen tissue for Bank of England notes has been kept for 200 years by the trusted employees of one firm. Of a peculiar whiteness, the paper is so tough that a folded note can sustain the weight of 50 pounds without tearing. In the days before postal orders became common, it was customary, when sending money by mail, to cut a note in halves, inclose the first with the invoice and await acknowledgment before parting with the second.—Popular Mechanics.

Snakes Don't Charm Victims

The popular belief in the power of poisonous snakes to charm their victims into a state of helplessness has no foundation. It is said, however, that under the influence of excitement the heart or small animals are forgetful of everything around them, and in this state they ventured too near, only to be hit by the lightning almost motionless snakes, whose only sign of life consisted in the following of the victim's movements with the staring eyes and the incessant darting out and in of the rapid tongue.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The Court is especially interested this week in the twilight which will be conducted this evening by Grand Regent Annie E. Vayo on the lawn of her home on Arthur street. Mrs. Vayo is prepared to accommodate a large gathering and nothing has been left undone to insure the success of the affair. Among the prizes that have already been awarded are: 2 gold pieces, a bag of King Arthur Flour, a basket of fruit, embroidered towels, a fancy box of chocolates, guest towels, a railroad book and over 30 other prizes. Besides the prizes for the high scorers, there will be a very good prize to console the players who acquire the greatest number of losses and also prizes for the first couple who score 7 points.

The proceeds of this affair will be used to help the Charitable committee carry out some very fine plans in aid of a most worthy cause. All who care to attend this party are cordially invited to come without further notification. When one reaches Swanton street bridge, the attractively illuminated grounds will be readily discernible. A cordial welcome will be extended to all and the committee in charge of the grounds assures us that Major-General Citronella with his rapid-fire spray has already vanquished our old enemy, Mr. Mosquito.

At the last regular meeting of the Court, it was voted to hold the annual outing this year at Canobie Lake on Saturday, August 9. The time and place from which the buses will leave will be announced in next week's Star. All members of the Court and their families are invited to attend the outing while the cost of the recent minstrel show and the candidates who are waiting to be initiated into the Court will be the special guests of the occasion.

A program of sports has been worked out by the committee in charge with attractive prizes for the winners, both children and grown-ups. The Court will provide ice cream and coffee for the members and their families who are directed to take along a basket lunch, while the special guests, minstrel show cast and candidates will be served a most attractive dinner by the committee in charge. This outing, from all appearances, promises to surpass all other events in the history of Court outings. Here's hoping we will have a 100 per cent attendance.

MY NEIGHBOR'S ROSES

From the Monthly Bulletin, published by Court Washington, No. 190, Spokane, Washington.

The roses red
Upon my neighbor's vine,
Are owned by him, but they are also mine.
His was the cost, and his labor, too;
But mine, as well as his, the joy, their loveliness to view.

They bloom for me, and are for me as fair,
As for the man who gives them all his care.
Thus I am rich, because a good man grew
A rosebud vine for all his neighbor's view.

I know that this, that others plant for me,
And what it theirs my joy may also be.
So, why be selfish, when so much that's fine
Is grown for you upon your neighbor's vine?

—[Abraham Gruber]

SINGAPORE: WORLD GATEWAY, EMPORIUM AND FORTRESS

Singapore, which by a vote in the British House of Commons is to have $50,000,000 expended on it to make it an impregnable naval base, already is heavily fortified, and in strategic position is the Gibraltar and Adm. of the Far East, says a bulletin from Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

The great trading center and fortress of today is a shining example of how Great Britain has "muddled"—as the British themselves put it—into possession of some of the world's most important strategic gateways. Singapore is an island 27 miles long by 14 wide and just miles being the southernmost point of the continent of Asia by a half mile water channel. It is at the funnel point of the Strait of Malacca which extends between the Malay peninsula and the island of Sumatra, the great water highroad between India and China.

Deserted Jungle Century Ago
Little more than a hundred years ago the island, owned by the Sultan of Johore on the nearby mainland, was a deserted jungle save for a little fishing village. Ships in the China trade passed it by as they passed many another jungle shore; the only ports of call in that region of the world were those on the Dutch islands of Sumatra and Java. But these ports took a big toll in fees, and Sir Stamford Raffles, an official of the East India Company, began to dream of a free British port that would facilitate trade. In 1819, he obtained the seemingly worthless island of Singapore for his company for a small fee. Developments quickly proved him a prophet, for within two years the little trading center he established had a population of 10,000. It was only in 1822 that the British Government consented to take an interest in the place.

In the little more than a hundred years since it was founded the jungle of Singapore has given place to a huge city of close to 400,000 population, carrying on trade valued at a billion dollars annually—one of the metropolises of the British Empire. Its quays and anchorages several thousands of craft of all sorts and sizes, from the picturesque, graceful Malay sampans and the stately Chinese junk to the familiar freighters of the West, and what Kipling asserts are the "lad-like" liners. They build up Singapore's shipping to the tremendous total of 17,000,000 tons yearly.

Where Our Tires and Tin Cans Come From
Though Singapore is free from duties, and to this fact owes its very existence, still the people who make up the city take their toll from the stream of world trade that flows about them. They live, in fact, by and for in an atmosphere of commerce.

Some of the things that make their living by earning for shipping, conditioning and supplying vessels, and taking part in loading and unloading goods. The port is primarily a transshipping point for both imports and exports. It gives what the economists would call "place value" to hundreds of commodities which trickle to Singapore's reservoirs of goods from scores of districts in the East and are there obtainable in the huge quantities that would trade demands. In the city's "godowns"—as the East calls its warehouses—are handled a very large part of the world's great rubber before it begins the long journey that will take most of it eventually to American highways. So, too, much of the world's tin is smelted in and shipped from Singapore. It might be said that the city's "popper pot" for more popper is assembled there than is ever held in any other port.

If ever a city could claim to be cosmopolitan, Singapore can. At one of the principal world crossroads, and with a population 100 per cent cosmopolitan, it could not escape cosmopolitanism. It has drawn its population from practically all parts of Asia, from Oceania, the Malay Archipelago, Africa, Europe and America. The Chinese predominate, making up about one-half the population. There have been many thousands of immigrants from India, Europeans, Americans and Australians number less than 10,000, and there are probably as many Japanese.

Take Your Choice—Rikshas or Auto
The appearance of Singapore shows its mixture of influences. The victor may ride in "rikshas" or electric cars, automobiles or ancient horse-drawn carriages. In the chief business district he sees modern streets and buildings, and in the Asiatic quarters he encounters facilities and sights and odors that smack of the Orient. Singapore's houses of worship furnish an excellent index to its varied life. There are Christian cathedrals and churches, Moslem mosques, and the temples of half a dozen or more Indian and Chinese and Japanese faiths.

Without making use of reiteration one can hardly describe the physical aspects of Singapore Island adequately. It is an island of red, red soil and green, green verdure. The soil is poor, but since Singapore is almost at the equator and moist, the vegetation might be said to grow furiously. There is an unending fight between it and the coolies who strive to prevent its vivid green waves from engulfing the conspicuous red roofs and cleared spaces. Sir Stamford Raffles, who planted the seed of their great city, is revered by all thoughtful people of Singapore. Streets and quays and squares and public buildings are named for him. A fine statue of the founder stands before the Victoria Memorial Hall looking out to the sea whence comes the endless stream of ships that pay tribute to the city. The statue and the bustling metropolis behind it recall his prophetic statement that the place would be "a great commercial emporium and a fulcrum whence we may extend our influence, politically, as circumstances may hereafter require."

Sugar Loaf Islands

At the registry office in Bath, Me., there is recorded a deed from the United States to the state of Maine of Sugar Loaf Islands at the mouth of the Kennebec. The deed says that these islands shall be used for park purposes, and in the event of their being used for any other purpose the title shall revert to the United States. But the islands are a couple of large rocks, each about 200 feet long. A good deal of their area is devoid of growth, while on the rest shrubs, grass and a few small trees struggle for life.

Reading the Palm

"What," demanded the skeptic, "can you tell by looking at a person's hand?" "You can tell a good deal," said the palmist. "If a woman wears a platinum earring on the third finger of her left hand she is just married. If she wears a plain gold band the marriage dates farther back. If she wears a diamond ring on this finger she's engaged. If she's engaged she's probably in love. That's all women want to know about love and marriage. Yes, by looking at a person's hand you can tell a good deal and surmise a whole lot more."—Rehoboth Standard Herald.

First to Tattoo Bodies

The South Sea Islanders were the first people to tattoo their bodies. There is a superstition among sailors and men of the sea that animals tattooed on their bodies ward off the evil spirits of the sea. A pig, for instance, on the left lute, was supposed to keep the wearer from drowning.

MULTAN: CITY OF SILKS AND SILVER

Air travel has one marked disadvantage for the wives and friends of the aviators now flying around the world—a disadvantage which will be emphasized by the landing at Multan, India, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

American whalers and other sailors who roved the Pacific in bygone times were away for years rather than weeks—but usually they touched at a port of India where they acquired such souvenirs as the famed Kashmir shawls.

One cannot store many gift purchases in an airplane. So the women who know of Multan's brocades, silks and silver ornaments must mourn a lost opportunity of acquiring some.

Makes Trousers and Evening Gowns

Multan is noted for its himras, used in India both for making men's coats and women's trousers; but which the proud possessors in other parts of the world variously employ to drape walls and make curtains or for women's evening gowns. The material is a cotton weave, spun to form a soft, thick fabric which has the feel of wool, and has silk patterns brocaded on the surface.

The pagris, or turbans, of Multan which are used as a headdress by native men are seized avidly by European women to wear as scarfs—and in view of the present vogue of this filmy and colorful neckpiece they would make acceptable gifts for American women.

And that's not the half of it! The glazed pottery of Multan is noted throughout India for its deep blue designs against a pure white background. The city's silversmiths are equally famous for their small, silver-enamelled ornaments.

Is a Part of Punjab

Multan is 576 miles northeast of Karachi, the flyers' next stop. The city lies in the District of Multan, which, in turn is in the Division of Multan. With which concession to India's complex political organization it may be stated that city, district, and division are in the Punjab.

In its very early history Multan district lay in the course of all invaders, coming and going, hence it had scant breathing spells between devastations. Later the Mogul Empire protected it from minuscule and the trade route from Hindustan to Persia crossed it. Since that time the district and the city have been important trade centers.

Today the city where our aviators will alight is the depot for cotton, wheat, sugar, wool and indigo to be shipped south, and it gathers in raw silk and spices, drugs and fruits to be sent east. It has rail connections with Lahore and Karachi, and river routes to the Central Punjab.

THE TURTLE'S VERDICT

Many spectators witnessed a turtle's verdict of the water in the Mill Pond last week at the water bridge on Main street. A citizen of the old school, weighing anywhere from 50 to 60 pounds, according to the imagination of the spectator, appeared from unknown ponds and floundered into the river just below the falls. Although noticed by a number of people, his size commanded respect of person and distance of contact, and he was not molested.

It took him but a short time to come to a rapid conclusion that whatever he thought he was going into was not water—at least, water to which he was accustomed. Not being versed in State Board of Health water nor Abington River water, he at once made attempts to get back to more congenial elements.

Following his instinct, after trying the river bank once, he swam up stream. Coming to the steps of the falls, he never hesitated, but started in on the long climb to the top. It was during this feat that he attracted so much attention. After many falls and the display of much perseverance, he reached the top stone and started to flounder into the water of the Mill Pond. Whether it was the sight of the thick, sticky ood, or whether it was the over-powering odor which overcame him, no one knows. It must have been one or the other. At any rate, after one short survey he decided that land was better for him, and without hesitation started to make his way to the Falls by way of the shore of the pond.

No one molested him. After watching him brave the slimy steps of the dam and give his verdict on the water, all decided that he deserved a free and unhampered start towards his real native element, and he is probably now enjoying the clean, clear waters of our reservoirs in the Falls.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL AND VISITING NURSE NOTES

Three nurses, Miss Zorland, Miss Neville and Miss Mercia, went on their vacation Tuesday, and Miss Conley and Miss Hebard returned to take up their work.

Miss Norton, our Superintendent, has returned Friday after a month's rest, and Miss Lane who has been in charge during her absence, has left for the month of August.

Mrs. Gormley, the Visiting Nurse, is away for the month of August and Miss Duncanson is taking her work during that time.

During August, Mrs. Ross, the Public Health nurse, is holding a baby clinic at the Chappin School on Fridays as it is much more convenient for the mothers in that vicinity than coming to the Health Center. Last Friday there was an attendance of 20 children and 15 babies were at the Health Center on Tuesday. During Dr. Simon's absence Dr. Burgenio is the physician in attendance at the baby clinics.

In accordance with the agreed custom carried out in this district, Mr. Bateman has another term before retiring, his successor following from Ward 3 in West Medford. Mr. Bateman will be unopposed by any Republican candidates.

CHARLES N. HARRIS UP FOR RE-ELECTION

Mr. Charles N. Harris of Hillside avenue will come up again this fall for election as Registrar of Probate for Middlesex County. Mr. Harris has most ably filled the position, and while he will encounter opposition to his re-election, will undoubtedly receive strong support and be returned by a large margin.

FORD STRIKES CHILD

Early Monday evening a Ford car driven by William T. Murphy of 67 West street, Medford, while going from Swanton street into Holland street struck four-year-old Aggreyssian Russell of 9 Holland street, knocking him down and bruising his thigh. Murphy claimed the boy jumped from behind another vehicle directly in front of his machine. The child was not serious hurt.

Mrs. H. H. Pentz of Main street will be in Chesham, N. H., until Labor Day.

GEORGE H. ROOT

Mr. George H. Root, for the past 20 years a well known resident of the town, died at his home on Lloyd street last Saturday morning following a six weeks' illness. He was 58 years old.

Mr. Root was a native of Charlotte, Vt., and was educated in the public schools of that town. For a number of years he made his home in Burlington, Vt., and it was during the last 10 years of his residence there that he became connected with the Standard Oil Company. Twenty years ago he was transferred to Boston and has since made his home in Winchester. On May 1, of this year Mr. Root completed his 30th year with the Standard Oil Company having been up to the time of his death in charge of the construction work for the New England Department.

He was a member of the William Parkman Lodge of Masons, the Burlington Commandery, K. T., and the Alpeppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He also was a member of the Vermont Association, the Twentieth Century Club, the Boston City Club, the Calumet Club, and the Winchester Unitarian Church, being at one time chairman of the church standing committee, and at the time of his death a trustee of permanent funds for the Unitarian Society of the town.

In 1889 Mr. Root married Stella E. Russell of Charlotte, Vt., who survives him with a brother Cassius of Springfield, and two daughters, Marjorie P. Root of this town and June A. Root of New York City.

Largely attended funeral services were held last Monday afternoon in the Unitarian Church conducted by the Rev. George Hale Reed, pastor of the church. Among those attending were members of William Parkman Lodge of Masons of this town and a large delegation from the Standard Oil Company. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Honorary pallbearers were F. T. Fay and J. C. Walker, and the active bearers included C. B. Jones, I. N. Pitman, W. O. Richardson, E. V. Cornerais, W. W. Williams and F. R. Fitter, all representatives of the Standard Oil Company. The music was in charge of Kenneth Usher, organist of Cambridge and the ushers were Professor Arthur G. Robbins and James Robbins of Belmont, and E. Arthur Tuttle and R. T. Hale of Winchester.

The body was taken to Mount Auburn for cremation and the remains were taken to Charlotte, Vt., Mr. Root's birthplace.

FORD HITS BUICK

Last Monday morning a Ford sedan owned by William O'Connor of 22 Cross street and operated by his brother, Roger M. O'Connor of the same address was in collision with a Buick touring car owned and operated by Alberto J. Del Gratta of 33 Woodville street, Everett. The accident occurred at the corner of Washington and Swanton streets.

It is reported that the Buick was traveling north on Washington street and was about to make the turn into Swanton street when it was struck on the left rear mud-guard by the Ford which was coming out of the same street.

No one was reported as injured, but both cars were more or less damaged in the smash. The Buick's rear mud-guard was badly bent, and the body thereabouts battered and dented. The front of the Ford was slightly damaged.

MOTORCYCLISTS COME TO GRIEF

While driving his motorcycle side car on Washington street last Sunday evening John Muse of Wakefield and his brother, Dennis Muse who was the occupant of the side car had their ride interrupted by motorcycle officer Edward O'Connell of the local Police Department who placed them both under arrest.

At the Police Station both men were booked on a drunkenness charge and an additional charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor was lodged against John.

In the District Court Monday morning Dennis Muse was found guilty on charge of drunkenness and fined $10. John was given a suspended sentence of two months in the House of Correction for operating while under the influence of liquor, and had a charge of drunkenness filed.

RUN OVER IN WINCHESTER SQUARE

Shortly before 2:30 o'clock last Saturday morning Mr. John McClinchey of 2 Barrington place was painfully hurt when he was struck by a Chevrolet touring car owned and operated by Gustavo Van Der Neucker of 32 Myrtle street, Medford. The accident occurred when Mr. McClinchey attempted to pass behind the machine which was in the act of backing to turn around near the corner shoe store of Mr. James McLaughlin.

Mr. McClinchey was knocked down and the rear wheels of the car passed over his legs. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the same car where his injuries were not regarded as serious.

In reporting the matter to the police Mr. Van Der Neucker said that when the accident occurred he was on his way to the hospital to visit members of his family who were there as a result of injuries received when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by an electric car in Reading.

CHILDREN UNDER SCHOOL AGE NEED PROTECTION

Children under school age are practically all susceptible to diphtheria. Diphtheria, if contracted at this time, is a very fatal. For this reason the Massachusetts Department of Public Health recommends immunizing all children under school age.

It is a very simple matter to immunize a child against diphtheria. It consists of injecting some serum in the child's arm three times, a week apart. The material is harmless.

Children of school age should be given the Schick test, which tells whether or not they can get diphtheria, if exposed to it. If they are susceptible, they should then be immunized.

TRADERS' DAY WEDNESDAY

The annual Traders' Day of the Winchester storekeepers and merchants takes place next Wednesday, Aug. 6. Housekeepers should note this date and make their purchases early in the week, for every store and place of business in town will be closed all day.

No concerted plan for an outing has been made this year, the merchants and their families and friends spending the day as their fancy suits. The big outing at Wardhurst by the Winchester Elks will, however, probably be the goal of most of the merchants.

EMILY M. KENDALL

Mrs. Emily M. (Johnson) Kendall, widow of Caspar Kendall and the mother of Mrs. Ethel K. Pugh of this town, passed away at the home of her daughter on Church street, Friday afternoon, July 25.

Mrs. Kendall was 85 years old and had made her home in Winchester for the past six years. She was born in Wilmington, Del., the daughter of James C. and Amelia (Coggins) Johnson.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the late residence conducted by the Rev. Allen Evans, Jr., rector of the Church of the Epiphany. The interment was in Philadelphia.

BATHING AT HORN POND STOPPED

Bathing at Horn Pond, Woburn, was stopped the first of the week by orders of the Mayor. This place furnishes a part of the city water supply, and the extended dry spell has so lowered the water of the regular supply that it will probably become necessary to draw water from the pond for drinking purposes. Such an action, it is said, has been necessary only once before in 50 years.

CHILD BITTEN BY DOG

Last Friday afternoon a four-year-old child of Frank Erick, while playing in his own yard at 17 Harvard street, was bitten by a dog said to belong in that neighborhood. Doctor Simon was notified and authorized the wound. No serious results are anticipated.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL

In announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Councilor from the Sixth District, in which Winchester is situated, Abel R. Campbell of Lowell, seeks a position that no Lowell Republican ever has held. Moreover, the district has been served only in isolated instances by men—either Republicans or Democrats—who have hailed from northern Middlesex cities or towns.

In presenting his qualifications for representation in the Governor's Council, the City of Lowell boasts of nearly 34,000 voters, fairly evenly divided as to party affiliation. In the City of Lowell, Abel R. Campbell long has been considered one of the Republican party's strongest and most active workers. He has been identified with a number of state campaigns and in his own right served most acceptably in the years 1913 and 1914 as a member of the Lowell School Committee. His business is real estate, insurance and house construction, being a trustee and treasurer of the city's largest home-building organization, the Highland Realty Associates. He is a member of a number of directorates and in every way is one of Lowell's best established business men.

Commenting upon his candidacy, Mr. Campbell says:

"I feel most sincerely that Northern Middlesex is entitled to representation in the Governor's Council. It is a body that should be representative in every sense of the word and I cannot find evidence that the big voting center of the north end of the district—Lowell—has had a representation that is size and importance deserve."

"I have sincere respect for the ability of my primary opponent from Lincoln, who already has served in the council for four years, but I do not believe him justified in seeking another term which would extend his service to six years. He has suggested to me that I withdraw until another time, but my plans are too well formulated and too extensively developed to permit such an act now."

"By business training and widespread contact with other men I feel I am qualified to serve acceptably as a member of the council to the Governor and I seek support of my candidacy solely along those lines."

ELKS MEET TUESDAY

The regular meeting of Winchester Lodge of Elks will be held in Lyceum Hall next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Although a mid-summer meeting, there is much important business to be considered, as well as taking action upon a number of candidates and the initiation of an already accepted group.

The outing of the Lodge, which takes place on Wednesday, will receive the final consideration, the committee in charge having completed all plans for one of the best affairs in the history of the Lodge. It is anticipated that the gathering at Wardhurst will be the largest in the history of Winchester Lodge. This outing will form the chief attraction on Traders' Day, which falls on that date here.

Plans are shaping up rapidly for the big carnival planned for Sept. 25, 26 and 27, in the Winchester Town Hall. This will be the banner event to date by the local Elks. The committee in charge is holding regular meetings and everything tends towards a great success. The big feature of interest to date in the affair is the awarding of the fine Studebaker touring car and tickets are being eagerly sought. They may be had of any Elks.

"ELKS' NIGHT" AT STONEHAM THEATRE

Winchester Lodge of Elks is staging another entertainment of much interest in this vicinity on Wednesday evening, August 13. This is to be "Elks' Night" at the Stoneham Theatre.

In place of the usual show a special program is to be presented, including movies, included in which will be pictures of the big parade at the Boston convention, and special numbers by outside and local talent. Much work is being put into the program by the committee in charge and the evening will provide a rare treat for all Elks and their friends in this vicinity. Tickets for the show may be obtained at the Theatre or of any Winchester Elks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Mudge of Wedgemere avenue will be at Russell Cottage, Kearsarge, N. H., until October.

FUNERAL RITES FOR EDWIN U. HARRINGTON

Funeral services for Edwin U. Harrington, a well known resident of this town who died suddenly at his home on Warren street last week Tuesday evening, were held last Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany. The body was escorted to the church by associates in the Boston firm of which he was the head.

The services were conducted by the Rev. John W. Sator of Boston, rector honorarius of the Church of the Epiphany, assisted by the Rev. Allen Evans, Jr., rector of the church. A vested choir sang. The floral tributes were beautiful and numbered nearly 100 pieces. The bearers were all men active in the firm of which Mr. Harrington was the head for the past 22 years. BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 1 held its seventh annual camp at Rockport during the 10 days, July 16 to 26. Thirteen Scouts, James Fitch, Junior Kelly, Henry Knowlton, Frankie Kelly, Robert Livingstone, Francis Montague, Kenneth Kingston, Robert Roberts, Robert Denison, Robert Davis, Charles Bryan, Banfield Capron and Charles Yetter, attended and considerable progress was made in passing Scout tests. Henry Knowlton completed passing his athletic merit badge test. Stanley Roberts became a Second Class Scout, Junior Kelly and Frankie Kelly passed their athletic merit badge, jumping and running tests. Frankie found an unexpected obstacle to passing his athletic merit badge swimming test when after arising from his plunge dive he found himself with his arms around Laddie the dog who had turned back into Frankie's path. Henry Knowlton in supervising the tree chopping test of Robert Livingstone and Francis Montague surprised them by stepping on a wasp's nest so that Robert Livingstone was stung three times. Cran, a twin, and Henry not at all. Robert Livingstone became almost first class, he, Robert Denison, and Stanley Roberts should be First Class Scouts before the next Court of Honor.

Every one of the Scouts this year could swim, and Robert Livingstone, Stanley Roberts and Francis Montague in passing their first class swimming test swam nearer 100 yards in the Atlantic Ocean, than the required 50 yards.

Besides swimming off the rocks the boys had some wonderful swimming off the beaches. The fishing, too, was good, besides fishing with pole and line the boys put out the fish trap, the largest single haul in the latter was 28 fish.

Other sports included tennis and baseball. There was a series of seven games with local teams, the Scouts winning four and losing three. Henry Knowlton was the chief pitcher, winning two of his three games pitched—his third game the opposing team was shut out 6 to 0 and got only one hit. Francis Montague had the highest batting average in the big games, and his fielding was at times sensational. Junior Kelly and Frankie Kelly put up a fine game at first base, the latter making a one-handed stop that was a pleasant surprise to him and his team. For the junior boys good playing was done by Bobbie Smith, Robert Livingstone and Stanley Roberts.

The camp was honored by a visit from Rear Admiral Bacon, retired, the grandfather of Scout Bryan. The boys were a fine reliable lot, willing and pleasant, and got along without a single quarrel.

A SOLUTION OF A NUISANCE

Leather manufacturers in Woburn who were recently affected by the order of the Board of Health, which declared that their plants are nuisances and ordering an immediate abatement, are ready to contribute financially to the construction of a trunk line sewer through the Abington Valley. Mayor Bean was informed last week. He has been told that they will agree to pay certain sums for a long period of years, in excess of their regular sewer rental charges, if the city will erect one.

The construction of such a sewer is the only solution of the problem now facing the city. The tanners declare that they cannot operate without creating an odor unless a sewer is built to carry off the liquids from the manufacture. The Mayor expressed his power to avert a suspension of business by the plants, and a conference will probably be arranged within a few days to discuss the details of the plan.

The Board of Health is not oblate and the residents who have filed the objections are willing to give the leather manufacturers every chance to straighten out the situation, and Mayor Bean seems to be satisfied that a way will be found.

LOCATELLI'S BALL SQUARE THEATRE

Two of the greatest bills of the season are booked for Locatelli's Ball Square Theatre for the coming week. The program for the first three days will offer a picturization of the fascinating story of Robert W. Service, "Poisoned Paradise." The picture tells in film form the forbidden story of Paris and Monte Carlo which the Continental Police have banned because it tells too much. This "forbidden story" however, offers unique picture material and reports state that it is a complete departure from the usual screen plot formula. An unusually distinguished cast has been chosen to enact the plot. There is Kenneth Harlan in the principal role and Clara Bow who plays opposite him. Carmel Myers, Raymond Griffith and Josef Swickard are other popular players in the more important parts. Accompanying "Poisoned Paradise," will be "The Breathless Moment," in which William Desmond is starred. The story is a crook drama with a distinct comedy angle. The second half of the week will present the ever popular Harry Carey in one of his greatest offerings, "The Night Hawk." This is a typical westerner and Carey as usual gives a performance which takes one's breath away by its very daring and recklessness. On the same bill will also be seen the beautiful and dainty Shirley Mason in "South Sea Love." It is a swift moving love tale crammed with stirring adventure and appeal. A comedy and a news pictorial will be shown at each performance.

FINED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

The case of Cornelius Harrington of Dorchester who was arrested by the Winchester Police last week Sunday morning after he had driven his Reo sedan into a wall on Arlington road and booked at the local station on the charge of operating a car while under the influence of liquor, came up in the District Court at Woburn last Tuesday morning after a continuation from the Monday following the arrest.

Harrington was found guilty of operating while under the influence of liquor and fined $100. An additional fine of $10 was also imposed for drunkenness.

GRANT PERMIT FOR BUSES

At Monday night's meeting of the Selectmen, permission was granted the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. to run three motor buses through town. This grant was made in connection with the Railway's new line from Boston to Lowell. The buses will run over Cambridge street from the Arlington to the Burlington line. Not more than three buses are to be operated.

The Sigma Beta Society has given a bed on the Floating Hospital to be named after the sorority.

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

A State President's Letter

The president of a state League lately sent a letter, of which the following words are a part, to the president of a local League:

"I am very sorry to learn of the suspicion that seems aroused in the minds of some men that the League of Women Voters is not wholly and absolutely patriotic in its purpose, undertakings and achievements. At the Buffalo convention I was constantly and intimately with the leaders of the movement and found in every expression from them the most inspiring sense of obligation to this country, to its institutions and its ideals. I have never met with a sander, more balanced set of women exhibiting keenness of appreciation, soundness of judgment and integrity of purpose.

"We must all realize that the League is not a club. In every other organization in which we work as women the organized group is formed of people having like ideas and more or less the same sense of how these ideas should be worked out, whereas the League of Women Voters is comprised of all classes of citizens of all viewpoints, of all methods of procedure. It necessarily includes people of violently opposing opinions and no part of the League should try to force its opinion on any other part. We who are Republicans must allow the most partisan Democrats their ideas even though to our sense they are quite impossible.

"With the exception of the Woman's Committee Council of National Defense and the Red Cross, this, I believe, is the first time that all American women have undertaken to work together for America and this we are doing without the excitement and stress of war, because of which we were willing to endure many circumstances with amiability which in ordinary times would have been to us a cause of dissension. Now there is no war and we have to take the big mental stand and keep it without that prop and because of the preciousness of America and her ideals, because of the vast sacrifices which have been made during the years to bring to us the development of today. I think that America's women are going to be equal to this very unusual and difficult piece of work.

"To me the League of Women Voters is performing the most perfect patriotic work that is being done today. Our forefathers founded our democracy. At the present time America is not functioning as outlined. We are being governed by a minority. The awakening of intelligent patriotic women to their duty in politics is surely the most worthwhile expression of patriotism that can be imagined."

Miss Anna L. Young of Oak Street, Woburn, clerk at the local office of the Edison Company, was tendered a birthday surprise party at her home last Sunday evening by a number of her neighbors and friends. Among other attractive presents she was the recipient of a handsome wrist watch.

BRUSH FIRES IN FIELDS

Asst. Supt. Harry Dotten of the Water Department informed the Star this week that these are busy days for the men in the fells fighting forest fires. The prolonged drought has made it particularly difficult to permanently quench the fires most of which are caused by carelessness. It was reported after a brush fire occurring last Sunday evening that approximately 8000 seedling pines planted by the State had been destroyed. The following morning the State men pumped water onto the burned area from 7 o'clock until 3 in the afternoon before the smoldering patches of fire were entirely out.

Return balls at Wilson's Stationer.

Windstorm Insurance

It is not only the storms reported from the West and South in the newspapers, which make Windstorm Insurance worth while throughout the country, including those sections where the typical tornado is almost unknown, heavy windstorms occur from time to time which cause large property damages and money losses. Scarcely any class of property is exempt. Dwellings, churches, schools, stores, factories, mills, farm property, all appear from time to time in the reports of wreckage in varying degrees of damage, involving roofs, chimneys, porches and other property representing substantial amounts in the cost of repairs.

If you carry Fire Insurance on your own property for the protection of a mortgage as well as yourself via deductibles take comfort in the thought that in the event of either severe damage or destruction by fire the mortgage will probably tell you to go ahead and rebuild with the insurance money. The cost at which you can enjoy the same protection against loss by windstorm or tornado makes this form of indemnity an inexpensive investment in peace of mind.

To those who use gas service efficiently in modern appliances, every week of the year is "thrill week." However, modern appliances alone can't do the trick. They must be operated efficiently.

One cardinal rule to remember is: Do not light the gas until you are ready to use it and don't permit the flames to overlap the utensil or other article. You won't heat the utensil any faster by forcing the flames to overlap the bottom. All you do is to waste gas.

Turn off the gas the second you are done with it. A few minutes' wait burns gas without reason, and the gas can be re-lighted in an instant. It is small thefts like these, which add up day by day over a month, that prevent large bills and enable gas service to give full satisfaction.

NEWTON SLUGS OUT 11-2 WIN

Winchester lost a hectic ball game last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field when the Newton Legion slugged their way to an 11-2 win over the local outfit in about as disappointing a contest as we have seen here for some time. Newton brought out a fine club and deserved to win the ball game, but the visitors should never have run up 11 runs if the local boys had played anywhere near the smart, heads-up baseball that one has a right to expect from players in the semi-pro ranks.

McCarthy who went the entire route for Winchester in the box was hit hard, and was given ragged support. Gillis who was catching in place of Mathews held him up in poor style and was responsible for a couple of runs when he failed to retrieve two throws that had gotten away from him at the plate. At short Gilligan who was playing in place of Nelson had a very tough afternoon with his throwing arm while Shea at third was also unsteady. Just to make it unanimous Myles Lane who usually gets very reliably hurled one in the general direction of Rangeley to help swell the Newton total and Charley Donnellan let a fly ball safe in center field that the ordinary high school outfielder would have gobbled up with ease.

On the other hand the visitors had their feet firmly on the ground all the way and went along smoothly behind the effective pitching of Kroog, scoring in all but the 1st, 8th and 9th innings. They started right in with one out in the second. Kelley hit through short and Harris dropped a one-shot in right. Stumpf hit a fly to left which Gilligan and Lane missed between them. Nelson fanned but Kroog cracked one to right scoring Kelley and Harris and apparently breaking McCarthy's heart right then and there.

After that it was the same story right along until the seventh when the visitors ended their scoring with a four run rampage that took in all kinds of baseball good, bad and indifferent.

The local fans had their sole chance to cheer in the same inning when Winchester put over two runs on Lane's single over second. Hatch's ringing triple to right and Tansey's long lift to center which the center fielder just couldn't get. It looked for a minute as if the boys were going to score something but Kroog bore down sharply and ended the rally.

Notes of the Game

At least no one can accuse the Legion management of bringing a bunch of soft ones to Manchester Field.

Kroog in the box for Newton was the old English high pitcher and later worked for Penn State. He is a brother of "Art" Kroog who pitched for Tufts.

The Winchester infield looked bad without Nelson at short. He is a sweet fielder and the fans will be glad to see him back after his vacation.

Kelley at first for the visitors is the same "Roy" Kelley that messed things up so badly for the Crimson in the Harvard-Dartmouth game at the Stadium last fall.

Another old football star was out in right field in "Polly" Harris the former Colgate star. "Polly" packs a mean whip and the local boys took no chances on stretching him.

Tansey in right for Winchester is also throwing well. The fans were all tickled to see him belt out the hit that scored all.

Hatch played a nice game at first as well as getting two hits. His catch of a lofty foul in the third was a fine bit of work.

Nelson the visiting third baseman was none other than the player who equipped the Winchester infield of other years with Walsh "Christy" and Hevey. He and "Jack" Hanlon were comparing notes after the game.

It's hard to see why there is any necessity for importing players to work behind the bat. "Ernie" Mathews showed good enough catching last season to get plenty of chance to prove his worth this year.

There was nothing fluky about Leary's homer in the fifth. The ball bounced into muddy brook in the far side of the hand stand a real thump in any league.

With good pitching at such a premium it's funny the big twilight teams have overlooked this boy Kroog. He looked like a finished workman last Saturday and had Winchester feeding from his hand. He has a drop ball that is a gem.

There is a rumor going the rounds that Manager LeDue is not being given a free rein in the management of the team. Close followers of town baseball believe that there is more to the report than mere idle talk. "George" has been associated with Winchester baseball for many years, and has never failed to produce a team that has been a credit to the town. A team with several heads will never get anywhere but into the losing column and the sooner that is realized the better it will be for baseball here.

There is one thing on which the judgment of the manager should be the last word and that is the players who are to compose his team. The fans are finding it hard to believe that Manager LeDue is responsible for some of the players who have shown here.

But next Saturday is another story and a fresh start. The management promises some changes that will really strengthen this time and don't forget it takes money to get good ball players nowadays. If you aren't helping the team financially, don't swing the hammer too lustily.

START TWILIGHT BASEBALL

The Winchester Town Team composed practically of all local boys will open the season tonight on Manchester Field and will have one of the best neighboring teams for an attraction. This team is the Mystics of Woburn which has been playing together for two seasons and have dropped very few games. Tuesday night they won from the pick of the Sand Lot League in Woburn 6 to 1 in 7 minutes. This team is backed by the Thayer Foss Company and takes its name from the Mystic branch of this factory. "Dan" Linscott pitched Tuesday night and will probably face Winchester tonight. Don't let anyone tell you these boys cannot play ball and a visit to the field will convince you they are there as ball players. The Winchester team will have Tansey pitching with Fitzgerald, Flaherty, O'Donnell and Kendrick playing the infield. The outfield will be composed of all local boys but the makeup has not been decided. Schaarf will catch Tansey.

Come down after supper and look these boys over, you will be sure of seeing a closely played game and as they all make their home in Winchester a little encouragement will be in order. The boys do not claim to be world beaters but they do claim they will put up a good game of ball. They have been working out every night and the earnest way they play has given the spectators something to think over. The game starts at 6:30 and will try to go the full 9 innings.

WINCHESTER GIRL CHAMPION AT CAMP

Seven Middlesex County champions have enjoyed this week at Camp Gilbert along with 68 other boys and girls from all parts of the State. Part of the time each day was devoted to the study of the various club projects, as well as flowers, Ford cars, bees and birds. Judging contest of various kinds were also conducted. During the course of the week the members of the camp became very well acquainted with all parts of the Agricultural College. A trip to Sugar Loaf Mountain Sunderland, was enjoyed one day and to Lake Wyola, Shutesbury. These were two of the outstanding trips away from the college.

A number of outside speakers took part in the Camp Gilbert program, including Miss Walker of William Filene Sons, Boston; C. R. Green, librarian and Mrs. Ella H. Pray, both of Amherst.

The following club members were present from Middlesex County:

COMMITTEE

Harrold K. Barrows of This Town
Consulting Engineer on Important Board

The report of the engineer sub-committee of the northeastern superpower committee, made public Monday, recommends the construction of large steam plants strategically located, the extension of interconnection between different systems, and the developments of hydro-electric projects. Should these recommendations be carried out, says the report, it will mean an annual saving of 50,000,000 tons of coal, lower production cost for power, saving of human effort and extension of electricity to the farms.

The northeastern superpower committee, composed of representatives of the 11 northeastern states and of the federal government, with Secretary Hoover as chairman, was formed as a result of a conference held in New York City last October, with the consent of President Coolidge, between Secretary Hoover and the chairmen of the state utilities commission of these states. While others were engaged on legal questions involved, an engineer sub-committee undertook a comprehensive survey of the technical aspects of superpower development in the states affected. Their report, now given to the public will be referred to a meeting of the full committee to be held some time next fall.

Henry C. Atwill, chairman Massachusetts department of public utilities, was the Bay State representative on the major committee, while Harrold K. Barrows, consulting engineer, was on the sub-committee.

The survey of power facilities and power needs made by the engineer sub-committee covers the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia. There has been included also some reference to the states of Ohio, Virginia and West Virginia, since under certain circumstances power in these regions will be contributory.

Signers of Declaration

The Declaration of Independence was signed by men who represented many vocations. There were twenty-four lawyers, fourteen farmers, nine merchants, four doctors of medicine or surgery, one minister, one manufacturer and three who had miscellaneous callings. Washington is classed as a farmer.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

(From the Boston Herald)

Several readers of The Herald have asked us to explain the operation of the electoral college and how a candidate for the presidency may poll a popular majority and still fail to win the election. In view of the apparent interest, not only in this immediate subject, but in the deadlock possibility, we are moved to repeat some things we have said before. In addition to what we might print below, in answer to a letter received yesterday.
We put the facts in the simplest possible form.

Is it true that some of our Presidents have assumed office in spite of having obtained only a minority of the direct popular vote?

It is true. In 1888 Cleveland had 5,540,329 votes and Harrison 5,459,554, but Harrison won the election with 233 electoral votes to Cleveland's 168.
In 1912 Woodrow Wilson had a popular vote of 6,292,019, Roosevelt had 5,119,507, and Taft 3,843,566; that is,
Wilson had a minority of the total vote, polling 1,311,411 fewer votes than the two candidates representing the halves of the Republican party.
Yet in the electoral college Wilson had the overwhelming total of 135, to 88 for Roosevelt and only 8 for Taft.
The first election of Lincoln in 1860 represented somewhat similar conditions, although the popular vote in the South was a fragment of its real strength. In that year the Democracy was split; Lincoln's popular vote was 1,866,452, the three other candidates had a total vote of 2,815,517;
yet in the electoral college Lincoln's minority became a majority of 180 against 123 for all others.

What is the electoral college?
The United States constitution provides in article 2, section 1, that "each state shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the Congress."

Thus Massachusetts with two senators and sixteen representatives has eighteen electors; New York, with no more senators, but with forty-three representatives, has forty-five electors, while Arizona also with two senators, but with only a single representative, has three electors. The whole number of electors, as thus apportioned among the forty-eight states, is 531.

This constitutional provision is one of several tokens in that great document that its makers intended to trust the people with all the power that might have been granted to them. The members of the constitutional convention were doing a new and a mighty thing; they were devising ways and means to enable the people to rule themselves and at the same time to ensure the stability of the government they founded. Therefore, the electoral college idea was that the people should choose the electors and these electors then should choose the President. In the beginning most of the state legislatures appointed the electors. When Washington first be-

Our door of opportunity came President, the two branches of the New York Legislature were quarreling and that state did not take part in the choice of our first chief executive. In the election of 1792 the legislatures of nine states appointed the electors, the people and the legislatures of two states appointed their,

and the people alone chose them in four states. In time the people disapproved the idea of the constitution that calm, unpartisan supermen, serving as electors, would select our Presidents, and the people in all the states now themselves elect directly these electors, as they have done for a century.

How can a candidate for the presidency poll a minority of the popular vote for the electors and yet obtain a majority vote in the electoral college?

Thus: Suppose a candidate swept such a populous state as New York for a majority of a million in the popular vote; he would have the forty-five electoral votes of that state. Suppose that in each of a score of small states another candidate should win by small majorities of one or two thousand; each of these small majorities would give him the electoral vote of a state. When we compare the popular votes of the two candidates we find that the million man-majority in the one state far exceeds the sum of the small majorities in the score of states; yet that the electoral votes of the score of states add up to a much greater number than the forty-five of New York. There you have a popular majority for one candidate transformed into an electoral college majority for the other candidate.

As a rough graph that the three states, A, B, and C, are electing a President under this system. A has a population of 1,000,000 and 22 electoral votes; B has 500,000 and 12 electoral votes; C has 250,000 and 14 electoral votes. Now one candidate carries the big state by 100,000, the other candidate carries the other states by 10,000 and 20,000 respectively. It follows that the first candidate has a popular majority of 70,000, but the second candidate has a majority in the electoral college of four, 26 electors to 22.

The method works out the same for the entire nation of 48 states. It matters not, for example, whether a candidate carries New York by a million or by only a thousand, in either case he has the 45 electoral votes of the Empire State. When we vote this fall we shall find our ballots with a list of electors for Coolidge and Dawes and another list of electors for Davis and Bryan and a third list for LaFollette and Wheeler. The winning candidate will have the electoral votes of the state and it will be cast by the electors representing his own party.

What then do the electors do?
The answer is found in the twelfth amendment to the Constitution ratified in 1804. First, the electors "meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President." This meeting is to take place under existing law on the second Monday in the next January after the presidential election, which falls this time on January 12. Whichever group represents the winning candidate in any state meets at that time and fulfills this formality. They make up a written list of the persons for whom they vote for President and Vice-President, and "sign and certify" these lists, these lists they "transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States directed to the president of the Senate."

What happens after the votes are forwarded to Washington?
Under the twelfth amendment, "The president of the Senate, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives," will "open all the certificates" from the 48 states, and the votes will then "be counted." Under the law this takes place on the second Wednesday in February, which will be this time February 11.

Does this fulfill all the constitutional requirements?

It does under all usual conditions.
Of course, we shall know immediately after the November election what the result is. We shall have our tabulations complete and shall know just how the electoral college will stand when the formal counting is done in the Senate. These provisions are formalities which come down to us from the times when news traveled slowly and a country that reached only a little ways inland from the Atlantic seaboard was obliged in the absence of instantaneous communication to wait for weeks to know how the voting had gone in the several states.

Will there be complications this year?

This brings up the deadlock question which we have discussed before on this page and to which now we shall give only a small space. The twelfth amendment says: "The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed," with a like provision in the case of the Vice-President. To be elected this fall, therefore, a candidate must obtain 266 electors at least. There are many who feel that it is quite possible, some go so far as to refer to it as a probable contingency, that no candidate will get a majority this year—that is, that La Follette will carry a few states and prevent either Davis or Coolidge from quite reaching the necessary 266 electors.

What happens in case of a deadlock?

In briefest terms, this: The House of Representatives elects a President and the Senate elects a Vice-President.
After Feb. 11, the House would begin balloting and would have the three highest candidates to choose among.
The House would vote by states, applying precisely the safe rule that operates when the people vote for electors. The majority of representatives would settle how the state should go. A successful candidate would have to obtain at least twenty-five votes, that is, twenty-five states would have to vote for him. The Senate would vote between the two highest candidates, and the Senate would vote not by states but as individuals, so that the successful candidate would have to obtain the votes of at least thirty-nine of the ninety-six senators.
These provisions also are contained in the twelfth amendment.

NORTH END IMPROVEMENT AS- SOCIATION

The sub-committee from the Association held a conference with the representatives of the School Board and the School Building Committee at the Prince School on Tuesday evening. After some discussion it was voted to hold the dedication exercises of the William J. Noonan School on Sunday afternoon, September 7, instead of on September 6 as before announced. This decision was arrived at because it had been found almost impossible to obtain the services of the guardsmen and ex-service men on any day but Sunday.

A meeting of the dedication committee was held on Wednesday evening and much progress was reported by the various sub-committees. Mr.
Peter Coss, Treasurer, will be in charge of all financial matters and Mr. Luke P. Glendon as chairman of the Hospitality Committee will have full power where refreshments are concerned.

Mr. James Allen, Chairman of the School Building Committee will turn over the keys of the building to Mr.
Danforth Comins, Chairman of the School Board who will accept the building in the name of the town.

About 200 school children will sing
America and the Star Spangled England. Shortly before the dedication the children will be called together for rehearsals at the home of Mrs.
Elizabeth C. McDonald who will have charge of the children's part in the exercises.

Mrs. Frances T. Conlon is taking care of the preparation of the souvenir program for the exercises and it is planned to present to each person attending the dedication a booklet that will be well worth saving.

Lieutenant William Mobbs, a former well known Winchester boy will have charge of the military part of the exercises and Commander Vincent P. Clarke of the American Legation has been invited to act as Marshall of the parade.

The work of conveying the portable bandstand from Medford to the grounds of the School will be looked after by Mr. James J. Fitzgerald.

It is planned to invite to the dedi-

With the arrival of the new string-was closed to travel this week. The new stringers are 52 feet in length badly out of repair and unsafe. The new structure is to be 12 feet wide,

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

The executive committee in charge of the Emblem Club activities for the Elks' Carnival met last Monday afternoon in Lyceum Building, and plans were discussed for the guidance of all chairmen and their assistants. It was decided to give the heads of the tables full power in the matter of running whist parties to defray the expenses, providing the dates of such affairs did not conflict.

A whist in aid of the refreshment table will be held next Monday night in K. of C. Hall. Mrs. Halverson and Mrs. Gorman, in charge of it, have already been assured of 50 prizes—and more to come. A delegation from the Elks' Carnival Committee will be present to explain about Elks' Night at the Stranahan Theatre.

Monday night of the following week a whist for the apron table will be given at the same hall on Vine street. Mrs. Cleary and Mrs. McDonald, in charge of that table, are preparing to establish a weekly sewing circle where aprons will be turned out by wholesale—and club news also.

The grocery table, in charge of Mrs. Callahan and Mrs. Price, has schemes of holding up some large-hearted Elks for a barrel of flour, also a ton of coal would be very welcome on any table.

The grab table committee, in charge of Mrs. Gilman and Mrs. Vargo, will hold a whist about the middle of this month, and Mrs. Cullen will give one in September for the fancy table. Every member of the club is out to do her best to put the carnival "over the top."

AVIATORS AND HAY MAKING TIME

If the American world-circling flyers wished to command full attention of the Farrow Islanders they should have made Thorshaven, the island capital, before July 29, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

For the frugal, serious Farrow folk have one important holiday, St. Olaf's Day, on July 29, and the next day they invariably start hay making.

The weather, or the condition of the crop, has no bearing; the traditional date must be observed.

Islands Without Roads

When the flyers alight on one of the little island group which lies midway between the Shetlands and Iceland the airplanes will be a novelty to the people. Equally novel, moreover, would be an automobile, a horse and wagon, a boy on roller skates or any vehicle on wheels. The islands are roadless.

The capital, Thorshaven, has no paved streets. Houses are hilt-skelter, paths twist among them, hordes of wandering black ducks keep them clean. Poles deliver groceries and milk and goats justify an ancient joke by "abutting" too literally on these tortuous thoroughfares.

Steep cliffs and Wild Birds. If the flyers carried sightseers they might well afford a long stop-over at the Faroes. There are 21 islands of appreciable size, 17 are inhabited, and some of the latter often see no official visitors for years. Yet practically all the islands have alluring natural beauties—notably the tall cliffs, carved fantastically, washed by exceptionally strong tidal currents, and circled by wild birds.

The Faroes' unique natural feature is Lake Svovund, on Vagar. Practically surrounded by inaccessible walls for all of its six mile length, the water finds an overflow on a seaward cliff and falls a sheer 180 feet into the ocean. It is the only lake of its size in the world that pours its water directly into the sea.

Gardens are at a premium in the islands. Sheep and goats don't aid garden-making. In the small American village of a generation ago the Norwegian usually had the one home industry in the town; in the Faroes the garst often has the only garden.

Five Chadsless Days a Year

The animals are not wholly to blame for the somewhat barren landscapes—barren of trees and natural growth as well as of gardens. The islands are among the cloudiest regions of the world; over considerable period only five days a year ranked as cloudless. Our flyers will find the Faroes' temperature in midsummer about like that of Denmark in early April. The clouds, not the latitude, are mostly to blame.

It is as hard to get fresh meat on the islands as it would be to order a vegetable luncheon. Having formed the dried fish habit of necessity the people have drifted into the dried meat habit from analogy. What, indeed, is a joint of two and cooked in whole oil is a home delicacy, but is not highly recommended by occasional island guests. The islanders, for their part, can't see why visitors should eat trout, and they will only eat the fish, which abound in the many inland lakes, under protest. Hosts and guests usually are in agreement, however, on the high merit of the goat cheese and the barley bread baked over a turf fire.

The islands belong to Denmark, of which they form a county. They have an aggregate land area of about 500 square miles and a total population of some 20,000 people.

Use Fresh Water for Tea

Freshly boiled water should always be used in making tea. Unless it is boiling it is a boiling property. If water would not be extracted, Cooled water is insipid on account of the escape of its atmospheric gases. Tea should always be infused, not boiled. Long steeping destroys the delicate flavor by developing a larger amount of tannic acid. The stimulating property of coffee is due to caffeine. If coffee is boiled too long, there is too much caffeine present, and the same is true if water is added to old coffee grounds and cooked again.

"YOU CAN'T KEEP A GOOD MAN DOWN"

Third Prize for Grade 7 in Public School Prize Story Contest by Marjorie French

A loud clap broke out from the grandstand as the band began to play, "Fight Boys, Fight."

Out on the field came the Banner College football squad. Last year the team was one which any college might be proud to possess. This year the team had won all the games but one.

Everyone blamed "Joe," one of the boys, for the loss of the game. The coach told "Joe" if he did not show good football in this game he would be put off the squad.

Oh, what a disgrace this would be to "Joe." He must do something to prevent it, his father had said.

Banner College was opposing Clark University. The referee's whistle sounded and the two teams went out on the field. Clark had chosen the goal so Banner had the kick-off. The whistle sounded, and the Banner halfback kicked the ball. It went down to the 20-yard line. A Clark man caught the ball, but before he had time to run he was tackled. "First down, 10 yards to go," called out the referee.

The game had started. Clark got a touchdown. Oh! how that took away the courage of the Banner boys. But still they did not allow Clark to get the kick. It was blocked. The whistle blew. It was the end of the first half. The score stood 6 to 0 in favor of Clark.

During the rest period the boys were talking together. But "Joe" was not, he was thinking about the game.

Fifteen minutes was up. Again the team went on the field. This time Clark kicked to Banner. Joe caught the ball. He ran 30 yards. A cheer came from the audience. But "Joe" was tackled. "Just the same," thought "Joe," "I am 30 yards nearer a touchdown, and now it is only the first down."

The team got into position to pass the ball. The quarterback called out the signals. The ball was passed to "Joe." He started down the field. A loud cheer came from the crowd. "Joe" had made a touchdown! Then came the test to see whether Banner or Clark would win. It was up to "Joe" to kick the goal and he did. The whistle blew. It was the end of the game. Banner College had won by one point only. The Banner supporters carried "Joe" off the field.

The next day when the papers came out they told how Joe Manning had saved the honor of his college. "It was a great day," thought "Joe," but one thing I am very glad of is I am sure of a place on the team." That night when he was talking to his father, he said, "You can't keep a good man down, not in football even!"

Finds Paper Worth $300,000

What Thomas McCarthy, age fourteen, believed to be a worthless piece of paper that he kicked outside of the Detroit post office, turned out to be a draft for $300,000 on a New York bank. The boy, thinking that the unstamped envelope was without value, placed it in his pocket, where it remained until next morning, when his father discovered it and returned it to a Detroit bank.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard University Defends Prohibition

Albert Bushnell Hart, professor of government in Harvard University has, from his years of study and experience, been able to contribute a great deal to the information of the public in an article recently appearing in the New York Times which gives sound reasons for the prohibition law. We quote:

"Legislation against liquor rests on precisely the same foundation as legislation against slavery, against the abuse of seamen, against imprisonment for debt, against child labor, against the traffic and use of habit-forming drugs," says Prof. Hart. "They all are the result of the experience of the American people that such evils vitally affect the public welfare and never will or can be abated by public opinion or individual action."

Prof. Hart referred to a recent statement of Dr. Butler of Columbia, that "as a result of the Eighteenth Amendment there is a nation-wide traffic in intoxicating liquors which is unlicensed, illicit and untaxed," and answered it by saying, "The truth is that the people who are responsible at bottom for the Eighteenth Amendment are the brewers, distillers, wholesalers, retailers and peddlers who have always opposed, scouted, defied and persistently broken any restrictive legislation which stood in their way."

Prof. Hart recalled to mind that the great wholesalers and manufacturers owned not only the distilleries and breweries but a considerable part of the saloons throughout the land, and were the most dangerous element in corrupt politics, not outdone by the present bootleggers. In many cases they were linked with other immoral practices.

"If these men had ever honestly accepted the milder restrictive laws and the state prohibition acts," declared the educator, "national prohibition would never have gained headway. Since when are lawmakers to be held responsible for lawbreakers?"

He then gave the legislative steps that led to the adoption of the amendment by the people of the United States. "One hundred and seventy six members of the House to 53, and 65 Senators to 20 concurred in the 'amnesty' of passing the Volstead Act. The courts of 25 states before 1911 admitted the right of restriction in the use of liquor, just as many of them have done in the use of drugs and unfit foods. The United States Supreme Court has repeatedly sustained the right to prohibit, and the essentials of the Volstead Act. President Butler is therefore accusing of unconstitutional action 66 legislative bodies that previously shared in that policy, and the highest courts in the land."

"The plea for 2.75 per cent. beer would get a wider hearing but for the prospect that, if allowed to sell only 2.75 per cent. beer, the dealers would sell 12.75 per cent. beer; if they legally might handle 12 per cent. wine, they would habitually serve 22 per cent. wine. The same people who broke the laws before the Eighteenth Amendment are breaking them still, so far as they dare."

Nor is the cause of "patriotic liquor-selling" strengthened by the abuse of other people who stand on the laws of their country, maintains Prof. Hart. "Even the fanatic who has the face of the land behind him," he avers, "stands on safer ground than the fanatic who opposes the law and seeks to prove his case by bad language."

In Prof. Hart's opinion, "The whole theory of democratic government is based on the right of the majority to regulate private conduct for the common good. If you live in a republic you are bound to accept the decision of the majority even if it deprives you of the pleasures of alcoholic stimulants."

"The real moral question is, therefore, the question of obedience to law. What is the use of ignoring the patent fact, known to every thinking man and woman of the land, that the freedom to drink liquor on the same terms that one eats buckwheat cakes has meant a frightful loss to the family and the community?"

The Harvard professor refers again to President Butler's stand and asks, "Would he refuse a glass of alcoholic liquor which he knew must have come through men who deliberately broke the law with regard to the transportation of liquor? Would he deny himself the pleasure at his own table of imported alcoholic fluids which had paid no duty?"

"Above all," says Prof. Hart, "the moral reformer must purge himself of the doctrine that the whole trouble comes from making a law which people insist upon breaking. What is the use of making laws on matters that nobody breaks over? The laws exist not simply to prevent crime, but relentlessly to pursue and punish the criminal."

TO STUDY AGE OF AMERICA'S OLDEST RUINS

N. H. Darton, geologist, has left Washington to join the National Geographic Expedition which is exploring an ancient temple in the Valley of Mexico, the oldest ruins so far discovered in the Americas.

Dr. Darton will study especially the sequence of geological events, including the lava flows and the recession of Lake Texcoco, with a view to determining more nearly the exact period of the civilization which flourished on our continent some 7000 years ago. It is believed the highly developed civilization at Cuicuilco existed a thousand years before the pyramids were built and 5000 years before Sennacherib's great palace was erected.

Many Remarkable Finds

Byron Cummings, head of the expedition, already has reported remarkable finds among the lava-encased temple mound—finds ranging from pottery, images and sculptures to parts of human skeletons.

It is believed the mound was built on or near the shore of Lake Texcoco originally but the lake's water line is now 12 miles distant. The lake had receded a considerable distance when a sudden volcanic eruption half buried the temple mound which still was inhabited. In the centuries since the eruption further accumulations have covered the lava bed.

Lava and Diatom Clues

Therefore the geologist's task is to estimate the time it took the top deposit to form and to study the lake deposits under the lava.

It is possible the point where the lava impinged on the lake waters may give another clue to the time of the eruption.

One of the most interesting possibilities is that of finding remains of diatoms, those microscopic plants which lived in the ocean ages ago, and the kinds of the diatoms would further help to place the time of the lake's recession.

Since the ruins already have disclosed evidence of a civilization as clearly defined as those of the Nile Valley and Mesopotamia the time determination of various stages is highly important in the study of a human development which might well be called "100 per cent. American" since it had no connection with Old World peoples.

MRS. WILLIAM HERRICK HAWKINS (Roma Nickerson)

Years come and go and it has been a little over three years since a new face appeared among us. It was after the famous Ford Hall meeting when our Association was born that Roma S. Nickerson came to us from her war work with the Du Ponts, and what was she to do? To be General Secretary of the M. G. A. How many of us conceived what that meant; the duties that title bestowed? It was she that made the office what it is today. It was she, ably assisted by a very efficient, lunch room committee headed by Adam T. Hughbill, that put our lunch room where it is today. It was largely through her efforts that the morale and spirit throughout the store stands second to none in the country. A woman of a delicate, sensitive disposition, but with discernment and discretion ever at her command.

With a marvellous enthusiasm and a cheerful, smiling countenance, she pursued her way among us until she became enshrined in the inner shrine of our hearts.

Today she is the wife of William Herrick Hawkins, a prominent attorney in the Southland, and as such may her life be one continuous succession of happiness and prosperity.

The Ace sincerely congratulates Mr. William Herrick Hawkins. What is our loss is his gain.—[The Ace, published by the Gilchrist Association, Boston.]

CAMPAGNING FOR A NEW CHURCH

A big objective appeals and people will respond according to their ability. Such is the experience at Winchester Highlands. The campaign for the building of an adequate and beautiful church for the community of 200 families, a church of Gothic style which will add greatly to the already architectural structures of Winchester, is rapidly progressing. The momentum increases as the weeks go by. The confident spirit now is—it can be done; for well begun is half done.

Just a year ago the building committee began its work and ever since have been constantly at it. A fitting observance of the first anniversary was held Wednesday evening July 30. It was unusual. Besides the fitting remarks of the chairman, and the refreshments served, and the social time enjoyed, and the formal presentation of a prettily designed birthday cake with its one candle in the center, there was abounding optimism from the up-to-date, carefully prepared report of the treasurer was given. It was the first annual and was a real cause of thanksgiving.

Among the many things done and said were the following: July 25, 1923, is a date to be remembered in the history of the Second Congregational Church for it was the date of the first meeting of the building committee which had been chosen by the members of the church at a called meeting of the church, July 18, 1923.

There was top notch faith in that first building committee meeting and that faith has followed through the first year of active service without wavering. Our goal is a new church by 1926 and we are making rapid strides towards it. The committee has been well supported and it is due to the united effort that such a successful year is reported. Activities have been as follows: opening campaigned night in October 1923; two successful Field Days; an Easter campaign and a rummage sale. The total amount raised during the year in pledges gifts and from various activities is $10,718.85. We have paid in full for the new site of land corner Keweenaw road and Washington street, also made part payment to the architect Mr. Frank A. Bourne for his first drawings, paid also the surveyor of the new site of land and sundry expenses in furtherance of the work and we have a substantial balance on hand.

We must go forward for our success during this first year is an inspiration for the future. Faith is the victory and the vision of the new church becomes clearer as the weeks go by.

Just recently groups of 10 have been formed and they are to report early in the fall. We have also received increasing our friends everywhere and especially those who are interested in our worthy enterprise. A large board has been created on the new site and new pledges are trickling in. The people of the Highlands are interested. So, in behalf of the church and committee the Pastor is ready to inter-leave friends of Winchester.

BOAT CLUB PAINTING BY LEE COURT

At the Winchester Boat Club there is now on exhibition the first painting of the club house, a large canvas executed in oils by Lee W. Court one of the members.

The painting, which was made in a canoe anchored in front of the club house, presents a brilliant waterfront view on the festival occasion of a regatta day. It is a work of harmonious color with a fine feeling of sunlight and the atmosphere of a gala event. In the foreground the dancing sun-kissed water is dotted with canoes filled with gayly garbed occupants. Various colorful figures and a racing canoe in process of launching, lend an intriguing air of activity to the float, while on the judges' balcony feminine gowns and male sporting attire afford interesting contrast to the sober browns of the building. The soft greens of overhanging willow trees and a glimpse of blue sky complete the appealing scene.

It is understood that the painting is to be presented to the club by the artist.

SAN MARINO: WHOSE CHILDREN CHOOSE ITS RULERS

Photographs are just reaching this country of the world's quaintest inauguration—the investiture of the regents of San Marino.

The tiny republic, oldest state in Europe, has 38 square miles and 13,600 people. It is governed by regents who change every six months. The National Geographic Society quotes a communication from Alice Rhoe describing their election and inauguration, as follows:

On the 15th of September and the 15th of March, at the hour of Ave Maria, the bells of the government palace and the fortress announce the hour of electing the new regents. San Marino flicks to the Piazza della Libertà. Within the Council is in session, the regents having been elected from their homes in picturesque cortege to the palace.

Ceremony is Ancient The ceremony of choosing the new regents is an ancient one. First of all, by extracting names, 12 nominators are chosen. Each of these must name a candidate, one in whom he has full faith and also one who has not for three years held that office. The 12 names are then voted upon by the white and black ball system, the six receiving the highest number of votes being the candidates. These six names are then coupled in three pairs the arrangement being amicably made by the candidates.

The cortege then issues from the palace—the regents, in their medieval state costumes, accompanied by attendants in livery, bearing torches. Up the steep street to the nearby cathedral, the cortege goes. At the door of the church the regents are met by the archbishop, who anoints them with holy water and blesses them.

The regents take their post of honor on the canopied throne beside the high altar. Guards, carabinieri, the entire cortege, stand at attention in the long nave. The archbishop offers a prayer to San Marino; then he reads the six names and puts the three couplets in three little silver balls. They are placed in a silver urn, shaken about, and a child is called to draw out one of them. The little one holds it up before the breathless congregation. It is then given to the regents, who open it and read the names. They in turn go to the high altar and give the paper to the priest, who reads aloud the names of the new heads of the government. Instantly, the band sounds the national hymn and the cortege with flaming torches winds its way back to the palace. The newly elected regents are officially notified with medieval ceremony.

The inauguration is the big event of the Republic, when the tradespeople, a number of whom are souvenir sellers, look forward to their chief profits from visitors. The simplicity of life here is such that 20 or 25 strangers are regarded as a great invasion.

The important occasion is announced the night before by the ringing of the fortress bell. On the morning of the inauguration a series of parades begins. The noble guards, resplendent in beplumed hats and gold-trimmed uniforms, preceded by the band, first march to the homes of the regents to escort them to the palace in Via Giosele Caricelli, where they clothe themselves in the state garments.

At 10 the gorgeous procession moves through the narrow streets to the government palace. The regents, having entered, the populace, with all the cortege, stands at attention for the moment when the flag is unfurled from an upper balcony. As the banner, blue and white, with the coat of arms of the Republic—the three plumed towers encircled in a laurel and oak wreath tied with a ribbon bearing the motto "Libertas"—is raised, the band strikes up the national hymn, a quaint, unmusical air founded on an ancient theme of Guido Monaco.

The spectacular moment which the populace awaits is when the regents leave the palace to attend mass in the church where lie the relics of the Republic's saintly founder. Following mass, at which the regents assist in their official posts beside the altar the retiring regents on the canopied throne, the new ones in a simple pew the cortege goes back to the palace, where the inauguration ceremony takes place.

An address by a former regent is always delivered. Then the new regents take their place.

If I tried to tell you who are the real rulers of America I don't know just whom I would pick out. I suppose newspapermen have as good a claim as anyone else. WEEK-END FIRES

The local Fire Department was called out three times over the past week-end, but in no instance was the fire of a serious nature.

The first call was a still alarm at 3:35 Saturday afternoon for a smudge caused by rags in a chimney hole in the house on Richardson street occupied by Tony Gulliano. There was no damage.

Sunday afternoon at 12:30, box 411 rang in when smoke was noticed coming from the rear of Harry Goode's stable. The department found on arrival that the smoke was coming from some papers that were being burned in the garage of W. O. Blaisdell. The smoke instead of clearing away hung low around the buildings so much so that it appeared as if some one of them must be on fire.

The third call was a still alarm at 5:25 p. m. Sunday, sent in when smoke was discovered in the house of L. T. Dodson on Purrington place. The smoke was caused by a faulty stove flue. As in the cases above there was no damage.

WILLIAM I. KENDALL

William I. Kendall, for 28 years a well known resident of the town, passed away last Saturday evening at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital where he had been undergoing treatment for heart disease with which he had been afflicted since early last fall. He was 72 years old.

Born at West Dedham, the son of Edward and Elizabeth (Doud) Kendall, much of his earlier life was spent in Milton and he was graduated from the high school there.

At the age of 21 Mr. Kendall accepted a position as a travelling salesman and at the time of his retirement from active business last fall he had completed 50 years of continuous service on the road.

For the past 3 years he had been connected with the Thomas G. Plant Company as a salesman, most of his travelling having been in Western territory where he was particularly well known. For several years he was associated in business in Detroit, Mich., removing from the west to Wellington, Mass.

Twenty-eight years ago he came to Winchester from Wellington and had since made his home in town, first on Stevens street and then at his late residence on Symmes road.

Mr. Kendall was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, the Royal Arch Chapter, the Winchester Country Club and the Church of the Epiphany.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth H. Kendall and by three daughters, Mrs. James R. Baldwin of North Andover, Mrs. Fred H. Abbot of Winchester and Mrs. Whitelaw Wright of Albany, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Epiphany Tuesday afternoon conducted by the Rev. John W. Suter, Rector Honorarius, assisted by the Rev. Allen Evans Jr., Rector of the Church. The profusion of floral tributes bore testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Conspicuous among the many set pieces were one of crimson roses from the Directors of the Thomas G. Plant Company and a huge wreath of orchids from Mr. Kendall's late associates on the sales force of the same concern.

Delegates were present from the Plant Factory and from both of the Winchester Masonic Lodges of which Mr. Kendall was a member.

The music for the services was in charge of Mr. Joshua Phippen of this town and the bearers included Messrs. Arthur Quimby and William Burns from the Thomas G. Plant Company, and John Park, Ernest Eustis, William Sargent and John Johnson, all of Winchester.

The interment was at Wildwood cemetery.

ITALIAN CELEBRATION THE 15TH

Date Again Changed For Fireworks On Manchester Field

The Italian celebration which was to be observed on August 15 instead of the 13 has had to be changed again. It was difficult for the committee to get a band to come out on the 16 because they all seemed to be engaged for that date, so this necessitated the change to fall on the 15.

Plans for the celebration have all been made. The Roma Band has been engaged and the contract for the fireworks has been given to the Pearl Fireworks Company of Rhode Island.

The program for the day will be as follows:

Procession starting at three o'clock in front of St. Mary's Catholic Church, which will march through the Italian quarters a five town.

Band concert at Manchester Field in the evening from 7:30 to 10:30.

Fireworks will start at 9:15 and everyone is promised a finer display of fireworks than has ever been shown in Winchester before.

Also during the evening there will be several Italian girls selling tags for the occasion.

The following committee have worked very hard to make this day a grand success:

James V. Barboro, Chairman
James Gillette
Peter Scioscio
Joseph Mistretto
Antonio Rania
Frank Regeo

HIGH SCHOOL BOY DROWNED IN WEDGE POND

All Efforts to Save Henry Horn Prove Unavailing

Despite the heroic efforts of motorcycle officer Edward O'Connell of the Winchester Police to reach him before he sank, Henry Horn, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn of Loring avenue, lost his life in the waters of Wedge Pond last Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 when he went down in more than 25 feet of water at a point approximately 75 feet from the shore in the rear of the residence of Mr. M. C. Ambrose near the Knights of Columbus House on Vine street.

Young Horn who was the eldest child of his family and a sophomore in the Winchester High School was bathing on the Western side of Wedge Pond with his brother Harvey and his two cousins, Roy and Ralph Horn when he decided to swim across the pond from the big rock near the Quigley Ledge to a bit of a beach behind the Calumet Club, a favorite spot for the better swimmers who frequent Wedge.

He made good progress until he got to a point about 100 feet from a raft which is moored off the shore in the rear of the Ambrose House when he seemed to be in distress, and started to make for the raft calling for help as he did so. He was unable to make headway and was struggling in the water when his cries and those of the other bathers were heard by Mrs. Ambrose who immediately put in an emergency call for the police.

While she was at the phone her 15-year-old son Howard ran to the beach and entering the water with his clothes on started to push the raft mentioned above out toward the struggling youth. Mrs. Robert Hamilton who was bathing near the raft complained young Ambrose but the raft was heavy and their progress was necessarily slow.

JAMES F. KENNEY

James F. Kenney, well known as proprietor of the West Side Filling Station at the corner of Cambridge and Pond streets, died at his home on Pond street Tuesday noon. He had been in failing health for a considerable period, and made a brave fight until the last.

James Francis Kenney was born in this town, the son of the late Michael J. and Margaret J. (Lynch) Kenney. He was 42 years of age. His education was acquired in the Winchester schools, and upon graduating he entered the employ of the United Shoe Machinery Co., working for that firm both in Winchester and in Beverly. Later he worked at the Watertown Arsenal, where he was foreman for a number of years. Failing health led him to the West, and for some seven years he worked in California and traveled through the western states. He had conducted the filling station for the past seven years.

Mr. Kenney married Miss Elizabeth Jane Darstow of this town, who died about 15 years ago. He is survived by four sisters and four brothers—Miss Anna A. of Beverly, John J. of Beverly, William H. of Lawrence, Miss Katherine E. of Beverly, Miss May L. of Beverly, Miss Lila D. of Beverly, Miss Charlotte A. of Beverly and Mrs. William H. Davis of Beverly.

Mr. Kenney was a prominent and well known member of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus. Solemn high mass of requiem was held at St. Mary's Church on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbon was celebrant of the mass, with Rev. Fr. Quill of Woburn deacon and Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt sub-deacon. The pall bearers were Messrs. Bertram Caldwell, George Bogart, Thomas Barrett, Daniel Sullivan, Howard Cosgrove and George Hodge. The burial was in St. Paul's cemetery, Arlington.

TO THE PUPILS AND TEACHERS OF THE EIGHTH GRADE

The Winchester Visiting Nurse Association extends its thanks to the pupils and teachers of the eighth grade for the beautiful gift, which has just been received for the hospital, as a memorial to Louise Von Vittinghoff, a much loved member of the class.

These two porringers and mugs will be used by the children's ward, and will be enjoyed by the little folks who use them as well as greatly appreciated by the directors of the association.

ELKS' OUTING

Winchester Lodge and Ladies Spent Enjoyable Day at Wardhurst

Winchester Lodge of Elks held what may be rightly termed its second annual outing on Wednesday, when it visited Wardhurst at Lynnfield, 100 strong and enjoyed one of the best social affairs in its history. Departing from the usual custom, this picnic included ladies, and the members of the Lodge were accompanied by their wives and friends in goodly numbers.

The party left the lodge rooms in Lyeum building at 10 o'clock, plenty of autos conveying them to Lynnfield. The excessive heat made the ride a welcome one, and the cool grove on the shore of the lake continued to hold the temperature down.

The program opened with a baseball game, starting at 11. Teams captained by Exalted Ruler George T. Davidson and Esteemed Leading Knight Maurice Dinneen, struggled manfully for over one hour for the supremacy of the Lodge, finally closing the contest with one run difference in favor of the E. R.'s team. A number of old baseball stars competed in the game, which was not without its numerous thrills, as well as not a little comedy. However, as the ex-players and "neverwas" were well sandwiched in with the experts, there was no hard feeling and the comedy was thoroughly enjoyed.

The teams lined up as follows:

Davidson Team
F. H. Scholl, c
James Callahan, p
John Coakley
John Donaghy
William Cleary
A. A. Morrison
G. T. Davidson
Daniel Lynch
William McMillin
Jack Hanlon

Dinneen Team
Maurice Dinneen, c
Dr. J. H. O'Connor, p
Terrence Cullen
Thomas Fallon
H. Finnell
Arthur Day
George H. Lochman
L. Flanders
Manlio Moffett
J. Morrison

Score: Davidson 8, Dinneen 8, 10 innings. Ted Connors, umpire; John Lynch, scorer.

At 1 o'clock an appetizing dinner was served in the cool dining room, which was amply enjoyed and appreciated by the entire party. Dancing and music also aided in stimulating the direction during the afternoon when Mr. John Lynch presented with his 75th birthday and to commemorate his marching in the recent convention parade in Boston, the enthusiasm reached fever heat. Mr. Lynch was thoroughly surprised by the gift and its appreciation was evident.

At 2:20 the games were started under the direction of Mr. Scholl, timekeeper; Mr. Dinneen, scorer and Mr. Davidson and Mr. John Lynch, starters.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR HENRY HORN

Funeral services for Henry Horn, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn, victim of last Tuesday's drowning tragedy at Wedge Pond, were held yesterday afternoon at the late residence on Loring avenue with a large attendance of friends and relatives from this town as well as from Concord, Natick, Woburn and Maine.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Allen Evans Jr., Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, who spoke intimately about the dead youth whom he had known as one of the members of the boy choir of his church. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

The bearers included Albert and Ralph Horn, cousins of the deceased, and Kenneth Cullen all of Winchester. Alfred Hanson of Woburn and Albert Belle and Alphonse Goleau of New Hampshire. The interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Henry Horn was the eldest of four children and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Horn, two brothers, Harvey and Irving, and a sister Clara. He was a sophomore in the Winchester High School and had been a member of the choir of the Church of the Epiphany. He had but recently recovered from a severe illness.

MONARCHS HAVE FOR SATURDAY'S GAME

The Legion management announces a real attraction for tomorrow on Manchester Field when the Winchester team will meet the colored Monarchs, a team rated around Boston as a better outfit than the Tigers who made such a hit here three weeks ago. The Monarchs have played some fine clubs and have never failed to give a fine account of themselves. They are coming here tomorrow with recent wins over Wakefield and Arlington and expect to add Winchester to their string. Manager LeDuc plans to start Taney against the colored boys and is confident that the kid south-paw will give the heavy hitters plenty of trouble. Mathews will be in back catching and Nelson will be back at short-stop. "George" also expects to show both a new infielder and outfielder tomorrow. A good crowd is expected to see the Monarchs and the game will be called at 3:30 p. m.

BOY HURT WHEN CAR HITS POLE

Shortly before noon last Friday Giuseppe Engrassia of 49 Billerica street, Boston, lost control of his car while driving along Main street near Symmes corner. The car struck a telegraph pole and then crashed into a stone wall hurling its occupants to the ground.

In the car besides Engrassia were Margaret Engrassia, his wife, and his two sons, Anthony and Joseph, also Paul Fogi, 12, of Lowell street, Boston. The police were notified and the entire party were taken to the Winchester Hospital. The Fogi boy suffered severe wounds on the head and body, and he was at first thought to be seriously hurt. Further examination however disclosed his injuries to be not so bad as feared and he was allowed to go to his home with the others of the party.

GIRL FALLS FROM CAR IN SQUARE

Sunday morning at 10:30 as an automobile owned and operated by William Bell of 10 Posen street Roxbury was approaching the center along Church street one of the side doors accidentally came open, and Bell's five year old daughter Rita fell from the machine to the ground in front of Knight's Pharmacy. Officer Noonan was on the scene and found that the child had sustained cuts on the forehead and legs as well as a general shaking up. Her hurts, while painful, were not serious and after first aid treatment at the Pharmacy she proceeded with her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Bodice of Mt. Pleasant street are spending a fortnight at Quinby Pond Camp, Me., motoring down this week.

WINCHESTER POLICEMAN INJURED

Officer Reagan was rendered unconscious and suffered injuries to his head and body and officer Harold was somewhat shaken up when the Ford car of the Winchester Police Department crashed into a pole on Washington street as the two policemen with officer William Cassidy were removing two men, whom they had previously arrested for drunkenness, to the local station house.

The accident occurred Friday night and was the result of a call which the police received that some men were disturbing the peace in a house on Chapin Court.

Officer Harold who was already in the district was notified from Police Headquarters of the disturbance, and Officers Reagan and William Cassidy were dispatched to the scene in the Police car.

When the officers arrived they arrested Patrick McElhenry and James Gattens; starting with them for the station in the Ford. Officer Reagan was operating the car, the prisoners were in the back seat, with officers Cassidy and Harold on the running-boards.

As the machine was swinging from Swanton into Washington street the two men started to put up a battle with the officers. During the scuffle one of them kicked officer Reagan in the head, rendering him unconscious. A Reagan relaxed his control of the car the machine swerved sharply and crashed into a telegraph pole at the end of the string of stores near Park Avenue. Fortunately the car was moving slowly, Reagan having slowed down to make his turn. Had he been going at a greater rate of speed a much more serious accident would have undoubtedly resulted. As it was the front of the Ford was badly battered and its occupants severely shaken up. Officer Reagan received the worst injuries, suffering had bruises about the head and body when he came in violent contact with the steering wheel, as well as being rendered unconscious by the kick. He was removed to his home, and treated by Doctor Sheehy.

The two prisoners were taken to the Police station where they were booked on a drunkenness charge, and also for disturbing the peace. They were arraigned in the Woburn Court last Saturday morning and found guilty. Both were sentenced to serve a term at the State Farm.

John O'Givvie who was subsequently arrested as being connected with the same disturbance was also in court the same morning and was fined $10 on a drunkenness charge.

Windstorm Insurance

It is not only the storms reported from the West and South in the newspapers which make Windstorm Insurance worth while throughout the country, including those sections where the typical tornado is almost unknown, heavy windstorms occur from time to time which cause large property damage and money losses. Scarcely any class of property is exempt. Dwellings, churches, schools, stores, factories, mills, farm property—all appear from time to time in the reports of wreckage in varying degrees of damage, involving roofs, chimneys, porches and other property representing substantial amounts in the cost of repairs.

If you carry Fire Insurance on your own property for the protection of a mortgage as well as yourself you doubtless take comfort in the thought that in the event of either severe damage or destruction by fire the mortgage will probably tell you to go ahead and rebuild with the insurance money. The cost at which you can enjoy the same protection against loss by windstorm or tornado makes this form of indemnity an inexpensive investment in peace of mind.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

Do you think of the hours of cooking, washing, ironing and heating that your gas bill represents? Do you think of the many times you have come home tired and hungry, and what a boon your gas service was then. Did you ever have a sudden illness in the house that gas service wasn't ready to help?

It's so easy to forget work done and hours and steps saved when you read your bill. If the bill were made out in terms of these things, however, you would be amazed to see how much you had done with such a small use of gas.

In point of service rendered, gas is the greatest money value you can buy. And what makes it doubly valuable in terms of fact is that it is always on tap, to use as much or as little as you wish.

GIVES TROPHY FOR SAILING CANOES

Widow of Paul Butler Donor of Notable Association Prize

Particular interest is added to the annual meet of the American Canoe Association this year through the presentation to the association by Mrs. Joanna Butler of the Paul Butler trophy for decked canoe sailing. The trophy is a memorial to the donor's husband, the late Paul Butler, to whose enthusiasm and inventive genius the modern sailing canoe is largely due.

Weighing only 115 pounds, it was impossible for Mr. Butler to carry sail with the heavier men and so he invented the sliding deck seat and thwartship tiller that made it possible for him to sit outboard with feet on the gunwale and so hold up a large sail area. This made the canoe the most exciting sailing craft afloat. Other devices introduced by Mr. Butler were the self-bailing cockpit, Norwegian tiller, hollow spars and many refinements of rig.

Boston and New England will be represented in the championship events of the meet at Sugar Island, Thousand Islands, from August 9 to 25. There has been a marked revival of interest in the decked sailing canoe in the last two years and it is expected there will be a larger fleet at the camp than at any time since 1895. Ten or 12 new boats have been built and entered in the regatta.

The Paul Butler trophy is a large shallow silver loving cup of severely simple lines with no ornamentation save the handles, but of rarely beautiful quality as to surfacing. It was designed and executed by hand by Mr. Wooley of the Society of Arts and Crafts.

Mrs. Butler has also given to the association a fund of $1000, the income of which shall be used annually to provide a fellowship prize for the winner of the trophy, in exact miniature of the latter.

The trophy is open to competition to all who have not won any of the championship events during two previous years. This is expected to bring back the "old-timers," who have been outclassed by the later champions and stimulate newer men who have not yet reached the championship class.

Paul Butler's own canoe, the Wasp, in which he won the championship in 1892 and 1893 and successfully defended the New York Canoe Club's international cup in 1895, is to be sailed this year by James A. Newman of the Winchester Boat Club. Mr. Newman held the championship in 1903 and has three times successfully defended the Union Boat Club's Intercity cup against Leo Friede, the champion of the past few years.

The paddling events at the meet will have many entries from the vicinity of Boston, as well as the rest of the country. The eastern division is sending up two war canoes, in which crews representing the various divisions of the association will race in heats for the war canoe championship. Special interest is taken in this year's meet by New England canoeists, as it is under the management of the Eastern division, with L. Sumner Morrill of Worcester as commodore, and Louis Stoughton Drake of Newton as chairman of the regatta committee.—(Boston Herald.)

WINCHESTER TOWN TEAM OPENED WITH WIN

The newly organized town team composed of local boys got away to a good start last Friday night when they defeated the Mystics of Woburn in a twilight game on Manchester Field 5-4 in six innings.

The game was for the most part fairly even with the local boys having whatever edge there was. Harman, a new comer to town and a former pitcher for English High of Boston, was in the box for Winchester with "Dinny" McManus twirling for the visitors.

McManus, who is a Winchester boy, went along in nice shape until the last frame, when a combination of passes and hits helped along by some shabby support led the bases with "Jimmy" Fitzgerald at the bat. "Fitz" promptly cleared the bases with a triple which broke the game wide open and gave Winchester a four run lead.

The Mystics came back in their half and scored three runs before Tansey relieved Harman and squelched the rally.

Harrold, O'Donnell and Fitzgerald looked the best for Winchester.

The score:

Winchester	T. T.	5	9	3
Runs	4	8	4	8

Batteries for Winchester, Harman, Tansey and Scharf; for Woburn, McManus and Kearns.

The Benedict Club had no match scheduled in the Old Colony Tennis League last Saturday, but will be in action again tomorrow.

TANSEY PITCHES WINCHESTER TO WIN

Winchester Legion got back into the winning column last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field, taking the J. A. Cigar Company's team into camp, 3 to 2, in a tight game that kept every one guessing until the last water rolled to Hatch for the final putout, with the tying run on third.

It was the game the fans had been waiting for and it was a good contest throughout. Manager LeDuc elected to start Tansey in the box and the crack little southpaw, who has pitched the local high school to Mystic League titles the past two years, proved equal to the task of breaking the losing streak which has been coming on the Legion's trail for the past two games. Not alone did Tansey win his game but he turned in a gilt-edged performance in so doing. Four hits were all that the J. A.'s were able to garner from his delivery while 10 of the visitors were sent back to the bench on strikes; a nice exhibition of pitching and all the more remarkable when one stops to consider that the kid hasn't hurled a full nine frames since the high school season ended last June. Yes, Tansey made good with a vengeance, and should have been credited with a shut-out but for some sloppy support in the third inning when the J. A.'s put over both their runs.

Winchester started the scoring in the second. With one out Donnellon got hold of one and rode it to far left for three bases. Hatch eased him over with a single to right and went to second on the throw in. Tansey was given a hand when he strode to the plate and just to show his appreciation banged one to left and scored. Hatch. Shea ended the inning when he rolled to Butler with the sacks loaded.

The visitors came right back in the third and scored two runs on a couple of safeties and errors by Donnellon and Shea. This ended the scoring until the sixth when the locals put the winning tally across.

Prior hit to right and went to second on Mathew's sacrifice. A wild throw from Butler in an attempt to catch him off second let him make third and Gilligan's second hit brought him over with what proved the big run.

The J. A.'s made a nice attempt to win the game in the ninth and had the tying run on third with two out, but Tansey proved equal to the emergency and forced the next batter to ground to Hatch.

Notes of the Game

The fans staying away last Saturday missed the best game of the year.

The reception given Tansey when he walked to the pitching box left little room for doubts as to his popularity. The game has been just waiting to watch him hit.

Hatch continues to hit at opportune moments, and he sure played a nice fielding game last Saturday. His clutch of Shea's lofty throw to first in the ninth inning with a runner going to third saved plenty of trouble.

Golner, the sorrel-topped first sacker of the J. A.'s also made a hit with the fans. "Red" is a finished worker around the bag and gets them from any angle. His pick-up of a low throw from third in the fourth inning was a nice bit of work.

Nelson did not return from his vacation in time to make the game which necessitated another last minute shift. Shea went to short and "Charlie" Donnellon came in to third with "Jack" Gillis taking his place in center field. Prior played right in place of Francis.

Donnellon, bar a rather excusable error on Lane's peg from left, showed well at third.

Mathews caught Tansey in nice style, and his passed ball could just as easily been scored a wild pitch. "Ernie" is one batter on the team who can make the sacrifice play look good.

Shea saved a run in the eighth when he knocked down Ahern's hit to deep short with his bare hand. There was a runner on second at the time who would have scored had the ball gone clean to left.

In all fairness to the outfielders who came in for plenty of crabbing from the fans for what appears to be loose handling of ground balls it should be remembered that the turf in the outfield is really in bad shape and it is almost impossible to judge the hop on a hit along the ground.

Simpson who went to second for the visitors in place of Ahern is the old Somerville high boy who did so well for Rhode Island State College last year. He has shown here before with the Somerville Civic Club.

Tansey had his drop ball working nicely and there were few innings in which he didn't get at least one strike-out.

Manager LeDuc says that Nelson will be back in short field tomorrow and also announces that there will be other changes in the line-up. The fans who saw last Saturday's game will be on hand this week as there is a real attraction listed in the colored "Monarchs" of Boston. And don't forget any one can buy a tag, there are no restrictions.

OLDEST TWINS IN NEW ENGLAND

Mrs. Eliza E. Spencer of Stoneham, the mother of Miss Elizabeth Spencer, principal for a number of years of the Wyman School, and her twin sister Elmira E. Adams of Union, N. H., probably the two oldest twins in New England, celebrated their 85th birthday Sunday with another sister, Miss Lovie Sanborn at Union, N. H., who is 90 years old. The twins were born in Wakefield, on the Witch Trail road, but the family went to reside in Brookfield when the children were six months old, after which removing to Stoneham, where Mrs. Spencer has lived since. Mrs. Adams spending much of her time with her in recent years.

The twins look exactly alike, are of the same height and young looking. They are progressive in their ideas and quite active. Their parents were John Sanborn and Mehitabel (Whitman) Sanborn.

THE FORD WAS SAVED

William Nowell of the Water Department saved a Ford sedan and possibly someone's show window in the Lane Building from destruction yesterday forenoon when he put the brakes on the car as it was coasting down the lawn of the Congregational Church towards the centre. Left evidently by a workman at the church, the car was seen by Mr. Nowell as it was running down the slope of the lawn at a rapid rate. By a quick sprint he reached it in time to get on the running board, open the door and pull up the brake, the car stopping just at the curb at the sidewalk.

"FRIGID AIR"

"Frigid Air" sounds good these days. It is just the best thing on the menu. Kimball & Earl have taken the agency for it. Call them up and get a little explanation and demonstration of what it is and what it means.

Briefly, "Frigid Air" is a method of cooling your present refrigerator by installing a unit, or providing you with a new refrigerator fully equipped to hold a temperature well below freezing. The outfit is made by DeLo Light and is sponsored by General Motors. Already seven or eight installations have been made in Winchester.

Better call Kimball & Earl and let them tell you about it. You know they put in that fine silver oil burner which kept you so warm and gave such satisfaction last winter. Their telephone is Win. 1365.

NOT WORRYING

A member of the Los Angeles Board of Education is credited with making the statement that nowhere does the growing prevalence of divorce strike home so forcibly as in the schools. "The parents," he said, "Bittely go through their respective ways, and maybe take unto themselves new mates, but the kiddies are not so fortunate."

As a case in point he told the following story of an incident that occurred in the Logan street school, one of the institutions under his jurisdiction.

"Little Billy is only seven and quite a problem to his teachers. Recently the regular teacher was absent and a substitute, who did not know the home conditions was in the room. She caught Billy in mischief and called him to account.

"Billy, what will you do if I call up your mother and tell her what you've done?"

"You can't," retorted Billy. "My first mama's gone on her honeymoon with my new papa and my old papa's gone on his honeymoon with my new mama."—(Los Angeles Times.)

The man whose word is as good as his bond is a man the world admires.

To work will do more than lead to material things—it gives an outlet for sorrow, restrains wild desires, ripens and refines character.

WHORF PLAYERS PRODUCE PLAYS

Winchester Woman President of Provincetown Organization

Four one-act plays were produced last week by the "Whorf Players," an organization which draws its membership from the famous Artists' Colony at Provincetown; a colony which is becoming more widely known each year as a summer rendezvous for many of the best known art devotees of the vicinity.

The plays produced were "The White Hawk" by Harry Kemp, known far and wide as the "suzerain poet," "Second Best" by Col. William A. Gaston of Boston, "Great Moments" by Raymond Wheatley Moore, and "Before Breakfast" by Eugene O'Neill. Of these Mr. O'Neill's play was first produced in 1916, but the other three had their premiere last week.

VISITING NURSE AND HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular monthly directors' meeting was held at the Health Center Tuesday morning, Aug. 5.

On the district there had been made during the previous month 323 calls on 47 different patients.

The hospital had cared for 114 patients, 23 babies had been born at the hospital during the month. Receipts from patients had been $4663.89; cost to operate the hospital for July had been $6005.66. A gift has just been received from the pupils and teachers of the eight grade, as a loving memorial to their classmate and friend, Louise Von Vittinghoff. The gift consists of two porringers and two mugs, the work of the Arts and Crafts Society, suitably inscribed; and are for the use of the children's ward.

Plans for the addition to the nurses' home have been accepted, and the building committee were empowered to sign contracts. Bids for construction open Aug. 14.

Miss Ethel Knowlton has just entered the training school as a probationer.

Ten babies have arrived at the hospital during the past week.

HEAT THIS WEEK WORST OF SUMMER

Winchester has sweltered through the hottest week of the summer. Starting last Monday afternoon the mercury has flirted with the 90 degree mark for a greater part of the time. While this is by no means an unbearable heat under favorable circumstances, when combined with the lack of wind which has accompanied this week's weather the resulting conditions have been all but intolerable. The nights especially have been unpleasantly warm and the thunder shower of last evening brought little relief. The peak of the hot wave seemed to come Thursday afternoon when several thermometers in the vicinity of the center were right at the 100 mark. Many shops and stores in the district thought it advisable to close because of the excessive heat which was beginning to find people at the limit of their endurance. Last night's severe shower seemed to have brought scant relief as the Star goes to press.

THE NORTH END IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

Plans are progressing favorably for the dedication ceremonies of the new William J. Noonan School. The school itself is now complete except the cutting in of the name and this will be done in the very near future. The North End Improvement Association, which was instrumental in having the school named for young Noonan who died in action while serving with the United States Marine Corps, has received from the Major-General Commandant at Washington a letter of appreciation for its interest in commemorating the name of a Marine now deceased.

Miss Mabel M. Coty and Mr. William J. Coty, well known local soloists and the latter a member of the local American Legion, and both of whom attended the old school in this district, have accepted an invitation to be the soloists at the dedication.

There will be quite a pretentious military parade with Lieut. William Nichols as Marshall. Commander Vincent Clark of the American Legion will not be in Winchester at the time of the exercises so will be unable to serve as Marshall, therefore the Commander unanimously selected Lieut. Mobbs.

Mr. Norman Ash has successfully passed his examinations for entrance to the University of Pennsylvania and will enter the Freshman class in the fall. Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Ash, his parents, left this week for Elgerly Farm, Winn Lake, N. H., where they will spend the month.

FATHER AND SON TOURNAMENT

Record Field Played at Country Club
Wednesday

The annual father and son golf tournament was held at the Winchester Country Club on Wednesday with the record entry of 95 pairs. Last year was the biggest up to that time in the line of entries the 55 pair entered making a record. The play this week went to C. S. and G. C. Cook, who played around in 75 and taking the gross prize with a couple of shots to spare. William and C. E. Crane of Commonwealth were net winners with 79-14-65.

The second gross score was taken by "Brick" Small and his son Irving junior, who turned in a 78. J. L. S. Barton and E. T. Barton, together with F. H. and S. S. Searns Walker were tied for second net with 81-18-66 and 87-21-66.

Last year the event was won by Percy Goodale and his son Robert, and although they failed to lead this week, they had the best two-year total of any pair playing. The youngest player this year was Jack Page, 11 years old.

The scores of the Winchester players were as follows:

G. L. S. and E. T. Barton 84 18 66

F. H. and Searns Walker 87 21 66

A WOMAN'S VIEW OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

Read By Mrs. Elizabeth C. Bryan Before the Women's Republican Club of Winchester

One of the expressed purposes for which the people of the United States established the Constitution was to "provide for the common defense." The Congress was given power to declare war, to raise and support armies, to provide and maintain a navy, and to provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia. The President is the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy at all times and of the militia of the several States when called into actual service of the United States.

In 1916 Congress created a Council of National Defense, consisting of the Secretaries of War, Navy, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce and Labor; to the council was attached an advisory committee of seven civilians in charge of (1) transportation, (2) munitions, (3) food, clothing and supplies in general, (4) raw materials, minerals and metals, (5) labor, (6) engineering, (7) medicine, surgery and sanitation.

Some people object to arming even for defense, in fear of militarism or imperialism.

This fear is without foundation in the United States, because the control of military affairs is completely in the hands of civilians, whose tenure of office is temporary.

Originally the national defenses included only the Army and Navy with their adjuncts. Since Napoleon's time the idea of nations at arms has been developed, especially in Germany; in the World War, the contestants used not only their armies and navies, but also mobilized their entire national resources of every kind.

Our War Department is now making what "practically amounts to a survey of the industrial and national resources of the United States" for use in time of war. As things now are; it would take the government a year longer to obtain its munitions and supplies than to train its main power. The survey will enable the War Department to recommend to Congress "the establishment of an enduring policy on the maintenance of essential war reserves." This plan would reduce economic disturbances to a minimum.

It is a military axiom that a Nation must have the Army and the Navy of its policies. Our policies are: The Monroe Doctrine, the Open Door in China, Asiatic Exclusion and the Protection of the Panama Canal. John Hart, when Secretary of State, said, Nov. 19, 1901: "The briefest expression of our rule of conduct is, perhaps the Monroe Doctrine and the Golden Rule."

The Panama Canal was built, primarily, as a measure of national defense; properly defended, it permits our whole Navy to deploy speedily in either the Atlantic or Pacific Ocean.

No law-abiding citizen wants to abolish our police force. Yet our Army and Navy are nothing more than our police force in international affairs. Without the policeman we would be the prey of the local gunman; without national defense we would be the victim of every greedy, contemptuous Nation, another China, but an immeasurably richer booty. Who heels or even hears the protest of helpless China against the exclusion of Asiatics; China—disembowered, torn by internal conflict, and external exploitation? Yet China is just as proud a nation as Japan. The difference is that China was extreme pacifist; Japan aggressive.

The extreme pacifist is the worst enemy of peace because he refuses to look facts in the face. If he had had his way we would now be paying tribute to Germany.

What hope for perpetual peace can we find in the European situation since the end of the World War?

The struggle for existence is a biologic law. The history of man is the story of his slow and painful ascent through countless ages, from primitive savagery to his present condition. In primitive times, he had to fight terrifying nature, his fellow-man, and the lower animals. Self-preservation was his chief concern. He is still a fighting animal, with a thin veneer of civilization.

Christ has set us a great ideal toward which we are gradually working our way. But we must not make the mistake of thinking that the world has attained to that ideal. All nations are not Christian, and even Christian nations do not all follow the precepts of Christ.

Until all nations do follow such precepts, we shall not be able to say: "They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Christ has so often been quoted to support the pacifist's point of view that in conclusion I would like to quote Him: "When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace. But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils." St. Luke, ii, 21-22.—[Boston Transcript.]

W. C. T. U. NOTES

United States Supreme Court Upholds Law to Prohibit Liquors For Medicinal Use

The Willis-Campbell law, prohibiting the sale or importation of intoxicating malt liquor for medicinal purposes, was, on June 9, declared valid and constitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Declaring that the purpose of the Eighteenth Amendment was to prevent the traffic in intoxicating liquors for beverage use, Justice Sanford, in handing down the opinion, said that in determining the power of Congress to prohibit the use of malt liquor for medicinal purposes it is necessary to consider whether the Willis-Campbell law was aimed to carry out the purpose of the Prohibition Amendment. There was considerable difference of opinion, he said, as to the medicinal value of beer and other malt liquor. That question should be left open and debatable, but there was no doubt that there was recognized medicine commonly available which could be used as substitutes for malt liquor.

The decision, written by Justice Sanford, was unanimous. It was delivered to cover two cases—that of the James Edwards breweries against Ralph A. Day, New York prohibition director, and James Burke, Ltd., against David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue.

The decision said in part: "It is clear that Congress, under its express power to enforce by appropriate legislation the prohibition of traffic in intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes may adopt any eligible and proper means to make that prohibition effective. The possible abuse of a power is not an argument against its existence. And it has been held that the power to prohibit traffic in intoxicating liquors, includes as an appropriate means of making that prohibition effective, power to prohibit traffic in similar liquors, although non-intoxicating."

"The ultimate and controlling question then is whether, in prohibiting physicians from prescribing intoxicating malt liquors for medicinal purposes as a means of enforcing the prohibition of traffic in such liquors for beverage purposes, Congress has exceeded the constitutional limits upon its legislative discretion."

"We cannot say that prohibiting traffic in intoxicating malt liquors for medicinal purposes has no real or substantial relation to the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and is not adapted to accomplish that end and make the Constitutional prohibition effective."

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Will Give Information About Candidates Before Primaries

The State League has completed plans to organize and publish information about Candidates of all political parties for Governor of Massachusetts and for the United States Senate, making this information available to all league members and to others as widely as funds will permit. The Board of Directors endorsed the plan at its June meeting. The publication will be in a pamphlet form and it is expected to have it ready for distribution August 15, nearly a month before the State Primary. Orders for these may be sent in at any time and each league is asked to spread the information that this pamphlet will be available and to place orders as early as possible.

The information sought is not to be in the form of "yes" or "no" answers to specific questions, but candidates will be urged to give their views on certain outstanding public issues, the Senatorial candidates asked to pass upon national questions; the candidates for governor to express views on certain state questions and policies.

In addition, information about registration and conduct of primaries will be available. After the State Primary, which is September 9, adequate and straightforward explanation of the referendum questions which are to appear on the ballot for the state election will be published. Such services are the reason for the League's existence. Every member is urged to keep this program in mind, use it, and extend its usefulness as widely as possible.

IS THERE A SHORTAGE OF DOCTORS IN THE RURAL DISTRICTS

August 4, 1924

To the Editor of the Star: Is there a shortage of doctors in rural districts? This question has come up not only in Massachusetts, but also in other parts of the country. Will you help us to answer this by requesting your readers to send in any suggestions, opinions, or facts on this problem to the Department of Public Health, State House, Boston?

The flow of physicians from rural to urban districts has been very rapid. But this has perhaps been compensated for by the extension of the telephone, the automobile, good roads, and other modern methods of communication. This and many other factors complicate the question.

The Massachusetts legislature has directed the Department of Public Health "to investigate the conditions existing throughout the Commonwealth with respect to the maintenance of adequate and competent health and medical service in sparsely settled districts." The Commissioner of Public Health has appointed the undersigned committee to make the investigation. The problem is being approached by direct personal interviews with physicians and laymen by written questionnaires and by statistical inquiry.

We will appreciate any help that readers of the Star can give us.

Yours truly,

George H. Bigelow, Chairman
Warren C. Jewett

PRESENTATION TO HOSPITAL

The class which graduated from the Wadleigh School, June 26, 1924, has just presented to the Visiting Nurse Association, for the Children's Ward of the Winchester Hospital, two porncrines and two arts, of pewter, made by the Boston Arts and Crafts Society. These are given in memory of their beloved classmate, Louise Von Vitzthum, who died only a few weeks before the class had finished its course and they are so inscribed. It had been hoped to have this ready by "Wadleigh Day" but the gift was not possible owing to unavoidable delays. The committee who had the matter in charge consisted of Cathryn Nutter, Virginia Hart, Dorothy Parsons and Sherman Russell assisted by two teachers, Miss Frances L. Hayward and Miss Mary H. Barr.

THE STAR ENDORSES MR. HARRIS

One of the important County offices to be filled at the coming election is that of Register of Probate and Insolvency.

That office is now held by Charles N. Harris of Winchester, who was appointed register by Governor Cox on the resignation of the former register.

Mr. Harris is well fitted by experience and training to hold this responsible office. Before becoming register, he held for many years the office of assistant register. He is regarded as an authority on probate law and equity and is constantly consulted by the lawyers of greater Boston who place great reliance on his opinions.

Those who desire to see a reliable and experienced official retained in the office which he now holds should see to it etc.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY DROWNED IN WEDGE POND

In the meantime officer O'Connell who was at the police station when the report of the drowning was received had rushed to the scene, and without waiting to completely undress swam toward young Horn, outstripping the raft and getting within a few feet of the drowning boy when he went down for the last time.

Just as officer O'Connell got to the spot where Horn was last seen the ladder truck of the Fire Department in charge of Deputy Chief Gorman arrived with additional members of the police force in charge of Sergeants Cassidy and Rogers.

William and Roy Nowell of the Fire Department at once stripped off their outer clothing and swam out to where officer O'Connell was attempting to locate the boy by diving. All three made heroic efforts to recover the youth but due to the great depth of the water and the exceedingly muddy bottom of the pond their efforts were unavailing. Officer O'Connell in particular persisted in his efforts until he was thoroughly exhausted and was warned by Nowell to desist.

Others also entered the water to aid among them being John Dowd, "Nobby" Smith and Herbert Wadsworth, Dowd coming directly from his forge on Park street and going into the pond fully dressed. Mrs. Hamilton also made valiant efforts to assist in the rescue, but it was soon seen that it would be impossible to reach the boy by diving.

Boats were rushed to the scene from the Town stable, Horn Pond and the Calumet Club, together with grappling irons from both the Winchester and Woburn Police Stations, and the work of dragging for the body was begun under the direction of Sergeant Cassidy of the local police. A big crowd lined the banks to watch the police and firemen at work.

Although the searchers worked with all speed it was not until after 3:30 that the body was finally located by Sergeant Cassidy and officer O'Connell. It had evidently drifted some considerable distance from the point where the boy was seen to sink, as it was recovered only 35 feet off shore in about 25 feet of water.

The body was immediately taken ashore and the police with the assistance of the firemen worked for some time in an effort to revive the boy. Their efforts, however, were fruitless, and the body was finally removed to the undertaking rooms of Kelly and Hawes where it was later viewed by the Medical Examiner.

It was thought by many at the time the efforts were being made to revive young Horn that his accident and subsequent death might have been caused by a heart attack, as he had but recently recovered from a severe illness.

Traders' Day passed quietly in Winchester on Wednesday. There was little activity anywhere about town, and the centre was practically dead. The extreme heat was probably responsible for many of the traders staying at home, although the Elks had a good crowd on their outing at Vanebo.

BARN STRUCK DURING LAST SUNDAY'S STORM

During the height of last Sunday evening's thunder storm the Fire Department was called from Box 572 for a fire in the barn on Henderson's farm off Ridge street. Fortunately the firemen were able to smother the blaze before it had a chance to make much headway as the barn, one of the largest and finest of its kind in town, was well filled with hay which once afire would have been very difficult to control. As it was the property damage was very slight.

How the fire originated has not been determined but it is thought that the lightning may have been responsible. The Fire Department were considerably delayed in getting onto the scene due to the fact that High Street was not passable. Part of the department got to the barn by way of Swan road and others went over Arlington road, considerable distance to an already long run.

POLE BLOCKS TRAFFIC ON MAIN STREET

Traffic was considerably delayed on Main street near Symmes corner last Friday evening when a large pole to which the police box is attached fell across the trolley wire at Sanborn street. For a time everything was completely blocked and the resulting jam became so severe that Sgt. Ross of the Police Department, Officers Edward and Archie O'Connell were dispatched to the scene to straighten things out. The telephone people and the Medford car barns were notified and a repair crew was rushed onto the job. Meanwhile detours were ordered by the police and the jam of cars gotten into motion. Traffic south bound was directed into Grove street while north bound cars went via Highland avenue. The police were notified of the mix-up shortly before 10 o'clock and it was 12:30 before the pole was repaired and traffic could be sent over its usual route along Main street.

FINED $100

Those who persist in operating motor vehicles while under the influence of liquor are finding it expensive to pick Winchester as the place to take their joy rides. Last Tuesday morning in the District Court the local police had Arthur G. Thibadeau of Cambridge before the Judge charged with drunken driving. He was found guilty and fined $100. Officer James Donaghy made the arrest.

WOBURN MAY GET METROPOLITAN WATER

Special Committee's Plan For Relieving Shortage

An expert survey of the entire water system, to locate and stop leaks and waste, and immediate effort to connect with the Metropolitan system for at least a part of the city's supply was recommended by Carlton M. Dean, chairman of the special committee to investigate the water supply, in a letter to Mayor Ben of Woburn last week. The committee had a number of recommendations to make, after an exhaustive investigation they have been carrying on for months, but the stoppage of the leakage and use of Metropolitan supply were the chief measures suggested for immediate relief.

The committee declared that so long as Horn Pond continues as a source of supply no bathing should be permitted there, but even with the greatest precautions, the committee says, pollution of the pond water cannot be stopped. There is drainage from heavily manured farms, from the streets and from a wide area. The only safe method by which pond water can be used is to construct a filter plant, which would be too expensive for the amount of water than can be procured, it is stated.

It will be possible to increase the Horn Pond supply by the construction of storage reservoirs at Fowle Brook, but this would cost about $1,000,000, and this is not recommended, because "it is unduly expensive in view of the limited quantity of water made available and the unsatisfactory quality of the raw water."

During 1923 the water consumption amounted to 137 gallons per capita per day and of this amount only 77 gallons is recorded by the customers' meters. The discrepancy can only be accounted for, the committee says, by leakage in the system, under-registration of meter, municipal supplies which are unmetered and possibly surreptitious use by factory fire sprinkler systems.

At the present time the water situation in Woburn is very serious. The majority of the residents object to the use of Horn Pond water. The water is treated with chlorine gas to kill off germs but there is an unpleasant odor and the health Board advises that the water be boiled.

The committee recommends that a waste and leakage survey be made at once; that a registering instrument be substituted for the indicating instrument on the General Electric flow meter in the pumping station; that all services not now provided with meters be metered, and that a careful inspection be made to discover any surreptitious use of water; also that a careful comparison be made at least annually between the amount of water pumped and the quantity delivered through meters.

It is recommended that the public bathing beach at Horn Pond be discontinued and all bathing in the pond be prohibited. That the necessary steps be taken to obtain a supplementary supply from the Metropolitan Water District with entrance fee proportioned to the small quantity of water required and with adequate allowances for the water furnished by Woburn from its own sources by obtaining special legislation authorizing the Metropolitan District Commission to furnish Woburn a supplementary supply of water without the necessity of entering the Metropolitan Water District.

SMASH ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

Shortly after 8 o'clock last Sunday evening an H. C. Stutz car driven by R. J. Saunson of 60 Trowbridge street, Arlington, was in collision with a machine owned and operated by Fred B. Potter of 63 Mapow avenue, Medford, on Cambridge street at the corner of Lexington street, Woburn. The collision was apparently caused by the Potter machine being struck by a Jackson touring car which was proceeding South as if from Woburn, and operated by a party whose identity was not learned.

With Mr. Potter were Mr. and Mrs. Ricking and daughter of 38 Marion street, Medford, and Mrs. Henrietta Mingo of Everett. Mrs. Mingo had one knee bruised, and Mr. Ricking suffered bruises about the head.

Mrs. Percy of Reading, a passenger in the Stutz driven by Saunson, sustained abrasions of the head and was removed to the Winchester Hospital where she was reported as not seriously injured.

Homer Davidson and Alan Eldredge have return home from a visit to Ocean Park, Me.

ARRESTED FOR DRIVING THROUGH FUNERAL CORTAGE

Last Wednesday morning as a funeral procession was passing through the center a car bearing a new Hampshire registration cut through the line of vehicles from Main street into Mount Vernon street. Officer James Farrell who was on duty in the square arrested the operator, and took him to the local station house where he gave his name as Joseph Garofalo with residence in Concord, N. H. In the District Court he was fined $10 for driving through the funeral procession, and an additional $5 for having no license in his possession when he was arrested.

Mrs. Elsie H. Estey of Yale street was among the passengers returning on the White Star liner Majestic which docked last Tuesday at New York from Southampton and Cherbourg, Europe.

Phillip R. Jackson of this town is with the C. M. T. C. at Fort Adams, Newport, R. I. for the month of August.

NEW BASES FOR TRAFFIC BEACONS

Another traffic sign, one of the new flashing beacons, was smashed at the junction of Church, High and Cambridge streets Wednesday night. This is the worst spot in town for smashing traffic signs, and the beacon, the second of its type to be wrecked. It is said that a woman driver, going up High street, attempted to back down when she found the road blocked and ran into it.

The Selectmen have approved a new base for the flashing beacons, and when these are installed it is expected that more automobiles will be wrecked than beacons. These bases are to be cast concrete, three feet in diameter. They will have three feet of ground and three feet above the top tapering to a diameter of 16 inches.

The mechanism operating the flash of the light in these beacons is very delicate, the hood covering the motor costs $30, and several have had to be renewed. It is expected that the work of putting in these new bases will commence shortly.

In connection with the fireworks display, a program of band music will be given which is a feature in itself, rendered by one of the finest Italian bands in the country, the program will be composed almost wholly of the finest classical music.

DOG GIVEN FIRST AID AT FIRE STATION

Mr. George W. Hazen, a recent comer to town, while driving his car along Mount Vernon street yesterday morning, had the misfortune to strike a dog directly in front of the fire house. The animal was completely knocked out, and was at first thought dead.

Members of the Fire Department were attracted to the scene and Jack Flaherty, the medical expert of the force, undertook to prescribe for the luckless animal. An application of cold water brought the dog back onto his feet at the count of seven and he was removed to the fire house for further treatment. "Doctor" Flaherty at last reports expected his patient to recover.

NEW OFFICES FOR SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

The work of remodeling the barn on the new Wymann School lot to an administrative office building for the various heads of the Winchester School Department was begun this week.

When completed the result will be a plant in which the several departments can function under one roof with much more efficiency and co-operation than has been possible heretofore.

The new building will contain a large central or main office for the Superintendent's clerk in which will be kept the files of the administrative department. Opening off this room will be smaller offices for departmental heads such as the primary supervisor and the school nurse. One end of the building will house the office of the superintendent and school committee, and the other a book and general supply room. The space above the first floor which was formerly the loft of the barn will be utilized as a repair and general storage room.

It is not expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy when the schools open in September, but the work should be completed later in the fall.

Mr. Greely of the firm of Kilham, Hopkins, and Greely is the architect in charge and Mr. F. C. Alexander of this town has the contract, the figure of which is given out as $6500.

OFFICER REGAN GOT SOME BEER

Officer John J. Regan captured a truck, containing as near as has been estimated, 75 cases of beer last night in the square. Heilding up the truck, which was a covered Ford, he became suspicious of the actions of the two men driving it. He asked them what they are carrying and they replied "ginger ale." Officer Regan decided to look the ale over, and upon opening one of the pastboard cartons labeled "Gordon's Ginger Ale," he found it filled with bottled beer.

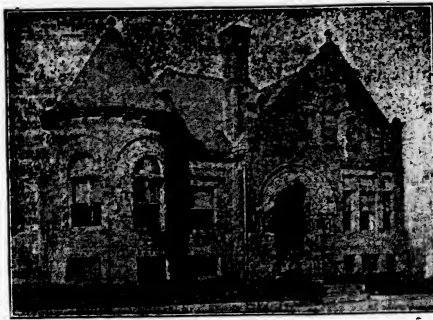

The two men were taken to the police station. They gave their names as Joseph A. Savard and John Anderson, both of Chelsea. The prohibition officers were notified and the men will appear in court this morning.

Mr. Barrett was the Winchester member on the general committee for automobiles covering the entire convention.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

The outing which was held at Salem Willows last Saturday was a complete success in every way. Three large buses, 10 private automobiles and a truck laden with good things to eat, left Winchester at 9:30 a. m. Three hundred and fifty members, their relatives, children, and the cast of the recent minstrel show made up the party.

Soon after the arrival at the beach, dinner was served in one of the pavilions. Shortly after dinner all gathered on the sand, where some of the jokes and stories for the coming minstrel show were tried out. At 3 o'clock the entire party, with the exception of the smaller children who were cared for in the baby hammocks by some volunteers from the committee, donned bathing suits for a dip in the ocean. Sisters May O'Leary and Annie Scott were the judges of the swimming events. Honors were captured by Sisters Mollie Maguire and Jane King for long-distance swimming while Mrs. Emma Cullen, Mrs. Nellie Moffett, Mrs. Margaret Downum, Miss Doris Fitzgerald and Mrs. George P. Land gave some good exhibition diving.

At 4:30, the hits of the recent successful minstrel show were repeated in the summer theatre with a large and appreciative audience demanding repeated encores. Mrs. Nellie Maguire, the McGrath sisters, Miss Mary Brown and Miss Dorothy Horn were among the special favorites.

Five-thirty saw the start of the races and then the real fun began. The following acted as officials: starter, Joseph O'Connor of the local post office; timekeeper, Mrs. Mary Kelley and Mrs. Mary Branch; judges, Mr. Arthur King, Mr. George P. Land and the Misses Katharine O'Connor and May O'Leary.

The following were the prize winners:

50-yd. Dash—Mrs. Nellie Moffett, 1st; Mrs. Emma Cullen, 2nd.
50-yd. Dash for Boys—William H. Vayo, Jr., 1st; Bobby Ray, 2nd.
100-yd. Dash—Dorothy Horn, 1st; Mary Brown, 2nd.

Fat Ladies' Race—Mrs. Doris Fitzgerald, 1st; Mrs. Nora Cullen, Lynn, 2nd.

Small Girls' Dash—Grace Vayo, 1st; Ethel Cassidy, 2nd.
3-legged Race—Elizabeth O'Melia, Winifred Vayo, 1st; Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Mollie Maguire, 2nd.
3-legged Race for Fat Ladies—Mrs. Doris Fitzgerald, Mrs. Nellie Moffett, 1st.

The entire success of the outing was due to the hard work of G. R. Annie E. Vayo.

Sister Katharine O'Connor's whist was postponed until last night. A full account will appear later.

Several of the members visited the home of P. G. R. Alice L. Martin on Tuesday evening to bid farewell and God-speed to Mrs. Martin's son, Henry, who sailed on Wednesday to Kingston, Jamaica, where for the next three years he will teach in the Jesuit College there.

On Friday evening, Sept. 19, the recent minstrel show, with some changes in the songs and sketches, will be repeated in the Town Hall in aid of the grab table at the Elks' Carnival. Mrs. Marion Gilman is chairman of this table and Mrs. Annie E. Vayo, G. R., is vice-chairman. Needless to say the show will be well worth seeing. Sister Mary Jane Kelley will direct the performance, with Sister Mollie Maguire in charge of details.

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

The second of the series of whists being run by the Emblem Club in aid of the Elks' Carnival was held in the K. of C. Hall last Monday night, and called out as large a gathering as last week's party. Mrs. William Cleary and Mrs. Katherine T. MacDonald, the charming hostesses, realized a substantial sum which will be used to supply the apron table at the carnival. The most attractive feature of these affairs is the wonderful array of useful prizes. Monday night's costly supply was won by the following:

Mr. Ned MacDonald and Miss Mahoney secured the first seven points and won the towels.

Mrs. M. Moffett, bath set.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald, ginger ale glasses.

Mr. T. Fallon, pearl beads.

Miss Mahoney, towels.

Robert Donaghy, picture.

Mrs. Ivan Nash, handkerchiefs.

FRUIT ACIDS IN BODY JUST LIKE SOAP IN HOUSE

The human body needs fruit acids to keep it in order, just as much as a house needs soap to keep it clean, says Dr. F. L. Wilson, writer in the Osteopathic Magazine for August.

"Paradoxical as it may appear," writes Dr. Wilson, "acid fruits are our strongest alkaline foods, for they not only give to the body the little potassium they contain, but they also reclaim the waste potash of the intestinal secretions."

He goes on to point out that no other alkali can take the place of potassium in the scheme of nutrition, and that much of this is thrown off in the bile and wasted, unless fruit acids are ingested, to unite with it and throw it back into the blood where it can be used.

This potassium goes around and around, in the healthy body, according to Dr. Wilson. "Potassium carbonate," he says, "in lymph and blood, absorbs and eliminates waste carbonic acid. It neutralizes other acid wastes as sulphuric, phosphoric, lactic and acetic. It liquefies the fatty content of the bile. It holds the solid matter of bile in solution. Poured finally with the intestinal secretions into the alimentary tract, it is ready to digest more acid fruits." And thus it goes back to work again.

Dr. Wilson shows that true fruit acids are not confined to what we usually think of as acid fruits, but that they exist in all fruits and vegetables, even in fresh corn, beans and potatoes. He says also that the person who believes he cannot eat fruit acids, has his trouble because he has not eaten them for so long that there is not sufficient potash in the bile to take care of them, and that the whole body is suffering from this lack. If such a person will persist in eating fruit acids, he will retain such potassium as there is in the body and gradually add to it, thus improving the health in general.

Hydrogen Sulphide

Add to the evil smell of hydrogen sulphide, a common gas, the essence of decayed eggs, the odium of being one of the most toxic of gases. It is comparable to deadly hydrogen cyanide in its rapidity of action, the concentration from which death will result. Two parts of hydrogen sulphide in 10,000 parts of air when breathed for a few days will cause death. Weaker concentrations will cause poisoning, and it is found in such quantities in some industries.

Rubber Plantations

Nearly all the plantation rubber in the world, which is now 12 times as much as that from the forests, is grown in the Malayan peninsula and Dutch East Indies.

Scythe Tree as Shrine

In Seneca county, New York, is a Balm of Gilead tree now famous because it holds a scythe hanging there when the Civil war broke out, by Wyman James Johnson as he quit work to enlist. He died before the war was over. Since then the tree has been struck by lightning, but the scythe remained intact and two more were placed in the notch by youths who went to the European war. The tree has become a shrine for the surrounding country. Only six inches of the blade of the Johnson scythe now is visible.

Windstorm Insurance

It is not only the storms reported from the West and South in the newspapers which make Windstorm Insurance worth while throughout the country, including those sections where the typical tornado is almost unknown, heavy windstorms occur from time to time which cause large property damages and money losses. Scarcely any class of property is exempt. Dwellings, churches, schools, stores, factories, mills, farm property—all appear from time to time in the reports of wreckage in varying degrees of damage, involving roofs, chimneys, porches and other property representing substantial amounts in the cost of repairs.

If you carry Fire Insurance on your own property for the protection of a mortgage as well as yourself you doubtless take comfort in the thought that in the event of either severe damage or destruction by fire the mortgagee will probably tell you to go ahead and rebuild with the insurance money. The cost at which you can enjoy the same protection against loss by windstorms or tornado makes this form of indemnity an inexpensive investment in peace of mind.

"But the best of all is common sense."

In building the new Lincoln School on Westley street, arrangements were made for an entrance from Washington street. A flight of concrete steps has now been built for this entrance.
The star seriously criticizes this form of entrance. It is dangerous. The entrance from Washington street should have been by a sloping path and steps should not be used. This should be changed before the school is finished and the grading completed.
Of all our schools this Lincoln appears to have been handled with a lack of judgment.

The Selectmen, this week, received a request from the residents of the Dunster Lane section for a sewer —for household purposes and fire protection. The Star long ago predicted that this section would cause considerable expense to this town and would provide a problem in many years for years to come. It lays over the west side ridge in an inaccessible position. To enter it, one must first go through a part of the town of Arlington. To supply it with water, a pump must be installed and the pipes laid through a part of Arlington.
It is the same problem in the matter of schools. The sewer there drains down through Arlington. Efforts were made to annex the territory to Arlington, but that town displayed no desire for the acquisition.
It appears now that Winchester will have to supply the section with water bought from Arlington.

Wondering what was holding up the cars Sunday afternoon we drove up to the head of the line. There we found a production of "Henry's," evidently of a '28 vintage, with father, mother and little Jessica. The role was traveling fully five miles an hour.
Father was in front with a firm grip on the tiller with mother and little Jessica in behind. To enliven the outing, little Jessica was playing tunes on the victrola, conveniently placed on a kitchen chair in the ton-neau. Unfortunately those in the dozen or more following cars could not hear the sweet strains of the music, but from the expression on the faces of mother and Jessica, they were very soul-stirring. We never knew where the expression "sea-going back" originated as applied to a driver, but now we understand. We left the procession on the turnpike, traveling at what lengths some people will go to enjoy an outing to its fullest extent.

ELKS' MOVIE NIGHT AT STONEHAM

The Stoneham Theatre was the mecca for local Elks and their friends last Wednesday evening when the local lodge, number 1445, B. P. O. E. put on their first "Movie Night" with an all star bill that included pictures of the recent Grand Convention parade in Boston as well as an interesting program of vaudeville sketches by local and professional talent.

The affair was a sell out and a success from start to finish. Approximately six hundred made the trip from Winchester and put their hearty approval upon the first venture of the antlered brothers into the realms of the silver screen. Many of the Winchesterites went over the road in their own cars and others were passengers in the three big buses that left the square at 7:50
p. m.

The feature picture was of course the one showing the Elks' parade but there were two other fine reels which amply took care of the "Movie" end of the program.

Immediately before vaudeville and concert sketches a most interesting and instructive talk on Elksdom and its aims was given by Exalted Ruler George T. Davidson of the Winchester Lodge.

Mr. Thomas F. Fallon had the "legitimate" part of the program in charge and acted as announcer for the various teams.

W. A. Stevens of the Stoneham Lodge headed the list with vocal selections, and he was followed by Miss Dorothy Horn, daughter of Mr. James Horn of the local lodge with fancy dances. Johnny Ball and Eddie Donahue of Lowell Lodge showed why they were features on Keith's circuit when they put over some high class vocal harmony, while Lillian Paine and six of Wolcott pleased with violin and piano selections. Jack Kellher and Alleen McCarthy of Boston showed some fifty clog and step dancing with "Jim" Horn of the Winchester Lodge rivaling their efforts with one of his famous exhibitions of the buck and wing. The always popular "Billy" Cody, well-known radio singer, wound up the bill with some of his old favorites that Winchester audiences never tire of as well as a new feature number which was most favorably received.
The famous Elks' Eleven O'clock Toast was given by Colonel Guyon of Wakefield, Past District Deputy of the Northeastern District.

Before the end of the evening chairman Maurice Dinnon of the Ball Carnival Committee spoke a few words about the work which his committee is doing.
The committee for the "Movie" night which includes J. J. Fitzgerald as chairman, and Frank E. Randall, N. M. Nicholls, and Thomas F.
Fallon wish to thank any and all friends of the Winchester Lodge who assisted in any way in making last Wednesday's affair the success it turned out to be.

FIREMEN TURN EXCAVATORS

Winchesterites who have wondered over the activities of the local firemen in the rear of the station need have no fears of any violation of the peace pact. The gallant fire fighters are not laying out for recreation, neither are they digging for buried treasure. The object of their unusual labors with pick and spade is a catch basin that has had the bad taste to raise ructions with the water system of the fire house and cause the fire room to become flooded whenever there is an unusually heavy rain. Local water experts have viewed the work, including G. T. Davidson and Harry Dotson, but thus far the basin has eluded all efforts to discover it.
Members of the department claim they are enjoying the exercise and promise to fight it out on these lines
if it takes all summer.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Dr. Thornton Whaling, moderator of the general assembly of the Southern branch of the Presbyterian Church, meeting at San Antonio,
Tex., has the following to say of Dr.
Butler's utterances on prohibition:

"Dr. Butler is a brilliant educational financier and has added millions of dollars to the endowment of Columbia. But when it comes to interpreting lofty moral issues in the highest plane he does not infrequently betrays the financial bent rather than the ethical genius.

"I think statistics as well as reason, will not sustain his gratuitous statement that prohibition has increased violations of law and enlarged the criminal classes. Not only does my reading of the newspapers, but personal observation and experience convince me that prohibition already has greatly reduced drunkenness and crime, and while the complete enforcement of the law is still lacking, yet prohibition sentiment is increasingly demanding that this and other laws on the statute books be enforced.

Prohibition is the real to decrease of drunkenness and its resultant evils of ruinous wasters, disrupted homes and crowded prisons. I do not see how anyone can take another view of it."

Columbia University Student Publication Disagrees With Butler

The Columbia University Spectator, the student publication of Columbia University, referring to President Nicholas Murray Butler's statement, expressed the average American student's opinion when it said editorially, "We disagree with his view that it is impossible to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. Prohibition is not a bad thing simply because it is not easy. What great reform was ever accomplished along the lines of least resistance?"

Chicago Social Welfare Worker Gives Lasting Favorable to Prohibition

Mrs. J. Sarah P. Bowen, a prominent social welfare worker and president of the Women's City Club of Chicago, is reported to have said:
"I believe it was a great mistake for the president of a great university to make a public statement such as Dr. Butler is reported to have made, when so many are trying sincerely to have this law enforced. Its benefits are so broad and so obvious it is a great pity that a person of influence will say that the amendment cannot be enforced and should not have been passed and cannot be supported by liberals. There is less liquor sold now than ever before.

FOOD FOR THE OVERWEIGHT

Causes

Overweight may be caused by improper diet lack of exercise or improper functioning can be remedied by your own efforts; the last requires a doctor's advice.

Reducing

Reducing weight should be a gradual process. One and one-half to two pounds a week is sufficient to lose.
Will power and a knowledge of food are necessary to accomplish this.

Facts to Remember

1. Fats, sugars, and starches in excess of the body needs are stored as fat tissue and add to your weight.
2. The following are rich in these foodstuffs and so should be used sparingly:
Crackers, bread, cereals, rice, macaroni, potato, rich cake, pie, gravy, fat meat, salad oils, ice cream, cream, butter, fats, nuts and candy.

Food

1. Skim milk is fairly low in sugar and fat and can be taken to advantage.
2. Drink plenty of water between meals.
3. Bran bread, bran muffins, etc.
should be used in place of white.
4. If hungry between meals, drink water or eat a small apple.
5. Eat more bulky foods, such as vegetables and fruit.
6. Eat daily at least two vegetables.

Suggestive Meals for a Day

Breakfast—Orange (without sugar), bran krumbles with skimmed milk (no sugar), clear coffee, toast.
Luncheon—Clear soup or bouillon, cold salad with French dressing made with mineral oil, bran muffins.

Dinner

Clear soup, lean meat or fish, spin-ach, two slices whole wheat bread or one small potato and one teaspoon butter, fruit jelly, clear coffee.

Note: Omit coffee in diet of a child.

Exercise

Exercise is necessary as well as diet. The article next week will give some good exercises.

FINDS "AMERICAN INDIANS" OF CHINA

Joseph F. Rock, famous plant explorer and leader of the National Geographic Society's Yunnan Expedition, whose narrow escapes from bandits along the China-Tibet frontier were reported in cable dispatches a few months ago, arrived in Washington recently.

Mr. Rock reported to the National Geographic Society his finding of aboriginal tribes in Yunnan, China's vast, wild and little known southwest province. These tribes still are practicing religious ceremonies that existed before Buddhism was introduced.

Brings Blight-Proof Chestnut

He brought back a blight-resisting chestnut tree, which, it is hoped, will be the means of re-borning this valuable timber crop which, in the United States, has been devastated by disease.

The explorer's personal adventures included the traversing of a hitherto unexplored gorge of the Yangtze, much deeper than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River.

Crossing of many streams was one of the tedious phases of his trip for he and his 23 native assistants and their pack animals had to be swung across these on single-strand rope bridges.

Mr. Rock brought back some 1,700 specimens of birds, stuffed; 500 mammal specimens and more than 60,000 plants.

Priests Use Picture Writing
He also has books used by the "Nashi," or Moso, priests, with an ancient picture writing. These, too, antecedate Buddhism in Tibet and China, and they contain a story of a great flood.

Mr. Rock previously located the chaulmoogra tree which yields the oil now used in treating leprosy.

MONEY-MINDED PEOPLE LESS INTERESTED IN CULTURE, RELIGION AND REFORM, TEST SHOWS

The kind of words and phrases that strike responsive notes in people is a pretty good index of character, says psychologists at the State University of Iowa.

Do you, for instance, thrill to such expression as "win out in the financial world," "a high-powered automobile," "yacht," "comfortable," "luxurious," or are you inspired more by suggestions of things cultural, as "learn more about music," "poetry," "drama" and "sculpture?"

Are you stimulated by words such as "illustrious," "superior," "fame" and "distinguished?"

What impression do matters religious make, and do such terms appeal to you as "ministry," "spiritual,"

"sermon," "religion" and "Christianize the world?"

Are you interested in phrases suggesting economic revolution or reform, such as "working class solidarity," "democratize industry," "higher inheritance taxes," "communism" and "mother's pensions?"

The way people respond to such suggestive expressions as these is the basis of the new method for determining character, which has been tried out on students at the State University of Iowa.

In this case the character elements studied were the different attitudes toward wealth and money. Two groups of students were selected who might be characterized as "money-minded" and "no-money-minded," and tests given to them. These groups were made up of 41 students, who had been rated by intimate associates, and upon whom there were from three to nine well-agreed judgments.

Of these 41 cases, 19 were of the money-minded type, only two of them, however, being so dominantly ambitious to make money that all other interests were dwarfed. Of the remaining 22, eight of them divided their interest equally between money and other things, while to 14 money-making was entirely subservient to other matters.

The test consisted of about 250 words, arranged alphabetically, and about 50 phrases and 50 sentences. After each were placed the words "no" and "yes." The student was instructed to circle "no" after those stimuli that he disliked, and to circle "yes" after stimuli he liked; to skip the ones he neither liked nor disliked, to underline in each list five words or phrases about which he felt most strongly, and to double-underline one of these five about which he felt most strongly of all.

The conclusions reached by trying out the tests on these two groups is that the money-minded person tends to be less interested in religious, cultural and intellectual matters; he is indifferent to the virtues, opposes economic reforms and strongly dislikes humble tasks; he tends to be a pleasure seeker, and he greatly desires to be successful, which he defines as the possession of wealth, power and position.

Money-minded people react less strongly in the negative toward such words as "crafty," "slupee," "extravagance," "chevish," "unduly," "unrighteous" and "usury," than does the non-money-minded type.

A second experiment was made in order to find out if the test was cheat-proof. Twelve of the money-minded men took the test over again with the following instructions: "Imagine that you are applying for a job in some philanthropic organization which emphasizes character and ideals, but cares little for business ability. Take the test with this in mind, placing yourself in as favorable a light as possible in order to get the job."

Eleven of the non-money-minded men took the test again, their instructions, however, being to rate themselves in such a way as to get a job in some business institution.

In this case, however, the purpose of the test was obvious, the two groups reversed their former reactions. In 25 cases, however, where the purpose was not obvious, the two groups showed the same response when taking the test the second time as they did the first.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

Every Winchesterite who has gripped the arms of a dentist's chair is well aware that the ordeal is not near as painful as imagination proclaimed it. If Nature required each of us to have a jaw tooth extracted each day, within less than a month we would face the business without flinching. As matters stand, we tremble and turn pale because extractions are few, and by the time one tooth needs extraction we forget how little actual pain the last one caused us as it was torn loose from its moorings. Snakes do not frighten people who are accustomed to snakes; the whir of a bullet does not quicken the pulse of the man who has heard many bullets whir; old ocean in angry mood causes the sailor very little anxiety.

In just a single instance has Nature left us to face an ordeal without opportunity to travel that way with a guide. To each of us Death is a new adventure to be entered upon without knowledge of what is to follow. If there is an explanation, it must be that Nature wishes to keep us thoroughly alarmed of death so that we will avoid it while we can. Those Winchesterites who have seen Death come to loved ones have seen it come, for the most part, with great dignity and unattended by pain or fear. If those who go away and could return and tell us how little the experience hurt them, a lot of folks in and out of Winchester who find life disappointing might have the temptation placed in their way to try the experiment. Nature knew her business when she taught man to love life and fear death. Possibly she tricked him, but if so, she tricked him for the good of us all.

Many homes here in Winchester are stocked up on books devoted to home gardening. Add to these the many agricultural and horticultural publications of the government. Supplement these by the gardening articles in the newspapers and magazines. The art preservative gives far more attention to the cultivation of the soul than it did in the days in which "Ten Acres Enough" was a best-seller. The war proved a great stimulus to home gardening. Those who once became gardeners give up the pastime with reluctance.

An observant Winchester gentleman studied with puzzled gaze a group of a half-dozen small youngsters. He has seen this same group of boys for a long time now and the thing that strikes him as curious is that these small boys never fight. Whatever the game they may be indulging in they seem to be harmonious.

It was far from always being so. The pastimes of the youth we knew in our boyhood were at least semi-occasionally interrupted by rows. On the following day friendship was usually restored but on the next day, or the day after, a new fight loomed as a possibility.

All through the golden autumn, throughout the squalls of winter, and then in the blossoming springtime, and now in the good old summertime these youngsters can apparently enjoy each other's company without the interlude of a blackened optic or a ring encounter. It is generally recognized that boys are less prone to fighting than boys were in the good old days. John Muir's account of the numberless battles of his earlier days would surprise many of the rising generation.

—The Spectator

THE JOY OF LIVING

(Written for the Winchester Star)

Mid the restlessness of living and the silentness of Death—
Mid the toiling and the straining and the laboring of breath—Mid the tumult of our passions and the fevered heat of Life.
With its want and its pollution and its universal strife—
Mid the tender, human faces that pass, fleeting as the years.
And our loves that bear within them secret springs of cares and tears—
Mind all fleeting things and follow, mid all empty things and vain—Beween faiths and wounded spirits wrong and sin, defeat and pain—
We may yet be strong and quiet, yet be men despairing not;
Resting still, with all the aches, in an ancient, holy thought:
This—the sky is very near us, and the sky is very broad;

There is holiness about us, and a great, pure God.

—Eugene Bertram Willard

Origin of White Feather

The phrase "showing the white feather" is derived from the cockpit that birds having a white feather in their wings were apt to show cowardice in fight. Many such phrases are incorporated in the English language from the same source, such as "to turn tail," "to stand steel," "cock of the walk," "to the game"—to enlist none other of the 50 or 60 such words.

Griddles Made of Soapstone

Soapstone is a kind of rock ranging in color from bluish gray to green. Chemically it is composed of hydromagnesian mineral lute mixed with other minerals. Some soapstone is quite soft, being readily cut with a knife, but it is the harder kind which is used for griddles, sink lining and fire bricks. Such soapstone usually comes from North Carolina or Virginia. A soapstone griddle may be used almost the same as any other kind of griddle.

Ants Build Huge Mounds

Some surprising facts have been gathered concerning the mound-making ants of the Alleghenies. McCook has measured some mounds more than thirty feet in circumference, although rarely more than three feet in height. But around these there are many new mounds in course of construction, only a few inches in height. They are found in groups, of which one contains 1,500 mounds within a space of 50 acres. Their total population is enormous, and each group of mounds appears to constitute a community—an insect kingdom or empire.

Oak Good Grower

Scarlet oak is even less exacting as to soil than the red oak, says the American Tree association. It will grow almost anywhere and the brilliant coloring of its autumn foliage fully justifies its name. A row of these oaks brightens the landscape with the striking beauty of a forest of flame.

Mr. William P. DeCamp of Highland avenue was stricken with an attack of heart failure this morning while eating breakfast in the Food Shop. He was given first aid at the emergency room at the police station and then taken to the hospital. Before his arrival at the hospital he had recovered, and no alarming results are anticipated at latest report.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The residence of Mr. F. Manly Ives of Highland avenue was entered sometime between Tuesday, Aug. 5, and last Tuesday morning when the break was discovered. Admittance was gained by lifting the screen on one of the front windows and jimmying the sash with a chisel. The police are at work on the case.

Primitive Race

Primitive people, living in holes in the ground and believed to be descendants of a race antedating the Arabs in north Africa, were found by a fellow of the Royal Geographical society a few hundred miles south of the Mediterranean coast in Africa. Here dwell more than 12,000, without roofs or houses, living in subterranean homes which are entered through sloping tunnels. They are Moslems and extremely fanatical.

The Ideal State

Education and good morals will be found to be almost the whole that goes to make a good man, and the same things will make a good statesman and a good king. The truest definition of a complete citizen that can be given is probably this: That he shares in the judicial and executive part of the government. A state, consisting of a multitude of human beings, ought to be brought to unity and community by education.

Time to Cut Wood

The forest products laboratory says that the time of cutting wood has very little effect upon its durability if the timber is properly stored for afterward. Late fall or winter cutting is simplest, as the wood seasons more slowly and with less checking, and by warm weather is seasoned enough to be less susceptible to insects and fungi. There is, however, practically no difference in moisture content of green wood in winter and summer.

Sweet-Tooth Squirrel

At Appleton, N. H., Mrs. Blair and her pupils noted an interesting bit of natural history. A squirrel was seen playing in a sugar maple near the schoolhouse, and a closer inspection revealed the fact that he had gnawed the under side of a limb and, hanging on by his four feet, was sucking the sap that oozed out. He repeated this performance several times.

New Coffee Substitute

A new substitute for coffee has been brought to civilization by a traveler just returned from the interior of Venezuela. He found the Indians of the Meta country toasting a bean called "Amazona," the product of a weed which grows in abundance and is said to have all the characteristics of coffee except caffeine.

FINE FIREWORKS

Italian Residents Give Remarkable Display Before Record Crowd

Once again the Italian residents of Winchester delighted the people of this and surrounding places with one of their unexcelled displays of fireworks. The show on Manchester Field on Friday night was fully up to the standard set years ago, and even surpassed the former entertainments with its novel effects and brilliant coloring.

As usual, there was a band concert during both the afternoon and evening, the famous Renna Band, one of the finest Italian bands in this section, rendering programs of classical music and operatic pieces which were well worth hearing and which delighted large audiences. During the afternoon there was a procession through the Italian residential district, the streets along the route being decorated with flags and bunting.

The crowd attending the fireworks appeared somewhat smaller than in former years, although this estimate may have been gained through the fact that the people were later in arriving than formerly and used automobiles to a larger extent. The usual line of cars was parked on the Parkway from Washington to Bacon streets, and all adjacent streets were filled. Many cars were left about town while their occupants walked to the field.

An innovation this year was a display of fire fireworks run off in the afternoon. This program was decidedly novel and would have been enjoyed by a much larger crowd had it been announced. The evening display was universally voted the best yet. Set pieces and the aerial display were unexcelled. A decided novelty was introduced in a fight between two battleships. These vessels, outlined to perfection in colored lights, were at opposite sides of the field. Their guns flashed and the shells flew through the air. The ship flying the United States flag finally gained the advantage, its shells exploding within the enemy vessel and finally blowing it up. A beautiful large design in pure white lights, a lighted man, while the colored waterfalls, reaching clear across the field, was another excellent piece. Crossed flags, a huge star of change colored and numerous pin wheels were also very fine. A novelty which created much interest was an automobile, outlined in green and driven by a man with a red nose, which traveled across the field. Unfortunately this piece was not set quite high enough, and some of the spectators in the rear were unable to see it.

The sky rockets were, as usual, also very fine, the colors being exceptional, especially one bomb of a delicate pink and light green—colors seldom if ever before seen in a fireworks display. The grand finale of rockets and bombs was the most stupendous ever seen or heard here, the calm night reflecting the echoes from the hills on either side of the town until there was but a steady roar of sound.

The success of the affair was due to the earnest work and untiring efforts of a committee headed by Mr. James V. Barbano, and made up as follows: James V. Barbano, chairman; James Gillette, Peter Sciescio, Joseph Mistrvo, Antonio Rania and Frank Reigo.

No accidents or incidents of an unpleasant nature marred the evening. The big crowd was ably handled by the police, the automobiles being kept on the move with only short waits. The police should receive special commendation for their work, the pedestrians leaving the field being given good protection, while the autos were not unnecessarily delayed. The electric lines both ran many special cars, all waiting in the center for the crowd at the conclusion of the program, while there were numerous buses and trucks available for out-of-town visitors.

FIVE MOTORISTS PAY $60

The Winchester Police had several over-the-week-end violators of motor regulations in the District Court at Woburn last Tuesday morning. Geddes of Somerville and Alger G. Johnson of Boston drew $10 assessments for their fun. The case of Ernest H. Warren of Boston was put on file.

At a meeting of the Selectmen Monday night, Mr. William W. Mobbs of the George W. Blanchard Co., was appointed a Weigher of Coal.

MOTORISTS PITCHED OUT OF CAR

Last Tuesday evening at 10:30, a Ford touring car operated by Miss Della Flaherty of Woburn overturned while making the turn into Pond street from Cambridge street. The machine tipped completely over pitching out all the occupants onto the ground.

In the car besides the operator, Miss Flaherty, were Della Gallagher of Manchester road and Helen McSally of Oxford street, this town, and Frank McGowan of Woburn. All were taken to the Winchester Hospital where it was found this Miss McNulty had sustained a severe cut on her forehead as well as having her right eye badly bruised. She was attended by Dr. R. W. Sheehy. The others of the party were not reported as badly hurt in the upset.

The machine was considerably smashed, having the top tipped completely off with the right side battered and bent and the wheel broken.

NATHANIEL JOHNSON

Nathaniel Johnson, well known to many Winchester people as a frequent visitor at the residence of his son, Mr. Herbert B. Johnson, on Calumet road, passed away at his home, 18 Ashburton place, Boston, last Sunday at his 53rd year.

Mr. Johnson was born in England but came to this country while a young man. For several years he resided at Spring Vale, Me., but later he made his home in Boston where he practiced his profession of mechanical engineer.

He was a Masonic veteran, a member of the Spring Vale Blue Lodge, New York Consistory, and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine in Boston, as well as the Boston Engineers' Blue Room Club.

CAPTURE MOTORISTS AFTER THRILLING CHASE

In the pitch darkness between two and three o'clock after a wild chase in a commandeered car through Winchester, West Medford, Medford, and Somerville, in which patrolmen from Medford and Somerville took part, officers Reagan and Hogan of the local police department finally rounded up and captured in the vicinity of the Medford city yard three occupants of a Ford touring car which had fled to obey Officer Reagan's siren to stop while passing through Winchester square early last Sunday morning.

Officer Ford in question was sighted by Officer Reagan in the square at about 2:30 a. m. His occupants were apparently intoxicated, and the car was proceeding in such a manner as to cause the Winchester patrolman to signal it to stop.

Instead of complying with his command the driver of the car speeded up his machine and started toward Medford at a fast clip. Commanding the car of Fred Larsen of this town which happened to be passing, officer Reagan gave chase, picking up Officer Hogan at Symmes Corner.

Following the fugitive car into Grosvenor street the police hung on grimly while the chase proceeded to West Medford, Medford and the village, across the river and onto Broad street in Somerville. After continuing straight ahead for a time the Ford turned into a side street in an attempt to double back into Medford and shake off its ruthless pursuers.

The police however were not deceived and stayed hot on the trail back into Medford where the fugitive car was driven into the Medford city yard and stopped, its occupants scattering in an attempt to escape.

Three of the four men were captured at once and taken to the Winchester police station where they were booked on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness. The driver of the car escaped under cover of darkness, but his identity was known to the police and latter Sunday morning he came to the local station house and gave himself up.

His name was given as Joseph P. Lennox with residence in Medford, where he claimed to be a member of the City Fire Department.

In the District Court Monday morning his case was continued until Thursday, while his companions, George J. Higgins, Jr., and Lester J. Griffith, all of Medford, drew ten dollar fines on both counts of drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

At the continuation of his case last Thursday morning Lennox was found guilty of reckless driving, operating a motor vehicle in a dangerous manner, and refusing to stop for an officer. He was given a suspended sentence of two months in the house of correction and a fine of $250.

As early as July 26, Mildred Benson of Winchester, county canning champion in 1923, had already put up over 200 jars of fruit, vegetables, fish and fruit products.

TO CLEAN THE RIVER

State Board of Health Hears Opinion of Woburn and Winchester

A meeting was held at the State House on Monday under the direction of the State Board of Health to hear the opinions and suggestions of the city of Woburn and the Town of Winchester regarding the pollution of the Abertona River, long a source of controversy between the two communities and a serious nuisance to this town. The meeting was not a formal hearing on the matter. Rather it was an informal meeting arranged for the purpose of discussing the situation with the interested parties as a preliminary to taking active steps for the abatement of the nuisance. Indications point very strongly that the State Board will take immediate steps to this end.

There were present in addition to State officials and others, about a dozen Woburn residents and half as many from this town, the latter including the members of the special committee appointed by the Town to act in cleaning up the river—Messrs. Sewall E. Freeman, Jonas A. Laraway and Carl P. Woods. Chairman Thomas R. B. Ryan of the Selectmen, Town Councilman Addison E. Pike and others were also present.

Chairman of the State Board of Health, Dr. Eugene R. Kelley, presided, and chief engineer X. H. Goodenough of the Board explained the situation as it has developed this summer. Differentiating between the small in Woburn and the pollution which comes down from Woburn in the water, he said that in the present proceedings the board is concerned only with the pollution, and that has been particularly bad. There are five tanneries and two chemical works in Woburn that have some form of treatment for their refuse, but the treatment has not proved satisfactory. The only really practical solution is the construction of a sewer on which the sinking fund requirement would be about $25,000 a year, and that would be the least expensive in the long run. The alternative is the construction of disposal basins at each of the tanneries and the aggregate cost would be greater. If a sewer were built, there would be some sort of assessment against the manufacturers, as there has been in other communities.

Then the two factions in the room opened fire. The Woburn people were invited to state their views on the ground that it was Winchester that had been kicking about the pollution and had caused the hearing to be held and therefore should state its case first, and Woburn would listen and reply. But Winchester resented that idea, for Woburn was the offending party, with its dirty contribution to the Abertona waters flowing through Winchester, so that Woburn ought to be called to the mat to speak for herself first.

Woburn accepted the challenge and her representative in the General Court, Gustave Everberg, took the floor and related the experience in the recent Legislature when Woburn had a sewer bill there and carried it through the House and lost it in the Senate largely because Winchester was against it.

He said that Woburn has tried earnestly to secure remedial legislation, and her manufacturers have spent large sums of money in efforts to eliminate the objections, and is still willing to do whatever the Board orders. But Winchester is the stumbling block, intolerant and critical of Woburn's efforts.

Miss Reardon was a native of the town and spent the entire 26 years of her life here. While naturally of a retiring disposition she was nevertheless well known, especially in the community in which she lived where her pleasing personality made her beloved by all.

Surviving Miss Reardon are her mother, a brother Daniel, and two sisters, Mary M. and Margaret D. Reardon.

Funeral services were held at the late residence at 8:15 Monday morning followed by a solemn high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church at 9. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Montvale.

Mrs. Everard Andley of Aiken, South Carolina is visiting at the home of Mrs. W. S. Hanson.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Twombly Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Twombly of Wildwood street observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Tuesday evening by holding an informal reception, attended by over 100 of their friends and relatives. The affair was particularly enjoyable, not only through the significance of the occasion, but also through the sociability and pleasure afforded the hosts and guests. An orchestra gave a program between 7:30 and 9:30, and refreshments served by a caterer aided in making the evening complete. The house was charmingly decorated for the anniversary, a quantity of beautiful cut flowers, together with many floral baskets, transforming the rooms into a bower of beauty.

The guests attending and presenting their congratulations, included friends and relatives from this and many surrounding towns and cities, and the couple were most generously remembered by gifts of cut flowers and other presents, together with many letters from friends unable to be present at this season.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Twombly come of good old New England stock. Mr. Twombly, who observes his 72nd birthday December 11, was born in Winchester in the house where he resides and where he received his education. His wife, who was before her marriage Miss Eva M. Fuller, is a native of Seymour, Conn., and is nearly 71 years of age. Mr. Twombly is still actively engaged in business, being in the Boston office of the New York firm of Stein-Hall & Co., which firm he joined in 1904, and gave testimony of his appreciation of his services by a generous gift of gold. He is a Mason and an Odd Fellow, and a charter member of the Calumet Club. The reception was attended by a delegation from William Parkman Lodge, A. F. & A. M., who presented the couple with a huge basket of flowers.

The couple both enjoy excellent health. They have four children: Mr. William A. Twombly, Jr., of Arlington, and the Misses Alice F., Helen M., and Eliza W. Twombly of Winchester. They also have three grandchildren.

In the Longwood Women's Singles Tournament which started last Tuesday on the grass courts at Chestnut Hill, Miss Gretchen Ginn of this town last her match to Miss Cornelia Burges of Worcester after a hard fight, 6-3, 9-7.

Woburn accepted the challenge and her representative in the General Court, Gustave Everberg, took the floor and related the experience in the recent Legislature when Woburn had a sewer bill there and carried it through the House and lost it in the Senate largely because Winchester was against it.

He said that Woburn has tried earnestly to secure remedial legislation, and her manufacturers have spent large sums of money in efforts to eliminate the objections, and is still willing to do whatever the Board orders. CHILD STRUCK ON HOLLAND STREET

Angelina Marchesi, aged five, of 6 Holland street had a narrow escape from serious injury last Friday afternoon when she was struck by a Chevrolet truck driven by Denton W. Randall of Everett road who is associated in business with his father, P. H. Randall, the well-known local caterer.

According to Mr. Randall and other witnesses the accident was unavoidable. His truck was proceeding along Holland street toward Swanton street when he was obliged to come almost to a stop to let another approaching truck pass. The Marchesi girl was on the same side of the street as the Chevrolet and approaching it head on. Apparently the child was looking at something behind her for just as she got to Mr. Randall's machine, without looking to see whether the street was clear, she ran diagonally in front of the car so that it was impossible to avoid hitting her. Had Mr. Randall been going at a normal rate of speed the child would certainly have been seriously hurt, if not killed.

As it was she sustained only a cut on her forehead, several scratches and a bad scare. She was attended by Doctor Richard W. Sheehy, and taken to her home.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE ON BORDER ROAD

Four people were injured last Sunday afternoon when a Dodge touring car operated by James L. Kelley of 132 Antrim street, Cambridge, overturned on Border road at the foot of the hill where the road joins the Mystic Valley Parkway. The Police are of the opinion that the accident was brought about by Kelley, a rather inexperienced driver, applying his brakes too quickly and causing the car to skid on the hill which was slippery with last Sunday's rain.

The four occupants of the car beside Kelley were thrown out when the car overturned, and were taken to the Winchester Hospital for treatment. They included R. Toomey, Margaret Toomey, and William Toomey, the latter aged five, all of 122 Antrim street, Cambridge, and Miss Nellie Clary of 126 Antrim street, same city. No one of them was seriously injured; the boy receiving a bruise on one left side of the head, while Margaret Toomey suffered cuts on the right wrist. Miss Clary and Mr. Toomey sustained bruises and contusions. Mr. Kelley, the operator of the car was unharmed.

The car was badly damaged with top and windshield smashed, left rear mud guard bent, and the spokes in the left rear wheel splintered.

ATTEND CONVENTION AT PITTSFIELD

Commander Vincent P. Clark of Winchester Post 97, American Legion with Adjutant Harry Bigelow, Mr. Nathan Thumlin, and officer John Noonan of the local Police Department left town Wednesday to attend the American Legion Convention taking place in Pittsfield Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Messrs. Clark, Thumlin and Noonan are attending the convention as delegates from the local post with Mr. Bigelow serving as alternate. Other members attending the convention from Winchester include Messrs. George F. LeDuc, Robert Hamilton, Arthur Mullen, Anthony Cullen, Newcomb Bacon, Clarence Dunberry and Timothy Callahan.

The local delegation made the trip to Pittsfield over the road in gaily decorated machines and is making its headquarters while at the convention at the Hotel Wendell. Commander Clark and Adjutant Bigelow are exceptions, preferring to camp out during their stay in Pittsfield. The boys are expected back in town some time Sunday.

Joseph A. Savard and John Anderson, both of Chelsea, drivers of the truck-load of beer seized by officer Recan in the centre last week, were each fined $50 in the Woburn Court Saturday.

DR. CUTLER LIKES TEXAS

The Star was favored this week with an interesting and cordial letter from Dr. Irving T. Cutler, a former practitioner of Winchester who moved recently to San Antonio, Tex. The doctor states that he and Mrs. Cutler enjoy the Star very much, as it brings back all the local activities in which they formerly took part.

He is most enthusiastic regarding the State of Texas; says it has not rained, nor has the sun failed to shine for at least six weeks. He plays golf in comfort all winter and swims in outdoor pools nine months out of the year. He uses possibly four tons of coal a year, a fact which will undoubtedly interest his Winchester friends. Good streets and fine main highways connecting all surrounding towns and cities, he writes, make automobile a pleasure. The doctor has built a new home just outside the city limits, where it is high, and cool in summer. He states that his family is all well, and he and Mrs. Cutler send their regards to their Winchester friends.

COLLISION AT THOMPSON STREET

Clinton A. Seymour of Rangleley figured in an automobile smash-up in Winchester square last Sunday morning when the Oldsmobile roadster that he was operating was in collision with a Studebaker sedan owned and operated by Charles E. Mackay of 33 Lowden avenue, West Somerville. According to reports the Seymour car was making a turn opposite Thompson street when it collided with Mackay's machine which was headed north on Main street. No one was injured and the only damage reported was a bent mudguard on the Oldsmobile.

WINCHESTER GIRL IS CLAIRE IN "THE FOOL"

Nowadays one hears frequently of striking careers along theatrical lines, particularly in motion pictures. Many of these are the result of "finds," on account of beauty of type, face, or figure. However, mere good looks do not make a star; real worth and cleverness must back up a pretty face, or a different type, as the case may be, just as only real worth "gets by" in the business world.

For the encouragement of those who have decided dramatic talent and other factors, which spell eventual success, but who believe the pitfalls of stage life, its grinding hard work, and oft time deferred hopes, more than offset the fruits of success, the "inside" of some of these meteoric careers may well be told. At least one such rise of a Massachusetts girl stands as a light on a hill.

This girl, now in New York, hails from Winchester, one of the Hub's suburbs. Her elevation to stardom on the Broadway speaking stage where she has played "leads" with Lew Fields, May Irwin and other stars of similar calibre, is a most satisfying instance of real and unostentatious merit, clean-living, perseverance, and stick-to-it-iveness, winning against all odds. She set out from her home town to make good and has done it.

Fox chose Brenda Bond to play Claire, the Irish society girl lead in the film version of "The Fool," the famous Channing Pollock play, which will be released, it is expected, late in the coming autumn.

She appears also in Dixie, one of a series of episodes in American history, soon to be released by the Yale University Corporation.

Naturally retiring and of a refreshing personality and type, this unusual young star comes by her talent more or less naturally from her mother, but hard work accounts for much of her success.

Brenda says to the girls who would reach stardom: "Have the greatest expectation of good, keep cheerful in the face of extreme difficulties, be persistent, and, above all, lead a clean life."

STRIKES BOY IN COASTER CART

Last Saturday evening while driving his car through Pond street, Andrew Nelson of 40 Russell street, Cambridge, struck a young son of B. C. Caldwell, residing at 24 Pond street, almost in front of the youngster's home.

According to Mr. Nelson the Caldwell boy was playing with a small cart in which he coasted directly into the path of his machine before it was possible to bring the car to a stop. Mr. Nelson took the child to his home where he was found to be apparently uninjured, and reported the matter to the Police.

DAMAGE ATTRIBUTED TO RATS

The Police were notified early last Monday morning that a house on Forest street was lighted up at 3 o'clock, though the family occupying the place were known to be away at the time.

Officers Hogan and Harrold were sent to investigate, and reported considerable damage done the interior of the house, but found no evidence that would lead them to suspect that the house had been burglarized. The officers gained access to the house through a window which they are of the opinion was left open by the family at the time of their departure.

Many books and some of the furniture showed traces of having been gnawed by rats, and the other damage discovered was such as could easily have been caused by the same rodents. The Police are further of the opinion that the rats may have gnawed the electric wires of the house in such a way as to cause the appearance of the lights which alarmed the neighborhood.

Mr. Robert F. Guild left last Saturday for Manahatt, Cape Cod, where he has been spending the week. Next week he will go to Conway, N. H., returning Saturday with his daughter Barbara, who has been attending Camp Waukula.

WINCHESTER TAKES THIRD STRAIGHT

Defeats Lawrence "Casey" 4-3
With Tansey Hurling

Winchester made it three straight at the expense of the Lawrence Knights of Columbus team last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field, emerging on the long end of a 4 to 3 score in a well played ball game that kept the fans on edge until the winning runs were put over in the ninth.

It was a real garrison finish, a rally in the last ditch, a case of never say die, that pulled the old ball game out of the well-known fire, and turned what looked like a probable defeat into a glorious victory. And it was a win that was particularly pleasing to the local boys for it went a long way toward cancelling a little debt that the Legionnaires have owed the Knights ever since a previous game that was played at Lawrence's a couple of Sundays ago. Then two Manager LeDuc had been ill all week and was unable to get down to Manchester Field for last Saturday's argument, so naturally the boys were doubly anxious to put over a win on his account.

Withal, things looked very dubious when the locals came to bat in their half of the ninth. The "Caseys" were leading 3 to 2 and were going along like a new Ford, absolutely no signs of cracking. "But you never can tell." That expression originated the very first time an umpire ever bellowed, "Play Ball" and it's been in the sporting books ever since.

Winchester came to bat with that old will to win, and for the first time during the entire matinee got a break or two to supplement their own efforts. Myles Lane strode to the rubber and slapped one at Clumbe which the visiting shortstopper didn't handle cleanly enough to get the speedy local man at first. Gillis lifted to left, but "Ernie" Mathews drove a clean hit through the infield into left field which put runners on first and second with one away. "Joe" Brawley was sent up to bat for Prior, and for a minute the fans thought his best to center would go for the second put-out. But here occurred the runner garden, though he apparently got his hands fairly on Brawley's smash, obligingly dropped the ball, filling the bases with only one out. Excitement was pretty generally prevalent as Ralph Hatch, Winchester's unassuming first sacker, stepped up to the plate. With the count two and nothing against the batter Ralph smote one in the line to left field bringing over Lane and Mathews with the big runs, and sending the crowd home happy.

Tansey starting his third game in the box was hit rather harder than usual, but for the most part he kept the hits well scattered, and one run is about all the visitors should have scored had his support been functioning efficiently. In the fifth Lane lost a hit in left center that cost a run, and in the next stanza a measly little foul pop-up that Mathews and Cady nussed up between them led to a tally, as Hagarty, the big "Casey" catcher, immediately showed his appreciation of their kindness by hitting safely over second, a hit that put a runner in position to score ultimately on a fielder's choice. But errors of this kind are excusable and soon forgotten when players are in there trying and err because of over-eagerness to deliver, and as a matter of fact no one of the above can technically be scored as a misplay.

Winchester made one miscue as to four for Lawrence, but the visitors led at the bat with nine safeties to seven. Strangely enough there was not a single hit for extra bases, an unusual occurrence for games on Manchester Field, and giving a good line on the excellence of the pitching shown by both twirlers.

Notes
Easily the best game of the year, Ralph Hatch never looked better than he did in the ninth. He had a field day with the willow, collecting three blows out of four.

Three of the hits off Tansey were rather fluky. Lane dropped one that he should have held, albeit he had a hard run to reach the ball while another that should have been a routine assist for Gilligan took a mean hop and bounced off his chest for a hit, and Prior let the other one fall safe in right when he might have made the catch with half a try.

Captain Smith at first for the "Caseys" was a finished workman around the bag, accepting 15 chances without the semblance of a budge. Several of his putouts were difficult.

The whole visiting infield played bang-up ball throughout, and it really was a case of having to hit to get on. Hagarty, the Knight's big backstop had a mean whip, but old speedboy Lane registered his usual stolen base. Lane also was caught off a base as usual.

Nelson did well to play the ball cleanly to Mathews in the sixth for an attempted put-out at the plate. The ball took a tough hop for him, and he had to recover his balance before he could make his peg. Trow had the throw to the plate beaten even if "Ernie" had held onto the ball.

The base runner trying to stretch things on his to left field is flirting with despair. Myles is pegging like a shot these days.

Mathews surely makes a pitcher work on him, and rarely goes after a bad one. He got two in three last week.

We'll have to hand it to George Nowell when any one mentions rooting for the home team. George and the "Caseys" were exchanging compliments all afternoon.

Another ardent fan is G. W. Tilley, a former member of the directors and vice-president of the old lacrosse association in the days when Winchester was the New York of semi-pro baseball. No one pulls harder for a Winchester win than Mr. Tilley, and none will go further than he in supporting the team.

Tansey got seven of the Knights on strikes, a nice bit of pitching. Bradley hurling for Lawrence fanned four, but allowed two less hits than Francis.

As we said before it was the best game of the year, and the best playing exhibition that the locals have shown to date. We are expecting some changes tomorrow that will go far toward plugging the remaining weak places in the lineup. Come down and look 'em over, and obey that impulse, lay a tag!

GRAND LEONOR CARNIVAL

Library Field, Woburn, is in readiness for the Grand Leonor Carnival by the George A. Campbell Post 101, American Legion, which will be held on Aug. 28, 29, 30 and Sept. 1. If the remarkable preparation and enthusiasm of the Legionnaires are indications, the affair will eclipse anything in history in outdoor events, as far as Woburn is concerned.

Besides the many features which have been contracted for at an enormous expenditure of money, the Legion is staging the State Hose Coupling Contest. Teams from all over the State will participate in this unique contest. Some very attractive prizes have been offered. The Hose Coupling Contest will take place on Saturday evening at 6:30.

Other attractions include the double and triple parachute jumps by Prof. Glennon which will take place on Saturday and Monday afternoons respectively, the Battle of Chateau Thierry in fireworks with Co. G, 183d Infantry carrying out the trench manoeuvres, which will take place Monday evening. On Friday evening a gorgeous display of fireworks will be held. An attractive midway will provide plenty of offerings for the patrons and several valuable prizes will be distributed on admission. Among the midway attraction will be the merry-go-round with its automatic organ and the Ferris wheel.

As a welcome to the Grand Leonor Carnival, the City of Woburn has planned the opening of its mammoth great white way on Thursday, Aug. 28, the opening night of the carnival. The new business section lighting system has been under construction for several months, and upon request of the city, the Edison Company has arranged to open the brilliant system simultaneously with the opening of the carnival.

STRAND THEATRE—FORMERLY THE WOBURN

Grand Official Opening Under New Management Monday, Sept. 8

The Strand Theatre, formerly known as The Woburn, on Main street, Woburn, Mass., will be opened to the public on Monday evening, Sept. 8, at 8 o'clock. It will be under a new management, the same that now own and operate the "Strand" in Belmont, Newburyport, Amesbury, Wiltman and other motion picture theatres in various cities and towns throughout the country.

The theatre has been entirely renovated. It will be found to compare favorably with the leading photoplay theatres in Metropolitan cities. Every effort will be made to make it attractive and comfortable. A hope Jones Unit Organ, at an expense of $15,000, has been installed and a leading organist has been engaged.

It is the intention of the management to present the best and highest type photoplays offered by the foremost producers in this country. The presentation of pictures will be made directly after Boston, New York and other big cities. In their selection we will be moved by a desire to entertain and educate.

Following the custom we have established in our various theatres, we will issue monthly an announcement of coming attractions. If you will sign and mail your name and address to us, we shall be pleased to place your name on the mailing list of the "Strand" and you will receive a program every month.

The management also has acquired the Lyceum Theatre, Woburn, which will be open every Saturday afternoon and evening, beginning Sept. 27. The program will consist of high-class vaudeville acts from B. F. Keith's agency and superior photo plays. Also, during the winter season high-class musical and dramatic shows will be given after their Boston run.

The management hopes you will make the Strand Theatre your theatre.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Most of our ills and troubles are not very serious when we closely examine them.

We should all cultivate the ability to see everything, which must include ourselves and be sure that this observation is from more than one standpoint.
Success lies less in the attainment of some exterior end than in holding yourself to your purposes and ideals.

A night's sleep and a new day, these are two excellent things to look forward to when one is weary or in trouble.

Cultivate gladness for it begins with you, and will spread like waves from a stone thrown in the water.

Many spectators at the Italian fireworks celebration last Friday night commented upon the impromptu concert given at the west side of the field by the life players. Their music, given between the land selections, enlivened the evening considerably and was well played.

Drawings reported daily in the newspapers indicate the need of continued effort to impress upon the public the importance of learning to swim, and it has been urged that this should become a part of the education of every child. With hundreds of dollars spent at Summer playgrounds, it would seem as if a portion of the time and money could well be spent in acquiring this accomplishment.
—[Natick Bulletin.]

Efforts are being made to select certain citizens to average the time of the Town Hall and Congregational Church clocks. The idea is to strike a sort of happy medium, whereby the five minutes difference now existing between the two timepieces may be done away with, the chimes at the Unitarian Church remaining as they now are, and striking one minute ahead of the hour. If this arrangement can be brought about without interference from Greenwich, Winchester will undoubtedly receive its proper place upon the hands of time.

One feature of the fireworks last Friday night, which annoyed a great number of people, was the automobiles on the Parkway which kept their bright lights on. Parked facing the field, these lights, which fortunately were few, were very disagreeable. As the crowd on the field passed back and forth in front of them, they made a series of irregular flashes, annoying many people. Next year the officers in charge of the parking should see to it that all automobile lights are extinguished after the cars are in place.

It is reported unofficially that the fireworks at the Italian celebration last week, constituting unquestionably the best display this town has ever seen, cost about $900. The Town appropriates $1000 for its July 4th celebration, leaving, after band, children's entertainment and ball game are deducted, a scant $500 for fireworks.
This is altogether too small. $1000 for fireworks would give us a decent and acceptable display. $500 gives us practically nothing and a display hardly worth going to see. In past years some committees have gone into their own pockets to make up a sum sufficient to buy fireworks worth the same; when other committees have not done so, they have naturally been criticized in their handling of the July 4th fund. Next year our appropriation should be raised to $1500.

C. D. OF A NOTES

The twilight whist which the court conducted on Thursday evening of last week was a most successful party. For two days previous to the party the little folks of the neighborhood had been busy making paper flowers and ingenious hands had transformed little bushes into rose clusters while artistically shaped Japanese lanterns and well-arranged banning gave the whole an effect long to be remembered. Credit for the success of the affair is due to the hard work of the hostess, Miss Katharine F. O'Connor, Assistant Miss O'Connor as well as her helpers, Miss Margaret Campbell, Miss Catharine Cowan, Mrs. Thomas MacFarlin, Mrs.
Raymond Fenton and Mrs. James Powers.

At the party 175 was a tie between Mrs. Katharine F. O'Connor, Assistant Miss O'Connor, both veteran experts. The handicrafts, table runner, made and donated by Miss Ethel O'Connor, was won by Mrs. William Hargrave. Little Virginia Howell was awarded the card table. Those who obtained high scores were:

Mrs. Mollie Delaney, victor.
Miss Mabel M. Goff, best dresser.
Mrs. Thomas MacFarlin, aluminum table.
Mrs. Fenton, hand-painted dish.
Mrs. Sarah Deane, alarm clock.
Mrs. Frank Nisio, bag fur.
Mrs. Alice Deane, silver case.
Mrs. Margaret Donovan, knitted dinner.
Mrs. Daniel Deane, silver tray.
Mrs. Mary Deane, silk stockings.
Mrs. Raymond Fenton, half dozen silver pieces.

Charles Roberts, two pounds candy.
Mrs. Katharine F. O'Connor, one pound.

Mrs. Edward McKenzie received a box of candy for having the greatest number of losses. Mrs. Katharine Fallon and Mrs. William Gibson received 10 pounds of sugar each for scoring the first seven points. Mrs.
Fallon later scored seven points again while playing with Mr. John McCarroll.

Rehearsals are progressing favorably for the minstrel show which the court will stage in the Town Hall on Friday evening, Sept. 19, in aid of the Elks' Carnival.

Mrs. William Mobbs will meet the delegation committee this evening in order to complete the details for the parade which is to be held in connection with the dedication of the new William J. Noonan School.

RESERVOIRS 50 YEARS OLD

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Winchester's water system.
On Sept. 20, 1874, 50 years ago, the water was turned on the high service pipes and Winchester went on the map as a town supplying its own water for fire and domestic purposes.

Supt. William T. Dutton of the Water Department, now heading that town office, turned on the water, allowing it to flow through the pipes.
Mr. Dutton, now 80 years old next November, has been continuously the head of our water system. He is the only man living today who at that time had anything to do with our water department.

It was reported last year that our Water Board take steps to officially observe the anniversary, either by an exhibition of our high pressure service by the Fire Department, or in some other way, but it is doubtful if any action to this end is taken.

Winchester is one of the few towns in the metropolitan district which has an abundant supply of pure water, and under the active and careful supervision of its water board, its reservoirs are being conserved and cared for to supply our needs for many years to come. In fact this town stands alone in its water supply, both for quantity and quality.

It is to be regretted that some official observance may not be taken of this anniversary, so important to every inhabitant.

REPUBLICAN VOTERS 8TH CON- GRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The following editorial was printed in the Cambridge Chronicle Friday, Aug. 15, 1924:

Thayer for Congress.
An advertisement for Harry I.
Thayer, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, admonishes voters to "search each candidate's record; select the best man in the field."

We are confident that if this injunction were followed by any considerable number of Republicans the result would be an emphatic and justifiable endorsement of Mr. Thayer.
In him the voters have a man of mature years, but not too old to assume the arduous duties connected with the position; a man of a wide and extensive business experience who is accustomed to dealing with big questions of finance and economics, a successful business man with the time to give to the office, and willing from patriotic reasons to sacrifice his private interests to perform any part in the administration of public affairs for which he may be elected.

Mr. Thayer was a delegate to the convention that nominated President Coolidge and a friend of the presidents, which leaves no room for doubt as to his adherence to the national leaders. A lifelong Republican, and a supporter in a very substantial way over a long period of years to the advancement of the party's interests, he has never sought office as a reward for what he may have contributed to its success. He has now been brought forward by friends who regard his abilities and his standing for the office for which he has voluntarily accepted the present contest because he believes his training and familiarity with business problems are of some value at a time when many of his experience are needed to safely steer the ship of state through troubled waters.

It gives the Chronicle great pleasure to associate his nomination and to say that Republicans of the eighth district should consider themselves most fortunate in having a candidate of Mr. Thayer's caliber. There is not the least question but he is far and away the best candidate in the field.

His "record has been searched" and it is flawless. a22-27

SPRINGFIELD BUSINESS BUREAU HAS ROSTER
Guy Messenger Will Head Newly-Organized Merchandise Dept.

A Boston man will head the newly-organized merchandise department of Springfield's Better Business Bureau, according to announcement made yesterday. Guy Messenger, formerly of the Boston Better Business commission, arrived in the city yesterday to take this post. Mr. Messenger goes to this city with valuable experience gained in his Boston work and has assumed his duties there.

The merchandise department of the local bureau, under Mr. Messenger's direction, will work in harmonious cooperation with the retail merchandise advertisers of the city in an effort to evolve methods of advertising most conducive to the elimination of unfair competition and the upbuilding of public confidence.

The first undertaking of the department will be launched tomorrow at a meeting of the members of the city with the bureau officials, the purpose of which will be to standardize descriptive forms for advertising for accuracy.

Frank R. Black, manager of the local bureau, will devote most of his time to building a financial department proposed to facilitate the handling of fraud in financial promotion and to serve information to those of the community who are prospective investors. The slogan of the work in this field, "Before You Invest—Investigate" is used by Better Business bureaus all over the country in their campaign against illegitimate financial advertising and stock selling.

Frank R. Black, Jr., is the son of Frank Black of Rangely, and Guy Messenger is the son of Edward W. Messenger of Washington street, Winchester.

TO CLEAN THE RIVER

The five Woburn plants which would be affected by an order now to stop the pollution have a payroll of $1,000,000 a year, and if they are closed it would cripple Woburn that no sewer could ever be built. Moreover, it is perfectly plain that there can be no addition of the nuisance now, he said, for if the State declines to help and Woburn is forced to build the sewer alone she must go to the Legislature to ask for new legislation to permit a loan outside of the debt limit, and with no Legislature in session it is obvious that there can be no such authorization until next year. He declared that Winchester could have been freed from this nuisance before if the town had shown a little co-operation instead of opposing the remedies proposed.

Mr. J. A. Laraway resented this explanation, and asserted that the only objection Winchester ever raised to a sewer, in the Legislature, was that the town of Winchester had no right to spend money in another municipality.

Mr. Laraway said that the proposed sewer was not a trunk sewer for which Winchester should spend any money, but a Woburn sewer which Woburn should pay for, and he declared that there are people in Woburn who receive pay for allowing the pollution to flow into the river, an assertion that he defied anybody to deny. He said that he would insist on calling a spade a spade and not call it a snow ball, and therefore he would say that while Winchester has been spending $200,000 to beautify herself, and has spent thousands of dollars to study the situation, Woburn has been dumping this dirty stuff into the river until it is so dirty down in Winchester that a child cannot walk into the water. He would be willing to admit that even Woburn is a beautiful place, but the trouble appears to be that this pollution is running through and out of a section in Woburn that the city carries along about, and it runs through the best part of Winchester which should not be muddled and degraded any longer. Woburn should no longer be allowed to dump this on Winchester on the plea of poverty.

A conciliatory note was sounded by Thomas H. McGowan of the Woburn School Board who said the manufacturers in Woburn had spent a lot of money, in fact all they can be reasonably expected to have spent, in the effort to get rid of the nuisance, but Woburn knows the trouble that has developed and can be depended upon to do a full share, whatever the board orders. If forced beyond ability to perform there will never be a sewer.

What the damage has been outlined in a technical explanation by Robert E. Fuller, a Woburn resident whose cranberry bogs are being ruined by the settlement of sludge over the bogs every year during the flooding season. He related his numerous efforts for several years to secure an abatement, and contended that the tanners could do something at once with chemicals to settle the sludge before it goes into the river. They used alum two years ago when the State Board of Health ordered them to mitigate the situation, and the improvement was evident; but they seem to have discontinued the use of alum since.

Winchester's offending attitude toward all of Woburn's proposals was stated by Samuel W. Mendum, chairman of the Woburn Board of Health. He said that in 1920 Winchester petitioned for a trunk line sewer and Woburn supported the bill, and in 1921 the bill was in the Legislature again and Woburn supported it, and in 1922 it reappeared and again Woburn supported it; but then the people of Winchester declined to pay 10 per cent of the cost when Woburn came forward with a bill. Winchester might have ended this trouble long ago, he declared, by a little co-operation with Woburn. In this connection he, too, wanted to make a distinction between the small nuisance that is local to Woburn, and with which the Woburn Board of Health is dealing, and the pollution which is before the State board.

Carl F. Woods of the local board of health replied to this, contending that Winchester is not to be blamed for the defeat of the sewer bills, that Winchester had no desire to destroy Woburn's industries, and that prevention of this pollution could be effected without such a result if the manufacturers provided suitable means of disposal. He charged that while the Algonquin Leather Company in Woburn had a treating plant it did not use it, but allowed the sludge to pass by it. He raised the point that even if a sewer were built, the manufacturers would have to have treating plants to take care of the solids which the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission would not allow them to empty into the sewer. His concrete suggestion was that, to get somewhere, the State Board should issue an order now against further pollution and then suspend it if necessary in individual cases to give the manufacturers reasonable time to install such disposal plants as recommended by the State Board.

H. W. Clark of the Algonquin Company replied that he is using the settling basins and is running the liquids through as clean as possible but it was the trickling plant that he had abandoned.

Oil was poured over the discussion by Arthur H. Linscott, former mayor of Woburn, and president of the Rotary Club. So much is thought of the necessity of preserving the tanneries to Woburn, because of their economic value to the community and to the whole State, that the Rotary Club has taken the matter up and has appointed a committee which has conferred with the manufacturers about the nuisance and has found among them a real spirit of co-operation. They are willing, he said, to do what is right, and Woburn can be depended upon to co-operate. Massachusetts must preserve her industries, some of which are slipping away, and Woburn cannot afford to quarrel with her neighbors.

James F. McGovern, acting mayor of Woburn, declared that Winchester has never helped Woburn, but had always opposed her in everything, even in baseball.

The tone of the meeting was to the effect that Winchester desired to have the river cleaned; that it was a nuisance and an eye-sore. The pollution originated in Woburn and was distinctly a product of that place. Winchester has spent thousands of dollars in beautifying the stream and has cleaned its own house in that at the present time all of its manufacturing plants take adequate care of their sewage and waste. This town cannot see why it should be called upon to aid in financing a project to care for the sewage from Woburn manufacturing plants.

Woburn wanted time. The tone of its argument was wholly along this line. This would give opportunity to introduce legislative action.

In closing the meeting Dr. Kelley gave ample indication that his board felt that the eleventh hour had arrived for the abatement of this nuisance. His board has waited since 1911 to enforce the law and had even suspended one order to that effect during the war out of deference to conditions. His board could not be accused of hasty action, nor could it be blamed for a desire at this time to carry out the law, however mandatory. He stated that evidently both Woburn and Winchester agreed that harmful pollution was taking place and that his board were now convinced that pollution injurious to the public health was present and that his board must act under the statute. He also stated that he realized that a delay for legislative action would mean that another Legislature would pass upon the matter.

It therefore appears, to sum up the situation, that the State Board is prepared at this time to take active steps in cleaning up the river, and Winchester may well feel encouraged that its long fight to secure an abatement of this nuisance is about at an end.

Miss Elma Crawford and Miss Florence Philbrick are spending their vacation at Providence, R. I.

Gas Man

The Gas Man is a nice man. When we want him to call we hang up a card in the window and he will come and not overbook us. When he does come we take what he gives us, pay what he asks, and we are glad to get what he brings. Not so with the gas, however. We don't have to hang up a card for him. When we want gas service we turn on the valve and the supply is there, much or little, day or night. And we have a meter which tells us exactly how much we use if we want to take the trouble to look. Gas service always comes when called and it never goes out until put out. We have full control over its use and we are not charged for it until after we have used it.

WINCHESTER POLICE MAKE BIG LIQUOR HALL

What the Winchester Police characterized as one of the biggest hauls in the history of the town was made on the night of August 28, when a large quantity of liquor was seized by the police at a place known as the "Liquor Hall" in the town of Winchester.

Two thousand gallons of alcohol is the approximate total of the haul, and many a new case was raised heavenward to find the place for the five-ton truck containing the liquor was being taken to the Station House where it was stored in view of the fact that the police had no room for it.

According to the reports of the sergeant, Rogers was on duty on Main street at the junction of Washington street, keeping an eye on the trucks with the intention of apprehending any which appeared to be exceeding the speed prescribed for heavily loaded vehicles.

The examination verified the sergeant's suspicions and he took both the truck and driver to the Winchester Police Station where the operator was booked on charges of transporting liquor in violation of the 18th Amendment.

The truck which was evidently brand new was loaded with the liquor examination revealing 200 boxes, each containing two cans holding approximately five gallons of alcohol.

ANOTHER MOTORIST TRIES IT

At the Monday morning session of the District Court at Woburn the Winchester resident arrested on charges of Somerville before the Judge charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

The driver, Edward O'Connell, was arrested on Main street near Cutter Village. Hanson was found guilty and fined $15. A companion, Oliver H. Perry of Somerville, arrested with Hanson, paid $15 on the charge of drunkenness.

At the same session of the Court a Winchester resident arrested by Officer Farrell after a chase from the center up Main street to Nelson street and charged with operating while drunk and driving without a license was found not guilty on the first charge and assessed $15 on the second.

NO ONE HURT IN AUTO SMASH

Shortly after 12 o'clock last Saturday afternoon a Buick touring car owned by J. F. Mansfield of 15 Putnam street, Somerville and operated by Albert E. Peterson of 822 Main street, same city, collided with a Ford sedan owned and operated by William A. Howell of 21 Arnold street, Beverly on Cambridge street at the end of Everett avenue.

According to reports of the collision the Ford was traveling along Cambridge street toward Arlington when it was struck in the rear by the Buick. The latter car was badly damaged by the collision, but the Ford was only slightly hurt. Nobody was reported injured.

LIT MATCH AT FILLING STATION

The Winchester Fire Department was called out about 8:30 Sunday morning for a fire at McElhinney's Filling Station at the corner of Clark and Main streets.

According to reports a customer was attempting to fill the tank of a quantity of gasoline his tank contained and lit a match to find out while the process of filling was in operation. There was the usual result, but very fortunately the blaze was quenched without any damage being done. This far no safe method of mixing kerosene and gasoline has been discovered.

Edward Fitzgerald of the Winchester Fire Department started on his vacation last Saturday. Considerable mystery shrouded his movements, immediately after his departure and prior to that time his plans were kept strictly to himself. Just as his "bullies" at the station were beginning to suspect that he was planning to go to the State, he was reported to be in the city.

DEDICATION OF NEW WILLIAM J. NOONAN SCHOOL

Plans have been completed for the dedication of the new William J. Noonan school which will take place on Monday afternoon, Sept. 2, at 3 p. m.

The exercises will open with a parade from the Johnson Place at the corner of Main and Washington streets at 2:30 o'clock, through the center and up Main street and over Hemingway street and the school, arriving there at 3 p. m.

The parade will be led by Lieut. William Mobbs of Wilmington, a former Winchester boy who will have as his staff 12 mounted cavaliers. Following the Marshal there will be a complete battalion composed of the Militia consisting of Woburn, Stoneham, Everett, Concord and Waltham, all a part of the 12nd Regiment.

Then will follow the marines, sailors, local and foreign Legion and military posts in their proper order, all arranged by Lieut. Mobbs, who has full charge of the parade. The Winchester Legion, composed of Veterans will have a position of honor in the parade as will also the local Post, American Legion. There will be at least one and possibly two military bands.

Reviewing the parade at the school will be the various invited guests. The committee for the occasion included green smilax, white lilies and larkspur, with daisies, the marriage ceremony taking place in a bower of blossoms.

Following the wedding the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by their respective mothers, Mrs. Samuel W. McCall and Mrs. James McCall. At the conclusion of the reception a wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. Rudolf is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the class of 1918, having been a member of the Number 6 Club during his undergraduate days. He served as a scout pilot in the Royal Flying Corps throughout the world war, and has since been employed as an inventor with headquarters in New York where, up to the time of his marriage, he had residence at St. Anthony's Hotel.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Sumner's School in Washington, and is well known here as locally, having spent a considerable part of her time in the capital city during her school years which her late father served there as a member of the national committee that suggested that should prove interesting to local fans.

"Steve" Colucci of Woburn, former Tufts star who was one of the few players to start at 2-30 p. m. in the Holy Cross team of two years ago, or Slue, another speedster, will draw the mound assignment with "Rube" once more for the first time.

The best man was Mr. P. J. Lyons of Boston, brother of the bride. Following the marriage ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride at 10 p. m. by a large number of relatives and friends.

The new school building, located between Canal and Hemingway streets named in honor of William J. Noonan at the corner of Main and Washington streets, will be dedicated Sunday, Sept. 2, 1924.

It is requested that every ex-serviceman and woman in town, even if not a member of the Legion, join with the Legion in paying tribute to our departed comrades. Please meet at the Legion House at 1 p. m. in uniform if possible, if not, civilian clothes, but report anyway.

RUDOLF-McCALL

A wedding of much interest locally took place in Winchester last Saturday when Miss Katharine McCall, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walker McCall, and Mr. Henry James Gray Rudolf, of New York, son of Mrs. James Rudolf of Canada, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother on Hills da avenue by the Rev. John Wallace Suter of Boston formerly of the Epiphany in this town.

The ceremony which was performed at 1 o'clock was of a simple home nature and was attended only by relatives and a few intimate friends. Miss McCall was crowned in white satin embroidered with pearls, with court train and wore a veil of tulle and rose point lace which belonged to her grandmother. She was unattended and was given in marriage by Admiral Edward K. Dawson of Washington, D. C.

The best man was Mr. Eric H. Biddle of Philadelphia. The occasion included green smilax, white lilies and larkspur, with daisies, the marriage ceremony taking place in a bower of blossoms.

Following the wedding the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by their respective mothers, Mrs. Samuel W. McCall and Mrs. James McCall. At the conclusion of the reception a wedding breakfast was served.

CHARLOTTE WILLARD GODDU

Charlotte Willard Goddu, a resident of Winchester since her marriage to Napoleon Goddu, of this town, 32 years ago, passed away at her home on Chestnut street last Wednesday morning after a lingering illness of many weeks. She was 52 years old.

Mrs. Goddu, nee Charlotte Whitman Willard, was born in Harvard, the youngest daughter of the late Luther and Ellen (Dudley) Willard, and a descendant of Major Simon Willard, one of the founders of Concord.

She is survived by her husband and three sons, Paul D. and Dana W. of this town, and Lloyd W. Goddu of Southbridge; also two grandchildren, L. Whitman, Jr. and Nancy, son and daughter of Lloyd W. of Southbridge.

A devoted wife and mother, a true friend and good neighbor, never known to speak an unkind word of any one, and always ready with a helping hand and with words of love and cheer, Mrs. Goddu will be greatly missed by a large circle of relatives and friends.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence, conducted by the Rev. George Hale Reed, pastor of the Winchester Unitarian church. The interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

You are not dead, life has but set you free! Your power is still, you still move among. Would feel that grief for you were scarce? You have but moved beyond where we can see!

For us who love you, dread of loss is past! You leave little shadow, to the very last! It never left you, and it never will! You left your spirit in its dwelling still! You moved on, but you never left us! You moved on, but you never left us!

By Rev. George Hale Reed, Pastor of the Winchester Unitarian Church

WASHINGTON STREET STORE CHANGES HANDS

Miss Bridget Maloney, who for the past 23 years has conducted a general store at the corner of Washington and Harvard streets has disposed of her property to Antonio Caffa and has retired from active business life.

Falling illness is believed to have prompted her retirement in making the deal, the store having been closed because of her incapacity for several months.

During the many years that she was in business in Winchester, her store became well known even beyond its immediate neighborhood, many friends of her property and business friends will be glad to learn that she is at present very pleasantly situated at the Scaphic House in Dorchester.

AUTO SMASHES FENCE ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

Last Tuesday evening at 6:25, a Buick sedan owned and operated by Walter E. Murphy of Reading skidded while proceeding along Highland avenue near Appalachian road and crashing through a rail fence, pitched down an embankment at the side of the road.

In the machine with Mr. Murphy was Don Russell also of Reading. Mr. Murphy's automobile was injured but the car sustained some damage, and was towed to a local garage for repairs.

Miss Hazel Dotson is enjoying a short vacation in town visiting friends. Miss Dotson is one of the senior nurses at the Fenway Lying-in Hospital in Back Bay, Boston.

Republicans Attention! Beware of Subterfuge!

RESIST AN ATTEMPT OF A DEMOCRAT TO CAPTURE THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION IN THE 3d CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Read the following:

To the Members of Cambridge Republican Club:

One of the candidates for the Republican nomination for Congress in the eighth district, Merrill Griswold, has approached many Cambridge Republicans for support, claiming that his political record should lead them to make him their choice.

1. Mr. Griswold was elected to the Cambridge city council several years ago, by the endorsement, and largely through the influence, of Mayor Quinn.

2. Mr. Griswold's record in the city council indicates, in our opinion, a strong alliance with the Democratic city hall organization.

3. Mr. Griswold was very active in the Cambridge campaign of William A. Gaston for senator against Henry Cabot Lodge.

4. Mr. Griswold vigorously supported Edward W. Quinn for mayor against Godfrey L. Cabot last fall.

5. Mr. Griswold claims voting residence in Cambridge, but according to telephone directory actually resides at 165 Pinkney Street, Boston, which outside this Congressional district.

We have been unable to find evidence of a single word or act by Mr. Griswold in support of the Republican party, or of his participation in any way in Cambridge Republican affairs. His record indicates that he is a Democrat.

In view of these facts it is difficult to understand why he should receive the support of Republicans in a primary contest in which there are five other candidates with clear Republican records. This letter is issued with the approval of the executive committee of the club.

Very truly yours, T. M. B. HICKS, Jr., President, 17 Kirkland Street, Cambridge, Mass.

BIG REPUBLICAN RALLY SEPT. 4

With fairness to all and favors for none, The Women's Republican Club of Winchester, has invited all Republican Candidates, for offices where there is competition, to appear at the Pre-Primary Rally Sept. 4, at 8 o'clock in the evening, or 4 o'clock in the afternoon, so far, those who have expressed a preference for the afternoon meeting are Fuller, Gillette, Coolidge and Youngman. Since more than 20 candidates have been invited, and since each candidate seems to have his own group of supporters in Winchester, a lively time is expected when they all get together.

The local Legion delegate representing Winchester, Lexington, Stoneham and Melrose, at the National Convention in St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 15, will be Mr. Nathan Thumlin of this town.

"Voters, wake up!"

From an editorial under this heading, in the Boston Herald, we quote the following:

"Sept. 9, at the primary, will be decided where names shall appear upon the ballot on election day. Nothing is more important to the people of this Commonwealth than the choice of its representatives to make the laws and to administer them. What is of more importance than the choice of the two great corporations, the United States of America and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts? ... The United States raises by taxation and spends $3,500,000,000 annually. Is it not worth your while to take sufficient time to consider what men have the greatest capacity to represent you in the Senate and in the Congress of the United States?"

The State spends nearly $50,000,000 each year. Is it not worth while to consider what men can best represent you in handling this great sum? The primary will decide who shall be considered on election day. It is up to you, your whole life to pay some attention to the qualifications of those who are seeking public office? And, may we add, is it not worth your while to see and hear these various candidates for Governor, for State Treasurer, for Congress, for State Auditor and Auditor, and minor offices—all have been invited—and most of them have accepted the invitation to speak at the

HIGH SCHOOL MUCH IMPROVED

This year's opening of the Winchester schools will find the High School building greatly improved, both inside and out, as a result of the intensive renovating campaign which has been in progress there during most of the summer. This work should find the work practically completed. In general it may be said that the High School has been put in good shape. The job is not complete. Unfortunately the funds available for the work were not such as to make it possible to do all that the school authorities would have liked to accomplish. But the result is highly creditable and when the scholars return to their class rooms there will no longer be grounds for parental criticism of the plant in which they are to work.

The exterior of the school has been painted; cornices, ballustrade, fire-escapes, grills and window-casings with the exception of the north side of the structure which was found to be in sufficiently good shape to leave for the time being. A particularly nice piece of work was done on the fire-escapes, the color employed being such as to make them blend harmoniously with the natural coloring of the building.

The interior of the school has received a pretty generally complete overhauling. The woodwork has been cleaned and polished, every all the walls have been painted, a two-fold effect in gray having been used effectively. For the most part the ceilings have been freshly whitened and in two of the rooms now deemed has been put down. Other floors have been scraped and refinished and the desks throughout the building have been thoroughly renewed by the school department's own repair man, a job of which the local authorities are justly proud.

Another feature of the clean-up and possibly one of the fussiest parts of the entire program is the splendid results obtained by Mr. Ecolini in renovating the statuary and friezes of the building. This work has been completely and most artistically accomplished, occasioning much favorable comment.

Perhaps in the basement have occurred the most needed changes in the building's appointments. There the walls have been freshly whitened throughout and a new lighting system installed. The gymnasium has received a general clean-up, and new ceiling guard lights have replaced the old less practical drop fixtures. A new piano will also be much appreciated and an especially constructed compartment for its storage will insure better care for the instrument; than has been the rule in the past.

In both the boys' and girls' dressing-rooms new steel lockers have been installed and in the shower rooms "gang-showers" have replaced the older individual fixtures. The "gang showers" are regulated by the physical instructors and will greatly facilitate the rule in the school authorities plan to encourage after each session of the physical education classes. The toilets throughout the building have been thoroughly renovated.

The lunch counter, held as an essential in the modern school system, has been greatly improved so as to insure much better accommodations for the serving of food efficiently. In short, nothing has been overlooked in putting the entire plant into good working condition, and the authorities feel that the citizens of the town may take a just pride in their High School building as it is this fall.

The job of renovation has been done by the Sawyer Construction Company of Boston, who are known to be artists in their line of work. Among other big contracts which this firm has put through is the job of gilding the dome of the State House in Boston. The original figure of the school contract was $650, but necessary additional expenditures will probably bring the finished job up around the $700 mark.

WINCHESTER BOY AT ARTISTS' BALL

At the famous Artists' Ball, Rockport, two of the most ingenious costumes which attracted much attention were "Twin Bees." One was worn by Lee W. Court who was chairman of the committee of arrangements and led the Grand March with Miss Dorothy Lincoff.

Mr. Court wore light blue pajamas over which was a sheet, blanket and spread. At his back was an imitation of the head of a brass bed with a pillow. His partner carried out the same idea.

The decorations of the ball room were in the form of a Persian garden effect and were planned by Mr. Court.

BROOKLINE WINS OLD COLONY LITTLE

The final match of the season in the Old Colony Tennis League was played last Saturday afternoon at Brookline between the Brookline and Arlington 11ights Tennis teams. Brookline scored a shut-out winning all the matches played, the score being 7 to 0. By this win Brookline went into top place in the final standing of the league with the Winsor Club of Watertown in second place and Arlington Heights third. The Bender Club of this town is a member of the league but has had scant success this season in its matches.

MISS BOND LEARNS OF HER LEADING MAN'S ANCESTRY

The following clipping from the Worcester Gazette will prove of interest to the Winchester friends of Miss Brenda Bond now playing the lead in a New York production, the story of which does an insight into the ancestry of Edmund Lowe, her leading man.

Edmund Lowe has a personality that mingles placidly with the fire of Latin races. The unusual combination caused Brenda Bond, who plays opposite him and who, by the way, comes from pure New England stock, to ask the actor what his nationality was. Lowe smiled.

"Well," he said, "my grandmother was of the Pacheco family of Zaragoza, Spain. She migrated to Scotland where she married my grandfather. My father came to America and settled in California where he married my mother, who comes from a long Colonial line. Figure it out for yourself." [Worcester Gazette, August 8, 1924.]

LEGION WINS OPENER FROM WOBURN

Kelley in Great Form

Winchester Legion got away to a good start against the Woburn City Club last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field when they took the opening clash of a five game series from the tanning city lads, 3-0, in about as slick an exhibition of the national pastime as one could wish for.

Woburn put a strong team on the field. Any lineup including players like "Jackie" Hevey, "Chuck" Roche, "Cennie" O'Doherty, "Bart" McElonough, "Bob" Walsh and "Doc" Doherty is bound to make up a tough outfit to beat, as these boys have all had the necessary experience to play real baseball in a tight series such as these battles between Winchester and Woburn always are. And the visitors played a high grade article of ball; make no mistake about it, the locals had to show their best all around game of the year to win.

The Legion presented a different lineup from the one that looked so good the previous Saturday and there can be no doubt on the present combination being the strongest of the year. "Ade" Blowers was in center field in place of Gillis. Charlie Donnelly was back in the lead and Mark Kelley was in the box in place of Tansy who did not get back from a vacation trip to New Hampshire in time to work.

Kelley pitched a strong game, in fact he has rarely ever looked better on Manchester Field. He held the hard hitting Woburn bunch in several scattered bingles, three of which were of the infield variety, and he did issue a clean pass. In addition to having the visitors eating out of his hand he scored a run and belted out a triple that was responsible for another tally, as well as adding his own in high league style. "Mex" was among those present with a vengeance.

Winchester started off on the right foot in the very first inning by showing over a run on Gilligan's triple to left and Nelson's single through the infield. Again in the fourth the locals counted when Matthews got a life on a fielder's choice to score on Kelley's prodigious poke to right for three cushions. Mark scored a bit later on Gilligan's second hit to left field. This ended the scoring, but Winchester might have had another run if it had been for a wonderful peg to the plate by "Chuck" Roche.

Nelson drew a pass and went to second on Lane's center. With two away Donnellan hit one a mile a minute to Roche in center field which the Woburn boy juggled as "Nelson" was rolling third. "Duke" dished for the plate but a perfect one-up throw beat him a stride though McElonough helped matters appreciably by some splendid blocking. It was big league stuff all through, and Roche and "Bart" richly deserved the warm applause they received as they walked to the bench.

Woburn made its big bid in the fourth when O'Doherty, first man up, doubled to right, and went to third on Hevey's sacrifice. With the tying run on third and one out Kelley tore down hard and forced "Bob" Walsh to tap to him for an easy out at first, and big "Doc" Doherty to lift to Lane. This was the only time during the whole afternoon that the visitors got a man as far as third, which goes to show the sort of game Mark was hurling in there. It was a case of air-tight pitching with perfect support plus frequent hitting and it's in the book that any club getting these three essentials can't possibly lose a ball game.

Notes of the Game

Everything else being about equal it's the team with the pitching that wins.

It was a tight game throughout and very nearly perfect all day. Only one error for the entire game. Winchester gave Kelley perfect support. Doherty's error was one of those miserable muffs for which there seems no excuse. Hatch's roller looked like the easiest kind of a chance. Big "Doc" took plenty of joshing from the bleachers after his miscue.

Nelson turned in two nice spots on his one out Colwell in the third and the other off Hevey in the sixth. Hevey's rap was a solid smash to "Bart" right, and he did wonder how well he got his hands on the ball. Jack beat his throw to first which was hurried, pulling Ralph off the bag.

When listing the star outfielders of the district don't forget to include "Chuck" Roche at the head of the list. The old Tufts star is unexcelled short of the big time and we've seen them in the majors that had nothing on the Woburn boy. His throw home in the third to catch Nelson was easily the feature of last Saturday's contest.

"Jackie" Hevey has put on much weight. He was at a disadvantage against Winchester having a sore leg.

Local fans will always be glad to see this smooth working shortstopper in action.

Kelley's control was perfect. He didn't walk a man, and that Woburn bunch don't go after many bad ones either.

It looked like old times to see Ade "Ginger" Blowers, cavoring in the local outfield. No one has ever played left field like he did in the days of "Old Doc" Doherty. Blowers, Frye and Lane made up one of the best garden trios Winchester has ever had.

Matthews scored his best game of the year.

Somebody hollered when Kelley went after a high one in the fourth, but "Mex" assured the hollerer that he "fiked 'em high" and then proceeded to belt the next one in the general direction of Woburn.

Gilligan's clout was also a lusty whallop that a mean tree prevented from becoming a home run.

Mykes Lane put in a busy afternoon in left. He caught five bunts in different parts of his pasture and three of them were off the bat of Mr. Doherty. "Doc" like the Woburn tanner, was evidently trying to put something in the brook.

The team looks plenty different with Manager LeDuc on the bench. After the game the management told us that 351 tickets were disposed of during the afternoon. The crowd was estimated at about 500. That's something to mull over in the mind. Three for a quarter seems to be the slogan, and some don't even approach those figures.

SANFORD AND DOLBEN WIN FOUR BALL AT WINCHESTER COUNTRY CLUB

The Winchester Country Club staged a four-ball, best-ball, tournament, one-half handicap on the 9-hole course last Saturday afternoon. T. Sanford and J. A. Connors all showed 73s for the afternoon.

Woman Mayor Removes Police Head

She Charges Failed in His Duty

Mrs. Henry Landes, appointed mayor of the city of Seattle, Wash., in the absence of Dr. Edwin J. Brown, the mayor, at the Democratic convention, ousted W. H. Sovereign, chief-of-police, for refusing to clean up the city's vice districts, as she had ordered. The acting mayor warned the official to effect reforms outlined in a letter to him and report to her in 24 hours, and he defied her. Mrs. Landes' letter to the official asserted that "the leading spirit of the liquor ring was a frequent and apparently welcome visitor at police headquarters," and that it was "the duty of the police to maintain a reasonable record of lawful conduct. The records of your department do not show any appreciable inroads on the liquor ring."

Conditions Among the Poor Consistently Improved

In returning the questionnaire on prohibition sent to her by Mrs. Boole, Mrs. Florence Kelley, in answer to the question, "Have conditions pertaining to mothers and babies been improved by prohibition?" replied, "Yes, in New York City, conspicuously. I live with visiting nurses and learn this from them." She added that prohibition has materially increased the sale of wearing apparel for working men, increased the sale of food necessities, and released mothers from wage earning in the worst trades. She writes: "My replies are based on my observations from living among very poor, alien working people with the nurses who nurse them in their homes in New York City. Among the changes brought about by prohibition in New York City are these: The public school teachers no longer have to spend a part of their salaries for shoes for children in the elementary grades, the fathers now buying these. The judges in the Juvenile Courts no longer look forward with dread to the coming of Monday morning, as their courtrooms no longer are crowded with families whose children have to be taken from them because of 'improper guardianship.'"

Marked Decrease of Alcoholic Insanity in State Hospitals

In reply to an inquiry from Mr. Hastings of the State Charities Aid Association to Dr. C. Floyd Haviland, chairman of the State Hospital Commission, he wired: "Alcoholic psychoses, 1917, 8.6 per cent; all first admissions, 1922, 2.2 per cent; 1927, total admissions, 21.1 per cent; 1922, same basis, 12.5 per cent."

Self-Regulating Plant

A large gyro-electric plant in Seaburg, Vt., located far in the wilderness, regulates itself without human aid. It is wholly automatic in control and if serious trouble arises in its mechanism, it shuts down and stays shut down until experts make things right again. It has a capacity of 6,500 horsepower.

THE CHILD LABOR LAW

To the Editor of the Star:
All fathers and mothers in Massachusetts will be interested in a question which will appear on the November ballot relating to the proposed and so called "child labor amendment" of the U. S. Constitution.

The question really is whether the voters will approve the proposed amendment which would limit, regulate and prohibit the labor of persons under 18 years of age.

This word "labor" covers pretty much everything in the way of work, effort or bodily exertion which is not sport or play.

Shall father and mother surrender to Congress the power to say whether their son or daughter shall, at any time, do any useful work in the shop, about the place, on the farm, in the garden, or anywhere else, simply because he or she is under 18?

Shall Congress be given power to legislate that no boy under 18 may do any work, either for his own support, to finish his schooling, or in learning a trade, or perhaps to help support a widowed mother?

If the power asked for should be exercised, it would be revolutionary. If the power is not to be exercised, why is it asked for and why give it? If the voters don't want this kind of thing, (and more of the same kind), they will be very careful to vote "No" on this proposition in November, and to see that their neighbors realize its importance.

This is no proper Federal matter at all, and, if laws there must be, surely our own Legislature is a better place in which to make such laws for our children than the House of Congress ever have been or ever will be. Let the people of the several States keep control of their social and domestic affairs (and at least of their own children) according to the design of the original Constitution. Let us, at least, be slow in adopting changes urged by adherents of "Socialism."

Where "ACCIDENTS" Become Incidents

Efficient police regulation has done much to make traffic safe. But no amount of regulation or education can rid the modern maelstrom of traffic of all its dangers.

In the midst of it all is your car—perhaps carrying your wife and children. You have no assurance that your car will not be jockeyed into a dangerous position by a formidable truck, or that it will be safe from the onslaughts of the harebrained "alley-jumper." These things you can not avoid. Wise drivers are always at the mercy of foolish drivers.

By putting an "armor plate" around the car Marmon has done much to protect the life and limb of its passengers. The stout, steel running boards on the Marmon are known among Marmon owners as "side-bumpers". Due to this important feature of the Marmon many an "accident" which might have been serious has become only an incident.

That is one reason why so many women prefer to drive the Marmon—and why so many men will not permit the family to drive any other kind of a car.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

No man is without a reason to be thankful, for if you lack gratitude, the fault at least lies partly with you.

We may as well aim high as low, ask much as little. Surely the world will not miss what it gives us, and our reward will be governed largely by our demands.

As necessity is the mother of invention, strong desire is the mother of attainment.

Wise is the man who can smile at misfortune. The man who is natural, who is open and kind of heart is always first, the man who is merely rich, sheltered or proud, isn't even a good second.

SWIMMING CARNIVAL AT SANDY TOMORROW

The second annual swimming carnival will take place at Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake tomorrow afternoon starting at 2 p. m. As last year, the meet will be under the direct supervision of Life Guard William Murray and will be a strictly amateur affair held under the sanction of the A. A. U.

There will not be the uncertainty of the various distances at which the swimmers will compete this year for the courses have all been laid out under the supervision of the M. D. C. engineer. Again the contests will differ from those of last season in that the entrants will be classified as to size instead of age, in so far as it will be practical to do so.

Life Guard Murray expects a good entry list and predicts that those who attend the carnival will witness some rare sport. Medals will be given the winners in the various events which will bring together swimmers from Winchester, Woburn, Stoneham, Medford, Arlington and Somerville as well as many from even further away.

A feature of the carnival will be a demonstration by the New England Red Cross and exhibition swimming by Mr. John Bray, the 62 year old winner of the Mayor Curley cup of last year.

The events will include 50, 100, 200 and 800 yard swims for both men and women and boys and girls as well as two novice races for the children. Entry will close tonight with Life Guard Murray at Sandy Beach.

The radio was brought by the proceeds of the recent En Ka show, Marcheta.

YOUR Gas Man

Several years ago, Gilbert and Ponce started the silent film world with this prediction:

"It is not beyond the bounds of reason to foresee the day when the householder, in place of his ton of anthracite, will receive a ton of smokeless coal without waste, a month's supply of cooking gas, 40 miles of motor fuel, enough fertilizer to start a small garden, and tar sufficient to annoy the dust in front of his house—all for less money than he now pays for inferior coal."

There you have a picture of the America of tomorrow, with gas service putting an end forever to coal worries, ashes, soot and a poisonous atmosphere. It may not come in our lifetime, but judging by the growth of the gas business, the next generation will live to enjoy its benefits.

"Curling"

"Curling" is an ancient game originating in Scotland, known to have existed previous to 1000. It is played on the ice with large, smooth stones of hemispherical form, to which the attached iron or wooden handles. The first club formed in the United States was at Pontiac, Mich., 1842. "Skip" is the name of the player, one on each side, under whose direction the ice is swept, this being done in a special manner. "Honsler" is the name for curling matings with picked players.

PLAYGROUNDS CLOSE SATURDAY

The Winchester Playgrounds will close their season Saturday, Aug. 30. This year's closing in the way of a closing event or exhibition has been attempted because of the difficulty experienced last year in getting entries for the various events. Both playgrounds at Palmer street and Leonard Field have been popular but the attendance has been largest at the first named where the tennis and swimming have proved particularly attractive. Two hundred and fifty have been in attendance at the afternoon sessions of the playground. The last games at Palmer street this year have been Mr. Ernest Roberts and Miss Daisy Bowman; at Leonard Field, Mrs. Joseph Mathews and Miss Marion Bowman have been in charge.

It is reported that Comdr. Lyman B. Cotton of the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, the ship that really found the last Italian airship, Lieut. Locatelli, is known to many Winchester residents, being a frequent visitor to town. He is a brother of Mrs. Russell Whiting of the Chambers and Mr. P. B. Cotton of Oxford street. His father is State Senator Cotton of North Carolina.

MADE FROM MILK

If the humble cow ever aspired to trademark her products the average shopper would be amazed at the labels "Made from milk" which would adorn his purchases—purchases ranging from horn-horn specialties to chess men, magazines to radio sets, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society's Washington, D. C., headquarters.

Consider a debenture's ball, which is most inappropriate place to contemplate the unromantic cow. The occasion would lose much of its glamor if the cow didn't supply the milk, which helps provide many other adjuncts than the ice cream.

When Cow Is a Cinderella
Your maiden's hairbrush, golden hair is kept in place by a flaring comb, made of milk, she toys with a milk-handled fan, she made her toilet so smart, finally with an array of articles largely made of milk, because she received her belated invitation from a procrastinating young man through a telephone receiver, made of milk. She is jolting down her dance engagements on a program made of milk, while she chats during intermission with an escort, doling ashes from a cigarette in a milk-made holder.

Sounds a bit far-fetched, doesn't it? But three per cent of casein in cow's milk today is the raw material for a kaleidoscopic array of manufactured products.

Nor does this take into account that, for every six couples at the dance, somewhere in the background, but in one cow, for our present rate of consumption every 12 persons consume the milk product of one cow.

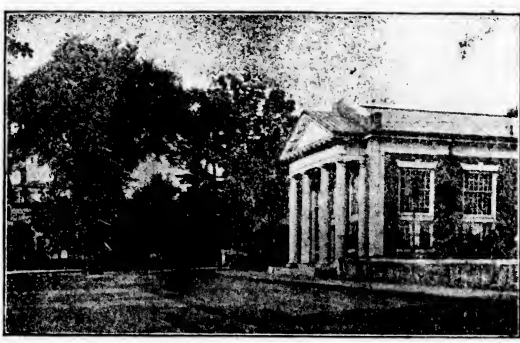

Milk as Staff of Life
Bread is a staple for being the staple of life, but milk more fully fulfills that definition. Substitutes for our customary breads may be had, but if the cow didn't supply the milk, our civilization depends literally upon a plentiful supply of good milk.

Even the elimination of the casein from milk, the element which provides most of the by-products, would be inconvenient. Chemically, casein is the principal nitrogenous constituent of milk, primarily, it is the curd, and its first and principal use is for cheese.

Our animal immigrants have been making of cheese. The importance of this to the society of their descendants. Economic geography has been influenced by the animal winners of our West. When, in 1829, a packet of the Dutch

AMERICA SHOULD PRODUCE ITS OWN RUBBER. McIntire

West India Company landed on Manhattan Island with a cargo of domestic animals and agricultural implements it paved the way for a principal industry of the Empire State of 1924. Economically, the New Amsterdam settlers were cheese-makers. Westward Course of Cheese-Making After the Black Hawk War, in 1824, the progeny of these settlers shared Wisconsin's economic destiny by driving their covered wagons up the west shore of Lake Michigan. Wherefore Wisconsin last year produced nine million dollars' worth of cheese. The very names of cheeses—Cheddar, Gorgonzola, Edam, Cheddar, Parmesan, and many others—read like a gazetteer. The generalist, Sherlock Holmes of the family tree, might get important clues of people's origin by the cheeses they eat.

There is a fascination, too, in the making of cheese. The spherical Edam comes is reputed to be dark red to this day because, in the days before pure food laws, a consignment was tinted with a harmless solution of carmine. Just why people like to eat in pink, rather than yellow, is a problem for the psychoanalyst, but that preference not only keeps the cheese red, but it has virtually eliminated yellow tomatoes from the market, and causes a heavy monetary loss to salmon shippers if preference, their catch happens to be white instead of pink.

Some Decorative Cheeses
The Italian Parmesan cheeses are kept for several years and then are polished with a mixture of charcoal and linsed oil until they shine like ebony. The housewife throws molty bread into the garbage pail, but when she buys Roquefort cheese she judges its quality by the green blotches, which are developed by introducing broad mold into the sheep's milk of which Roquefort is made.

Little five-year-old Dorothy had learned the little text, "Love one another" at Sunday school. She repeated it after returning home and her mother asked her whether she knew what it meant. "Why, of course I do," she replied. "It means that I must love you, and you must love me; I'm one and you're another."

C. D. OF A. NOTES

Plans are under way for the "come back" which is to be staged on Sept. 19 in the Town Hall by the cast of the 1924 Minstrel show. As this show was the best in every way that the Court has ever produced, it goes without saying that the performance will go over big. The proceeds of the show will go to the Grab Table group of the Fisk's Carnival committee of which Mrs. Marion Gilman is the chairman and Mrs. Annie E. Vayo, vice-chairman.

Mrs. Vayo will be aided in the production of the show by Mrs. Mollie L. Maguire in charge of details, Miss Mabel M. Coty, soloist and pianist, and Miss Mary Jane Kelley, versatile end man and director of the performance.

As a director, Miss Kelley leaves nothing to be desired. Her snappy swing of the baton puts her ends through some marvelous stunts and gives the specialty actresses pep without limit. And, as a real, honest-to-goodness end, Miss Mary Jane Kelley is the last word and is well worth the price of admission. She can put a song over in a manner that would do credit to the late Bert Williams, and just as soon as the annual C. D. of A. Minstrel show is over each year, the audience begins to look forward to next year's performance.

The other ends who are all exceedingly clever in their special acts are: Mrs. Helen Stoddard, Miss Helen Ruggati, Miss Betsy Noonan, Miss Ethel Kean and Mrs. Beatrice Crowe. The specialty leaders will comprise Miss Helen Carroll, Miss Mary Quigley, the McGrath Sisters, Miss Winifred Vayo, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. Katherine Trainor Weaver and Miss Dorothy Horn.

Solo parts will be taken by Miss Mabel M. Coty, the Court's popular soloist, Mrs. Mollie L. Maguire, accomplished singer, Miss Marion Hanlon whose voice elicited such favorable comment at the recent show.

A large and well-drilled chorus will be sure to give satisfaction and a fine effect will be the result.

Dancing will follow the show and tickets may be had of Mrs. Marion Gilman or Mrs. Annie E. Vayo.

Mr. William H. Keeler of the Star Office returned home after a trip to New York.

WINCHESTER VIOLINIST AT CHEBEAQUE

One of the many attractive features at Hotel Hamilton, Great Chebeague Island in Casco Bay, during the past summer season has been the series of daily and Sunday evening concerts given for the guests of the house and the cottagers on the island by a trio of Boston artists, including Gertrude Felber, violinist, Anne McPherson, cellist, and Beulah French, pianist. The Sunday evening concerts have been especially noteworthy under the management of Ralph E. Rowe, who for 20 years at the Peaks Island House arranged similar programs.

The musical organization at the Hotel Hamilton this year has been composed of artists who besides being technically skilled have displayed genuine musical feeling and given to their numbers most effective results. They have interpreted with finish and style and are to be congratulated not only for their artistic and musically performance but also for their arrangement of programs and selections of numbers. A typical program for one of the Sunday evening concerts follows:

- Part I
(a) Ave. Maria Stella Grier
(b) Polka Moszkowski
(c) Schicht Bella Hershberger-Kreider
(d) Solo Perpetuo Frank Bridge
(e) Deep River Fisher-Rishard
(f) Pizzicato Gavotte Pachel

(c) Hungarian Dance in G Minor Brahms Part II

- Piano—
(a) Kammermusik Rubinstein
(b) Country Gardens Grieg
(c) Menuet Haydn
(d) Orientale (From Kalevala) Grieg
(e) Symphonie Beethoven
(f) La Caprice de Nanette Coleridge-Taylor
(g) Danse et Ronde Coleridge-Taylor

Miss Felber's many Winchester friends will be pleased to learn of her success at the popular Maine summer resort. She is well known locally as a violin soloist of much promise and is a member of the Music Garden of this town. Miss Felber makes her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Felber on Bacon street.

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

The financial success of Mrs. Emma M. Cullen's party was assured last Monday night when nearly 40 tables were rapidly filled with enthusiastic whist players. A substantial sum was raised which will be used to defray the expenses of the fancy table at the Elks' Carnival. The prizes, a most wonderful assortment, were distributed to the following high scorers: Mrs. Ellen Halligan, Charles Harold, Oliver Ladd, Elizabeth Griffith, John Doyle, Edward P. Fitzgerald, Mrs. E. Krouse, Mrs. F. Flanagan, James Boyle, Oscar Holmes, John McCarron, Harry Hooper, Theresa Sullivan, Mrs. J. Mahoney, Patrick White, Mrs. L. Green, Mrs. A. Puffer, Mrs. T. Fallon, Mrs. R. L. Sims, Ralph Horn, Mrs. F. Noble, Mary Gorman, Mrs. M. Smith, Laura King, Laura Barstow, Mrs. W. J. Boylan, Mrs. M. Lydon, Kenneth Cullen, Mrs. M. Precourt, Susie Brown, Mrs. L. Brown, Mrs. E. J. McCarroll, Mrs. F. White. Prizes were also awarded for the most winning hands and a consolation prize. The embroidered table-runner fell to the lot of Miss Mary Curley who held the lucky number.

A record breaker in the series of whists will be held this Friday night in K. of C. Hall under the direction of Mrs. Fred Scholl and her assistants on the gift table. Mrs. Scholl and Miss Margaret Fitzgerald have obtained many beautiful and valuable prizes for this affair and an effort will be given away to the person who holds the magic number.

At a meeting of the Carnival Committee held at the home of Mrs. George H. Leachman, general chairman, last Wednesday night the heads of the different tables gave a detailed report of proceedings thus far. The affairs seemed to be going wonderfully. Mrs. Bernice Gorman, chairlady of refreshments, announced a food sale to take place Friday afternoon, Sept. 6, at the Winchester News Store in aid of the refreshment table. Contributions of food, cake, doughnuts, etc., will be most graciously accepted.

Mrs. Mary F. Laraway, chairlady of the food table, and her assistant, Mrs. Zella A. Kempton, will give a whist party Monday evening, Sept. 8, in K. of C. Hall, and of course, everyone will turn out to make this party as successful as the others of the series.

The Gregory Table, under the direction of Mrs. Rita C. Callahan and Mrs. Mabel Price, will hold their party at a later date. Many of the assistants have not as yet returned from their vacations and Mrs. Cleary and Mrs. Macdonald are starting an apron campaign to supply their table.

Tickets for the minstrel show, being staged in the Town Hall, Friday night, Sept. 6, are going fast. Dancing is included in the program, and those who have seen the show once are eager to see it a second time. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Marion Gilman, chairlady of the Grab Table and her assistant, Mrs. Annie E. Vayns. Tickets are also on sale at Sullivan's Barber Shop, 3 Railroad avenue.

SAVE SOME OF YOUR OLD CORN

The spring of 1924 was unusually backward in many sections. Following this, the growing conditions were not good, with the result that the bulk of the corn is extremely late throughout the Corn Belt and northward. It is so late that most of the crop will be unfit for seed unless frost holds off longer than usual.

The United States Department of Agriculture is calling attention to this fact at the present time in order to prevent, if possible, a serious seed-corn situation in the spring of 1925. The higher prices for corn in the last few weeks are drawing much of the old crop from the farms. Farmers not having enough seed corn for 1925 left over from last year's supply should save the best of their best crib corn from which to obtain seed, if necessary. If this year's crop is killed by frost before it is mature, this old corn will provide a source from which seed can be selected for planting in 1925.

A. L. A. SOFNS WARNING TO PEDESTRIANS

Three hundred and thirty-seven automobile deaths have occurred in Massachusetts up to July 1, 1924 more than the same period last year. Two a day happened for the first 13 days of July. There are 110,000 more cars on the roads of Massachusetts than last year at this time. You need to be ten times as careful as last year. Judging from the increased revocation of drunken drivers' licenses they are alarmingly increasing. Another reason for special care when you venture on the streets or highways.

Two hundred and forty accidental deaths each day is the country's record. 1680 each week. For the first six months of this year in New York 130 persons lost their lives in the other than crosswalks. Eighty-two were killed at street intersections; 35 by suddenly darting in front of automobiles. No more horrible death rate than being run over by an automobile.—[A. L. A. Dept. Publicity.]

Close of Ancient History

The date used for the close of ancient history is usually 476 A. D. The date for the closing of medieval history is not so closely defined. Some historians take the beginning of the sixteenth century—the time of the discovery of America—as the date 1492. A. D. making the Middle Ages include the time between the establishment of the first barbarian kingdom in Italy and the general pacification of Europe, at the close of the Thirty Years' war.

SKIDDING TRUCK SMASHES LAMP-POST ON PARKWAY

What might easily have been a serious if not fatal accident occurred last Tuesday afternoon when a big skidding truck, driven by Charles Attie of Stoneham, skidded while coming down the Mystic Valley Parkway toward Washington street and crashed into one of the park lamp-posts in front of the residence of Mr. W. J. Green.

The accident occurred during Tuesday's severe storm when the Parkway was in a particularly treacherous condition as a result of the rain and faller leaves.

The truck turned completely around and tore up an intervening grass plot before striking the post which is undoubtedly all that prevented it from overturning.

Residents in the vicinity who saw the accident were much alarmed during the few moments in which it was taking place, feeling that serious consequences would result from the skidding, and had the lamp-post not been sufficient to stop the truck's progress their fears would very probably have been well founded. The lamp-post was a total loss.

Take a chance on the Studebaker touring car to be given away at the Elks' Carnival, Sept. 25, 26 and 27. au22-1f

Why You Should Vote For James Jackson For Governor

James Jackson was appointed Treasurer of the Commonwealth by Calvin Coolidge when the former Treasurer was forced to resign. He was then elected Treasurer four years ago in a four-day sticker campaign by a plurality of 56,162. He is therefore a vote-getter.

During the Governorship of Channing Cox a campaign of rigid economy has been carried on in which James Jackson has loyally co-operated, giving all his time to this service.

What He Has Done as Treasurer

Reorganized the methods of the office.
Abolished favoritism in placing deposits of State funds.
Saved taxpayers $500,000 by abolishing system of allowing large sums of State money to lie idle in banks while State was required to borrow.
Evolved plan for investing State's surplus cash, which last year earned the Commonwealth $35,000 additional interest.
Secured law requiring departments to make daily deposits of cash with Treasurer.

Practiced economy with no loss of efficiency.
If elected to the Governorship he will continue this campaign of economy, without which no tax reduction can be made. In making a choice between the two candidates for Governor, the merit system should apply, and not the old theory of succession which Alvan T. Fuller claims is the reason he should be elected as Governor. He does not offer the record of any constructive act that he has performed during all his years in public office, and this should be the test.

His stand on the Prohibition question may be summed up in his own words:

"I am for the enforcement of the 18th Amendment to the Constitution without compromise. I do not believe in light wines and beer as it would make it impossible to enforce the law. I shall vote for the 3rd referendum."

This is eminently satisfactory to Charles Sumner Bird, one of the leading prohibitionists in Massachusetts.

By voting for James Jackson at the Primaries, Sept. 9th, you will be supporting a candidate of proven public service. His interests have been the people's interest. He does not promise, he acts, as his record shows.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR FULLER SPEAKS AT AIGRE, MONT.

In spite of the disturbing elements a goodly number greeted Lieutenant-Governor Alvan T. Fuller at the home of Mrs. Oren Sanborn on Tuesday evening.

The music by Mrs. Helen Ellefson Barr accompanied by Mrs. William LeFavour was exceptionally fine. Mr. Fuller expressed great pleasure at the spirit of the meeting saying it was one of the most congenial he had attended. His address was full of suggestion and advice. Those present were convinced that Mr. Fuller is the right man to continue the safe and sane policy of Governor Cox.

Lieutenant-Governor Fuller spoke as follows:

It is very kind of you to invite me to come here this evening and I want to tell you how much I appreciate it. I know that you share with me the desire to maintain good government in this state at the highest possible level of efficiency. I know that you agree with me in saying that although the most important matter before the voters of the state this fall is to elect President Coolidge by a large plurality, it is also important to keep the control of the state government in the hands of the party which now is in authority on Beacon Hill.

VOTE FOR GILLET FOR THE SENATE

We strongly endorse the candidacy of Frederick H. Gillett for the United States Senate and hope that the Republican voters of Winchester will, by casting their ballots for him at the coming primary, show their desire to continue the line of United States Senators who have represented the State with distinction.

We believe that Mr. Gillett in ability and character is easily pre-eminent among the aspirants for the office. His long legislative experience and the prestige attached to the Speakership of the House of Representatives, which office he now holds, give him an influence at Washington which neither of the other candidates for the office could hope to attain for many years, if even.

It is of the utmost importance to nominate a candidate who, if elected, can be counted upon to support President Coolidge, and the candidate who will have the best chance to defeat Senator Walsh.

Neither of the other candidates would command the undivided support of the voters of the polls in November. Mr. Gillett would surely do so. Though the other candidates promise to support the President's policies, Mr. Dallinger and Mr. Metcalf, if Congress voted to override the President's veto of the Bonus act, Mr. Gillett is thoroughly in sympathy with the President's program and will have great influence in the Senate in aiding to put it into effect.

Mr. Gillett is voluntarily giving up the Speakership—an office of even greater prominence than the Senatorship—because party leaders felt and urged upon him that he was the strongest candidate that the party could present at the polls and that his presence in the Senate during the next Congress would be of the greatest value to the administration.

Massachusetts' Republicans should nominate a big man for a big job. Mr. Gillett in every way measures up to the senatorship.

To nominate Gillett is the best way to insure the election of a Republican senator to succeed Senator Walsh, and the best way to uphold the hands of the President.

MADE RESCUE IN ENGLAND

Samuel J. Elder Saved Many From Drowning in Accident

Mr. Samuel J. Elder of this town, who is travelling in England this summer with his sister, Mrs. Margaret M. Elder, recently figured in a rescue on the River Dee, near Chester, in which he saved a canoeist from being drowned after his craft had been run down by an excursion steamer. English papers made much of the rescue and Mr. Elder undoubtedly proved his worth in courage and ability.

According to report of the affair, Mr. Elder, with his sister, was canoeing on the river. They noticed a sudden commotion a short distance farther up the stream, with much excitement and shouting. Mr. Elder paddled to the shore and ran to the place, removing his outer clothing as he did so, for he feared that there might be need of swimming.

It appeared that a canoe containing a man and girl had been run down by an excursion steamer. The girl was at the point of being rescued, but the man had sunk in the river. As Mr. Elder arrived, spectators pointed to the spot where he was last seen, and Mr. Elder dove into the water.

He had to swim clear to the bottom before he found the victim. He grasped him and swam to the surface, coming up in a very brief time. He had to swim from under and then around, before reaching a rescuing boat. He managed to keep the man's head above the water after he reached the surface, and although the victim was unconscious, he was resuscitated upon being carried to the shore.

Mr. Elder was loudly cheered for his act of courage by the crowd, and received many congratulatory remarks for his bravery. He and his sister are expected home about the 21st of this month.

GATE AT CROSSING SMASHED

Falling to note that the gates at the centre crossing were lowered for a train on Wednesday afternoon, Charles W. Nash of Stoneham, driving a Ford coupe, struck the northern arm of the sashier lower crossing gate and smashed it. Although the train was almost on the crossing at the time, he backed his car off the tracks so quickly and bystanders pulled off the broken arm so rapidly, that no serious results occurred.

The accident occurred at about 3:30, as an inward train was approaching from Woburn. Although the train was in plain sight, Mr. Nash apparently did not see it. As it was seen that he was in danger of running into the gate, bystanders shouted at him, but he thought they were calling to someone else. He did not stop until he struck the gate, which was broken off at its base next to the iron standard. The car was not damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harrold, of 211 Washington street, observed their 37th anniversary, Labor Day by visiting their two daughters, Mrs. Leo H. Hannon and Miss Edith Harrold, who are at Old Orchard Beach for the summer. They were given a dinner party of 12 at the Old Orchard House by Mr. Leo Hannon and received many beautiful gifts.

FOSTER-ADAMS

Miss Melvina Grace Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Adams of 82 Harvard street, was united in marriage last Saturday evening at 7:30 at the New Hope Baptist Church, Cross street, to Mr. Wilbert James Foster of this town. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William H. Smith, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large gathering of friends from this and surrounding towns.

The bridesmaids were Miss Helen Gay, Miss Virginia Adams, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Ernest Hunt. Mr. Milton Smith was groomsmen. The bride wore for her wedding dress a creation of white crepe, trimmed with silver beads, and her veil was fastened to a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaids were dressed alike in blue silk, trimmed with white beads and they carried bouquets of Madam Butterfly roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church, the ushers being Mr. Thomas Hazel, Mr. John Russell and Mr. Ralph Hunt. Many handsome gifts were received from a host of friends and following the reception, which closed at 10:30, the couple left on their honeymoon. They will reside in Winchester.

This cup is for a race of one-half mile distance with single blades. The participants must be from some club on the Mystic Lakes. The winner may keep the trophy for one year. It can then be challenged for sometime during the following year.

On Saturday afternoon, Sept. 13, at a regatta to be held at the Winchester Boat Club, the Marshall W. Symmes trophy will be raced for the first time. The Winchester boys are anxious to keep the cup at the home end of the lake and they are sure to fight hard for a win.

ANOTHER TRUCK DRIVER IS CAUGHT ON BLACK ROSE HILL

John C. Johnson of Cambridge appeared in the District Court at Woburn Tuesday morning on charges of operating a truck in excess of 15 miles an hour with a load of more than four tons. Sgt. William Rogers made the arrest on Main street at Black Horse Hill. Winchester police reported that Johnson's case was the first time a motor operator had ever been arrested in town for such an offense. Johnson was fined $5.

ABEL R. CAMPBELL OF LOWELL

Candidate for Republican Nomination for Executive Councilor Sixth District

Respectfully solicits your support of

TUESDAY, SEPT. 9

The present incumbent has already served four years in the Governor's Council. It is a large district and if one man is to continually seek reelection, it must be construed as a selfish stand against the ambitions of other Republicans in the district who believe that a distribution of such honor is reasonable and just.

I emphatically protest against the candidacy of Frank R. Bailey of Lowell whose nomination papers were filed five minutes before the expiration of the time limit with the Secretary of State—and only after several other citizens of Lowell had been selected to enter the contest—his nomination being made by men who do not reside in Lowell? Is not such a candidacy to be viewed with suspicion, and may not the sudden inspiration (?) of Mr. Bailey be founded upon hopeful expectation that his candidacy will prove beneficial to the present incumbent—especially in view of the fact that Mr. Bailey's name will precede my name on the ballot?

AN ELEVENTH HOUR ATTEMPT TO DIVIDE THE VOTE OF MY HOME CITY OF LOWELL IS RESORTING TO SHARPE PRACTICES WHICH SHOULD BE REPROBATED BY EVERY DECENT AND FAIR PLAY REPUBLICAN IN THE DISTRICT.

A record of many years faithful service to the Republican party in state affairs, and a business activity of twenty years in my own community, which, I believe to be of substantial merit, are my qualifications for the nomination as your councillor from the Sixth District.

LOWELL—THE LARGEST CITY IN THE DISTRICT HAS NOT HAD A REPUBLICAN REPRESENTATION IN THE GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS. I APPEAL TO YOUR SENSE OF FAIR PLAY AND ASK FOR YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT.

Signed,
Abel R. Campbell, 7 Rath St., Lowell

LEGION FINALLY LOSES

Winchester Legion's winning streak on Manchester Field, a stride that had included four straight wins starting Aug. 2, was broken last Saturday afternoon by the Medford A. which forced the locals to be content with the short end of a 7 to 3 count in a game that must have gotten much bad baseball out of the home boys' systems.

Medford deserved to win. The visitors brought a line club to Manchester Field, and played heads up ball all the way, handing Tansey the first defeat he has experienced in a regularly scheduled game since the high school season opened last April.

We've seen the kid lefty look much better out there than he did last Saturday and his support wasn't much to shout at, but the cold fact remains that Medford was the better club and we have no excuses to offer for the defeat.

Both teams counted twice in the first inning. Medford on hits by O'Brien and Terrill followed by "Pat" Crowe's triple along the right field foul line, and Winchester on Cody's double, Nelson's single, and a wild pitch that got away from "Rufe" Bond.

Medford then proceeded to score in both the second and third frames, following with three tallies in the sixth on three hits, an error and a base on balls.

Winchester scored its third run in the sixth on Nelson's blow over third and "Ade" Blower's two-ply smash into the river which was fielded extraordinarily fast by Kennally.

After the sixth neither side was able to register, Mulaney preventing the locals from getting a hit in their last three times at bat.

Notes
Medford brought one of the best teams of the season to Manchester Field. Mulaney pitched a strong game throughout.
From a Winchester standpoint the visitors' big man was "Rufe" Bond, fondly remembered by local sport followers as the producer of one of the greatest eleven the town has ever had.

Tansey didn't give Bond much of a chance to shine with the stick. "Don't mind Rufe," yelled a wag in the crowd, when Rufe missed a fast one after a vicious lunge. "We know you showed him how!" At that we'd had "Rufe" wouldn't have been too sorry had Francis won his game.

Terrill in center, Kennally in left, and Howard in third, all four of the visitors, formerly were the Brown and Blue of Tufts. Terrill and Kennally were football players while at the Medford College, and both were rated good.

Four men had a crack at retiring Blowers at third base in the fourth. Boy coaching judgment prevented him scoring from second on Mathews bingle past third.

Scoring records show Medford had no license to the second or third stanzas. Both runs "got on" through errors. Again in the hectic sixth, errorless play would have prevented the visitors from counting. They should have been retired with a runner left on first.

The feature of the game was a one-way race to the river and a real swat off Lane's bat in right center field. Myles got hold of it for fair, and the catch probably saved a run.

A small crowd swarmed through the game. Rural attractions kept many away.

WINCHESTER OVERWHELMS
WOBURN 11-1

Kelley Stars in Second Win of Series

Winchester Legion won a decisive victory over the Woburn City Club, 11 to 1, in the second game of the series between the two clubs on Manchester Field Labor Day afternoon. The Woburn boys were rather completely outplayed by the local players, who showed a strong game throughout, hitting Linscott, the visiting pitcher hard, when his meant runs and in general saving an ability to dominate any situation that arose.

Manager LeDuc sent Mark Kelley after the game and the big right-hander was just as effective in the previous contest, holding the City Club sluggers to four hits on which one run was scored and retiring four batters on strikes. Just to demonstrate that his value to the team was not purely defensive "Mex" scored a pair of runs on three nice hits including a lofty triple that sent him into the river and had a lot to do with Linscott's undoing.

For just two innings the ball game looked like a tight struggle. Then in the third the Legion put two runs over on hits by Hatch, Kelley and Cody, coupled with a fielder's choice.

"Jimmy" Gilligan who was very much in the game all afternoon.

Winchester went out in order in the fourth, but in the fifth the fun began in real earnest. Mathews hit to left and counted on Kelley's three cushion swat into the river. "Mex" trotted in on Gilligan's hit through short and the latter scored on third on Blowers' bingle to center. Nelson who was on second base at the time as a result of a base on balls and an error by Hevey went to third on "Ade's" hit and scored when Walsh in center threw wild to third in an attempt to catch him going down.

This little runnet netting four tallies put the game in the well known ice-box, but just to show that there were no hot feelings, the locals pulled themselves together, and jammed five counters across in the very next frame. Kelley opened the festivities with a "through" short, and advanced on Gilligan's hit to center, and then proceeded to walk Cody and force Mark over the rubber by hitting "Dave" Nelson. On Lane's tap to Linscott, Gilligan scored when "Dan" hit him with the ball while trying for a purport at the plate. Before the ball could be recovered Cody had also counted and Nelson and Lane had advanced to third and second respectively. Nelson rode in on Elverson's rap to Hevey and Myles came in with the final run when Charlie Donnellan lammed out a sacrifice fly to far center field. This ended the scoring so far as the locals were concerned and the boys were weary of it as they were becoming leg weary from circling the bases in the severe heat.

Woburn scored its first run of the series in the seventh on a base on balls to "Bob" Walsh, Tanton's blow to center and a long sacrifice fly by

"Bart" McDonough. The supporters from the tanning city started to yell for a rally but Kelley applied the brakes and the visitors were unable to hit safely in the last two frames.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Age is wise; it attempts nothing impossible, but youth is wisest; it believes nothing impossible.

The thought of the heroism shown by those more grievously afflicted than we, help us to bear our own ills patiently.

A good quality if abused will become the source of much evil.

A lofty spirit and a determined mind will make good use of unpromising material.

The influence of good deeds usually extends far beyond the limits we are able to see or trace.

ONE OF THE LETTERS RECEIVED BY MR. FAY

Hon. Wilton B. Fay, Ridgely,
West Medford, Mass.

My dear Mr. Fay:

I use by the papers that you are a candidate for Congress in the Eighth District. The announcement has pleased me greatly, knowing you as I do and your excellent qualifications for the office. Your long service to the Republican Party, the character of the service rendered and your very large acquaintance with men of affairs and those in public life place you in an unique position to be of service both to the party and your Country, at a time when men of courage and character are so badly needed.

That your District may appreciate the opportunity afforded to reward you for your years of faithful service and to give you the opportunity for that greater service that you are so capable of rendering is the earnest wish of your friend.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) Frederic H. Chase

MUSICAL THIEVES

The Winchester Police were notified Wednesday night, sometime between 10 and 11, of the previous Friday the residence of Mr. Bowen Tufts on Stratford road had been entered either by a burglar or a dog, and a large quantity of a skeleton key. Two children's coats were broken open and a saxophone was taken, the thieves evidently making a dash for jazz. The police are investigating.

Mr. James "Silk" O'Laughlin left town today for New York en route for Hendon, Pa., where he will be engaged upon a big construction job for the firm of Stone & Webster. It is expected that the contract which is for the construction of a huge electrical power plant will take at least a year to fulfill. Mr. Leo V. McNally is another Winchester boy on the job.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

The Winchester Boat Club conducted a Labor Day regatta last Monday afternoon, but because so many paddlers connected with Medford Boat Club were away it turned out to be a nearly all-Winchester affair. It developed into a very interesting contest, and at one time the shore on the Cambridge street side was lined with automobiles containing eager spectators. One fact was clearly shown much to the gratification of the old timers of Winchester who are so desirous of seeing water sports at Winchester Boat Club kept up; there were enough contestants to make a meet between Winchester paddlers.

The first event, the tip-over race was won by Kenneth Pratt with Pete Hart a close second and Richard Harlow of Medford B. C. third.

The tandem hand-paddle race was very closely contested. The Hart twins just nosed out "Spike" Tyler and Eddie Votour. Many canoes were bunched at this point but Ed Sandberg and Win. Palmer drew out of the crowd for third place.

The third race was the Hury Scurry. There were nine entries. The boys all lined up at the head of the club float and at the signal from the gun they dashed down the runway, dove into the water and swam out to their crews, clambered in and paddled back by hand to the club float. This was a splash race in every sense of the word. After it was all over John Caldwell exclaimed, "Woe!" Pratt bit his foot in the rash.

"Pete" Hart successfully navigated this event for first honors. Winthrop Palmer after a wary making it a tip-over race drew second place. Bob Begein paroled the waters for a third. The tail-end race was maneuvered without too many "schludat-out's" due principally to the lack of wind. It was ruled that all contestants sit in the stern seat of their boat with their feet inside, and paddle ahead with their bows back in the air behind them. Ken Pratt crossed the line first after making a full turn just at the finish. Bob Begein was directly behind him, followed only half a length in the rear of Pratt. Eddie Sandberg took third place. Ed Votour upset his craft after he started much to the amusement of the spectators.

The tandem scull blade was rather a walkaway for "Spike" Tyler and Ken Pratt. Eddie Sandberg and Win. Palmer raced home for second place and Bob Begein and Charlie Salver took third place.

The star of gunwale-jumping race was on the list. It took a good 15 minutes to start this event as the boys were a bit of balance. Win. Palmer took to the water twice as the gun was about to be pulled for the start. Dick Harlow also left his boat without an occupant.

Ed Sandberg led from the start and was not in danger of being overtaken at any time. Kenneth Pratt was second and Bob Begein finished third in an upright position. A number of the other 10 entrants were finishing by this time, in the water.

Six teams drew for the tilting. Alan Hovey, tilter and Eddie Votour, paddler won from Win. Palmer, tilter and Ed Sandberg, paddler. Palmer did not stay with his partner long enough hardly to go across the course once.

John Caldwell, tilter and Francis Randall, paddler, then teamed up against Charlie Salver tilter and Bob Begein, paddler. Johnnie pushed his opponent out by not touching him with his pole. From the gallery it looked like a shadow fight. Thus ended spill number two.

"Spike" Tyler, tilter and H. Wray Rohman, paddler doubled up against Charlie Chisol, tilter and Dick Harlow, paddler. Wray was attired in white knickers and shirt. Hardly a uniform for tilting! The spectators were rooting strong for this white outfit to be upset but there must have been a horse shoe in the boat somewhere for "Spike" lifted his opponent so violently out of the boat that both Chisol and Harlow were pitched into the water.

In the semi-finals Caldwell and Randall after some prolonged jockeying spilled Hovey from his perch leaving Votour without a tilter in his good ship.

The final was the best heat of all. For fully five minutes "Spike" Tyler battled against Johnnie Caldwell with the crowd calling for an upset of the boat with white-suited Wray in it. That horseshoe still held luck, for a well aimed thrust from "Spike" took Johnnie under the chin and he went hastily out of his canoe thus giving the match to Tyler and Rohman.

Mr. Arthur W. Toppin and Mr. Edward B. Ladd were judges.

There was a dance at the Medford Boat Club in the evening. Next Winchester dance Friday eve, Sept. 5.

BASEBALL, SATURDAY AT WOBURN

With the first two games tucked under their belts the Winchester Legion goes to Woburn tomorrow for the third game of their series with the Woburn City. Woburn City, Library Park; game called at 3:30 p. m. Manager LeDue is out to make it three straight wins while the City Club management is sure that its team will find themselves on the home grounds and take their first game from the locals.

Woburn will be without "Bar" McMenough and "Bob" Walsh Saturday, but players are available to take their places who will not in any way weaken the team's offensive or defensive strength. In fact, "Eddie" Doherty behind the bat, "Len" Weaver in the outfield and "Lark" Stanton at second should make even a stronger combination than the one which it replaces.

Winchester will show one new face to tomorrow as Ralph Hart will be away on his vacation. Fortunately Manager LeDue has been able to get a fine man to take his place in "Pat" Crowe of Medford, whom Winchester fans will remember as the slugging first sacker of the strong Medford A. A. team. Other than at first the Legion will line up as in Labor Day's game with "Mex" Kelley on the firing line and ready to "take" the City Club for its third consecutive ride. Eleven hits are all the boys from Library Park have been able to garner from Kelley's delivery in the 18 innings played thus far, and the big boy is out to keep their total low. Woburn claims Mark can't win at Library Park, but in the two games he has hurled thus far we have seen slight evidence of his crackling against the City Club no matter where the game takes place.

Local fans are planning to attend tomorrow's contest in large numbers and those who enjoy sitting down at a ball game should get to Library Park early. Everybody up and give the boys the support they deserve. They're out for three straight.

WINCHESTER ELKS WIN PRIZE AT WAKEFIELD

The float entered by the local Lodge of Elks in the big Labor Day parade under the auspices of the Wakefield Lodge was awarded the second prize of $50 in gold, first place going to Gloucester by the narrowest of margins.

The Winchester Elks kept their cry secret until the parade and their float was much admired all along the line. The foundation of the float was one of G. W. Blanchard's trucks which was donated for the occasion. It was decorated in the Elks' colors of white and purple depicting "Charity," represented by Mrs. Ben Cullen, seated upon a throne beneath a huge arch surrounded by several kiddies, including Fred Schell Jr., Donald Fenton, Rita Moffet, Marjory Horne and Matthew Murray. At the rear of the float was painted a large Elk's head and symbols of the lodge, the work of Mr. Carl Larsen. A feature of the Winchester float was the singing of popular songs in the various towns through which the parade passed by "Sonny" Murray.

The committee from the local Lodge having the float in charge included Fred Clement, Carl Larsen and James J. Fitzgerald. Others who assisted the committee with the decorating were George Lynch, Jack Donaghey, "Doc" O'Connor, Raymond Fenton, Ernest Berger, James Bryan, Maurice Dinnert, Malino Moffette, Thomas F. Fallon, Dean Blanchard and Mrs. James Horne.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Arnold of Dix street returned last week from a month's trip to the Pacific coast, during which they visited their son Ralph, who is located at Los Angeles, Cal.

Labor Day or Labor-less Days?

IT USED to be that a big holiday picnic was lots of fun for everyone but Mother. She spent practically the whole day before in the company of a great sizzling hot cookstove, cooking up mountains of food and ironing voluminous ruffled dresses. Today's Labor Day picnic means no labor day for mother beforehand. The familiar automobile outing has taught her the way of quick preparation for outdoor meals. And the all-gas kitchen with its ready gas range and hot water and other conveniences saves countless steps and many hours of her precious time.

On Labor Day think about this—

Has your home as many labor-saving gas appliances as it needs? They're easy to buy and easy to pay for at our store.

Ignorance Is Bliss

One-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives—and envies it accordingly.—Boston Transcript.

Think to Themselves

There is no objection to other people's thinking what they like—just as they refrain from thinking out loud.

Really Not Her Fault

A lady in great demand socially was duly summoned as a witness in some court proceedings. As she failed to appear a deputy marshal was sent to act as escort. Then the judge explained to her that she was in contempt of court and asked what she had to say. She was manifestly astonished at all this. "I meant no contempt," stated she, "I would have attended the trial gladly, only I had a previous engagement."

Taking Them in Order

The elevator boy was given at the job. Two passengers, a man and a woman, got on at the street floor. "Ninth," said the latter once they were fairly started. "Sixth," said the man. The car sped by the sixth floor and stopped at the ninth. On the way back the man said: "Why in thunder didn't you stop at the sixth floor? The sixth is lower than the ninth." "I know that," said the elevator boy, "but the lady said 'Ninth' first."

A Somebody

A somebody is one whose physician thinks a subpoena more dangerous than germs.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

Too often it happens that the builder of a new home will forget to specify the necessary number of gas outlets. It is an easy thing to overlook, but a costly mistake to rectify. Persons who are familiar with modern room heating, laundry and other gas equipment will not buy a home where no provision has been made for their use. Why should they? No home is modern that restricts the use of gas service. And who wants anything but a modern home?

The safe way is to consult us before you build—when your new home is in the blueprint stage. By allowing for convenient outlets in the architect's plans you will save yourself hundreds of dollars later on. The time to think of gas service is before, not after you build.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR FUL- LER SPEAKS AT AIGRE- MONT

There is of course no doubt how this state is going to vote in the presidential election. President Coolidge belongs to us, and we are proud of him. We know that as a president he measures up to the best standards of American history. We know that he will bring new lustre to the fame of Massachusetts throughout the country. We are proud of him as a Massachusetts product. And Massachusetts is going to show its pride in him this fall by giving him the largest plurality ever received in this state by a candidate for President.

Massachusetts in moments of forcefulness it sometimes has elected Democratic candidates. It is not going to have any moments of forcefulness this fall. It is going to elect a Republican President and Vice President. It is going to elect a Republican Governor. It is going to elect a Republican Senator. And each one so elected will be under an obligation to carry forward the standards of the Republican party and to so strengthen that party in the eyes of the voters of Massachusetts that never again shall there be any doubt of the Republicanism of this state.

We have had on Beacon Hill during the last four years an administration characterized by wise economy and an efficient conduct of the state's business. The burden of debt has been lightened. The cost of government has been cut down. The management of state departments has been simplified. The property of the tax payer has been made secure. The treatment of the state's charges has been humane and helpful. The expenditure of the public monies has been business-like. We have got a dollar's worth for every dollar spent. A record has been made of which we believe the state to be thoroughly appreciative. I am sure that the voters of Massachusetts understand and enthusiastically approve the record of these four years made under the leadership of Governor Channing II. Cox.

What I want to do, and what I mean to do is to carry on the affairs of the Commonwealth with the same fidelity to business principles that I have found necessary in the conduct of a private business. I know that no business can be successfully conducted if expenditures are carelessly made. I know that there will be no dividends for stockholders if work is entrusted to incompetent persons. I know that no private business can prosper except by a policy of scrupulous care in the use of funds and meticulous thought in the selection of those in authority.

The business of a Commonwealth such as Massachusetts is more intricate than that of any private business. We do not conduct the Commonwealth's business for the purpose of making a profit, except in this (And this I wish to emphasize.) The profits of the business of the state's government are expressed in forms of public service. Reduced burdens of taxation, increased efficiency in the management of public institutions—these are the products which the public may rightfully demand. They can be obtained only by uprightness and ability in offices of authority.

I have based my candidacy for the office of Governor upon my experience and my record. I believe that my success as a business man entitles me to say that I shall conduct the administration of the state's affairs from the office of Governor in a way to command the approval of the people of the state. During my four years as Lieutenant-Governor I have attended 150 meetings of the Governor's Council out of the total of 188 held during this period. I take pride in that record.

I know that the only authority which the Governor has is the authority of public confidence. A Governor elected by the people owes it to the state and to himself to increase the measure of that confidence by his acts in office. We now elect our Governors for two years instead of for a single year. Thus the state by its voice commits itself to the administration for the two years following. This makes it more important than it used to be, under the single year term, to elect the right man. It also makes it more important for the man elected to keep constantly in mind his responsibility to the people.

Longer tenure of office emphasizes that responsibility. To be placed in authority over the state's administration for two years is to assume an obligation of the utmost seriousness. I recall some words of the President which he addressed some time ago to a group of women who called upon him at the White House. It was a group of Republican women who I suppose wanted some kind of guidance from him in political direction. I tried to go in and try and quote his exact words, but what he told them was to the effect that if they expected to find the seat of government in Washington they would be disappointed. The seat of government, he told them, was really back home whence they came and whither they would return.

Now, my friends, I think that is as true on Beacon Hill in regard to state government as it is in Washington in regard to national government. The authority of government is in the hands of the people, whether in state or nation. There is no special magic or transmutation which endows a public official with peculiar rites above his fellows. He is in office for a time simply because the people want him there to represent them. He is there in fact as their representative and as nothing else. He is there to carry out their commands. By his election he receives simply a certificate of public confidence. He can fairly assume that by his election the people have expressed a willingness to trust to his judgment. They believe in him. That is what an election means. If he has deceived them they will soon find him out. If he has been honest with them, they will never have cause to doubt it.

There is a very encouraging gathering here tonight. I have confidence in the political judgment of women. I always have had such confidence. I have always believed, not only that women should have the same rights as men before the law, but that given such rights, the better government would be raised. This year the women of Massachusetts are taking a more active interest in the political affairs of the state and nation than ever before. This is a very good thing for the Commonwealth. It not only adds numbers to the total vote which the people give, but such devotion to high principles as I believe to be characteristic of women. I know that our political affairs are going to be conducted with an increased emphasis on honesty and sincerity because of the participation of women. I want to thank you all for this meeting and for the privilege which is mine to be here and meet you. I can only promise you that if elected Governor I shall so conduct the office that every one of you will know that I have endeavored at all time and in all ways to do what you believe an honest man should do.

AKYAB: WHERE PONTON- FITTED PLANES ARE AT A PREMIUM

Since the planes of the American world-war are equipped with pontoons throughout their flight over China, Indo-China, Siam and Burma, one is prepared to learn that water is a prominent feature at the stopping places in those countries, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Saigon is in a delta on a broad river; Bangkok, because of its numerous waterways is known as "the Venice of the Orient." And Yangon with its river and canals is almost as deserving of that title. These cities, however, have become railway centers as well; it is at Akyab, second stopping place for the American flyers in Burma, that water holds undisputed sway.

No Railways But An Abundance of Waterways

Akyab, a little more than half way up the west coast of Burma, facing India across the Bay of Bengal, has become a considerable port and trading center in recent years. It is served entirely by natural waterways. From a superficial glance at the map one would assume it to be on the mainland. But this low, flat coast of Burma is cut up by a network of tidal creeks and bays; and by virtue of these Akyab really lies on an island.

When one learns that Akyab owes its importance to the fact that the British, after gaining control of the region in 1826, moved the capital to Akyab from its unhealthy location 60 miles up stream, he may look upon the town as healthy by implication. Unfortunately the assumption is hardly warranted, but the community is much better off in this respect than half a century ago when, like the Guayaquil of those days, it had the unsavory reputation of being a "white man's grave."

They Haven't Forgotten Their War. Akyab's harbor is formed by the wide estuary of the Kaladan river protected from the sea by islands. Large ocean vessels may enter over the bar with ease at high water, and with the aid of pilots at other times. A bevy of river steamers plies up and down the Kaladan and along the marginal creeks, sharing the channels with numerous sampans.

The derivation of the name, Akyab, is unknown; but the Arakanians have a name for the place in their own tongue that means where the war started. Ragoon means in Burmese, strangely enough, end of the war. So these two leading ports of Burma may be considered the country's initial alpha and omega—the Burma Concord and Yorktown.

Akyab, like Rangoon, has had large influx of immigrants from India and of the somewhat different types of northern Burma. The end of the newcomers shows a strong contrast to the laziness of the natives and the latter elbowed out of artisan and shop-keeping classes.

Inland from Akyab are produced petroleum wells. A few miles to south is a group of some of the striking mud volcanoes known by that name. From their regular cones, 40 feet high, they eject mud, steam and gases, but no lava or ash as true volcanoes.

Cat Knocks on Door
An English artist owns a cat which will not enter the house by the back door. It always walks up to the front door, which has a knocker at a convenient height, gives one or two knocks and then waits for the door to be opened. If there is not an immediate answer it knocks again until it has succeeded.

His Fate a Mystery

The fate of Maseazel, who in 308 reclaimed Africa for the Roman empire, is one of the world's greatest mysteries. The generally accepted story is that he was drowned on his return to Italy, by Scilleho's orders.

FOUR AUTO ACCIDENTS IN FOUR HOURS LAST SATURDAY

Last Saturday was evidently "accident day" in Winchester with four motor mishaps taking place in various parts of the town between the hours of 11 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon; the greatest number being the local police ever had on record as happening in so short a space of time. Fortunately none of the motorists involved was seriously injured, but two were slightly hurt and one was killed. The Winchester Police Station and treated by a physician while others were more or less shaken up and sustained minor cuts and abrasions. The various machines were all damaged, and one car had to be towed to the square after turning turtle on Pond street.

The first accident of the day occurred at 11:30 a. m. when the Ford touring car owned and operated by Mr. Harold M. Boardley of Harvard went west on the Myrtle street by Valley Highway and when crossing Washington street was struck by a Studebaker touring car, owned and operated by Lewis F. Ayers of Chichester, which was traveling north along Washington street. The force of the collision knocked the Ford up onto the sidewalk, bending the left front mudguard, side and running board and knocking off the left front rim and shoe. The Studebaker's right front mudguard, running board and bumper were bent.

Mr. Boardley was accompanied by his wife and two children; Winona, aged five and Harold, Jr., aged two by the Studebaker driver. Mr. Ayers was his parents and another man whose identity was not learned. All escaped injury.

One hour and thirty-five minutes after the first accident the second occurred on Washington street opposite Westley street when the machine of Hugh McMinamin of Highland View avenue, this town, was run into from behind by a Ford sedan owned and operated by William J. Gallagher of 32 Arlington street, Woburn. According to McMinamin's story he had stopped his car while going north on the right hand side of the road behind an electric car which was discharging passengers when the crash took place, the Ford like his own machine going north at the time. Both drivers were somewhat shaken up and the rear of the McMinamin car was damaged.

The third accident was the worst of the four reported, and took place at 2:30 p. m. A Ford sedan owned by Josephine M. Crosby of 10 Usher road, West Medford, and operated by Anna C. Crosby of the same address, turned turtle while the driver was attempting to make the sharp turn from the parkway onto Pond street. Richard W. Crosby, also of 10 Usher road, West Medford, was with Miss Crosby in the car at the time of the upset. Both were removed to the Winchester Police Station, in the Chief's Room, and treated by Dr. Sheehy for severe cuts and a general shaking-up. The machine which had its top ripped off besides being otherwise battered up was towed to the station by fireman Harry Brown and patrolman James Farrell.

At 2:30 p. m. in the Dolge coupe of George Heel of New York city was struck by a Ford runabout owned and operated by James H. O'Marra of 241 Park street, Medford, near the southerly entrance to Forest circle while going south on Forest street. The Ford was going north on the same street when the accident occurred. Heel was accompanied by his wife, Edith, and his sister, Mrs. M. F. Land of Atlanta, Ga., while O'Marra had his son, William, as a passenger. Mrs. Heel and Mrs. Land were both slightly cut and bruised, and both cars were damaged, the Ford having the left front wheel, mudguard, and headlight broken, and the axle sprung. Neither machine was disabled.

MOTORCYCLE MIXES IT WITH FORD

There was little choice for a verdict when a Ford runabout and a motorcycle which came together last day evening at the corner of Bacon and Church streets just as the whistle was blowing for 7:30. The Ford was owned by Herbert Knapp of 9 Glen road, Southbridge, and operated by Steven Collier of Main street, Woburn. It was coming out of Fletcher street onto Bacon street just as the motorcycle which was ridden by a man named Hakesley of 37 day State street, West Somerville came along Church street, headed south and made the turn into Bacon street. The two machines came together and ran about 10 feet up the sidewalk, hitting a tree on the lawn of Mr. M. H. Lombard. Neither operator was injured and the vehicles were but slightly damaged.

FORD SEDANS TRY CONCLUSIONS ON MAIN STREET

Last Sunday evening shortly before 9 o'clock two Ford sedans were in collision on Main street in front of the city hall. The cars were owned by Joseph Cavanaugh of 114 Washington street, Medford, the operator of one of the machines, and the other was owned and operated by Albert Lawton of 31 Pond street, this town. Lawton's car was headed south at the time of the collision which broke the right front mudguard and hub cap on the Cavanaugh Ford, and did a similar damage to the hub cap on Lawton's sedan in addition to bending the bumper. No one was injured.

THE WILLIAM J. NOONAN SCHOOL. ENTERS TOWN SERVICE

General Charles H. Cole, Principal, Speaker at Military Exercises

With flares flying and bands playing stirring march tunes of the war days, under a perfect sky, and with the right September tang in the air, the Military parade which opened up the dedication exercises of the new William J. Noonan School in the North End District of the town, gave thousands a thrill as it passed in review through our streets last Sunday afternoon.

No finer parade has ever passed through the streets of Winchester. With almost 700 military and naval men in line and marching with a snapness not soon forgotten, they were a splendid and inspiring sight. Riding at the head of the parade was its Chief Marshal, Lieut. William Mobbs of Motor Transport 102 of Woburn, who was a former Winchester boy. All credit for the excellence of the parade must go to Lieut. Mobbs, who from the start has done all in his power to make the turn-out the wonderful success that it was. Attending Lieut. Mobbs, besides his Military escort, were Capt. Thomas Sheeran of Woburn and Major Patrick O'Brien of Worcester, Commander of the 182nd Regiment, all mounted.

Next came the following members of the North End Improvement Association, who constituted the Dedication Committee of arrangements: President, Raymond F. Fenton; Chairman, John F. O'Brien; Secretary, Elizabeth C. McDonald; Treasurer, Peter J. Cozz; James J. Fitzgerald, John F. Cassidy, Frances T. Conlon and Arthur E. A. Kimz. The ninth member of the committee, Mr. Luke P. Glendon, refrained from marching because of the recent loss of his mother. For the same reason Mr. Richard Glendon, a Gold Star father of the North End District, took no part in the parade, although he sat upon the bandstand with the other invited guests. The rest of the parade was as follows:

Marine Band Company of Marines Company of Air-Jackets Full Battalion of 12nd Regiment Woburn Post, V. F. W. V. D. (band) Woburn Post, Spanish War Veterans Winchester and Woburn Post, V. L. Woburn Company, Motor Transport 102 Woburn National Band Gold Star Fathers and Mothers of N. E. District School Board and Miss Mary L. Lyons, Principal of the School School Building Committee Parks Board Fire Department

Marching at the head of the 182nd Regiment were Brig. Gen. Charles H. Cole with his Military Aide, Chaplain Wm. J. Farrell of the 26th Division, and Rev. Allen Evans, Jr., Ex. U. S. Army Chaplain. As the parade arrived at Swanton street, it was halted and the committee and invited guests passed through and reviewed it as it moved down Canal street to the school. Here a large speaker's stand had been erected and the exercises of dedication commenced before a crowd of 4000 people.

The following was the order of exercises:

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

Mr. Arthur A. E. King, member of Dedication Committee, introduced Mr. Raymond F. Fenton, President of the North End Improvement Association who will serve as presiding officer. Opening Prayer - Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt Singing - American Song By School Children Accompanied by Band

Formal Transfer of School to Town, Mr. Jas. W. Allen, Chairman School Building Committee. Acceptance of School on Behalf of Town, Mr. Danforth W. Conine, Chairman School Board. Solo - Selected - Miss Mabel M. Cote Remarks - Rev. Allen Evans

Address - Rev. William J. Farrell, Duct - Miss Cote and Mr. William Cote Address - Brig. Gen. Charles H. Cole, U. S. A. Star Spangled Banner.

The following address of welcome was delivered by Arthur E. A. King of the Association: Reverend and Honored Sirs, Invited guests, Ladies and Gentlemen: We welcome you today to commemorate one who made the supreme sacrifice to preserve his country's dignity and honor.

No praise can exhaust his achievements. The patriotic fervor which came from his heart was instilled by the very institution which is to be his memorial. He dedicated his life unto his God and his country and today we dedicate unto him this school that the principles of citizenship, freedom, justice and equality of mankind may prevail.

Ever mindful of his patriotic sacrifice, the North End Improvement Association, through the courtesy of our school board and school building committee, arranged for the solemn observance of the day. Therefore it gives me great pleasure to introduce Mr. R. F. Fenton, President of the N. E. I. Association.

Mr. Fenton made an admirable presiding officer, the following sentence being typical of his remarks: "When Christ picked his apostles he did not go to the intellectual, but went to the humble fisherman; and you citizens, when you chose the name for your school you did not go to the officers of high rank but you too went to the humble soldier from the ranks."

The addresses delivered by Brig. Gen. Cole, Chaplain Rev. Wm. J. Farrell, and Ex-Chaplain Rev. Allen Evans, Jr. were inspiring and uplifting and will long be remembered by the huge audience present. A particularly attractive feature of the exercises was the singing of Miss Mabel M. Cote and Mr. William Cote. These artists, long favorites in Winchester, charmed the huge audience with their duet rendering of "Keep the Home Fires Burning," while "Billy" Cote sang "Put away a little ray of Sunshine for a Rainy Day" most effectively accompanied by the Marine Band. Beside singing with her brother, Miss Cote also led the big crowd in the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Special mention should be made of the fact that Mr. Cote gave up an attractive engagement in New York to be present at the dedication.

FOOTBALL SEASON STARTS

The Winchester football season got under way yesterday afternoon when a squad of 33 aspirants appeared on Manchester Field in response to Coach Ernest Roberts' call for candidates for the high school eleven.

Coach Roberts is starting his second season at the helm of local gridiron affairs and hopes to produce a team that will be a credit to the school and town. His task does not appear at first glance to be an especially easy one. Veteran material is neither plentiful nor particularly experienced while there seem few new men with the necessary weight to fill the gaps left by graduation and ineligibility. If all the players in school were available this year, the situation would be much brighter, but several of the men of whom the coach was depending to form his nucleus for this season were down in their studies at the close of school last June and thus are automatically barred from participation in football for the entire fall season.

There is just a possibility that Francis Melloy, crack center rush on "Ruf" Bond's wonder team of two years ago may square himself with plenty of holes to be filled before the opening game with Stoneham on Sept. 27.

The complete list of candidates includes Captain Cassidy, Dabney, Robinson, Johnson, Rolli, Melloy, O'Donnell, Bridges, J. Halvart, Harriman, Knowlton, Pease, Dolan, Amico, Ross, Quill, T. Lynch, Hawley, Walker, Gorman, Politano, Sellers, Dow, L. Clark, Chamberlain, McNell, Bartlett, Bennett, Markey and Amirese.

PRIMARY ELECTION

Small Vote Cast in Winchester This Fall

A comparatively small vote was cast in this town at the primary election on Tuesday, only 1979 out of a registration of 4905 attending the polls. Of this number 951 were women voters and 1028 men, with 1901 Republicans and 78 Democrats. A much larger vote had been anticipated and as the women's committee put in much work, the indications were for a much larger figure.

Winchester gave the Governorship nomination to Jackson in preference to Fuller, Youngman taking the Treasuryship by a comfortable margin, and Cook for Auditor. Gillette ran ahead of Dallinger for Senator and Thayer was on top for Congressman, Griswold standing second and Fay third. Mr. Thomas R. Bateman headed the ticket in number of votes with 1718.

With returns in from the leading cities and towns of Middlesex County and the totals show that Mr. Charles N. Harris of this town leads his nearest rival by about 11,000 votes for the nomination of Representative in Congress. The committee returns have not yet come in, but with most of the larger cities and towns reporting, the vote is as follows:

Harris 17,680
Wood 17,068
Cook 15,821

Mr. Harris is thus assured of the nomination. Representative Thomas R. Bateman was unopposed for re-nomination from the 18th district. He received the following vote:

Winchester 1718
Middlesex 2348

Owing to the resignation of Mr. William E. Ramsdell as a candidate for Republican Town Committee, but 17 names appeared upon the ballot in place of the 18 called for. Late in the day the committees got busy and had the voters place Mr. Harris M. Richards' name on their ballots, and he was elected a member of the committee.

The Democratic Town Committee list was made up by one vote, marking his ballot complete, several were placed on that committee by one vote.

The vote for Congressman in this district was as follows:

Eighth Congress District (Rep.)
Arlington	415 224 909 144 67 979
Belmont	44 1759 247 27 13 442
Boston	227 897 106 23 23 139

Winchester	1718 2348 11025
Totals	2770 3914 8152 1492 698 11025

The election officers reported the count of the ballots at 12:30 a. m. Wednesday, after an evening of hard work, the large ballot making their labor particularly painstaking. The election officers were as follows:

Republicans: George J. Barbary Kenneth Pratt
Harriet E. Barbary William E. Ramsdell
Robert E. Hamilton John A. Woodwell
George W. Johnston Joseph A. Bacon
Frank T. O'Donnell Samuel S. Bacon

Democrats: Anna V. Cullen Lewis J. Mawn
George J. Barbary Beal McCarty
David Eliaht Robert H. Sullivan
Timothy H. Haley Morrison S. Price
George E. LeDor

The result of the Town election was as follows: (Continued on page 6)

W. CREIGHTON LEE

William Creighton Lee, a prominent citizen of this town, a many years resident, died at his home on Pine street yesterday morning after a long illness. He was 61 years of age.

Mr. Lee was a native of New York and the son of W. Creighton and Corne E. Lee of New York. His father was identified with large leather manufacturing, and following his attendance at Stevens Institute, Mr. Lee spent a number of years in his father's tanneries in Pennsylvania. The business not appealing to him, he left it, and took up literary work, which he pursued for many years. He had been retired for some time. He leaves a wife, who was Miss Isabella Harriman of this town, a brother, Arthur E. Lee of California, and a sister, Stephen Carey of Orange, N. J. He was an attendant at the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Winchester Country Club.

The funeral services are to be held this Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence, 7 Pine street. Rev. George Hale Reed will officiate. The burial will be in Wildwood cemetery.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TO RE-OPEN SUNDAY MORNING

After having been closed for nearly three months for redecoration, the First Congregational Church will be open for service Sunday morning at 10:30. Important alterations have been made in the church edifice. A new chancel is being added and three beautiful stained glass windows are being put in the back of the chancel. A new pastor's study on the same floor as the sanctuary has been added. The organ will be removed from the back of the church and a new organ by Hook & Hastings of Waltham will be installed in February. The church auditorium has been redecorated by Mr. Carlew making a great improvement in the light and seating capacity of the church. A new order of service will be installed and a surplus choir of men and women organized at an early date. The chancel is to be somewhat after the Episcopal style, with pulpit and lectern separate, and choir stalls and communion table in the chancel. The church now has nearly 1000 members, almost double that of nine years ago.

A new Parish House has been voted and work on that will probably begin next year.

Dr. Chidley will preach Sunday morning a sermon in keeping with New England Week on "New England's Greatest Product." The church quartette will sing. The morning service will be in the auditorium.

MYHR-PUFFER

A quiet ceremonial wedding afternoon in the Church of the Epiphany marked the wedding of Miss Dora Myhr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Puffer of Wildwood street, and Mr. Harry Edward Myhr, son of Mr. Carl L. Myhr of this town. The Rev. Allen Evans, Jr., rector of the church of the Epiphany, was the officiating clergyman and Miss Puffer was given in marriage by her father. The bride departed from the church in a traditional wedding gown and veil and wore a lovely French frock of blue georgette, beautifully beaded, and carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. Her only attendant was Mrs. Frederick Myhr as bridesmaid.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Frederick Myhr, as best man. The church ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the hotel party at the Hotel Copley Plaza. Immediately thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Myhr left on a honeymoon to be spent in Canada.

FLAHERTY-SHAW

A wedding which aroused much local interest when announced this week took place Tuesday evening, Sept. 2, at Saint Mary's rectory when Miss Mary Shaw of 18 Harrison street was united in marriage with Mr. Charles H. Flaherty, son of Mrs. Bridget Flaherty of Cedar street. The ceremony was performed at 8 p. m. by the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Quigley of St. Mary's Church.

The bride was attended by Miss Alice Flaherty, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and Mr. Hugh McElhinney of Woburn was groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Flaherty left immediately after the ceremony on a honeymoon trip to Woburn, N. H.

The groom is well known in Winchester and his marriage came as a distinct surprise to many of his friends. He is a popular letter carrier attached to the local post office, and enjoys a splendid reputation as a ballplayer and sportsman, having been up to the time of his retirement last season regarded as one of the best catchers ever developed in this locality.

Joseph "Muggins" Tansey and Clarence "Lead" O'Donnell leave tomorrow for Goddard Seminary in Vermont. Both will be candidates for the school eleven and their many friends in town are wishing them the best of luck.

MAYNARD HERE TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon a real treat is in store for the baseball fans of the town when the Winchester Legion will entertain the strong Maynard Town Team on Manchester Field. This out-of-town team, which has won considerable difficulty that the local management was able to sign them for an appearance here.

The visitors will present a strong lineup including such well known players as Bulger of Concord, Shannahan, the old Watertown star, and Moran and Loftus who are well-known as classy performers around Maynard. Boyce, later hurler for the Abbot Worsted team in the Twilight League, will probably pitch against our own "Cow" Kelley. Mathews will be behind the bat for Winchester.

The Maynard Club has made a fine record for the season, having won 23 games while losing only 10. Included in their list of wins are victories over such strong clubs as Manchester, N. H., Keene, N. H., Haverhill Pros., Lawrence and the Winthrop Town Team.

Bringing such a team to Winchester is naturally attended by increased expense and the local management hopes the local fans will be generous in their support of its efforts to give them the best. The local boys have been really losing out, and today and tomorrow's game should be a hummer. Starting time, 3:30 p. m.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF MOTHEERS' ASSOCIATION

The first meeting of the Mothers' Association will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 17 at 2:30 in the High School Assembly Hall. Mr. J. J. Quinn and teachers will speak. Social hour following. A full attendance is desired.

EMBLEM CLUB NOTES

Nearly the entire membership rallied to the support of Mrs. Largen and her committee last Monday night in a valiant effort to put her right party in aid of the Food Table among the record breakers of the series. The result was a most gratifying success socially and a goodly sum added to the Elks' Carnival Fund. About 50 prizes were distributed amongst the high scorers.

This Friday night, Sept. 12, at the K. of C. Hall, the last night of the series will be given under the direction of Mrs. Rita C. Callahan and Mrs. Mabel Price in aid of the Grocery Table. It is needless to add anything about the prizes, for everyone knows that the Emblem Club always have won to popularity, as account of the lavish displays of beautiful and useful gifts.

A special feature of this affair will be the awarding of a five-dollar gold piece to the one who holds the lucky number.

Through the generosity of the Winchester News Company in providing space in their store for the Food Table, last Friday afternoon, Mrs. Josephine Power and Mrs. Ellen Higgins added a neat sum to the fund for the Refreshment Table. (Charitable of the refreshments, Mrs. Bruce E. Gorman and his assistant, Mrs. Katherine Fallon, will hold an afternoon whist, Monday, Sept. 15, at the home of Mrs. Gorman, 474 Main street.

At the time of the last Friday night, Mrs. Callahan and Mrs. Katherine Macdonald stated that contributions of money to their table would be most gratefully accepted and should be sent in on or before the 15th of September.

Those who have not yet secured tickets for the Elks' Carnival show would do so at once as the supply is limited. It is to be staged in the Town Hall, Friday night, Sept. 19, with an all-star cast in all the pomp and splendor of up-to-date minstrelsy. The after-part will consist of specialty acts, with general dancing to follow, and the price of admission but little more than the price of a whist ticket. The proceeds will go towards the Grab Table, and Mrs. Marion Gilman, chairman, and her assistant, Mrs. Anna Vago, are leaving nothing undone to insure the success of the affair and to deserve the wholehearted support of the entire membership.

Tickets may be obtained from either of these ladies or at Sullivan's Barber shop, 2 Railroad avenue.

Market Whist

Next Monday night, Sept. 15, a Market whist will be given in the Chapin School by Mrs. Mary Fenton and Mrs. Josephine Power in aid of their booth in the Elks' Carnival. As both ladies are very popular it is predicted that there will be prizes enough to satisfy all, and of course there will be a record attendance. This will be the last whist before the Carnival and every member of the Emblem Club should make an effort to be present as matters of interest in regard to final arrangements will be announced.

Roger Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland A. Sherman of Dover avenue, is showing up well in the early fall football practice at Norwich University. He is a candidate for a football position, and made a record during his prep school days at Winchester High, Dunsmuir Academy and Brown and Nichols School.

A Seasonable Suggestion

Before the cold weather comes and your blankets will be a necessity for the weary of doing this work. Both of them are good but one is a little better than the other. Our Sales Department will be very glad to explain.

STRAND THEATRE OPENS WITH FULL HOUSE

That Wharm people will support a theatre when conditions are of the best and the pictures of a high-class and entertaining order, was clearly evidenced Monday night when the Wharm Theatre opened under its new management and under a new name—the Strand. Hundreds of patrons were turned away on an early hour, so great was the demand for seats. Wharm patrons and the thousands that visit Wharm to do their shopping have a right to expect all that is good and instructive in moving pictures, the same that can be found in the high-class theatres of Boston. When this standard is maintained, and the management of the Strand assures the people that their best endeavors will be always in that direction, the Strand will be known for many miles out of Wharm and our city will be benefited.

Following the announcement of the theatre management last Monday night at the opening, Acting Mayor James F. McGovern expressed the sentiments of the whole city in a short address from the stage when he hoped that a high standard would be maintained in the entertainment furnished for he could then give assurance of the wholehearted support of the citizens.

The large audience very freely expressed their satisfaction last Monday night at the close of the show which was a most successful one. The picture, "A Case of Jealousy," was very cleverly assembled in the theatre. As stated before in those conditions the theatre looks clean and bright. When this standard is maintained, and the management of the Strand assures the people that their best endeavors will be always in that direction, the Strand will be known for many miles out of Wharm and our city will be benefited.

METHODISTS MEET IN THEIR NEW CHURCH BUILDING

The first meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church people in their new building will take place Sunday morning, Sept. 14, at 10:30 A. M. The Rev. J. C. Brown, D. D., will preach the sermon. They will gather in the vestry or social hall, entrance through the Sunday School house. It is not to be understood that this is opening day. There are to be no exercises of recognition. They do not wish to give the impression that everything is all ready. Not anything is complete, but the work is advanced sufficiently to allow them to hold meetings with convenience far above anything enjoyed before. They will quietly slip into that which is their own and patiently wait and work for that which, when complete, will be most beautiful.

Even though this Sunday's services may be quite as usual and though the place of the gathering be in an unfinished state this first day in the new church cannot be other than eventful.

Clinton S. Mason, son of Mrs. L. T. Mason of Lloyd street, left yesterday for Williamstown to prepare for a football campaign. He is a member of a Percy Wendell of the W. B. Jones varsity eleven. Mason played a regular end on his freshman team last fall.

Take a chance on the Stalder and touring car to be given away at the First carnival, Sept. 25, 26 and 27.

WINCHESTER TAKES WOBURN SERIES

Wins Third Straight Game at Library Park

Winchester Legion defeated the Woburn City Club last Saturday afternoon at Library Park 4 to 3, thereby winning the series between the two clubs in three straight games. As the score would indicate the locals had no soft time winning in the series and back was not until the sixth inning that the deciding run was scored on Kelley's single and Gilligan's triple with two away. Woburn tried hard to tie it up in the eighth and had the run on third with one down, but the best "Ed" Walsh and "Doc" Doherty could do in the ninth were routine boppers to the infield and all the last chance went glimmering.

More Kelly pitched his usual good game with the exception of the third inning when everything went wrong for the host. Woburn was quick to take advantage of his lapses, and piled up three runs on four hits and a fielder's choice, giving its supporters their first chance to shout during the entire series. Their exultation was short lived however for "Doc" came back in great shape, allowing only two safe hits in the remaining six innings.

The score by innings follows:

First Inning—Gilligan doubled to left and advanced to third while O'Doherty threw. Nelson grounded to O'Doherty. Tanton made a nice play on Lane's smash, retiring him at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Only throw out Colucci. O'Doherty grounded to Nelson. Kelley tossed out Hevey. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning—Blowers doubled to left. Donnellon hit to center scoring Blowers and going to second on the throw in. Crowe walked. On Matthews hit past third Donnellon was out at the plate. O'Doherty to E. Doherty. Kelley fanned. Gilligan hit to "Doc" Doherty and Crowe was out at home. Doherty to Doherty. One run, three hits, no errors.

Walsh singled to Gilligan. "Doc" Doherty struck out. Woburn hit to right. Gilligan tossed out Tanton. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning—Crowe drew a pass, and Nelson sacrificed him to score. Lane singled to right scoring Cody. Blowers hit into a double play. Hevey to "Doc" Doherty to O'Doherty. One run, one hit, no errors.

"Ed" Doherty walked. Linscott forced him at second. Cody to Gilligan. Linscott went to second on Cody's single to center and both runners advanced as Kelley threw out O'Doherty. Hevey doubled to center scoring Linscott and Colucci. Walsh singled to left scoring Hevey. "Doc" Doherty hit to left advancing Walsh. Woburn fouled to Matthews. Three runs, four hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning—Hevey threw out Donnellon. Crowe fanned. Matthews lifted to Colucci. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Tanton got a pass. E. Doherty hit into a double play. Kelley to Nelson to Crowe. Gilligan tossed out Linscott. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning—Linscott hit Kelley. Gilligan flied to Colucci. "Steve" also took Cody's hoist. Nelson doubled to center scoring Kelley. Lane walked, and both runners advanced on Blowers' one shot to right. Donnellon rapped to O'Doherty, forcing Lane at third. One run, two hits, no errors.

Colucci rapped to Gilligan. Kelley got O'Doherty on strikes. Nelson threw out Hevey. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning—Linscott threw out Crowe. Matthews lifted to Colucci. Kelley hit over second and scored when Walsh left Gilligan's smash in error. The hit going for a triple. Cody walked and stole second. Nelson hit to Hevey, and was out at first. Hevey to Tanton to "Doc" Doherty attempted double play. One run, two hits, no errors.

Walsh flied to Lane who also took "Doc" Doherty's line. Woburn struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning—Lane smashed one on a line to Walsh. Colucci made a great running catch of Blowers' foul. Hevey threw out Donnellon. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Tanton skied to Crowe. Nelson threw out "Ed" Doherty. Linscott singled to center. Gilligan tossed out Colucci. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning—Crowe fanned. Matthews flied to Colucci. Kelley hoisted to Tanton. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Two-base hits, Gilligan, Nelson, Blowers, Hevey, O'Doherty. Sacrifice hits, Colucci, Nelson. Error, Blowers. Strike out by Kelley 4, by Linscott 4. Blases on base, by Kelley 4, by Linscott 4. By Doherty 1, by Nelson 1, by Gilligan 1. Double, Kelley, Nelson and Crowe; Blowers and O'Doherty. Triangles, Hevey and Hart. Total, 117, 6m.

Notes

Easily the most exciting game of the series, and well worth the trip to Woburn. Winchester once more demonstrated its ability to come from behind to win.

The weather felt as though the officials should have yelled "Are you ready Winchester? Are you ready Winchester?" and then sounded a whistle. It was an ideal football afternoon.

Kelley's comeback after that third inning was one of the finest bits of individual effort that the series brought to light. "Ed" had a lot of trouble during the game trying to work the corners and many times it seemed as though he was not giving him any the best of it.

This boy Colucci in left field for the City Club played a great game out in the swamp. His clutch bloop Blowers' foul in the seventh was a honey.

O'Doherty at third played a slick fielding game. He has a real right arm, and it has to be a bit to get by him at the hot corner.

"Eric" Matthews saved plenty of trouble when he ended Woburn's rally in the third by picking "Len" Weaver's lefty foul right off the grandstand after a hard run. It was a dandy catch.

The shivering fans were given a laugh in the fifth when a kid who was chasing a ball fell down in a big and audible heap. The boy failed to see the funny side of the incident.

"Dave" Nelson played a sweet game out there at first. He ranks with any playing the position in Winchester since Dana Wingate's time. "Pat" Crowe at first, evidently checked his batting eye at the gate but he played a nice fielding game. His clutch of Weaver's sizzler in the ninth brought the fans to their feet.

Gilligan turned in another fine performance both with the bat and in the field. The whole Winchester team were in there "all the time."

Lane came out of his hatting slump by banging out a hit that scored a run. Myles made a nice try for "Con" Doherty's double and might have grabbed the ball had he been able to keep his feet in the mud.

We never saw a worse setting for a real ball game than Library Park was last Saturday. Baseball must indeed be in the rough at Woburn.

The past series must have given the "I told you so" boys an awful razz. Their "in the back" stuff won't find much of an audience now.

Manager LeDuc was a happy man when he fanned Doherty for the final out. George deserves all the credit in the world for the fine showing which the Legion has been making lately.

"Doc" Hinds stuck in his seat in the bitter end. He claims you never can tell. Yes, the "Doc" had his overcoat.

That stuff about Mark Kelley not being able to win at Woburn won't go any more. After that third frame "Mex" never looked better.

TOWN TEAM LOST SATURDAY

Winchester Town Team dropped one last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field when the Back Bay Town Team came out on top 6 to 1 in a game that was chiefly featured by the strong pitching of Martin, the visiting hurler. The locals were able to hit safely only three times for one run which came in the fifth inning.

The Back Bay Club got to Harrison for seven hits, not so many in point of numbers but their timeliness stands out in the fact that the visitors were able to put up over six tallies. Six runs on seven hits is a rather high average, and shows the scoring ability of the visitors who have made a great record of the season with wins over Duxbury and Chelsea and among other strong clubs.

The score:
Inning 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Back Bay 0 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 6-7
Winchester 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-1
Pitchers: Martin and Harrison and Mally.

BOWLING PLANS STARTED

Calumet Club Arranges for Annual Men's Tournament

Arrangements are underway for the opening of the bowling season at the Calumet Club, the annual men's tournament being scheduled to start on Monday, Sept. 29. Chairman James P. Heaton of the bowling committee states that it is the idea of those in charge to allow plenty of time this season to finish the mixed tournament by next May. Furthermore he desires to distribute the schedules of games in ample season before the tournaments start.

Entry cards for the men's tournament are being issued this week, the committee making the request that wherever possible, entries be made in the form of complete teams. Entries must be received by 7 p. m. on Friday, Sept. 19.

GIFTS FOR THE HOME WILL BE APPRECIATED

The residents of The Home for Aged People will greatly appreciate gifts of fruit and vegetables from those who have a surplus in their own gardens. Mrs. Moore, the matron of the Home, regards fresh fruits and vegetables as a most healthful and important element in the diet of these elderly people, and they do "taste so good" as we know.

If not convenient to send them, they will be called for, if the home is notified by telephone.—Win. 0497.

Spider Catches Fish

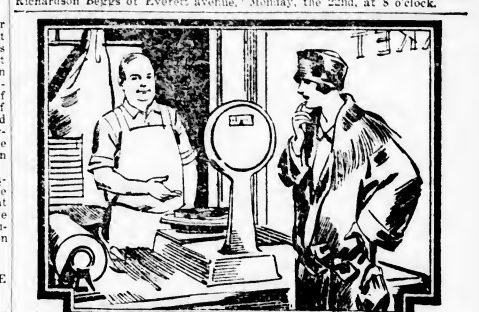

Some spiders have been known to kill birds, and most of them can catch flies easily, but in South Africa there is a fascinating spider that captures fish that are as much as four times its size and weight. The spider is known as the Tundinus Spider, and it is found near Natal. It measures about three inches across the legs.

The Disappearing Meat

You don't serve all that you buy and pay for.

You buy a four-pound roast on Saturday, say, and what it costs you leaves about enough for a nickel's worth of lettuce. Then you cook the meat and remove to the table what you think is a full four-pound roast. But as much as ten ounces of that meat can be gone altogether—shrunk away—cooked out—disappeared up the stovepipe.

"Time and Temperature Cooking" Saves on Butcher Bills

In an oven heat control gas range you sear your meat in the oven first. That seals in the juices. Then you reduce the heat to a certain temperature and the oven regulator maintains that temperature for a certain time. The meat is roasted slowly, steadily, to a tender, brown perfection. No water is used and the roaster is tightly covered. The oven, too, is specially constructed to keep out evaporating air currents. All the meat stays right there and cooks because it can't get out. Come and see these efficient new ranges.

A Motor Car Feature Which Protects Human Life

IN THESE DAYS when there are 15,000,000 motor cars upon the roads of the country, the careful, skillful driver is often at the mercy of the reckless, wanton "alley-jumper" or inefficient driver.

The Marmon car has been designed for just such conditions. It is practically surrounded by "armor-plate."

The steel running boards of the Marmon car are hot-riveted to the frame of the car—"side-bumpers," Marmon owners are proud to call them.

Side-collisions which would crush the ordinary wood running board seldom mean anything more than a little scraped paint to a Marmon. In no other motor car are life and property so adequately protected.

Before buying a motor car ask yourself if it is thoroughly safe in the hands of your wife and children.

There are other remarkable safety features of the Marmon which we shall be glad to explain to you.

MR. JERE DOWNS HOST TO HAYDEN & STONE COMPANY LAST MONDAY

The beautiful estate of Mr. Jere A. Downs on Arlington street was thrown open to the guests who attended the annual frolic and outing of the Boston, New York and Springfield and Portland offices of the Hayden & Stone Company which took place last Monday afternoon and evening at the Winchester Country Club.

Over 150 men and women connected with the concern, including Mr. Downs, Messrs. Fred H. Baird and Lester Watson of the Boston office with Mr. Arthur C. Shortwood of the New York office, members of the firm, participated in the outing which included sports in the afternoon, a buffet supper and dancing in the evening at the Country Club. Prizes for the various events were presented at their conclusion by Mr. Downs. Featured among the different contests were parlor baseball, coits and guessing games, all affording much amusement alike for participants and spectators.

While the sports were in progress Mr. Downs with his sister, Miss Elizabeth S. Downs, entertained their guests on the beautiful grounds of their home, unique signs having been erected to direct the visitors to the various places of interest on the estate. Refreshments were served in the summer house facing the rose garden.

In the meantime the match for the Charles Hayden interoffice golf trophy was being contested for between the teams from the New York and Boston offices. The Boston team easily defeated their New York rivals and also came out on top in the tennis matches between the same outfits.

In the putting matches Hardwick led from the first, placing Mrs. Hardy A. tied with Mrs. William Cross at first place in the women's putting contest.

The tie for second place honors in the golf tournament between Manager George W. Pike of the Springfield office and Prescott Bigelow of the Boston office was won by Mr. Pike on the basis of net score. Both returned net scores of 79, though Mr. Bigelow had a gross of 87 and Mr. Pike a gross of 100.

Dear one of my brilliant mother
And what delicate most
Of the earth that in store
But fact that he's our host!

So genial and so generous—
Each such character is rare
Because it flows from him to us
Is rendered doubly dear.

We're proud to have him call us guests,
To tell more when he sends,
As proven by a thousand tests,
That mine and mine's at mine.

Our people now their welcome free
Toward Prince of Wales come:
In plenty different case are we—
Are we welcomed by a prince.

A prince, and every day he flows
We made more sure of that,
He'd go to it if it gives,
A thorough democrat.

Not So Funny
An insurance salesman is looking for the practical joker who gave him a loaded cigar. The salesman doesn't smoke, so he treasured the cigar. Monday he gave it to a man who was about to sign a $100,000 policy. The cigar burst like a bomb and the insurance executive, customarily, ordered the salesman out. He went, with the policy still unsigned.—Detroit News.

Tree Surgery Bill

It is estimated that more than $5,000,000 is spent annually in tree surgery by the American public. The greater share of this has been expended in the preservation of ornamental, shade and historic tree growth.

Legend of Mazepna

Mazepna, the celebrated Cossack hetman of the Seventeenth century, was a prince at the court of Poland, but for some occupants was bound naked to the back of a wild horse, and driven out of Poland.

Peering into Celestial Secrets

this great telescope further emphasize what smaller instruments had proved; that the moon is a dry, arid, lifeless world, from which life has long since departed. The present condition of the moon, so plainly shown by the big telescopes, discloses what probably will happen to the earth, unless a collision with another celestial body should substitute a happier end for a lingering death.

When powerful telescopes are turned from the earth's small satellite to its great sun their disclosures are no less enlightening. They show that from the sun the earth would appear as small as a period on a printed page. So tremendous are some of the changes in the sun's surface which we call sun spots that 25 or more globes the size of the earth would be required to fill them.

Among other wonders which the great modern telescopes make known are swarms of myriads of stars where the unaided eye can see but five or six hazy nebulae which seem mere wisps of radiant gas and which are solar systems in the making, and stars so far away that it requires 30,000 years for their light to reach the earth. The light of these stars is so faint that two years must be spent in photographing them. Though some of the nebulae appear great holes seemingly devoid of any matter.

Sheep Sold Unborn

In the wool-growing states of the West it is a common occurrence for thousands of sheep to be sold before they are born. In Wyoming recently a deal was put through for the sale of 50,000 lambs at $7 per head, not one of which was yet alive.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

All useful fuel must first be converted into gas before it will burn. That's what people have been doing for years with their coal stoves, only they never thought about the "gas" part of it.

Today we ask you: "Why not let us keep the dirt, soot, cinders, ashes and smoke at our plant and deliver to you through our mains a clean, efficient, ready-to-use fuel?"

Gas service is the result. Who would want to do without it—to go back to the days of stinking cooking and the tea-kettle way of heating water?

People who speak of "the good old days," as if they would like to be living them over again, shouldn't be taken seriously. They don't mean it.

PRESIDENT IS HOST TO "BIG THREE"

President Coolidge relating the history of a sap bucket which was the property of his great grandfather. This bucket was presented to Mr. Ford by the President. The picture, taken at the home of the President's father in Vermont, shows left to right: Mr. Firestone, the President, Mr. Ford and Mr. Edison.

Washington—One of the outstanding features of the vacation trip of President Coolidge, who has just returned from a two weeks' stay at his father's farm in Vermont, was the visit of Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and Harvey S. Firestone.

On their annual camping trip, these three geniuses of industry and invention called upon the President on an automobile tour through New England, and for several hours discussed with him various problems and conditions. All three of them assured him of their hearty support of his candidacy for election.

The chief topic of conversation was the future prosperity of the country. The three camping companions assured the President that in their opinion the continued improving prosperity of the country depended upon the condition of the farmers. Agriculture must prove profitable for America to continue prosperous, they said.

"I think times are getting better, and fast enough to get the farmer in prosperous," he said. "We'll have great prosperity if the corn does not get nipped and crops in general are good."

Mr. Firestone declared that the farmer was the keystone of American prosperity.

"Conditions in this country will continue to grow better so long as the farmer is prosperous," he said. "He is the barometer by which to judge conditions. It is the basic industry of the country, and the one upon which our prosperity depends."

After leaving the President's farm Mr. Ford, Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone continued their tour through the Green Mountains, stopping now and then to talk with the people of rural New England and view the countryside. They spent the early part of their vacation at Mr. Ford's Wayside Inn, at South Sudbury.

Before visiting the President, Mr. Ford played host to 5000 New England farmers at his Wayside Inn estate at South Sudbury, Mass. With Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone he supervised a plowing and agricultural demonstration, and invited the Farm Bureau Federation to use his grounds for its annual gathering. On the same day the Holstein-Friesian Association gathered at Mr. Firestone's old homestead in Columbiana county, Ohio for its annual picnic. As the guests of Mr. Firestone, who sent his son, Harvey, Jr., to welcome them in his absence.

PARADE PICKUPS

Japan's Holy Mountain

A number of reasons enter into the fact that Fuji San is called "the holy mountain of Japan." Its perfection of beauty, its supposedly miraculous creation and the fact that on its slopes are many shrines cause thousands of pilgrims to hold the mountain in reverence and to visit it annually.

A perfect day, no finer could have been, had it been made to order. There was just enough sun to the air to make conditions ideal both for marchers and spectators.

There was the usual delay in starting. Whoever knew of a parade getting under way on time? There were few spectators along the route at the scheduled hour, two o'clock.

The Winchester police detail under Lieut. John Harrold presented a trim appearance at the head of the parade. Officers Danahy, Charles Harrold, Hogan, Archie O'Connell, Edward O'Connell and Bengard made up the detachment.

It was the first glimpse many of the town's people had gotten of Lieut. Harrold in his new regalia. Lieut. William Mohr, marshal of the parade was the recipient of many compliments from the spectators upon his soldierly bearing and the ease with which he handled his mount.

The dedication committee of the North End Improvement Association got plenty of applause all along the line. They had done a tremendous job, and their labors were certainly prolific of results.

We wonder if anyone can watch a company of Marines swing by without getting a good sized "kick" out of the sight. The "soldiers of the sea" are surely the last word in marching tactics.

Many of the Marines in line last Sunday passed up a day's leave to assist in doing honor to the memory of a "bud."

Brig. Gen. Charles H. Cole and aid marched on foot with Maj. Patrick O'Brien, commanding the 18th battalion of regulars. Chaplain William J. Farrell of the 26th Division and former chaplain of the 1st Division, and Allen Evans, Jr., rector of the church of the Epiphany.

The sailors from the Navy Yard were easily one of the features of the Encampment. In their white caps and dress blues with cartridge belts and legions the "rocks" appeared to good advantage. Between their company and the Marines the naval end of the parade was well taken care of.

We rather think many spectators were surprised to see so many firemen marching. Twenty-nine of a possible 32 or 33 men in the department were in line led by Chief Chief Gorman. The fire fighters were by no means the least attractive of the various turnouts. "Jack" Flaherty, Frank Duffy and Robert Scanlon drove the three pieces of apparatus which went over the route.

Hats came off all along the line as the masses of flags with their color guard went by.

We thought the local Legion Post had a turnout for the exercises. Many of the veterans of the Civil War and the Grand Army men and the Spanish War "vets" were the ranking marchers.

Traffic in the square along the route of the parade was efficiently handled by the Winchester Police. Sergeants Cassidy and Rogers, and officers William Cassidy, Farrell and Kelley did a splendid job. The press of cars following the parade at the junction of the Parkway and Main streets was directed by motorcycle officer "Billy" MacGone of the M. D. C.

Summing everything up the parade was the biggest thing of its kind the town has seen. The one held at the conclusion of the world war when the town got its first glimpse of its returning heroes may have held more of local human interest, but as a military spectacle Sunday's turnout was in a class by itself.

Chocolate in Europe

Chocolate made its appearance in Europe just four hundred years ago. The Spaniards were the first to make the acquaintance of this nourishing food in Mexico. For a long time it was distributed in France; but Anne of Austria formed the habit of taking her cup of chocolate every morning; the court imitated the queen; the city imitated the court and the chocolate-drinking habit quickly spread.

"Straw Vote"

There is an old saying, "Straws show which way the wind blows," meaning that a small thing may indicate which way a larger event will turn. A vote, therefore, entirely unofficial and taken by an individual or company, often shows which way an official vote will go.

Handwriting Telegraphy

Handwriting now is transmitted by telegraph as a regular service by the French Post Office department. Already French banks are handling telegraphed checks for a perfect reproduction of the original. A new system is transmitted electronically over the wires.

What Are They All Saying About "One-Shot"?

NOTABLE among the new features of the 1925 Cleveland Six is the "One-Shot" Lubrication System which eliminates all greasing of the chassis by hand. No other automotive improvement of the year is the subject of so much discussion.

Owners now are often being stopped and asked, "Is it as marvelous as I have heard? Show me how it works!"

Step on the Plunger—And Oil the Entire Car

To lubricate all moving chassis parts, you merely step on a plunger. You do not leave the driver's seat. You never have to use a grease gun or an oil can.

With this exclusive, patented feature, you are saved the frequent inconvenience of leaving your car for several hours for a thorough greasing.

The danger of neglected chassis lubrication will never bother you again.

Your car is always free from squeaks and rattles. For "One-Shot" can be used whether the car is standing still or moving. See this famous feature of the newest, finest Cleveland Six!

Mileage Motor—Four-Wheel Brakes—Balloon Tires

Then after you have seen how "One-Shot" works—get behind the wheel and test the Mileage Motor.

Its phenomenal hill-climbing power, flashing pick-up, and speed of over 60 miles an hour, make it probably the most efficient power plant in use today.

Study the entire car and you will sense the reason for its popularity:—

Bodies that are roomy and aristocratic in appearance; genuine super-size balloon tires as standard equipment; four-wheel brakes as optional equipment at a slight extra cost; and rugged, long-life construction throughout.

So fine a car was never obtainable at so low a price. Arrange today to drive yourself! Touring car $1095; Five-passenger sedan, $1395; f. o. b. Cleveland.

THE NEW LINCOLN SCHOOL

NEW LINCOLN SCHOOL OPEN

No Formal Dedication Will Be Made Public Inspection Later

The new Lincoln School on Westley street, the largest and finest of the four schools erected by the Town under its school building program, was opened for use on Monday, the first day of school, without formal exercises or observance. Owing to the final touches and the necessary cleaning, the scholars were enrolled and dismissed for the day, returning the next day.

The Lincoln School is the largest of the group of four erected by the town. All are now in use with the exception of the Mystic, which it is expected will be taken over about the first of the year.

The Lincoln school has been built from plans from the office of Ritchie, Parsons & Taylor. It is a building in northern Italian style, constructed of dark red waterstruck brick with rust stone trimmings, and a tile roof. The building faces Washington and Westley streets. On the lower floor are rooms for a kindergarten, two progress classes, headquarters for Americanization work, and an auditorium to seat 400, together with toilets and shower baths. On the second floor there are eight class rooms, together with the necessary teachers' and nurses' rooms. The building is set well to the front of the lot, leaving ample room in the rear for play grounds.

WINCHESTER POLICE TAKE FOUR SPEEDS

Sunday evening, Aug. 31 proved a poor night for four motorists who decided to try out the speed of their machines on Cambridge street in competition with the motorcycle officer of the Winchester Police Department who happened to be in that vicinity and looking for just such violations of the motor vehicle laws. Officer Danby made the arrests, he having been detailed to ride the machine on that night in the absence of the regular motorcycle officer, Edward O'Connell. The cases of the four automobilists came up in the Winch Court last Tuesday at which session Henry J. Dumas of Wakefield, Edward S. Pitts of Cambridge, Russell Spring of New Lower Falls and Lanny H. Wimer of Cambridge were found guilty of driving at excessive speed and fined $25 apiece. Dumas was first noticed by officer Danby on Church street when he failed to blow his horn at the intersection of that street with Bacon and Fletcher streets. When the motorcycle officer started after him, the chimp he put on speed but was overhauled and taken into custody on Cambridge street. The highest rate at which any of the cars were alleged to have been going was 50 miles an hour, made by Spritz.

FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Wednesday morning in the District Court at Woburn officer Danby of the Winchester Police Department was the complainant in the case of Lanny H. Rose of Roxbury whom he had arrested on the night of Sept. 1, on the charge of operating a motor vehicle so as to endanger the lives of the public.

According to the police version of the arrest, Danby was riding the department's motorcycle along Cambridge street when Rose cut out of the line of automobiles which was approaching the intersection of Church and High and attempted to pass the machine ahead of him. As he did so he almost ran the motorcycle officer down, the latter being forced almost into the water basin north of Church street to avoid being struck.

In court Rose was found guilty of driving "so as to endanger," as charged by the police, and was fined $25.

LETTER FROM MISS WINN

Winchester Girl Sends Interesting News From China

The following letter from Miss Margaret D. Winn of this town, daughter of Mrs. B. E. Winn and missionary in China, is printed for its interesting account of Oriental conditions and travel.

Petaiho, Chihli Province, China
July 20, 1924

Dear Mother,

Here I am at Petaiho! As I write this to you, I hear the roar of the ocean.

Now for my trip: I took a Blue Express train from Shanghai to Nanjing. The Blue Express is as good if not better than any train in the homeland. I had a most delightful time at Gilling College which is a sister college of Smith. The Chinese girls were so fine and did so well in their rendering of the play "Isaiah." The teachers were an inspiration to meet. I met a Miss Case who graduated in the same class as Bertha and Josephine.

The next stop was at Chufow, the birthplace of Confucius. The hotel accommodations were splendid. The rooms were so attractive, furnished in mahogany and the Chinese sitting room and English sitting room were most attractive. How I wish I had a pen to describe Chinese sitting rooms and Chinese architecture. The long blackwood chairs and tables are so very beautiful and the Chinese roofs and windows so fascinating. As so glad of this chance of seeing beautiful Chinese homes for most of the time. The Chinese girls have been unfavorable but now I know that the Chinese homes can be even grander than American homes. Well, Chufow was a mile or so from the cart and rode six miles over the sandiest, dustiest road I've ever ridden over. I wish you could have seen our faces and dresses! We literally had a cloak of sand over us. But I can't rave enough over Confucius' burial place and I am glad I saw it even if I was almost shaken to pieces in jostling over the dustiest road. We saw a very beautiful statue of Confucius and lovely carved pillars and many beautiful old trees and one tree which Confucius himself planted. Here Confucius has a beautiful memorial tablet, also his wives and sons and disciples. At present there is a little boy living here who is the 74th descendant of Confucius and he is brought up just as Confucius was. Tai Shan was our next stopping place. This is the Holy Land of China. Pilgrims have gone here for 4000 years. Tai Shan is believed by the Chinese to be the greatest mountain in the world. Buddhists, Confucianists, Taoists, all worship at this mountain. It has a splendid rock bed room and a flight of 6300 stairs to the very top of the mountain which is eight miles up to the top. This great staircase was said to be built before the Christian Era. There are two gates that we pass through. One is called "The Middle Gate" and the other "The Heavenly Southern Gate." All the way up there are sayings about this being the most holy mountain and then on the ice crevices and glaciers characters and wonders how they were chiseled there for one can see no place to rest the foot. They must have built wooden stairways and some sort. There are temples to Buddha and Confucius all along the way, also some Taoist temples. The journey upward is most interesting and the scenery all around us is entrancing. The chair bearers are very sure footed and they belong to a clan whose motto is not to slip. They are all molemen. The journey down was full of thrills, yet the men didn't run too fast and they were so sure footed that after the first steep descent I ceased to be scared and enjoyed my trip which was made in half the time that it took to go up. Coming down one of the chair bearers picked some pretty flowers. Forget-me-nots, golden-rod and tiger lilies grew in abundance. The hotel that night looked good to us and the accommodations were perfect. They served us a fine dinner and the ice cream refreshments were great. That night we got on the train at 11:20 on our way to Peking.

Peking, how can I describe it adequately? No one would like the dust of Peking. In the morning rooms are dusted but at noon no one would know it. Rooms have to be dusted three times daily. One's dresses get so dusty and grimy looking and one's hair and nostrils get so filled with dust. But the imperial buildings of Peking are very beautiful with their golden tiled roofs and their artistic windows, pillars, painted eaves. Everything about the imperial houses and grounds make one feel as if they were walking amidst enchanted places. The summer palace with its long promenade and its lakes and its marble carved pillars and its varied statues of lions, deer, dragons, cows, etc., and its wonderful furnishings within, must be seen with one's own eyes, for the summer palace is beyond one's description. You can't imagine how thrilled I was when I realized that I was walking where emperors, empresses, and princes had walked. The more I saw of the beauty displayed there, the more I admired a people that could create such beauty. The winter palace, the Forbidden City, the Temple of Heaven and the Altar of Heaven, all were entrancing. In the Forbidden City, the throne room was wonderful. The huge cloisonne incense burners in the shape of pagodas were extremely beautiful. The blackwood davenport with inlaid jade and the long mirrors with carved wood frames and the pictures all were beyond description. The ceiling and pillars in this room also were exquisite.

My trip to the great wall was very interesting. We went third class on the train and going up were crowded with many Chinese and one man who had been drinking rice wine and the odor of it made us almost sick. Coming back the car wasn't so crowded, yet the air wasn't all that one could desire. From the statue to the foot of the great wall, I rode on a donkey. It was my first ride on a donkey and I enjoyed it immensely. The great wall extends over hill after hill as far as one can see. One wonders how men could bring stone so far and one realizes what fine masons they were thousands of years ago to have constructed such a wall.

We had a great time visiting bead, rug and cloisonne shops. Our 12-day stop at Peking will never be forgotten and I hope because of the wonders I have seen to be more helpful to others.

It is a day's journey from Peking to Petaiho. Petaiho is a splendid summer resort reminding me of a summer resort at home. There are over a thousand foreigners, Russians, Italians, French, Eurasians, English, Scotch, Americans are here. I am staying at the Conference Grounds and we have a beautiful view of the sea and go in bathing every day. Every summer they have a summer school for the missionaries. Dr. Mac Innis of the Los Angeles Bible School is the main speaker and he is giving a course on Hebrews. Dr. Lovrie, one of the head ones in the Presbyterian organization is another speaker. Mr. Davis of the International Pocket Testament League fame who was with Alexander has come for a visit to China. He has recently been conducting a series of meetings with General Feng's army. You have possibly read about General Feng's army being the purest army in China and the reason is because General Feng is a Christian. It is great to meet missionaries from all over China and realize that there is quite an army out here who are trying with Christ's help to better China.

Whatever of this letter you think will be of interest to the public, why you can make a copy of it. The Star might be glad to have the news of the Imperial City.

I have forgotten to mention that the Emperor is 21 and is living in the Forbidden City. No one is allowed to see his living quarters or to see him. He is married to a Manchurian. Why foreigners are able to see the palaces, etc., is because of the fact that China is a republic.

The Peking Union Medical College founded by Rockefeller is one of the best hospitals in the world. There is a large staff of doctors and nurses both foreign and native. The rooms for the foreigners are beautifully furnished and the sitting rooms are lovely. The Chinese wards are fine too and the operating rooms and the laboratories and the examination rooms are all perfectly equipped. The laundry is most fascinating to watch and it is all run by machinery.

I have seen so much that to express all adequately would make a good-sized book. I hope I have given you at least a glimpse of the wonders I have seen through the pictures I've sent.

With love,
Margaret D. Winn

WINCHESTER TAKES MAYNARD

Kelley Shuts Out Strong Visiting
Outfit 3-0

Winchester Legion continued its winning stride on Manchester Field last Saturday afternoon winning its last home game of the season from the strong Maynard Town Team, 3-0, in a tight, hard fought ball game that was interesting throughout.

The visiting club came to Winchester with a fine reputation and a strong lineup, and it can not be claimed that its players did not put up a fine game. The Legion was extended to the limit to get the decision, and, as in the case of the Woburn series, the deciding factor was the pitching of old reliable Mark Kelley. Kelley's hard another grand game out there, holding the Maynard sluggers to four scattered hits, and issuing only one free pass. An indication of the class the leg fellow was showing may be obtained from the fact that three times during the course of the afternoon the visitors had a run on third with only one away, and were unable to push the tally over.

LeFus pitching for Maynard threw good enough ball to win the average exhibition, but a pass to Lane in the fourth followed by "Ade" Blowers' terrific triple and Hatch's single led to his undoing, and gave the locals enough runs to win without their third which counted in the sixth.

FIRST INNING

Maynard—Gilligan threw out Gladu. Maynard singled to center and went to second on a wild pitch. Marsden took third as F. O'Brien went out. Gilligan to Hatch, but was stranded when Cody grabbed T. Marsden's fly. No run, one hit, no error.

Winchester—Gilligan popped to R. Marsden. Cody grounded out at T. Marsden. Unassisted. Nelson died to O'Brien. No run, no hit, no error.

SECOND INNING

Maynard—Shanahan drew a pass and advanced a base on Bulger's sacrifice. Kelley to Hatch. Soules fled to Gilligan. Lane took Morgan's long smash off the left field banking. No run, no hit, no error.

Winchester—Lane struck out. Blowers walked and went around to third on Donnell's single to right. Charlie going to second on the attempt to get "Ade" at third. Hatch rapped to Bulger and Blowers was out at the plate. Loftus tossed out Matthews. No run, one hit, no error.

THIRD INNING

Maynard—Loftus was safe when Lane dropped his fly. Gladu hit into a double play. Kelley to Nelson to Hatch. R. Marsden fanned. No run, no hit, one error.

Winchester—Kelley popped to O'Brien. Bulger threw out Gilligan. O'Brien took Cody's fly. No run, no hit, no error.

FOURTH INNING

Maynard—Gilligan threw out O'Brien. T. Marsden fled to Nelson. Kelley tossed out Shanahan. No run, no hit, no error.

Winchester—Nelson fouled to Morgan. Lane drew a pass. Blowers tripled to left center scoring Lane. R. Marsden threw out Donnell. Hatch singled by third scoring Blowers. Matthews forced Hatch. R. Marsden to O'Brien. Two runs, two hits, no error.

FIFTH INNING

Maynard—Bulger skied to Lane. Soules got a double when his hit to right took a hop away from Donnell. Soules went to third while Gilligan was throwing out Morgan. Kelley threw out Loftus. No run, one hit, no error.

Winchester—Kelley out. R. Marsden to T. Marsden. Gilligan singled to center. Cody hit into a double play. R. Marsden to O'Brien to T. Marsden. No run, one hit, no error.

SIXTH INNING

Maynard—Gladu rapped out to Hatch. Unassisted. Marsden singled to right. O'Brien lined to Blowers. T. Marsden lifted to Gilligan. No run, one hit, no error.

Winchester—Nelson fled to O'Brien. Lane singled to left and went to third when Gladu mugged up Blowers' single to center. "Ade" stole second. Mayne was over ahead of the throw on Donnell's bounder to O'Brien, but Blowers was picked off third by a sharp throw from Morgan to Bulger. Hatch fouled to Morgan. One run, two hits, one error.

SEVENTH INNING

Maynard—Shanahan stopped at second when Cody threw into the crowd on his grounder and went to third while Cody was throwing out Bulger. Soules fled to Cody and the same player retired Marsden at first. Hatch making a nice pickup of his low throw. No run, no hit, one error.

Winchester—R. Marsden threw out Matthews and also retired Kelley at first. Gilligan fanned. No run, no hit, no error.

EIGHTH INNING

Maynard—Gladu was safe when Hatch lost Cody's throw from third. Gladu advanced to second. Kelley to O'Brien. O'Brien fouled to Matthews. No run, no hit, one error.

Winchester—Cody fled to O'Brien. O'Brien threw out Nelson. Lane lined to Shanahan. No run, no hit, no error.

NINTH INNING

Maynard—T. Marsden struck out. Shanahan dropped one safe in left. Bulger hit into a double play. Gilligan to Nelson to Hatch. No run, no hit, no error.

Notes
Not so cold as the Saturday previous and a fair crowd was on hand, including many rooters from Maynard.

Loftus in the box for the visitors is a brother of "Dick" Loftus the Brooklyn National's outfielder.

Gladu, the Maynard center fielder, formerly played for Tufts and was rated a good hitter. He wasn't able to show much against Kelley, and he had plenty of company.

Lane saved a run in the second when he grabbed Marsden's cracking liner off the river bank after a hard run. He took the ball over his shoulder, and "Ade" Blowers claimed he couldn't have done better in his palm-lose day.

That same Blowers was the king of the hitters for the afternoon with two hits out of two times at bat including a triple which at no time in its course to center field was more than four or five feet off the ground.

Morgan, the fifty catcher of the visitors split his finger in the very first inning, but continued after treatment. He made a nice catch of Hatch's foul in the sixth taking the ball right at the Maynard bench.

Manager LeDuc came to the job in the fourth when Bulger came to bat with "ape" wound around the business end of his budgeon. The player was quite peeved when his umpire, DuLong made him choose a new stick.

T. Marsden, Maynard's tall first sacker failed to hit safely but he surely took one mean cut at the ball. He dropped one foul across the river in the sixth. It was just as well, the hit was not fair as there was a runner on at the time.

Both pitchers seemed to be wasting many balls, but it wasn't too safe sticking that crumple in there. The hit off Kelley came in the first, fifth, sixth and ninth frames. Not much bunting there.

O'Brien, the Maynard second sacker accepted nine chances without a slip-up. His side-kick, R. Marsden, at short grabbed off seven.

The crowd along the first base lines appreciated having the kids kept back of the seats. Officer Daney spent a busy afternoon.

Next week we plan to print the record of the team and individual players for the season. These statistics are always interesting to the real baseball fan, as they go far toward settling many arguments on who is who in the lineup.

WINCHESTER LOST AT MAYNARD

Winchester Legion lost the return game with the Maynard Town Team last Sunday afternoon at Maynard, 4-2.

Manager LeDuc sent Kelley right back at the Maynard boys for the second time in two days, and everything considering the big boy pitched well enough to have won the ball game. It is usually the part of poor sportmen to blame those officiating for the loss of any contest, and it is a practise that has always been frowned upon by the local management, but when the Legion players were told by Maynard fans they had gotten a raw deal at the hands of the umpire, there does seem to be some grounds for complaint. Twice the Legion had tying runs on bases and twice batters were called out on questionable balls, a third strike on "Max" Kelley landing in the dirt besides being wide of the plate. This sort of thing makes it difficult for any team to show to advantage, and the local boys have nothing to be ashamed of at the exhibition they put up.

Another decision which broke up a rally and which did a lot to spoil Winchester's chances was one which called Cody forced out at second when he was standing on the bag before the shortstop threw to the baseman. Anything might have happened, had the correct decision been given in this instance as the locals were beginning to hit. The Maynard manager, and would have had the bases loaded with the cleanup men in the batting list up. No one minds an official missing one or two in a while, but the above decisions were too obviously wrong to be listed as mistakes. It is significant to note that Maynard has not lost a Sunday game at home all season and it really looked last Sunday as though it wasn't in the books for Winchester to break their winning streak no matter what happened.

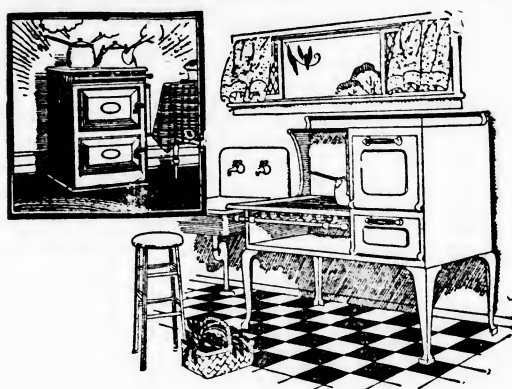

The score by innings:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Maynard 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 1 4
Winchester 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 2
Batters: for Maynard, Boyce and Morgan; for Winchester, Kelley and Mathews.

THE COVERED WAGON AT STRAND THEATRE, WOBURN, NEXT WEEK

Bigger than the biggest circus. Not even the extravagant press-agent of the greatest show on earth could excel the truth regarding the production of "The Covered Wagon" for Paramount which comes to the Strand Theatre, Woburn, next Monday for four days, with matinees Tuesday and Thursday. Fifty carloads of material were shipped to the location at Baker, Nev.

In addition, one thousand Indians, and more than two thousand white persons are seen in the picture. Also there are upward of 1000 horses, several hundred mules and 500 covered wagons. The center of activities was at the Baker Ranch. Prior to arriving there, director James Cruze spent several days at Antelope Island in the Great Salt Lake, making a buffalo hunt with 500 head of bison on that island. J. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson head a splendid cast.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Weeks of Pine street are returning this week from Saubornville, N. H., where they spent an enjoyable summer.

Cooking the Cook

The modern housewife turns a gas cock, lights the oven, puts in her roast, sets the thermostat to control the heat and then busies herself at some other task while the meat is cooking.

She knows little of the misery of her foremothers who for centuries could cook their food only by half-baking themselves.

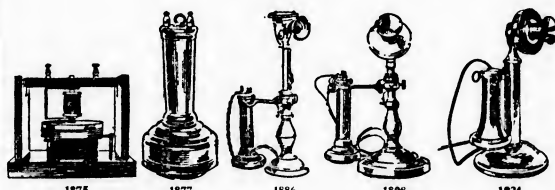

The first gas range was built in 1839, ninety-three years ago. Today, in the United States alone there are more than seven million domestic cooking appliances in use.

Of the vast yearly sale of manufactured gas, totaling some 326 billion cubic feet, more than half is used for cooking and water heating, without a thought of cooking the cook.

TELEPHONE ARLINGTON 2000

The First Telephone and Some of Its Successors

New England and the Telephone

THE telephone was born in Boston, was sponsored by New England brains and New England capital, and from this corner of the United States started out on its world-wide career.

As an agency of distribution, our service ranks with that of the railroads. Every business man is concerned quite as deeply with the problem of distribution as he is with the problem of manufacturing.

We believe we are of service in helping to bring to New England the raw material necessary to its factories, and in helping to distribute the finished products not only throughout New England, but to all quarters of the world.

Telephone service means to us the completion of 5,000,000 calls per day right here in New England. It is our desire to handle this immense volume of business expeditiously and correctly. To do this requires not merely adequate equipment maintained to a high standard of perfection, but also individual team play of the highest order by 25,000 employees.

We are preparing to play a larger part in the advancement of New England and the development of its enterprises.

READING ON STREET CARS

CAUSE OF EYE-STRAIN

Reading on the street cars causes a great deal of eye-strain, is the verdict of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Not only is it bad for the eyes, but it is impossible to focus correctly because of the motion of the car. Commuters who have to read for long periods are sorry to find this, as it is a warning that the world seems wasted without reading the morning paper or the latest book. However, a small paper or one to read in the car is a blessing. In the morning plan the day program. In the evening decide whether you want to read or not. If you do, read with your will, so it will not take so much of your time or the subject's time to buy them the next day, but give your eyes a chance. Don't read.

THANKS TO VOTERS

Sept. 16, 1924

Dear Sir: Permit me, through your paper, to thank those who voted for me for the Republican nomination for Congress.

In a field of five candidates to come in a good second I feel was a most excellent showing. Especially is this true since Cambridge has already had the Congressman for 12 years.

I made up my mind at the outset that I should conduct a clean campaign. This I did, refraining at all times from attacking my opponents. I should prefer to lose than do otherwise.

I shall support my successful opponent, Mr. Harry I. Thayer and do everything in my power to aid, not only Mr. Thayer, but the entire Republican ticket.

Of the pleasures and benefits which come from a campaign, successful or unsuccessful, the greatest is the friendship made. I value the friendships made most highly and I hope later to have the privilege of thanking personally those who were so good as to lend their names and influence to me.

WOBBEN TANNERIES THREATENED

Winchester residents will be interested in the recent action of the Health Council of the State Department of Health in issuing an order forbidding the disposal of liquids by certain Woburn tanneries in such a manner as to cause them to enter the Abenjon Valley flowing through this town.

All Woburn is aroused over the ruling, which if adhered to, will bring about the closing of tanneries in that city having an aggregate payroll of $1,000,000 yearly.

Without sewerage facilities which are non-existent at present, the tanneries can not but be compelled to use the Health Council's order, and the alternative of shutting down is viewed with alarm inasmuch as it would mean the cutting off of the city's principal industry.

According to Chairman Samuel W. Mendum of the Woburn Health Board, calling for a vote on the matter through the Abenjon Valley was presented to the legislature last year, but was defeated, though there appeared to be plenty of public opinion in favor of the measure.

In the meantime plans are being formulated to use whatever immediate action the state of the city's principal industry.

Miss Frances Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel C. Hill, 111 side avenue will attend Normal Art School this year. Miss Hill is a recent graduate of Wheaton.

"And you were such a good friend of Dick's that you never asked him about his insurance for his family, and he didn't have a dollar's worth."

The above remark was addressed to a Life Insurance salesman by the widow of a man whom he knew so well that he felt it would be an intrusion to suggest Life Insurance to him.

FOUR AUTO SMASHES DURING WEDNESDAYS STORM

It is thought that slippery roads, the result of Wednesday's rain storm, may have been responsible for three of four accidents reported after noon on that day.

The first occurred on Wildwood street at about 2 o'clock when a Packard touring car owned by Mr. E. A. Tutin of Wildwood street and operated by his son, Richard, was in collision with a Dodge sedan owned and operated by Mrs. Annie M. Puffer of Harrison street. The Puffer car was jammed in the rear by the Packard, both cars being headed north, and had its gas tank and spring broken, and both rear mudguards bent. The Tutin car had its left front mudguard, headlight and bumper broken.

Mrs. Puffer was badly shaken up as a result of the collision and was taken by Mr. Tutin in his car to the Tutin home on Wildwood street where she was treated by Dr. Burleigh.

The next two accidents were reported within 10 minutes of each other, the first occurring at 2:20 p. m. on Forest street when the Hampshire touring car of Mr. Luther F. Vanecey of Stoneham skidded while making the turn from Forest street to Washington street.

The Hampshire car turned completely around, and the right rear wheel struck the edge of the sidewalk, breaking the wheel off at the hub. The occupants were unharmed.

At 2:30 p. m. the front wheels of a Dodge truck driven by Ralph Langens, 60, of Florence street, buckled when the machine was on Washington street near the Winchester-Longmeadow line, causing the truck to turn over.

Both cars were damaged. The Dodge was removed to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. Burleigh. The Hampshire car was taken to the hospital and treated by Dr. Burleigh.

The last of the four accidents occurred when a Ford sedan operated by Mr. J. Dean of Woburn was in collision with a Packard sedan owned by John W. Griffin of Abenjon. At the time of the collision the Packard was coming out of the parking space in front of Lyceum building at the Ford was heading north. No one was reported injured but both cars were badly smashed.

FOOTBALL SQUAD HARD AT WORK

Winchester's football prospects are looking brighter as a result of the faculty ruling made this week declaring Francis Melly, crack center on the championship eleven of two years ago, eligible to represent the school this year.

The return of Melly will do much to bolster up the weakness on the scrimmage line as he is a particularly strong player with plenty of experience and the ability to keep going under fire. Last season due to a transfer ruling he could not play football, but two years ago he was second to none of the snapper-backs playing the game in the Mystic League.

Another man to report this week is "Pat" Beget, a veteran of three years' experience, and with the necessary weight to hold his own with any of them. With Beget and Melly on the line things look a lot better in that department, but the backfield presents a problem which will send plenty of soliloquies.

As things stand now Coach Roberts has but one experienced back, Elvio Rolli, who played quarter last season. Should the school in retaining his old position it will still be necessary to develop two half backs and a full-back from the green yearlings.

During the past two days' scrimmaging various men have been tried out as backs, and it is hoped that by the first of October a definite combination can be determined upon so that something in the way of teamwork may be developed before the season opens with Stoneham, Sept. 27. Harriman, a transfer from Boston English High and Walworth, who has been shifted from the line, are showing promise in the backfield.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

SEPT. 13 TO OCT. 11

Exhibition of Photographs loaned by the Library Art Club

The "Wonderland of Peru, No. 2. The Ruins of Machu Picchu. This wonderful city, which was built by the Incas about 200 years ago, was discovered in 1911 by Prof. Hiram Bingham of Yale University, and situated under the auspices of the National Geographic Society and Yale University. The city is situated on a narrow, precipitous ridge 2000 feet above the sea, in one of the most inaccessible parts of the Andes, 60 miles north of Cuzco, Peru.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB ON TOP IN MYSTIC LAKE EVENTS

The half-mile race for club fours in cedar canoes which was to have been the feature of the water sports held by the Winchester Boat Club last Saturday afternoon on Mystic Lake had to be postponed an exhibition when the crew representing the Medford Boat Club collided with the leading boat of the local club and tipped over just inside the narrow.

The untimely finish of the race was most unfortunate as it was the first contest for the new Marshall W. Symmes Cup recently donated by Mr. Symmes to stimulate inter-club athletic competition on the lake.

Medford put in an appearance for the race with but three men in their best, including Clifford Lougee, stroke, Edward Vetter, No. 3, and Charles Vaughn, No. 4. In order that the race might be gone through with "Win" Palmer of the Winchester Club was loaned the victor to combine with the local boy paddling at their own risk.

The second race started at the 10:30 mark and was won by the local crew in the narrow. The Winchester crew was out of the race, second place going to the Winchester No. 2.

Clifford Lougee of Medford B. C. won the quarter-mile canoe race single paddling event by one length over Kenneth Pratt of Winchester. John Pratt of Winchester was a close third.

Bob Hight and John Pratt of Winchester turned the tables in the next event, the tandem single paddling quarter-mile race, defeating Lougee and Charles Vaughn, Medford B. C. by a half length. Phil Hight and Kenneth Pratt, Winchester, were third.

The tilting tournament was won by John Pratt, Winchester B. C. over Alan Hovey, Medford B. C. after two trial heats.

PROFESSOR CHARLES ZUEBLIN

During his later years Professor Zueblin had been an independent lecturer on democracy in literature and life, devoting a good portion of the season to the discussion of the civic and municipal problems in relation to the practical needs of communities. He was a pioneer in the promotion of civic revivals.

In 1902 Professor Zueblin's first book was published, "American Municipal Progress," which was considered a vivid, informing, and encouraging account of the urban renaissance through which the United States had been passing for 25 years. His "Decade of Civic Development" was issued by the University Press in 1905. In 1908 he published the "Religion of a Democracy," a frank discussion of the demands made upon religion by the spirit of true democracy, and in 1910 appeared his "Democracy and the Overman."

Professor Zueblin, in addition to his Rinehart lecturing, edited the Twentieth Century Magazine in Boston from 1911 to 1912, and was for several years president of the American League for Civic Improvement.

In his younger days the Professor made quite a name for himself as a golfer having won among other trophies, the Essex County Cup, the trophy of the club known by that name. He was good enough in the various club tournaments around Boston to receive considerable attention on the various sporting pages.

Though able to spend only portions of his time in Winchester during the 15 years he has had a residence here, Professor Zueblin was, nevertheless, well known locally, having always taken a keen interest in the civic, and especially the educational affairs of the town. At the time his family left for Europe Mrs. Zueblin was serving as a member of the local school committee tendering her resignation to accompany her husband and children abroad.

The members of Professor Zueblin's family who survive him and who were with him at the time of his death include his wife, Mrs. Rhos Fiske Zueblin, and one daughter, Anne, and a son John.

On Monday noon, as the 12:08 train was starting from the station, a coal truck of the Parker & Lane Co., operated by Michael McNeill, ran through the lower west gate at the center crossing and smashed it. According to eye witnesses the truck stopped all right at the gates, but when the traffic officer on the opposite side turned his signal to "go," the driver evidently forgot about the gates and started up. The gate on the opposite side of the crossing was broken a week previous by an automobile, and had just been repaired.

"DAVIS CUP" TENNIS AT BOAT CLUB

The tennis tournament for singles at the Boat Club for the Davis cup is entering its third week. There are still a number of numbers to play in the first round but the committee hopes to end the final match by the last of the month.

The match between Win. Palmer and Ralph Furrington furnished some fast tennis for the audience. It was a question who would finally win, for first one won and then the other with Win on the long end of the score 10-8 and 7-5.

Hall Gammage eliminated "little John" Pratt 6-1 and 6-3. John played remarkably well to stay with Hall as long as he did because Hall is going like a breeze this year.

Francis Randlett put out H. Wray Bohman after losing the first set to Bohman 12-10. Randlett said he wouldn't have lost the first set if there had been a big gallery like appeared during the last two sets. As soon as the crowd gathered about the court Randlett began to perform and Wray got stage fright and lost the last two sets to Francis 6-2 and 6-1.

The match between Kenneth Pratt (commonly known as "Weenie") and Harold Meyers proved the comedy match. "Weenie" appeared on the court in sailor pants, boat club jersey and a sailor hat with a black feather. If he thought this rig would frighten "Kelly" Meyers he sure was mistaken for Harold soon showed Kenneth that tennis was a whole lot different from paddling and paddled "Weenie" to the tune of 6-2 and 6-2.

Hall Gammage rose to unlimited heights and defeated Francis Randlett 6-0 and 6-3. If Hall can keep up the pace he will certainly have Hall Gammage engraved on that cup "Bill Davis presents."

Stephen Thompson and Albert York furnished the crowd a great match with "Steve" emerging the winner 6-2 and 6-4. It looked as if "Steve" was in a little difficulty several times but flashed some wonderful placements when he was in danger.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Eustice left town last Tuesday afternoon for Tonasket, Wash. where they are to spend two months with their daughter, Mrs. M. C. Seelye who makes her home at that place. Following their stay in Washington Mr. and Mrs. Eustice plan to move on to California where they will visit another daughter, Mrs. F. A. Gray, and a son, Mr. W. St. B. Eustice. They will be gone all winter. Mr. Eustice has recently resigned as Town Treasurer, a position he has held continuously for the past 14 years.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Apsey of Synnues road have returned from Lake Sunapee, N. H.

HOOD'S MILK IS PASTEURIZED MILK

Public Health authorities, the country over, agree that Pasteurization is an absolute essential to a safe milk supply. In many cities, no raw milk, other than Certified Milk is permitted to be sold.

We pasteurize Hood's Milk because we believe you are entitled to the utmost protection in your milk supply and to this end use every safeguard that science has devised.

Milk is the only food that nature provides in which all the elements needed by the human body are present. Growing children need milk and lots of it.

Many authorities insist there can be no normal growth without milk. We know that children who consume a liberal supply of milk, outgrow physically and mentally children who get little or no milk.

Your children should have a quart of milk a day. It should be clean, rich, wholesome, SAFE milk. To be sure that they get milk that measures up to these vital requirements, give them Hood's Milk.

A Hood wagon passes your door every day. Leave your order with the salesman on the wagon, send a postal or telephone. You can have Hood's Milk at once.

CHANDLER BRINGS OUT TWO DE LUXE SEDANS

New Metropolitan and Chummy Models Are Striking in Appearance and Appointments

Two new sedan models of striking beauty in design and unusual richness in all their appointments have been brought out by Chandler. They are the Chummy Sedan, the distinctive Chandler two-door model that combines the advantages of the five-passenger sedan and the four-passenger coupe, and the Metropolitan sedan de luxe, both of them glorified models of cars that have long been leaders in the Chandler line.

Both models are equipped with a new type windshield, described as the greatest single advance ever made in closed car comfort and convenience. This windshield is absolutely full-visibility, being without divisions or rubber strips, yet gives a far wider range of ventilation than ever was available before. The entire windshield is a single plate of glass, so arranged, in felt lined grooves, that it may be raised vertically by means of a regulation window crank. Every operation of raising or lowering may be performed by the driver while the car is in full motion.

The new bodies, while distinctively Chandler in appearance, are a striking departure from previous sedans of the same make. Both are much longer, giving the appearance of great length, an effect that is heightened by the new double belt of moulding, the lower head running the full length of the car. At the rear the tops are beautifully rounded, giving a brougham effect, and a new type leather-covered visor makes a marked improvement at the front.

The interiors are as greatly in advance of the previous models as are the exteriors. The woodworkings are of cireassian walnut, and the instrument board and full-width ventilator are paneled in walnut; to match. The seats have been made deeper, and are covered with high grade mohair plush in a beautiful gray, with carpet to match. The interior hardware is a combination of silver in dull and bright finish, new in design.

The motorist will be particularly impressed with the advantages of the new windshield, as it is the first design that does away with the inconveniences of adjustment and regulation, usually requiring the driver to stop and even leave his seat.

The new windshield is designated as the VV type, signifying vision and ventilation. An ordinary window regulator, such as is used to raise or lower the glass in the car windows, is mounted over the windshield in front of the driver. A half-turn of the regulator raises the glass vertically a distance of one inch. In this position, air does not flow directly into the car, but follows a course under the lower edge of the glass into a ventilator that extends the full width of the body. The air is led down between the instrument board and the dash, setting up a circulation throughout the car.

Further turning of the regulator raises the glass still higher, so that it rises above the edge of the ventilator, admitting air directly into the body of the car. A strip three inches high, in addition to the area of the ventilator, may be opened, giving an area of 125 square inches for the direct flow of air.

The ventilation may be further controlled by means of the car windows. With the shield raised only a small distance, and a rear window opened, circulation is set up that will completely change the inside air every few minutes without strong draughts. Both new models are powered by the famous Pikes Peak motor and incorporate the traffic transmission with its certain, crash-proof action. Standard equipment includes full balloon tires, nickel radiator shell, motor meter, bumper, automatic windshield wiper, regulated from instrument board, and an improved type leather-covered visor. Standard colors are black and Luxor blue.

VISITING NURSE AND HOSPITAL NOTES

The executive board held a meeting with the men's advisory committee at the Health Center Tuesday evening. Four of the five members of the men's committee were present, Mr. T. Gratton Abbott, Mr. Lafayette Chamberlain, Mr. Francis Mullin and Mr. James Nowell.

Mrs. James Russell, Jr., gave a luncheon at her home on Wolcott road on Thursday for Miss Norton. Dr. Frederick Moore of Cambridge was among the 12 guests present.

Present and former members of the Visiting Nurse Board have given Miss Norton a handsome diamond and sapphire bar pin as a token of their esteem, and to show their appreciation of her untiring interest and loyalty to the hospital. It is with deep regret that they have accepted her resignation which will very soon take effect.

The room is now being prepared for the X-ray machine which will be installed the first of the month. Mr. Houghton of Stoneham is giving a fine Victor X-ray which is made by the General Electric Co.

The embankment in front of the hospital has been cut down so that the coal tanks can now back up to the windows and put the coal in much more quickly.

The entering class of eight nurses has begun work and is now entering into the regular work of the training school.

The interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Musical Tone Opens Lock

A newly invented lock for safes has just been exhibited at Birmingham, England, the peculiarity of which is that, instead of opening to a numerical combination, it does so to a musical tone. In other words, if the cracksmen who attempts to open a safe door slugs a G sharp when the lock has been attuned to G flat he will be thwarted. Safeblowers of the future, instead of carrying a kit of jimmies and "bits," will have to have a set of tuning forks.—Musical America.

Most Valuable Gem

Probably the most expensive stone in the world is the stone known as the oriental amethyst. This is really a sapphire of amethyst color. Our amethysts are only quartz. Real amethysts, emeralds, rubies and sapphires belong to the corundum series and are all of the same composition. There are only a few of these valuable oriental amethysts in the world and these are guarded by Indian rajahs.

15 New Studebakers

Including an entirely new type of car—the DUPLEX-PHAETON

Today Studebaker has made Automobile History and established standards of value and quality more fully and obviously than ever before

TODAY Studebaker proves that beautiful, distinctive, stylish body lines can be originated by American body designers without following precedent or imitating or adapting what has been done before.

Today Studebaker proves that a practical and beautiful type of car can be made to combine the pleasure and performance of the open car and the comfort and protection of the closed car—and this without excessive price or compromised quality—a car "duplex" in open-car smartness and convenience and closed-car elegance and comfort—and at a price no higher than that of an open car!

Today Studebaker proves, in its new Standard Six Duplex model, that a six-cylinder car of fine quality, great power, plenty of room and impressive appearance can be made and marketed at a price of $1445.

Today Studebaker proves in its new Special Six and its Big Six Duplex models that the ultimate in all the essential features of quality in five- and seven-passenger cars can be made and marketed at a price of $1653 and $1875 respectively.

And this is possible only because Studebaker cars are made in one of the most comprehensive industrial plants in this country, 70 per cent of which is new within the last six years.

Every modern method of manufacture and long experienced management are available for the production of Studebaker automobiles.

Today Studebaker proves that the highest grade closed car bodies—framed in selected hard woods, cushioned with the best cushion work, upholstered in fine mohair fabrics and fitted with expensive appointments—can be made and marketed on superlatively good chassis at moderate prices.

This is made possible by the new $10,000,000 Studebaker closed body plants. Studebaker designs and builds all of its closed bodies in one of the best equipped and most modern body plants in the industry.

The Three New Chassis

THE STUDEBAKER STANDARD SIX—113 in. wheelbase, 5-passenger. Engine, 3½ x 5½, 50 b.h.p.—with 6 different bodies, including Duplex-Phaeton, Duplex-Roadster, Coupe-Roadster, Coupe, Sedan, and Berline.

THE STUDEBAKER SPECIAL SIX—120 in. wheelbase, 5-passenger. Engine, 3½ x 5½, 65 b.h.p.—with 5 different bodies, including Duplex-Phaeton, Duplex-Roadster, Victoria, Sedan, and Berline.

Three completely new chassis! 15 completely new bodies!
Completely new lines! Marvelous new performance Completely new open-closed car!

Completely new radiators, new fenders, new lamps, new seating comfort, new finish, new colors in lacquer finish, three improved engines
Real balloon tires, not low-pressure cords. Sizes: 21" x 5.25" to 20" x 7.30"

New Studebaker automatic hydraulic 4-wheel brakes—optional

New values, never before equaled—even by Studebaker!

THE STUDEBAKER BIG SIX—127 in. wheelbase, 7-passenger. Engine, 3½ x 5½, 75 b.h.p.—with 4 different bodies, including Duplex-Phaeton, Coupe, Sedan, and Berline.

The Ten New Closed Bodies

COMPLETELY NEW BODIES—each car a masterly expression of modern style, yet distinctly original in beautiful lines—individual, conservative, impressively elegant, but crisp enough in its departure from imitation to be entirely distinctive.

The Five New Duplex Bodies

(A new type of car originated by Studebaker to take the place of the open car)

SO ENTIRELY NEW and so different from any other body ever made before that a new name had to be created—the DUPLEX.

The upper structure is shaped in pressed steel and covered with the finest water-proof fabric. The steel construction permits the use of another radical Studebaker creation, the new roller enclosing curtains. There is the permanent beauty and durability of the steel top plus the instant convenience of the roller curtains.

Thus Studebaker engineers have solved the open-closed car problem.

The buyer who wants the aliveness and practical convenience of the open car and who also wants the comfort, protection and beauty of the closed car can now get both in one car and at the price of an open car.

One moment the new Studebaker Duplex is a beautiful open car—a touch of the hand to the over-lapping roller curtains and it is a snug weather-tight closed car.

Ballon Tires

Genuine and full size balloon tires on all models. Every part that functions with the tires has been specially designed for balloon tire equipment—steering gear, steering knuckles, spindles and springs, even the fenders.

New Lacquer Finish

The Standard Six closed bodies are beautifully finished in semi-gloss, satin lacquer. The hood and lower panels are in light gray, the upper panels in darker gray. Hairline parallel striping in oriental red. Burnished nickel radiators, jet black fenders, light golden finished, natural wood wheels and big balloon tires are contrasting touches.

The Standard Duplex Models are finished in glossy jet enamel—lasting, lustrous and wear-resisting.

The Special Six and the Big Six Duplex models are in soft satin lacquer with dark blue hoods and bodies striped in light blue and ivory. Here, too, the sparkle is added with burnished nickel radiators and light, natural wood wheels in contrast with jet black fenders and big, black balloon tires.

More Power

The universally famous Studebaker engine is more than ever a peer among power plants. The crankshaft is heavier. ALL surfaces are perfectly machined to exact dimensions and balance. The bearings are larger.

The engine is in unit with the clutch and transmission. There is a force feed lubrication system with clean, strained oil always in reserve. There are many changes and improvements which result in MORE POWER, MORE QUIETNESS and SMOOTHNESS and STILL BETTER PERFORMANCE in every way.

New Brakes

Larger, more powerful, simpler and much easier operated two-wheel brakes. An entirely new emergency brake is operated from the instrument board, instantly convenient to the driver's hand where it simplifies the control and frees the floor board from the old style lever. It acts on the propeller shaft. There is uniform pressure at each wheel—equalized through the rear axle.

The regular two-wheel Studebaker brakes with their simplicity, safety and great braking power are entirely adequate.

But Studebaker 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes (with disc wheels) can be furnished as optional equipment on all models at extra charge if desired. Studebaker 4-Wheel Brakes have three exclusive features not found on any other system in this country.

1. Braking pressure is furnished by hydraulic power automatically developed. A light touch to the braking pedals controls its great force like a touch to the throttle controls the power of the engine. This feature will appeal instantly to women.

2. The front wheels cannot lock.

3. There are only two adjustments required—one at each rear wheel. The front brakes are permanently adjusted at the factory. The oil in the transmission is used to generate the hydraulic power; the action of the gears and the pump keep it in circulation; it cannot congeal or freeze. Braking power is always instantly ready—in winter as well as in summer!

New Ease of Operation

New Ease of Gear Shifting—New power in braking, a touch to the pedal exerts a giant's strength at the rear wheels—New clutch action, soft as velvet—A new steering gear and steering knuckles designed for balloon tires—A new grouping on the dash, including ALL the usual instruments plus a gasoline gauge that always works accurately.

Lighting Control Switches—all on the steering wheel—instantly handy.

Automatic Spark Control—No manual attention required, so the lever is eliminated. Automatically governed to all speeds with the precision of machinery.

And the Details

The new cars are longer and lower to the ground. The line from the radiator to the rear is nearly straight. The wheelbase of all models is increased.

The fenders are much wider and deeper crowned to cover the width of the tires. They fit more closely over the wheels. The rear fenders are long and gracefully curved into the running boards.

The radiators are high and set low in the frames and convex curved just below the filler cap. The design is strikingly original and beautifully distinctive.

Entirely new hood lamps and cowl parking lamps designed by Studebaker—artistically appropriate and in perfect keeping with the originality of the body and fender design.

Deeper, stiffer frames, more cross members; shorter, flatter springs for balloon tires. All bodies lower, all roomier, better and more comfortably cushioned. Seats are lower, backs and sides are higher.

Look Forward Into Next Year

The new Studebaker is here today! And no matter how sweeping your ideas of what a new model should be this car will satisfy you. It will thrill you with the very newness and originality of its beautiful lines!

You may not be in the market now, or even this year. But to see the new Studebaker is to look forward into next year—and the year after! SEE IT TODAY!

Mollusk Does Harm

A small mollusk known as a pholad, has been reported to have caused extensive injury to the brickwork at Calcutta. The creature cuts its way into the bricks where the surface glaze has been destroyed. In this particular case they were destroyed after having penetrated to about half an inch, but scientists believe that except for that they would have destroyed all the brickwork.

Best of All Patients

A doctor who had taken up as his specialty the treatment of skin diseases, was asked by a friend how he happened to select that branch of medicine. "There were three perfectly good reasons," replied the physician. "My patients never get me out of bed at night; they go to work, and they never get well"—Chicago Herald.

Vary Only Slightly

The word "encyclopedic" is the name of a work given usually where its terms are arranged in alphabetical order, a summary of some single branch of knowledge, as a encyclopedia of music. Sometimes the word is used in a wider sense for the word "encyclopedic," which is the name of a work containing information on all subjects or extensive of one subject, arranged in systematic order.—Kansas City Star.

The Rose in History

The rosary of religious services is named for the rose, crushed roses, according to chronicles, having been stringed before the advent of beads. And we are told that the expression, "sub rosa," came about because the Romans used to paint a large rose on the ceiling of their banquet halls as a reminder to those present that what occurred was not to be repeated.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN SUMMARY

As a result of the campaign of last spring to raise funds for the Hospital, the amount subscribed was as follows:

Amount Subscribed	$23,197.97
Cash Paid	12,573.95
Charges	216,405.36

As will be recalled, these pledges are payable in six semi-annual installments, the first one of which was due last July. Notices sent out at that time brought in the very gratifying results of pledges as follows:

Paid in full Totaling	$23,636.00
Partial Payments of	$28,723.42
Gratuitous Cash Payments	15,675.92

Total Amount of Cash Received to Date 67,035.39

This includes Winchester, Stoneham and Reading.

In spite of this very gratifying response, there are a number of pledges on which no payments have been made. This is undoubtedly due in part to the fact that the only call which has been sent out so far came in the midst of the vacation season when many people were away.

The next payment will be due on January 1 and it is hoped that notices of payment due at that time will meet with a hearty response. In the meantime, any payments already due will be gladly received by Mr. William K. Priest, at the Winchester Savings Bank.

BASEBALL SUNDAY AT MAYNARD

Winchester Legion will journey to Maynard Sunday for a game with the Maynard Town Team to settle the series between the two clubs which now stands one all. The Maynard management has been after Manager LeDuc for another game since the last meeting between the two clubs, and George finally decided to take them on again. The Legion boys would have liked to settle their argument with Maynard on the local diamond, but this was impossible owing to the erection of the football goal posts for the fall sports season. Hence the game at Maynard, which will probably be the last of the season. Manager LeDuc is out to win and will have a strong combination on hand next Sunday. As far as is possible he will adhere to his former lineup, but where players are unavailable he will fill in with performers on hand next Sunday. Game will start at 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Albert Pickering has purchased from Clark Davis his 45-acre farm in Maine.

CHARLES ZUEBLIN

To the Editor of the Star:
Word has just reached me of the death of Charles Zueblin. The people of Winchester should know better than they do how great a loss his death is. I am not big enough a soul to attempt to do justice to his memory but I hope you will give me space to say at least a few words about him.

The men of Winchester came in contact with Mr. Zueblin mostly through golf at the Country Club. Most men we play games with are good sportsmen. I think Charles Zueblin was the finest sportsman I ever had the privilege of meeting. He can't imagine a more sensitive, courteous and considerate opponent who never failed to demand that his opponent have every advantage; who so consistently and completely disregarded his own rights; who would fight on against any odds without knowing what it was ever to quit; who never knew what it was to give; and who never let a game to him who took it so gamely and even blithely.

I mention the qualities he showed in sports because it was the same qualities he showed everywhere in life and not many had the great heart that was mine of seeing how he played and how he came to him. It was always so. The good-will of his fellows would have meant a lot to him as it would to most of us but his ideas of playing the game made him deliberately turn away from men's approval, because he had to gain the approval of someone else.

The things for which he stood were mostly contrary to current opinion of America and of Winchester. How absurdly unimportant it is whether any man agrees with us or not in comparison with how infinitely important it always is whether or not a man be true to what he believes.

It requires but scant knowledge of history to recognize that current opinion, if it has not always been actually blind and sordid and wrong; at least always has been immature; if there had not been valiant souls always ready to stand squarely opposed to what their fellows firmly believed, then the standards of the civilization would be our standards still today.

Among these valiant ones, the name of Charles Zueblin must be written. Some of the ablest in America will bear witness to the powers of his mind and the clearness of his vision. An merely trying to say that Charles Zueblin was about the biggest, bravest, most considerate and unselfish big soul I ever knew.

BELEN FRANCES ORDWAY

The death of Belen Frances Ordway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Ordway, of 20 Myrtle street, was very suddenly due to the influence of a brief illness.

Belen Ordway was a graduate of the Winchester High School, class of 1912, she entered St. Mary's College. There she specialized in Biology and in friendships. After graduation, she went to the University of California, where she chose to be in the Women's College of Brown University, where she received her M. A. and was elected to Sigma Xi, the honorary scientific society. To her Biology was fascinating, and she had the gift of making it so to others. Students discerned in her not only a teacher but a close personal friend. They besought her with their problem of reconciling science with religion, and went away with new understanding and joy. They sought her counsel in matters of intimate personal concern and never failed to find help.

Almost four years ago the appearance of cancer ended her college teaching. While she was fighting this disease she gave a course on the Bible at the Conservatory of Music under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Last year she served in the Mt. Vernon Congregational Church, Boston, as an assistant with the young people, and for two summers she taught Nature Study at Camp Andover under the auspices of the City Missionary Society.

During the last months of her sickness hundreds of letters from former professors, colleagues, students, camp boys and girls and other friends, together with quantities of the most beautiful flowers, have borne witness to her remarkable influence and to the affection in which she was held. Many looked to her as their best friend and she has never denied the obligations of a friendly interest. Always she has sought to give of her radiant best.

A very thoughtful devotion to the realm of the Christian faith has given her strength to bear her own load and to hold out a hand of friendly help to others struggling along the way.

Her passing to the larger life leaves behind joyous memories and worldly inspirations to an unusual number of her charming friendships. Besides her parents, her family includes a brother, Philip S. Ordway of Bangor, Me., and two sisters, Elizabeth I. Ordway of Bangor, Me., and F. Flor, both of Winchester.

Services were conducted at her home on Monday at three o'clock, with the Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church of this town, and the Rev. Sidney Lovett of the Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, officiating.

DR. JOSEPH MORRILL PUTNAM

Dr. J. Morrill Putnam, formerly a prominent practitioner of Chelsea where he was city physician for many years, passed away early Saturday morning at his home on Main street after an illness of several months. He was in his 76th year.

Dr. Putnam was born in Groton, the son of Dr. J. H. Putnam, of Groton. He was educated at Lawrence Academy, Groton; Harvard College, and the Bellevue Medical School, New York City. He was a member of both the American and Massachusetts Medical Associations.

For 35 years following his graduation from the Bellevue Medical School, where he served as city physician and for three years as physician at the Soldiers' Home. At the time of the outbreak of the Spanish influenza epidemic where he lived for eight years before coming to Winchester to make his home with his son the late Dr. Ralph Putnam.

Dr. Putnam is survived by his wife, Mrs. Harriet A. Putnam, by a daughter, Miss Beatrice Putnam and by two grandsons, Robert J. Putnam, a student at Exeter and Henry M. Putnam, a pupil at the Winchester High School.

Funeral services were held at the late residence last Sunday afternoon conducted by the Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the Winchester Congregational Church assisted by the Rev. Henry A. Smith Pastor of the Congregational Church in West Medford. The honorary pall bearers included Mr. D. M. Crosby, Seaview, Mr. Charles G. Hough of Belmont, Mr. Raymond Merrill and Dr. Harry Y. A CORRECTION

To the Editor of the Star:
In the edition of the Winchester Star of Sept. 12 there was published an article containing an appeal for cars to carry patients into a Boston Hospital; by mistake the name of Mrs. Catherine O'Connell was included. We wish to correct this statement and say that at the present time Mrs. O'Connell is not a patient of any Boston Hospital.

Mrs. Bowen Tufts

Much interest has been shown about the center in the operation of the steeplejack who is engaged in painting the lofty steeple of the First Congregational Church on Church street. The work is being done in connection with painting the entire edifice after the summer alterations. Seated in his bosom chair the worker, Steeplejack Olsen of Woburn, presents a dizzy spectacle perched on the side of the lofty tower which must rise more than 150 feet above the ground. Mr. Olsen who is one of the best steeplejack workers in this vicinity is nearly 75 years of age, and it is said that he threatens to make each ascent his last one.

HARVEY-BEGGS WEDDING
LAST MONDAY

Miss Isabel Louise Beggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Richardson Beggs of Winchester and Mr. Kenneth Austin Harvey of Woburn, Mass., were united in marriage last Monday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, of Woburn. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

The house was most artistically decorated for the occasion with a charming floral arrangement by Mrs. J. H. Harvey, and a seven piece orchestra. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. J. H. Harvey, and the bridesmaids were Miss Thea Drott of Woburn, Miss Helen Gagnier of Newton and Miss Virginia Harvey of Woburn, sister of the groom.

Mr. Stanley Lyons of New Bedford attended the groom as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the newly married couple being assisted by Mrs. Arthur (Larrell) Harvey, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Richardson Beggs, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Strong of Newtonville, Mr. Edward Leonard of Newton, Mr. Roger Harris of Dallas, Texas, all together with the best man, assisted by the groom at Dartmouth, and Mr. Daniel Beggs, Jr., brother of the bride.

Withington of Ridgefield, Conn. The house was beautifully decorated for the wedding, ferns, palms and pink gladioli being tastefully and charmingly arranged. The bride's dress was of white satin crepe trimmed with pearls and Brussels lace. Her veil was of Brussels lace and tulle, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Starr of this town, and Miss Louise Johnson of Bethlehem, Pa., sister of the groom. They wore dresses of pink satin crepe trimmed with ostrich feathers, and carried bouquets of white roses and gladioli. Mr. Thomas Earle, Jr., of Worcester was best man. The couple were also attended by a little flower girl, Miss Marjorie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Brown of Norwood street, and Master Samuel Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. FOOTBALL TOMORROW ON MANCHESTER FIELD

Winchester High School starts its football season tomorrow on Manchester Field when it will entertain the Stoneham High eleven in a game that should go far toward settling the rivalry between the two schools. The boys have high hopes for the year. Stoneham had a good outfit last season and it is understood that a sufficient number of veterans are available this year to warrant the expectation of another strong team.

Winchester's prospects are not so rosy, graduation and ineligibility having deprived the team of several of its best players. What he has is neither heavy in the main nor particularly experienced. This lack of experience is especially noticeable in the backfield where only one veteran man, Rolli, will start. In the line things are much better as the players have had at least one year's experience with the exception of one of the ends. It is on his line that the coach must depend.

Winchester's chances this fall, Francis Melloy, a sweet pivot man, who was ineligible last season, has been O. K. by the office this fall. He will play Hegel and will take a center line. The team is for the most part light and must depend on speed to a greater extent than in former years. The boys have been working hard and are confident of making a good showing. They will need plenty of support in their first game and it is hoped that a good crowd will be on hand to encourage them in the opener tomorrow.

The tentative starting lineup includes Melloy at center; Gannett, Hegel and Johnson. Tackles, Captain Cassidy and Dabney; Ends, Robinson and O'Donnell; Quarterback, Toller; Halfbacks, Robinson and Fairman; Fullback, Halverson. "Bull" Robinson will do the punting.

WILL THE MAJORITY VOTE BE INTELLIGENT?

Cultured Critics Must Not Fail to Vote

"Uninformed intelligent voters come to the fore at the coming November election the United States is approaching an election in which integrity will have a menacing influence," Miss Belle Sherwin, president of the National League of Women Voters said recently in discussing the League's campaign to bring out its goal of 25 per cent increase over the 1920 vote. Only 19 per cent of the people voted in 1920.

Pointing out that national educational authorities claim there are 4,000,000 illiterates, over 21 years old, in this country, Miss Sherwin called upon intelligent voters "to exercise their voting right as a simple patriotic duty." "Unless all citizens are reeducated to the polls they cannot truly be called Americans," Miss Sherwin said.

"We talk of Americanization, we even carry on Americanization work for others, and yet those who can be of education and knowledge of public affairs are the very ones who neglect the balloting privileges and responsibilities," Miss Sherwin continued. "In November we choose government heads and decide issues. Will we have a verdict from the intelligent majority?" At every election the party machines bring out a controlled electorate to vote. The vote is not controlled except by itself, and is not controlled by without even trying to see what the vote of all the people would mean. "Year in and year out intelligent citizens discuss government—what is right with it and what is wrong with it. Fault is chiefly found with the use and misuse of governmental machinery; a criticism that indicates an interest in government, but which cannot be constructive if it ends in talk. No matter how just the condemnation may be, it is only destructive unless backed by ballots. The ballot in the last analysis is the voters' only hold on government. Honest administration and efficient management may be promoted by public opinion, but are actually compelled only by votes cast one by one, as every prudent leader knows." [Bulletin, Mass., League of Women Voters.]

NARROW ESCAPE IN CENTER

What was characterized by inability to control one of the strangest sights they had seen in the square for many years occurred last Sunday night shortly after 11:30. Fanny it undoubtedly was and yet the humor was tempered with just a hint of the tragic for had John A. Sjostrom been a scant three minutes ahead of his time in arriving at the railroad crossing and had then attempted to drive his heavily laden Overland touring car along the south bound tracks in the direction of Boston his machine would have been in the direct path of the 11:30 inbound train and anything might have happened.

As the story goes Sjostrom was operating his car south along Main street toward the center en route for Quincy and his home. Apparently he was not in the full possession of his faculties but he was sure that the best way to reach his destination was by way of Boston. Driven on upper Main street to follow the car tracks he was evidently confused when he arrived in the center and saw three lines of track stretching in front of him.

Sjostrom knew he had to follow one of them and elected that of the Boston & Maine heading his car toward Winchester station. The machine went smoothly until it struck the sleepers at the end of the platform running through the center and then the going got decidedly rough. After some 50 feet along the ties the Overland decided it had had enough and came to a stop and abetted by Sjostrom who had come to the conclusion that he would try some other route for Boston.

By that time Officer Reagan arrived and was informed by the puzzled motorist that he (Sjostrom) had stopped because of seeing a red light ahead. The red light was on the rear of the 11:30 train which was pulling out of the station and had been just three minutes too fast to avert hitting the auto.

Sjostrom was taken into custody by Officer Reagan and the remainder of his party left for home. In the District Court Monday morning he admitted that perhaps he had partaken of too much ginger ale and alcohol, and it was just possible that he had not been in the best of condition for operating a motor vehicle. After hearing the story Judge Morton sentenced Sjostrom who was in a penitentiary mood to three months in the House of Correction, and a $10 fine, and suspended the sentence for one year.

LEGION BASEBALL SEASON SUCCESSFUL

Team Playing Good Ball at End of Season

The Winchester Legion baseball team brought another successful season to a close a week ago last Sunday when they lost the second game of a two game series to the strong Maynard Town Team at the latter's grounds, having won the first of the two the afternoon previous on Manchester Field.

This year the Legion wisely decided to fight shy of twilight ball, and has confined itself entirely to Saturday baseball, playing nearly all games at home on Manchester Field. The season has been very successful, on a win and loss basis since 11 out of 18 games played have resulted in victories. Among the teams which the local club has defeated are the strong Boston Monarchs, Franklin Motors, Lawrence K. of C. Woburn City Club and Maynard Town Team. For a time the Legion was looked as though there would be no town baseball this year, and it was largely through the enthusiasm of Mr. Nathan Thumlin that the Legion finally decided to put on a team in the field.

After a poor start due to much dead wood on the playing roster, Manager George LeDuc was allowed to go ahead and get the players he desired. The result was a fine club which finished a nine round baseball losing but one home game after the first of August.

As is usual in most organizations the work of running the business end of the team was largely done by a few faithfuls who deserve much credit for their efforts to give the town good baseball during the summer. Warren Johnston, Tom McKee, Les Johnston, Newcomb Bacon and a few others have labored hard and without reward and should receive more than passing mention.

The makeup of the team at the close of the season, which was easily the strongest of the many combinations tried out, showed an infield consisting of Ralph Hatch, ex W. H. S. Gilligan, late of Dilley Post at second, "Johnny" Cady, the Lynn slugger on third, and "Dave" Nelson, the former Maynard star, playing shortstop. In the outfield have been Myles Lane, the ex Huntington play-outter and twilight batter in center and "Charlie" Dunsen of Medford, High and B. C. in right. The pitching has been done by Mark Kelley, former ten state hurler and veteran right hander and Francis Tansy, left southpaw who pitched such sensational ball for Winchester in the schoolboy ranks. The catching assignment has been well handled by "Ernie" Mathews, the old High School star backstop.

George LeDuc, Winchester's veteran manager, who has been associated with town baseball for many years and who has never failed to produce a good outfit, has been at the helm of the team again this season and deserves all the credit for the fine comeback which the team made after its poor early season showing. George LeDuc has been the official scorer, season may prove of interest. They have been computed on the basis of the 18 game schedule and do not include figures for the game played at Lexington last Sunday.

The team has had a winning average of .611 and has batted for 274 runs and scored 241. "Jim" Prior led the team in batting with an average of .419 for nine games with "Ernie" Mathews showing the way with .393. For the club figured in more than half the schedule. Blowers, Kelley, and Gillis all showed perfect fielding records in the games in which they figured. Ralph Hatch led the regulars in fielding with a percentage of .972. Complete statistics follow:

WINCHESTER LOST AT LEXINGTON SUNDAY

The Winchester Legion baseball team lost a post season game to the Lexington B. C. C. on the latter's grounds last Sunday afternoon, 8-1.

In a game that was characterized by plenty of hard hitting. "Danny" MacFaylen, the sensational hurler of last year's Southerville High outfit was on the rubber for Lexington, and though nipped for nine safeties by the locals managed to keep out of danger most of the time. He was backed by a strong club including Coughlin, the Malden Two catcher, Connie Murphy, late of Dartmouth, "Jackie" Hevey, "Chuck" Beach and Dempsey, late manager of the Reading twilight team.

Kelley, pitching for Winchester was not in particularly good form, and was hit rather hard by the Lexington sluggers who were also aided by some rugged work on the part of the local fielders.

The future of the game from a Winchester standpoint was the pecking of Mathews and a cracking two bagger by Francis Tansy.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The Annual County Convention was held in Melrose Tuesday, the 24th. Reports for the year indicated progress and unusual activity. Six new unions have been formed in Middlesex and the membership for the County is 1500. Mrs. George Hamilton was unanimously elected president for her sixth year in office.

The Winchester Union held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. George H. Hamilton on Friday afternoon, Sept. 19. Delegates were elected for the State Convention which is to be held at the Clarendon street Baptist Church, Oct. 21, 22 and 23. This convention will have some very unusual and interesting features because it is to be the 50th anniversary of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union which was organized in the Clarendon street Baptist Church in 1874.

Pertinent answers were read from the Democratic and Republican nominees for governor to the following questions. What do you consider the best method of securing prohibition enforcement? Do you favor bringing the State laws into conformity with the Volstead Act?

with the needs and wishes of the People. All laws should be enforced with vigor. The Volstead Law in its present restricted form transmits human nature, penalizes the law of God and nature, mocks divine writ, seeks the impossible, lacks public support, is laughed at by the rich, held to be oppressive by people of moderate means, breeds immorality, hypocrisy and lawlessness. Its enforcement is in the hands of secretaries and snarls of an illegitimate union of Church and State. The People want beer all white and do not want Raffles' law, hotels, or saloons. The law should be amended before the Republic is transformed into a nation of hypocrites and bootleggers who scoff at all laws.

Mr. Alvan T. Fuller's reply is as follows:

A right enforcement of the law. A selection of officials to enforce the Prohibition Law who believe in the justice and equity of it and who will insist upon the most rigid enforcement. That those whose duty it is to actually enforce the law should be public officials who obey the law themselves and who believe in its enforcement and who bring to the task of enforcement something more than words and something less than a well-schooled private coterie of pre-Volstead liquor. Yes, I believe absolutely that the state laws should be brought into conformity with the Federal Prohibition Law, i. e., the Volstead Act.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Many people seem to get pleasure in seeing all the bad there is, and in making everything about them gloomy. Like the old lady who said she was thankful to the Lord that her husband was poor.

No man should rest upon his laurels, else he will soon lack the laurels to rest on.

We are all of us responsible for our own lives, not to build and regulate them according to other people's ideas.

For all your days, prepare, and meet them ever alike. When you are the anvil, hear—when you are the hammer, strike.

WINCHESTER JUNIOR TENNIS STARS COMPETE AT LONGWOOD

An indication of the hold which tennis is getting upon the youth of Winchester may be obtained from the fact that some 27 young people from this town competed in the open tennis tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club last Saturday for boys and girls who had not reached their 15th birthday the first of last January.

Such a show of enthusiasm among the young who speaks well for the future of tennis in Winchester, and with plans laid out to provide more opportunity and better facilities for playing the game here in town it is reasonable to expect that some fine players may be developed here in succeeding seasons.

Rev. William S. Parker, to whom much due to many other members of the church, and with plans laid out to provide more opportunity and better facilities for playing the game here in town it is reasonable to expect that some fine players may be developed here in succeeding seasons.

Therefore, the fact that most of the Winchester competitors fell out in the early rounds of the play caused little concern. In fact, it was to be expected. Having so many willing and anxious to go to Longwood even in view of a probable trimming is the important thing to bear in mind.

And some of the local entrants did very well last Saturday. In the girls' singles Louise Packer survived the first three rounds and stands as the only chance for the semi-final matches to be played tomorrow while Katherine Nowell is still in the play having advanced to the third round. In the mixed doubles "Sonny" Tufts and Louise Packer have advanced thus far, and this same "Sonny" paired with Roland Sherman is carrying Winchester's banner in the boys' doubles. In the singles for boys Herbert Ross and Frank Carleton have stuck along to the 4th and 3rd rounds respectively.

Special mention should be made of the showing of James Dunlop who was eliminated in the third round of the boys' singles after defeating no less a player than N. W. Niles, Jr., son of one of America's ranking net stars, in the round previous. "Dimmy's" work becomes all the more remarkable when one remembers that previous to last Memorial Day he was unable even to score a game of tennis.

The list of those who competed at Longwood from Winchester includes the Misses Charlotte Moley, Cecile de Corrolls, Nancy Bradley, Frances Pettigall, Virginia Merrill, Virginia Tompkins, Sara Baugher, Mary Louise Carpenter, Louise Packer, Barbara Guild, Mildred Johnson, Katherine Nowell, Frank Carleton, Herbert Ross, James Dunlop, Maurice Tompkins, Lawrence Palmer, Thad Smith, William Black, Lawrence Keepers, "Sonny" Tufts, Roland Sherman, Sydney Paine, D. Bates, William Morton and William Baugher.

ELKS' CARNIVAL ATTRACTS CROWD ON OPENING NIGHT

The big fall carnival of the Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. O., opened up brilliantly last night at the Town Hall grounds. With good weather, even though a bit chilly, a big crowd was on hand to take advantage of the many opportunities for amusement provided by the several committees who have worked so hard to make the carnival one of the big, best affairs of its kind in this entire district.

As a starter for the big opener, Styles' Band of Boston paraded through the principal streets of the town in their specially constructed band wagon, and followed with a brief concert in the square before proceeding to their stand at the corner of Washington and Mt Vernon streets where the advertised concert of the evening was given, and much enjoyed by the crowd, which was beginning to throng the big midway under the trees on the Town Hall lawn. Nearly every one of the many organizations in town are co-operating with the Elks in making the affair successful and there is considerable rivalry between the several floats which showed themselves in the attempts to entice prospective spenders to patronize one stand as opposed to others. But the competition was good, varied and there were plenty of people to keep all the booths busy.

In the Town Hall as yet, the booths were lined up with amazing mechanicals and divers for all. At intervals those who were so minded could do a bit of the best kind of dancing in the hall, a dance orchestra having been provided to furnish music.

And now who didn't take the carnival in last night, there still remain two big evenings. Festivities with continue tonight and tomorrow night, the fair, too, which was the whole affair will come on Saturday evening when the beautiful Studebaker sport car, a considerable win by several of the Elks, will be on display. Tomorrow's stand up over the car, and it will well repay every one to be on hand when the carnival is over, and there will be special gifts and toys for the kiddies to buy at their own performance of the carnival.

No one who was at the opening last night can doubt the work which the Elks and their assisting organizations, especially their auxiliary, the Emblem Club, have done to put the carnival on a higher than average plane, and by the way the people responded for the opening night, their efforts seem destined to be crowned with success. Band concerts and dancing on each of the two remaining evenings and the band will be on hand for the kiddies' show Saturday afternoon.

He Left Hastily

Two years ago I left over the Dixie highway from central Georgia to Indianapolis, writes a correspondent. While passing through the mountains of Tennessee I espied a bush, well laden with ripe berries, growing by the side of the road. Of course I stopped and began to pick and eat them. "Be-z-z-z" and I certainly moved away from there in a hurry, because a rattlesnake was warning me that I was encroaching on its property.

Well, How About It?

First Use of Money

While coins had been made and money used to some extent, it was not until it became a world power in the centuries just preceding Christ's birth that money became fluid and took an important place in affairs. It was also at this time that soldiers were first paid for their services.

AUTO CASE ATTRACTS MUCH INTEREST IN COURT

After occasioning widespread interest and proving the most talked of happening in town since its occurrence on Monday afternoon, Sept. 15, the case came up out of the painful injuries sustained by Miss Mary McCardle of 807 Main street, when she was knocked down near the corner of Main street and Elmwood avenue and lay on the ground by the driver of the machine that hit her came up for its trial in the District Court yesterday morning.

Because of the great local interest the court room was thronged, and it was finally deemed necessary to clear the room of spectators to provide room for several of the witnesses involved.

The case had its first hearing last Monday when three Winchester men were summoned by the Winchester Police to appear in court in connection with the accident. The three men who appeared before the Judge at that session were William G. Byrson, Charles T. Stevenson and James W. O'Connor, all of whom had been named as being either driver or been in the car that struck the injured girl.

As a result of the continuance of the case Thursday, Stevenson, and Byrson were discharged, and O'Connor was found guilty on the charge of having departed without making himself known after injuring a person with a motor car, and on the charge of operating so as to endanger the lives of the public, and of operating a motor vehicle after his license to operate had been revoked. The court had previously found him guilty of driving the car that knocked down Miss McCardle who is in the Winchester Hospital suffering with a compound fracture of the right leg and a general shaking up.

The police version of the case is as follows. Stevenson, who is employed as a chauffeur by Mrs. Sarah L. Tenney of Calumet road, the owner of the sedan which the woman had taken the car to be repaired by O'Connor and Byrson. While driving in the Falls previous to the McCardle accident they had been in collision with a Somerville machine, and it is thought that they were on their way to repair Mrs. Tenney's car when they were down the woman near the Metropolitan Garage. Without waiting to aid their victim, the men fled before the Winchester authorities could get on the scene.

After rushing Miss McCardle to the Winchester Hospital the police began their investigation of the accident. During their attempts to locate the driver of the car, which was supposed to have been in a repair shop, the officers received many delinquent accounts of the accident from various alleged eye witnesses, and finally after searching all the corners of the town, found O'Connor, Stevenson, and Byrson and were summoned to court.

As a result of the court findings O'Connor was declared guilty on the three counts mentioned above and sentenced to three months and 10 days in the House of Correction, and fined $50 by Judge Morton. He appealed his sentence and was held in $1000 bonds for the Superior Court. As for the automobile having only the operator of a motor car can be held in a case such as the above, Stevenson and Byrson were discharged by Judge Morton after hearing the various testimony.

MOST RIDING IS DONE FOR FUN

Results of the most extensive survey of highway transportation ever made, which was carried on in Connecticut by the United States Bureau of Public Roads in cooperation with the Connecticut State Highway Commission, have recently been made public by a preliminary report.

While former transportation surveys have merely recorded for a brief period of the number and type of vehicle operating over a highway system, the Connecticut study, which lasted a year from Sept. 1922, to Sept. 1923, gave detailed information on such items as motor-truck makes, capacity, trips per week, trip, origin, destination and type of shipment.

For passenger vehicle, passengers per vehicle, business or non-business usage, origin, destination and mileage were noted.

Here are some of the findings of the survey: Passenger traffic averages 2.6 persons per vehicle and 45.1 miles per car per trip.

Thirty-five per cent of the passenger motor-truck is primarily for business purposes and 65 per cent for non-business purposes.

Passenger business traffic averages 1.7 passengers per car and the non-business traffic 2 passengers per car with an average trip mileage of 29.7 miles for the business and 55.5 miles for the non-business traffic.

Twenty-three and a half per cent of the passenger mileage in the State is for business purposes and 76.5 per cent is for non-business purposes.

The peak of the highway movement occurs in this State in October and the minimum is reached in February, when motor truck transportation is 40 per cent and passenger traffic 70 per cent lower than the October movement.

Motor truck traffic reaches the daily minimum at 4 a. m. from which time it increases to a first peak between 10 a. m. and 12 o'clock noon and a second peak between 2 and 4 p. m., decreasing rapidly after 5 p. m.

The night movement of motor trucks consists largely of long-distance traffic in special commodities hauled in

A Motor Car Feature Which Protects Human Life

IN THESE DAYS when there are 15,000,000 motor cars upon the roads of the country, the careful, skillful driver is often at the mercy of the reckless, wanton "alley-jumper" or inefficient driver.

The Marmon car has been designed for just such conditions. It is practically surrounded by "armor-plate."

The steel running boards of the Marmon car are hot-riveted to the frame of the car—"side-bumpers," Marmon owners are proud to call them.

Side-collisions which would crush the ordinary wood running board seldom mean anything more than a little scraped paint to a Marmon. In no other motor car are life and property so adequately protected.

Before buying a motor car ask yourself if it is thoroughly safe in the hands of your wife and children.

There are other remarkable safety features of the Marmon which we shall be glad to explain to you.

Limitations of Sight

Even with good eyesight, it is impossible to recognize a person seen but once before, at a distance greater than 80 feet, says a German oculist.

Now is the time to plant Peonies, Iris and other kinds of hardy perennials. Grape vines, flowering shrubs, Apples and other fruit trees, extra strong, also Hedges, are the trees, pick them yourself at proper time.

CALUMET BOWLING TOURS

Winter Tournament Opens Next Week With 21 Teams Competing

With a list of 21 five-man teams, the regular winter bowling tournament will open next Wednesday at the Calumet Club. Many of the bowlers are old-timers, and a number of the teams are organizations which have rolled together as a unit for years. These veterans of the sport will meet a number of new bowlers who are trying out the alley for the first time this season. The alley at the club has been thoroughly gone over during the summer, leveled up, resurfaced and refinished, so that they are in first class shape for the coming tournament.

This year's tournament opens on Wednesday evening, Oct. 1, and continues, with an average of three matches every night during the week except Saturday, until the first of February. The teams are divided from scratch up to a handicap of 75, while individual rollers are listed as usual in three classes—A, rated 80 to scratch; B, 60 to 75; and C, below 60. All new bowlers will be re-rated after the third match, and again after the sixth, together with the rest entered in the tournament. At the end of one individual prize will be awarded to any bowler, and with the four team prizes, a list of 12 prizes will be awarded at the close of the tournament. A rule has been made allowing changes to be made in the composition of teams up to the first re-rating period, and later in case of the death of a team member.

The teams will be made up as follows:

WINCHESTER GIVES ABUNDANT AID TO THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

The Winchester Red Cross extends appreciative thanks to the citizens of Winchester for their prompt and generous response to a letter of appeal for the victims of the Virgin Islands hurricane. Winchester was able to send four boxes of garments and its people have been able to more put their town on record as one alert to give to stricken humanity.

From chapters all over the United States quantities of garments were contributed to the Virgin Islands chapter, in a very short time providing even a surplus over what was needed.

The always abundant response of the people of the United States to a call from the Red Cross speaks their sure confidence in the sound efficiency of the Red Cross as a relief agency. Its efficiency in this peace-time work has had unprecedented testing in the past year, for the number of disasters to which it has brought relief, at home and abroad, has greatly exceeded that of any other year. It has provided aid in over 192 disasters, including floods, tornadoes, cyclones, droughts, famines, and winter storms, and starch-works, explosions, fires, a typhoid epidemic and a quarantine.

For 13 years the Red Cross has been the people's agency for the application of relief. Where any calamity lays waste the Red Cross speaks their sure confidence in the sound efficiency of the Red Cross as a relief agency. Its efficiency in this peace-time work has had unprecedented testing in the past year, for the number of disasters to which it has brought relief, at home and abroad, has greatly exceeded that of any other year. ARREST TWO IN FELS LAST SUNDAY

Last Sunday morning while mounted officer Edward Shea was patrolling along the Middlesex Fells, a man and a woman were arrested by a man and a woman sitting on the shore of one of the town's reservoirs apparently fishing. In conversation they protested that they were not, though they were unable to account satisfactorily for their activities with the pole. Officer Shea determined to investigate a bit more thoroughly, and after finding several specimens of a fish in the water, he took them to his car. In the meantime he took into custody one Benny Baniastot of Cambridge, despite the fact that Benny still stoutly maintained that he was not, and had not been attempting to catch any fish.

In the Woburn Court Monday morning Baniastot had his case placed on file while Charles C. Gavoy of Boston whom officer Shea arrested subsequently to the fishing episode, was fined $5 when convicted of having pulled up three small evergreens in the fells.

ANNUAL VISITATION LAST SUNDAY

Winchester experienced its heaviest traffic of the year last Sunday as a result of the annual visitation of Jewish residents of this and surrounding districts to their cemeteries at the north end of the town. Starting early in the morning and continuing throughout the day a steady stream of machines passed through the center and along the several routes to the cemeteries situated in Montvale. It is estimated that between 20,000 and 30,000 people traveled through the town in the course of the visitation, and at one point on Washington street 2554 cars were counted going in one direction between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

In addition to the motor as a means of transportation many of the visitors utilized the street railways to reach their destination, special cars being run from Arlington to the Highlands as well as on several out of town lines. All were crowded, despite the fact that most of the specials were of the old two-man variety, and much larger than the newer models now being run through the town.

With all the extra traffic resulting from the cemetery visitation in addition to the usual large number of cars which the pleasant Sunday called out on the roads it might well have been expected that serious congestion and numerous accidents would follow. That such was not the case is undoubtedly due to the efficient work of the Winchester Police Department most of whose members were kept very much on the jump throughout the day. Every precaution was taken by the police to handle the big jam of cars smoothly, and so well did they succeed that only two minor accidents were recorded during the day. Officers were placed at strategic points all along the route to the cemetery, and in the square, in addition to traffic officer Noonan, both Sgt. Cassidy and officer Farrell were on duty. Mounted officer Harry Dotten spent the entire day at the cemetery in addition to members of the regular department, and no disturbance of any note was recorded.

Traffic along the Mystic Valley Parkway from Massachusetts avenue by the way of Alewife Brook through West Medford was particularly congested, the machines at times running three abreast in one long line. Motorcycle followers William Maglone of the M. D. C. and Edward O'Connell of the Winchester Department spent one of their busiest days to date.

NOTE OF THANKS TO THE CHILDREN OF THE WYMAN SCHOOL

Today at the morning assembly of the Wyman School the following note of thanks was read to the children by Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott, president of the Wyman Chapter of the Mothers' Association.

"The Board of Directors of the Wyman Chapter of the Mothers' Association wish to express their most grateful thanks to the children of the Wyman School for their wonderful work in raising money for the new piano. The Board is especially delighted to learn of the children's voluntary summer work which has just added $50.76 to the fund. This, together with $100 raised by the children at their music drama last spring, makes a total of $240.76 resulting directly from the children's efforts; and for this good record of helpfulness the Board of the Wyman Chapter is very proud of the children of the Wyman School."

The piano fund committee has now a grand total of $525.51 and hopes that its coming rummage sale, Saturday, Oct. 18, may complete the amount needed for just the right piano.

WYMAN CHAPTER OF MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION BEGINS ITS SEASON

Next Friday, Oct. 3, at 8:30 p. m., the Wyman Chapter of the Mothers' Association holds its opening meeting at Wyman Assembly Hall. An interesting program of speakers for the year has been planned by the Board, and it is hoped that all Wyman School mothers and teachers especially, and any other persons interested, will be present at all the series. The regular date for meetings is the first Friday in each month.

The speakers at next Friday's meeting will be two doctors from the State Department of Health, Dr. Mary Le Kruis, whose subject is "The Pre-School Child," and Dr. Mary Lakeman who presents "A Health Program for a Town." Wyman mothers and teachers will find mutual pleasure in these very interesting afternoons with their opportunities for closer acquaintance and friendship.

If you are a Wyman mother, please be at the opening meeting. It is planned for your pleasure; and your presence will help the Mothers' Association, which stands for the welfare of your children's teachers and for the welfare of your children.

GEORGE O. FOGG

Mr. George O. Fogg who died at the home of his brother, Chase E. Fogg, at Readfield, Me., Tuesday morning, Sept. 18, at the age of 71, had been in failing health for over a year. He married Miss Mabel Perkins of Tilton, N. H., who was killed March 2, 1914, at the Winchester Station crossing. This was a blow from which he never fully recovered. He led an active and varied business career in Boston, where he was well known as the manager of Fogg's Ticket Office on Washington street. At the time he was a partner in the firm of John H. Eddy Insurance Co., after which he was a partner in business with Mr. Charles E. Mason of Wolcott avenue in the insurance firm of Fogg & Mason.

During the gold rush to the Klondike he organized an expedition which purchased the revenue cutter Corwin from the U. S. Navy and went to Nome, Alaska. This company known as the Corwin Trading Company remained there a year, carrying Russian and Siberian mail. During his last years in business Mr. Fogg was well known in Winchester as the manager of the Winchester Automobile Co. He later joined his son in the airplane business at Concord, N. H.

Mr. Fogg is survived by his son, Robert S. Fogg, manager of the Concord Aircraft Company of Concord, N. H., and his daughter, Gladys Fogg Benedict, the well-known singer, who also resides in Concord.

The funeral services were held Sunday at the Fogg Homestead, Readfield, Me. The interment was in the family lot at Readfield Cemetery.

A man of unusual character his loss is keenly felt by a host of friends and admirers.

ONLY THREE AUTO MISHAPS SUNDAY

Although Winchester saw some of the heaviest auto traffic of the year on its streets last Sunday, only three accidents were reported. All were of a minor nature resulting in slight damage only to the several cars involved, and the loss of a lamp post on the Mystic Valley Parkway. None of the operators or passengers of the machines was injured.

The first smash occurred on Washington street at 11 a. m. when a Buick touring car owned and operated by Morris A. Cohen of Brookline was in collision with a Hudson coach, the property of Hyman Hoffman of Dorchester who was driving his machine at the time of the accident. Both cars were somewhat damaged.

Later in the day the machines of Archie A. Ashley of Medford and William A. Griffin of the same city were slightly damaged as a result of a rear-end collision between them at the Winchester-Medford line on Main street.

At 7:40 p. m. while turning his car around on the Parkway opposite the residence of Mr. M. Tyler, Mr. R. A. Burns of Methuen reported that the rear end of the machine collided with a lamp post, breaking the post off at the ground.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB WINS THE MARSHALL W. SYMMES CUP

The Winchester Boat Club ended a highly successful paddling season, this past week, by winning the Marshall W. Symmes Trophy. The race was contested over the half-mile course starting off the Boulevard shore continuing thru the gut, and ending just off the Winchester Club House shell. Medford Boat Club won the toss of the coin and chose the Arlington shore course. After considerable jockeying, starting, Francis Randall, worked the boats up to a line. At the very crack of the pistol, a loud roar was heard from the Winchester shell, and with a splash Philip Hight paddling at No. 3 was precipitated into the water. He had given such a noble heave on the first stroke that his paddle broke in two pieces and out he had to go. Randall called both boats back for a new start. This time the Winchester crew jumped in the lead by hitting up a very fast stroke for about five boat lengths. Then swimming into a long steady pull Winchester drew away from the Medford shell, and reaching the narrows, about three boat lengths of open water separated the two crews. From here to the finish Medford just held her own. Winchester crossed the finish line about three and one-half lengths to the good.

The Medford crew manning a bronx new shell were as follows: Ted Bell, stroke, Clifford Lougee No. 2, Helme Derrin No. 3, Arthur Mather, Helmsman.

The Winchester Boat Club four were: Bob Hight, stroke; Kenneth Pratt No. 2; Phil Hight, No. 3; Stafford Rogers, Helmsman.

The time for the race was about 4 minutes. Mr. Converse of the Medford Club and Mr. Eastwick of Winchester were the judges.

The bulk of the credit for the winning crews at Winchester this season has been due to the faithful cooperation and earnest effort of the following members. Others have helped in various ways but these are deserving of special mention: Francis Randall, Alvin Hovey, Marshall Symmes, Winthrop Palmer, Edward Sandberg, John Pratt, Stafford Rogers, John Caldwell, Philip Hight, Joseph Hight, Elwyn Buckley and F. Le Roy Pratt. The last named particularly, helped greatly through his experienced guidance, personal power and fine example to build up the crews. In another season it is hoped to do even more.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

As all had predicted the minstrel show of last Friday evening was a tremendous success a large audience greeting the performers and bestowing rigorous applause on their efforts. Though the show being a repeated performance, was not up to the usual Court standard, it was especially good in many particulars.

Each member of the show was well received by the audience and Miss Mary Jane Kelley, the Director, was the recipient of a beautiful basket of flowers, the gift of her admirers.

While all the local favorites were warmly greeted by their friends, special mention must be made of our out-of-town artists, the Hooper Tots, little Dorothy Yunes, and Miss Kay Kenney. Miss Kenney was easily the hit of the show, being forced to respond to many encores. She made one of the cleverest ends seen hereabouts in many years, and has established a place for herself in C. D. of A. Minstrels. The financial proceeds of the show came fully up to expectations and will materially increase the funds of the Elks' Carnival.

Mrs. Gilman and G. R. Vayo, for whose Grab and Mystery Table, the show was conducted, extend to all who helped make the performance such a success their sincere thanks and appreciation.

At the next regular meeting, on Thursday evening, Oct. 2, will come the final reading of application blanks for the admission of new members, for whom initiation will come in November, so that those who are on the waiting list will be members of the organization before the Court celebrates its annual banquet in November.

Vice-Regent Frances T. Conlon has promised to produce in December a Christmas Play for the children, in which the little ones will impersonate the various characters from Mother Goose. Having enjoyed the success of Sister Conlon's efforts in the past, the members are eagerly looking forward to the December Social.

Sister Lillian Noonan has returned from the hospital and has fully recovered from her recent illness.

TRUCK HITS TOURING CAR ON WASHINGTON STREET, FOUR KURT

Four residents of Winchester were injured last Saturday afternoon at 6:20 as a result of a collision on Washington street near the telephone exchange between a two ton truck owned by Sabatini and George Ross, of Boston and driven by Philip Saklad of that city and a Buick touring car owned and operated by Mrs. Ruth E. Christensen, wife of Carl H. Christensen of 4 Bolton street, this town.

According to Saklad's account of the accident his truck was proceeding south on Washington street when the steering rod broke causing the machine to swerve sharply to the left. As it did so it struck the Buick which was headed north, pushing the smaller car up onto the sidewalk and badly smashing its front and left side.

With Mrs. Christensen, who was her eight months old son, Frank, and her father, Mr. John A. Hall who was holding the child, William Sabatini, of the New York Hotel, and of 4 Bolton street and Mr. William B. MacDonald of Stone avenue. All sustained injuries excepting the child. Mrs. Christensen was taken to her home and her father, Mr. Siebert to his home. Mr. MacDonald to his head. Mr. Hall received a badly swollen neck and lost his front teeth. After treatment by Dr. Richard W. Sheedy the occupants of the car were allowed to return to their homes.

Witnesses of the smash were of the opinion that had it not been for some particularly quick work on the part of Mrs. Christensen, the accident might have assumed much more serious proportions.

"LITTLE JESSIE JAMES"

Boston's favorite musical "child" is "Little Jessie James" which begins its third week of Joy-Jingling and Jamboree at the Wilbur Theatre on Monday evening, Sept. 29. Not in years has a musical comedy received such praise and boosting as has "Little Jessie James." It is no wonder that New Yorkers supported it for more than a year.

Its cast, including Allen Kearns, Miriam Hopkins, John H. Brown, Raymond, John Walker Hundley, Evan Valentine, Clara Thropp, Gladys Baxter and Madeleine Grey, is a perfect one. Its chorus program as the "James Girls" is the prettiest and "Peppert" that ever kicked its way into the heart of Boston. As to the singing, it is the best Paul Whitman (Bani) no matter what theatre you visit you will not hear anything to compare with it.

The score written by Harry Fisher is heard everywhere music is played. The two outstanding hits are "Suppose I Had Never Met You" and "I Love You."

Seats are selling two weeks in advance for all performances including the popular Wednesday matinees. The tremendous hit and the success coming to bookings made a long time since before it was realized that a wonderful success this attraction would be in Boston.

"CLUBS ARE TRUMPS"

Lovers of the game the best in the three in store for them when they go to see Leslie Dickson and W. Lee Dickson's scintillating comedy, "Clubs are Trumps," which comes to the Cowley Theatre (Boston) next Monday night, Sept. 29, and surely no devotee could remain away, especially if he should be so fortunate as to have a table-tennis who one who has joyously sat through three hours of this delightful play.

"Clubs are Trumps" tell a unique story of love and golf, in which a young man who is ambitious to become famous through writing advertising copy meets many disappointments and finally adopts golf as a medium of success. Love interferes, more complications arise, and then the authors introduce a very new and clever twist which ends the play to the satisfaction of all.

Harry Green, that very amusing comedian, plays the principal part. He is ably supported by such notable players as May Collins, James S. Barrett, Josephine Deffrey, Margery Meadows, James Harris, Sarah Eliza, and Reynolds, Arthur Vinton, Walter Allen, John Davidson and Fred J. Nicholls. Popular price matinee on Wednesday.

VISITING NURSE AND HOSPITAL NOTES

Miss Norton left the Hospital on Tuesday and will spend a month or more at Marblehead before going to Florida for the winter.

Until a permanent Superintendent is engaged for the Hospital, Miss Lane will act in that capacity.

Last Friday evening the nurses at the Hospital and the recent graduates gave a party for Miss Norton. They gave a little play and then enjoyed a social time together. They also presented Miss Norton with a nicely fitted weekend case.

Miss Donohue from St. Elizabeth's Hospital has been engaged as new night supervisor. She has had two years' work in Boston in Public Health work.

The X-Ray room is practically finished. Part of the apparatus has arrived and the machine will soon be in operation.

Envelope Day, proceeds of which help to meet the annual deficit of the Hospital will come on Oct. 2. As at 3000 envelopes will be distributed throughout the town, and any donation, no matter how small or large, will be gratefully received by the Finance Committee.

LOCATELLI'S BALL SQUARE THEATRE

Two mammoth bills are booked for Locatelli's Ball Square Theatre for the coming week. The program for the first three days will present the tremendous success "Scaramouche," the Rex Ingram production of Rabelais' famous novel with Ramon Novarro, Alice Terry and Lewis Stone in the featured roles. The picture is lavish in settings, superbly acted, minute in detail and realistic and inspiring in action. "Scaramouche" is far more than a screen production. It is an authoritative document of human passions, derived from the arrogance of aristocracy and aurocracy and the finding of power among poverty—the record of a liberation of the masses from the oppression and cruelty of a rotten monarchy. It visualizes with the minutest care scenes that are inevitable in history and with such interest that one viewing them feels living in the period. The second picture will be a humorous film entitled "The Mysteries of Mr. Jongo." A comedy and news pictorial will also be shown. On Thursday another mammoth program will be offered. It will be topped by Jack H. Hagen in "Little Robinson Crusoe." The story adapts the old Robinson Crusoe tale to the uses of a boy hero, but instead of the desert island being uninhabited it is filled with cannibals. This English is carried along into a thrilling climax of adventure when Jackie is taken by the natives for a white slave, which enables him to save the white settlement. The companion picture will present Richard Talmadge in "Fast Company." This is a new angle of the fast set of today it is most interesting and performed in an unusually creditable manner. Other seven subjects, including a comedy and a news reel will also be shown.

OTTO GROW AT MEN'S CLUB OCT. 2

Admirers of Otto Grow, one of the best known and liked of the many characters of cartoon land, will be interested to note his first Winchester appearance of the fall at the dinner meeting of the Unitarian Church at Metcalf Hall on the evening of Oct. 2. Mr. Grow in company with his creator, Mr. Franklin P. Collier, staff cartoonist of the Boston Herald, whose work is known and enjoyed all over the United States, will personally greet the guests of the club and entertain them with the story of his capture of the "Wild Whiffus" which has aroused such interest in Zoological circles. Mr. Grow was at the Unitarian with the club and enjoyed the club function feeling that a "cheer up," as he expressed it, might involve the removing of his certain list. This is a new angle, not the case the little fellow readily agreed to be among those present on Oct. 2 and hopes for a large attendance as his story of the "Wild Whiffus" might well terrify a lion's gathering. A feature of Mr. Collier's part in the program will be rapid fire sketches of various celebrities in his audience. All men are urged to attend and bring a lady as Otto is particularly fond of the girls.

OPPORTUNITY FOR INSTRUMENTAL MUSICIANS TO GAIN EXPERIENCE IN MELROSE

The Melrose Orchestral Association, Inc., will shortly begin its rehearsal of the coming season. Musicians who wish to avail themselves of the privilege and opportunity of joining the orchestra may apply to the President, Victor M. A. Trend, or the Conductor, Elmer Wilson.

Three concerts will be given with full symphonic orchestra and soloists of high rank will appear with orchestral accompaniment.

Mr. Roland W. Fletcher of Glen road was an usher at the society wedding of Miss Hannah Slade Benton and Mr. Collins Graham which took place last Saturday in the privacy of the chapel on the Benton estate in Belmont.

"MR. BATTLING BUTLER"

Every once in a while a musical comedy will rise on the horizon and enjoy fine sailing for many seasons regardless of conditions of any nature. Such a musical comedy is "George Choe's" "Mr. Battling Butler" which is playing to crowded houses at the Plymouth Theatre (Boston), where it is being performed by the original Broadway company. The production is one of several outstanding successes achieved in recent years under the direction of the Selwyns. The leading roles in this vivid study of 20th century society are played by Violet Heming, Arthur Byron, Estelle Winwood and A. E. Matthews, who combine to give the cast an all-star brilliance quite on a par with the sparkling quality of the comedy itself. "Spring Cleaning" is the classic triangle drama seen from a new angle and sketched both realistically and amusingly; an intimate, daring study of London's smart

"Mr. Battling Butler" is one of the few musical comedies recently produced having a real story or plot, which, regardless of the several tuneful songs and variety of fast dancing predominates throughout the performance, dealing with a famous prize fighter and a man who impersonates him. Charles Ruggles, the popular comedian Mr. Battling Butler who has never seen the inside of a prize ring, but who, to get away from his wife, takes this incognito when on pleasure bent. The original cast and company of 60 dancing champions including the famous 12 English Rockets will be seen at the Plymouth Theatre from Sept. 29 to Broadway. A special symphony orchestra will assist in putting over the catchy song hits and dances. Matinee for the natives for a white slave, which enables him to save the white settlement. The companion picture will present Richard Talmadge in "Fast Company." This is a new angle of the fast set of today it is most interesting and performed in an unusually creditable manner. Other seven subjects, including a comedy and a news reel will also be shown.

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"

After a splendid week not only of business but a really great performance of the old favorite "Robin Hood," the De Wolf Hopper Opera Company, Monday night (Sept. 29) turns to an opera of a little lighter vein, but one that is most replete in beautiful music and also an opera that is unusually filled with comedy. The "Chocolate Soldier" has had many revivals, but it is doubtful if the revivals can compare with the way in which the De Wolf Hopper will give it. This we have on more or less excellent authority.

During one of his engagements the demand for "The Chocolate Soldier" was so great that Mr. Hopper decided to give it although it meant a lot of hard work and study for him. The part of the Colonel, who is a soldier, plays which he says himself is one of the best that has ever fallen to his lot, is one which he revels in. He is so sure of his part, so strong and that it gives such wonderful satisfaction to his audience.

Farrell Huff, one of our best-known actors and who has appeared in the role of the "Chocolate Soldier" hundreds of times has been engaged for the production at the Boston Opera House for next week.

Following "The Chocolate Soldier" "Pinafore" will be presented. Special Matinee Monday, Oct. 13, Columbus Day.

Mr. Henry J. Lyons, a former well known resident of Winchester is on from Chicago for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Mary J. McLaughlin of Main street.

"SPRING CLEANING"

After a full season's run in New York, where it was accounted at once the most audacious and brilliant comedy of the day, "Spring Cleaning," Frederick Lonsole's masterpiece, is enjoying remarkable popularity at the Plymouth Theatre (Boston), where it is being performed by the original Broadway company. The production is one of several outstanding successes achieved in recent years under the direction of the Selwyns. The leading roles in this vivid study of 20th century society are played by Violet Heming, Arthur Byron, Estelle Winwood and A. E. Matthews, who combine to give the cast an all-star brilliance quite on a par with the sparkling quality of the comedy itself. "Spring Cleaning" is the classic triangle drama seen from a new angle and sketched both realistically and amusingly; an intimate, daring study of London's smart

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

A Gas bill is something not to apologize for or to condemn. On the contrary it is something to study in order that you may discover how you can get the best results out of the gas you are using. Some homes with a $20.00 gas bill are getting more value for their money than other homes with a $20.00 gas bill. That is so because those with a $20.00 gas bill are giving gas a greater opportunity to serve them and to daily show them all it can mean in cleanliness, and in time and labor savings. To save gas at the expense of convenience is poor business. To use it carelessly is even worse. There is a happy medium followed by all thrifty housewives. It is our desire that you get full value from the gas you use.

That's why the "One-Shot" Lubricating System ranks as one of the great advances in motor car design.

It enables you to lubricate all moving chassis parts without leaving the driver's seat.

It does more than save time and eliminate greasy hands or garments. It insures easier riding, smoother operation, longer car life and higher re-sale value—all because it makes chassis lubrication too simple and easy to neglect.

Because of the sheer value it represents, the 1925 Cleveland Six is winning new buyers at a rate that makes it one of the most popular six cylinder cars of the day.

Here are some of the reasons for that popularity.

- Mileage Motor—a matchless master of hills with a flashing get-away in high gear.
- 4-Wheel Brakes—of Cleveland Six design, optional at a moderate extra cost.
- Full Balloon Tires—extra comfort at no extra cost.
- Beautiful Bodies—smart, durable and luxurious.

Why Gray Horses

Horses used in equestrian acts by circuses are nearly always white or gray—so that the spectators cannot see the powdered resin on their bodies put there to keep the performers from slipping—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Vienese Boulevard

The Ring-Strasse in Vienna is a series of boulevards about three miles long, occupying the site of an ancient line of fortifications which, until 1808, separated the old or inner portion of the city from the new or outer portion.

Ring-Strasse is 165 feet wide and forms the boundary line of five sides of an irregular hexagon, the sixth side being bounded by the Franz-Josef quay on the Danube canal.

Not Much Change

"Some people say boys are different nowadays," said the old gentleman, "but I say no. They still risk their necks, and destroy private property, climbing as high as they can in any building under construction and carving their initials in the wood. What do I mean, they haven't changed much? Well, I did the same thing when I was a kid."
